Tazgart the tailor will soon move his family to other quarters, enlarge his room and put in a large stock of goods for the fall trade.
The TELEPHONE is in demand. Each issue we print a goodly number of extras that are "gobbled up" almost as soon as off the press.

The report that Mr. Braly's entire crop of 4,000 bushels of wheat was affected with smut, is an error. There was but a few bushels in that condition.

Kicked to Death.

We stop the press to announce that Mr. A. A. McCully of Salem, was kicked to death by a horse at his farm near Amity, last night. He was on his way home from the coast. No particulars.

C. W. Talmage is the agent to insure your wheat with.

This is just the time to catch large trout in the coast streams. Salmon are running.

You can see a specimen of the cornice to go on the new hotel tacked up by Hodsons' door.

Mr. B. F. Morse, of Dayton, paid us a visit Tuesday last. He was on his way to Yaquina for a few days' rest from his labors.

A band of beautiful horses yesterday arrived from the De Schuttees. They were owned by M. Aubry and there were 18 head of them.

Do not forget the meetings at the Christian church by Elder F. Dillard Holman, to-night, to-morrow night and Sunday morning and evening.

The track at the fair grounds is being put in excellent condition. It was too hot for a time that it would be too soft for races; but it is becoming packed splendidly.

Rev. Father Hermann, of Forest Grove, is in Germany and recently paid Henry Bettman, at Leipsig, a visit, which pleased the young man very much.

Fletcher Bros. thresher is a "30-inch cylinder" instead of "37-inch" as several exchanges have made the TELEPHONE out as saying. A 37-inch cylinder is an "off number."

Councilman Narver has a crooked-neck squash vine that he says has seventeen pairs of squashes on—that is, wherever you find one you will find two grown together.

Judge Adams, of Portland, with his family, came out from the Nestucca country yesterday on his way home and stopped here and took dinner with Chief Engineer Henderson.

There was an exciting shooting match yesterday morning between Manning Bros. It was with pistols and Sam made 27 points and his brother 13. That caused Oregon to crow big over California.

Our townsman, Wm. Campbell, bought a house and lot in Newport, paying therefor $600. He thinks Yaquina is destined to be a fine commercial point and that he has made a good investment.

Dr. G. F. Tucker and family returned from Yaquina yesterday, all feeling well. Doc. is tanned till he resembles a Siwash, has a muscle on him like a Samson and says he can whip his weight in coyotes.

Grouse are becoming domesticated at this place. A gentleman shot two from the roof of a dwelling and killed another in the street, with a club, Wednesday evening. And it wasn't a very good evening for grouse, either.

The Malone boys, north of town, lost a fine mare Tuesday morning. She was feeling well up to the evening before when she was attacked by the prevailing horse disease and died before morning. She was a valuable animal.

It is reported that Holt Turner will shortly move into the vacant rooms of the Opera house.—Reporter. Mr. Turner will do nothing of the kind, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. His place of residence will remain as it is.

A puffer entered A. J. Apperson's kitchen last night, went through the safe and carried off steak that had been procured for breakfast and numerous other edibles, besides half a bushel of potatoes. The fellow evidently doesn't live far away and was very hungry.

"Uncle" George Bangasser is over at Yaquina enjoying the salubrious breezes of old ocean and seeking to regain his shattered health, which we sincerely hope we may do. He is accompanied by his daughter, Tillie, his grandson Freddie, and Mr. Portland Adams.

Mr. H. E. Elkes, manager of the Columbia base ball club, of Portland, was among the Yaquina excursionists. These are very anxious to know if there will be any premium offered for base ball at the county fair, as he is desirous of bringing his nine up, if there is.

The TELEPHONE is a Yamhill paper; its circulation is among the readers of Yamhill, who patronize those doing business in the county; and as it is published twice a week it is therefore the best advertising medium. And its columns begin to show that business men observe this fact.

Mr. H. Bailey, of Yamhill county, Oregon, is building at the new mill of D. Layton, in the Big Bend, a current water wheel of immense proportions arranged between two long boats to operate a pump for raising large volumes of water to mine for gold on certain bars of the Columbia river in Lincoln county, known to contain large quantities of the metal.—Ex.

The wise farmer that buyeth a binder buildeth a shed and putteth his machine therein, where rot nor rust will not corrupt. But the foolish man after harvesting his grain alloweth his reaper to stand in the field without protection, and in the end selleth his farm to cancel the mortgage that accumulated because of the many dollars spent for repairs and new machinery.

The Yamhill County Bank has some very pretty specimens of grains on hand for the county fair. Right here let us urge upon farmers and all others the advisability of bringing grains, grasses, etc., so that a good showing may be made in these as well as other things at our county fair. Leave your specimens either at the Yamhill County Bank or the TELEPHONE office.

Highly satisfactory: "Where in the old scratch is 'Slabtown'?"—Telephone. It is situated in Slab valley, near the head waters of Slab creek.—Register.

That settles it that far; now please inform us if you travel by land or by water to reach it; how large a place is it; what is the principal occupation of the inhabitants; how are its school facilities; are the inhabitants descendants of Jen, Sham or Havelth; are they two or four leaved and can they walk as other people do; do mosquitoes climb the trees and bark near there, and which hotel is the freest from bedbugs? Please answer by return mail.

He's Gone.

Tuesday morning's train bore from our midst a young man of medium size, of fair complexion, dark eyes and hair, and light moustache, trimmed rather close. He did not wait to bid his friends goodbye; forgetting, alas, to bring us the proof that the Itemizer's attack on him was a lie, as he told us he would do; he also neglected to pay several bills about town—principally for board; he also neglected to send the amount that he owed for board at Amity, which he promised to do some time since; he did not appear to have had time to speak to H. H. Welch regarding the barber's chair that belonged to him (Welch) and which was sold by this young man to James Lawton at Dallas. If he had had time perhaps he could have unraveled that little story regarding his domestic life, which he told in so many different ways and got so badly tangled. In fact he seemed to have forgotten everything except to get away from here. This young man was Fred Hodges. He had been here for several months and during that time appeared perfectly straight, except as to liquidating little bills about town; but nobody paid any particular attention to this until of late. The way things are turning out it looks as if he is the grand rascal that the Itemizer pictured him, and unless he "shows up" soon and straightens things up we shall brand him as such. But then "the newspapers can go to h—l" for all he cares.

The Lawn Party.

The lawn party held at the premises of Mrs. C. F. Talmage, Wednesday, proved another link in the chain of successful events at McMinnville during the season of 1886. Under the wide-spreading branches of trees, north of the house and out of the breezes, so as to prevent too many sneezes and free from pesky bugs and fleas, the green sward was like unto a heavy three-ply carpet. The grounds were lighted by three of the large city lamps and numerous Chinese lanterns. On one side of the grounds was the "wigwam" of "Signorita Cazeta," the fortune teller, before the tent a bright camp-fire burning; just across the grounds sat "Rebecca at the well," dispensing ice-cold lemonade, while just over the fence in the adjoining yard delicious ice cream and cakes was served in endless quantities. The programme consisted of several choruses, quartettes, etc., in the musical line, "throw the handkerchief" and other games by the younger people, while the older folks enjoyed a social chat. The grounds were well seated; the evening was a most pleasant one and if any persons failed to enjoy themselves it was their own fault. A large number were present and all entered into the festivities with a zeal that showed they were there for the purpose of having a good time. The amount realized by the Guild was $21.65.

At the Warehouses.

Business is just beginning to liven up at the warehouses, although no large amount of grain has come in as yet. Galloway & Cook have on hand from 11,000 to 12,000 bushels and are receiving it at the rate of about 2,000 bushels per day. These gentlemen inform us that they have out about 45,000 sacks. They are paying 61 cents per bushel. The same may be said of the movement at F. W. Redmond's warehouse. He has received about 7,000 bushels which has been run through the cleaner and is in an excellent shape. Mr. R. is paying 60 cents per bushel. F. Barnekoff & Co. have received but little to date, but now that the busy season is just opening they hope to get their share.

Mr. M. Underwood sends us a sample of "Peerless" wheat, the seed of which was sent to him from Philadelphia, that is a caution to behold. The heads are large and well filled with large plump kernels, while from every mesh protrudes a dark-colored beard from four to six inches in length, giving the bunch the appearance of a porcupine. This is a very pretty specimen of grain and from its appearance we should judge that it is a very healthy variety.

Mr. C. W. Brown, the tile drainage man, was in town a day or two during the week. He will shortly put in about two miles of this drain for "Uncle Billy" Chapman, near Sheridan. Hon. J. C. Braly is talking of having some of his land drained. There is much land in the Yamhill valley that is to-day lying idle which, if properly drained, by this or some other means, could be made to produce abundantly.

Attention, farmers and fruit growers! You will find ready sale and good prices guaranteed for apples by applying to Chas. Grissen, at the bakery. 17&18

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.—Freddie Helm, a boy 14 years of age, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in the river on the East side a short distance above the Jefferson street ferry. He was in company with another lad younger than himself. It appears that the unfortunate boy got beyond his depth and not knowing how to swim well, sank. A young man named Harris coming along in a boat dived down and recovered the body. Coroner DeLin was notified and took charge of the remains. He did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest as there was no suspicion of foul play connected with the matter. The drowned boy resided with Mrs. Hack, at 404 Eight street, both his father and mother being dead.—Tuesday's Oregonian. Freddie was a son of Mr. John Helm, who a few years ago lived at Dayton, and a relative of the Messrs. Rogers, of this city. His remains were brought to Dayton yesterday and buried beside his parents in the cemetery at that place.

Card of Thanks.

The ladies Guild would return thanks to the city for the use of their lamps; to W. J. Garrison for the use of chairs; to Jones & Co for the use of benches, all of which were used at the lawn party on the evening of August 11th. Also to all those who assisted in the music and otherwise assisted in making the affair a success. Com.

Notice to Farmers.

Suiter & Daniel, proprietors of the Lafayette Mills and Warehouse, desire to inform the farmers of this vicinity that their improvements are now completed, and are ready to clean and store any amount of wheat that may be bro't to them, at 3 cents per bushel. Their facilities for handling grain, are not excelled anywhere in the county. They are guaranteed as Cheap Freight Rates by rail, as from any other point in this vicinity, besides having the advantage of competition by boat during boating season. They are also prepared to loan sacks this season, as heretofore, to their customers. They desire to call particular attention to their security against risk by fire, as they have no exposure to their main warehouse nearer than 115 feet, while the boiler and engine are nearly 180 feet distant. Past experience ought to convince farmers that this is no small matter, as it gives those who store with them a cheap rate of insurance, and but small risk if they do not insure. SUITER & DANIEL.
