Saunders Sentenced.

Special to the TELEPHONE.]
 ALBANY, Oct. 28.—W. W. Saunders was sentenced to-day at 1 o'clock by Judge R. P. Boise, to be hung between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, December 23, 1886.

MYSTERIOUS NOISES.—For several days past mysterious noises have been heard issuing from the direction of the Masonic cemetery near this place; groaning and muttering noises as if some person was in terrible distress, or some dead man's spirit could not rest quietly. People in some parts of the city became frightened and spoke in hushed whispers to each other. At last, however, some courageous individual, who did not believe in ghosts or spirits, started to investigate the mystery. He proceeded in the direction of the noise, and as he neared the fair grounds the mutterings and groans became louder, till every hair on his head stood on end. He proceeded on, however, till at last all was explained. Some boys had been playing about the old water wheel on the fair ground and had removed the rail that held the wheel and let it run by the action of the water in the ditch, and the noise it made as it moved slowly round and round was something awful to hear.

No FIRE.—Tuesday night about 10 o'clock, and just after Chief Engineer Henderson had got sound asleep, some of his folks awoke him with the cry that the town was on fire. He got up in a hurry and listened a moment. Sure enough, our old cracked fire bell was playing a lively tune, he thought. He aroused some of his neighbors and hurried down town. When he got close enough to know the difference he found out that a charivari party with tin cans, and a cracked fire bell made good deal the same noise. What is too good natured to get mad, but he went back to bed sadder and wiser.

HOME AND LAID UP.—Eddie Fuller arrived home from Corvallis on yesterday afternoon's train. He is suffering from a badly jammed up foot, and will be disabled for a while. He has been working at his trade, carpentering, at Corvallis. Wednesday, while working in a warehouse, a heavy stick of timber, 22 feet long and 12 inches square, fell as they were raising it to its position, and rebounding, one end struck his foot. Ed says it hurts and he is going to stay till it gets well; but he don't know how long that will take. He has our sympathies for his accident, but we are glad to welcome him home.

HAPPY FARMERS.—There is no need of telling folks how it rained Wednesday and Thursday, for the fact was patent. But probably few thought how much it was needed and appreciated by the farmers. All over the county, now, the plow will be started. The long dry fall with just enough rain for germination, has kept our best friends in enforced idleness. But now they can "turn themselves loose," and soon they will have in the seed for another harvest. For the sake of our "main stays" we hope it will prove the most profitable crop they ever planted.

CHARIVARIED.—"Bud" Paine was treated with an old fashioned charivari last Tuesday night, upon his return from Portland. Tin pans, cow bells and horse-fiddles predominated, and made night hideous for a few minutes. "Bud," however, took the matter good-naturedly and gave the boys a couple of dollars, and they went off after cider, well satisfied.

MCGIBNEY'S COMING.—We were shown a letter by a member of Custer Post band to the effect that the celebrated musical McGibney family would appear in this city December 14, and asking that the opera house be secured for them for that date. They will be played under the management of our band and on this account as well as on their own merits they should be well patronized.

MIRAKO BY AMATEURS.—Books containing the words and music of Gilbert & Sullivan's comic opera, "The Mikado," have been ordered from Portland. If they can be obtained there, it is probable that a company of amateurs will be formed here for the purpose of giving the opera at this place some time this fall. We shall know in a few days.

THE LECTURE.—Prof. Colby, of Florida, lectured in the opera house Wednesday and Thins lay night on spiritualism. Good audierces were present both evenings. The professor is a smooth, pleasant talker, and also a good singer. He goes from here to Salem and will be in attendance at the state convention of spiritualists.

WANTED.—Will some of our subscribers favor us with their copy of the TELEPHONE of the issue of October 22? We would like about a half a dozen copies, as they are asked for by friends of Bonty Sanders, and our supply is exhausted.

LIFE DIPLOMA.—The state board of education has granted J. A. C. Freund, of this city, county school superintendent of Yamhill county, a life teacher's diploma, on certificates from other states and lower grade certificates from Oregon.

TAX LEVY.—It is thought that the state will set a tax of two mills for general expenses, one-tenth of a mill for state university and half a mill for debt, making a total of two and three-fifths mills state tax.

Colfax W. T.

Oct., 22, 1886.
 ED. TELEPHONE:—Perhaps a few notes from the bunchgrass kingdom will be acceptable. After spending so many years in old Yamhill, with its broad farms, forests and rivers, this country is hard to get used to. Here hills, rocks and gorges abound; water and timber are scarce. Yet this country, though of a broken surface, is a rich agricultural district. The soil is black and produces excellent grain crops. All available land in this immediate vicinity is occupied, and wheat raising is the principal industry. There are some fine farms, but one everywhere sees evidences of the neanness of the country. With age and development, this will become a fine section of the northwest.

Colfax is a thriving town, numbering, perhaps, two thousands inhabitants. It seems to be in process of booming, but old residents say it has always been so. Real estate is very high and all branches of business active. The city is on the Columbia and Palouse river branch of the N. P. R. R., and is the shipping point for a large section of country.
 Colfax, like McMinnville, is a city of schools. The public schools occupy new and elegant buildings, and enroll 200 or more pupils. The college now in its first year of college work, is under direction of a competent faculty, and enrolls a large number of academic students with freshman and sophomore classes. The contract for building the new college building will soon be let and it will be finished next summer.
 This season has been and continues to be very dry, and crops this year were shorter than is usual. For a clear dry atmosphere, blue sky, and bracing climate, Yamhill is nowhere, but oh, how we'd like a good Oregon mist, and the content of a Yamhill apple orchard.

Resolutions of Condolence.

AMITY OR., Oct. 27, '86.

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove from our midst our late brother Boughton Everette Sanders.

Resolved, By this lodge that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not mourn less for departed brother.
 Resolved, That this lodge tender its heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives of our deceased brother in their sad affliction.
 Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of the journal of this lodge and that a copy of them be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and they be published in the county papers.

 J. W. BRIDWELL.)

SWAPPING SPIRIT.—A few nights since when all was quiet, and the citizens of McMinnville were taking their wonted rest, four of this city's youthful swains were out promenading and enjoying the night air. Upon reaching the corner of Second and E streets, after talking, giggling and more giggling, the party separated, the young ladies starting west on Second street. After proceeding, we might say about sixty feet from the corner, one of the young ladies said, "let's go back and kiss the boys." Her companion replied, "I dare you," and as quick as a flash both young ladies, to use an army phrase, about faced and started double quick, overtaking the boys, who had, from some cause, not advanced far from the place of separation. Without a word of warning being spoken each girl in a threatening manner threw her arms around the boys' necks, and right there, in the pale light of the stars, they—kissed and kissed. No cakes, no names!

VERY ILL.—Mr. George Wilcox, our efficient telegraph operator and station agent, is lying very ill at his residence in this city, with typhoid fever. Mr. Bradley of Cornelius has charge of affairs while Mr. Wilcox is ill.

ARM HURT.—Mrs. Chandler, of Forest Grove, has been visiting Mrs. Belle W. Cooke, at 513 Commercial street, for several days. She intended returning to her home on Friday last, but accidentally fell, hurting her arm so severely that she will not be able to go for several weeks yet. She is one of the pioneer women of Oregon.—Statesman. Mrs. Chandler was for years a resident of McMinnville, and has many relatives and friends here who will be sorry to learn of her accident.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first, only a cold. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at Reger & Todd's Drug Store.

Saved His Life.

D. L. Wilcox, of Horse Cave, Ky. says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions.
