On her last trip the steamer State of Oregon brought ninety-two tons of fish for the Portland & Willamette railroad. As soon as this supply is laid the below Dundee will be finished and will commence running regularly.

SHACKLED.—On Wednesday evening as Sheriff Harris was locking Marple in his cell, says the Register, Marple became very abusive, and on Thursday morning the sheriff placed a 16-pound shackle around the prisoner's leg and locked him in his cell, where he will remain both day and night. This wearing the shackle hurts Marple's feelings and he thought that he was being imposed upon, but he received no sympathy from those who were present. The sheriff searched Marple Wednesday morning and found a bunch of cigarette paper which was full of writing, accusing some of our prominent men as being the murderer of D. L. Coker. It is believed stronger and stronger every day, among our citizens that the right man, or murderer of D. L. Coker is now in jail. When Marple's legs were being decorated with the shackles, he made the remark that he would like for the crowd to take him out and hang him rather than to wear the shackle. Sheriff Harris deserves credit for the precaution he has taken in keeping this character in close and safe quarters. It is thought by many who were present that Marple will soon make a confession, as he has lost the bravado he has assumed all along, and now thinks his days are numbered. MUSICAL PRODIGES.—Every member of the McGibeny family are musicians, from the parents down to little 3-year-old Leo. Their programme includes solos, duets, quartets and a full orchestra. Little Jamie, 6-year-old, conducts the orchestra, sings beautifully and manipulates the big bass drum. The grand march of the troupe is worth the price of admission. Remember the date of their concert—Tuesday, December 14. There are very few reserved seats for sale yet at Rogers & Todd's drug store. Parties wishing these seats had better avail themselves of the opportunity at once as the box sheet will be closed in a few days. VESSEL ASHORE.—We received word Sunday of a vessel going ashore near Nestucca one day last week, but particulars were meagre. From what we were able to learn it was a British vessel, in ballast, bound to Portland for wheat. The weather was very thick and the captain lost his bearings. He had given the man at the wheel orders to run a straight course for a certain length of time; he had hardly turned to enter the cabin when she struck on a sand flat and stuck fast. The crew went ashore and word was sent to Portland for a tug. Probably the only damage is the loss of time and tug hire. A NOVEL LETTER HEAD.—The first of the week says the Albany Herald, we received a business letter from Mr. J. W. Redington of the Heppner Gazette. The printed letter head read as follows: "Office of the Heppner Weekly Gazette, dealers in births, marriages, deaths, scandals, sermons and other yarns. Wicked and worldly, borrowed by the neighbors, condemned by the clergy. Fine for bustles—also for lining cabins. T. W. Redington editor and proprietor—also devil." For originality Red beats the world, the flesh and the other gentleman. SPORT.—Several parties went fishing in Third street yesterday and were watched by an interested crowd on the sidewalk and various doorsteps. Gus Detmering was the only successful fisherman we saw. He hooked something, which after a half-hour's work he succeeded in landing in front of his store. Upon examination it proved to be a pyramid shaped piece of iron with a ring in the top, used for fastening horses to. It is on exhibition in front of his store this morning. DIED.—Mrs. Dr. Goucher, of Amity, of whose illness mention was made a few days ago, died at her residence in Amity, Sunday evening, about 7 o'clock. A post mortem examination of her remains was made by Dr. S. A. Young of this city, assisted by her stepson Dr. Goucher. It was found that the cause of her long sufferings was cancer of the stomach. Her funeral will take place at Amity to-day. Deceased was about 58 years old. FOR SALE CHEAP.—Forty acres of land, situated five and one-half miles northwest of McMinnville, adjoining the Dave McCall place on the left. This piece of land is offered for sale cheap on easy terms. It is well fenced, contains a living spring of water, ten acres of it has been under cultivation, and eight acres has been slashed. Price $10 per acre. For further particulars call at the TELEPHONE office. SOLD OUT.—P. W. Todd has sold his interest in the city drug store to his brother J. A. Todd, and will start for his California home to-morrow. The store will still be conducted under the name of Rogers & Todd, and will be presided over by the genial senior partner, J. L. Rogers. We bespeak for the new firm of Rogers & Todd a continuance of the liberal patronage they have received in the past. LECTURE.—Prof. T. F. Campbell, will lecture in the Christian church this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. His subjects will be, "Man, Death, Demonology." Prof. Campbell is an accomplished and thorough scholar, and his lectures are said to be delivered in a manner exciting the highest degree of interest. The public are cordially invited to attend. Admission free. DOUBLE WEDDING.—A double wedding took place here yesterday at the Catholic church, Father Gibney officiating. The contracting parties were Wm. Gibbons and Mary Ryan, and Daniel Gibbons and Alice Ryan. The bridegrooms are brothers and reside near Dayton while the brides are sisters from Moore's Valley. May they "live long and be happy." BORN.—To the wife of N. J. Wisecarver on Sunday, December 5, 1886, a son. To the wife of John Wisecarver, Monday, November 29, 1886, a daughter.

College Notes. We are told that there was a temple at Rome in which there was a sacred fire suspended in the air and watched by vestal virgins. If this fire chanced to be extinguished, all business public and private was suspended until the accident was expiated. The laws relating to the virgins who watched the sacred fire were severe. If the virgins were guilty of neglect, they sometimes were cruelly punished. If any virgin infringed the law which forbade her to marry, she was buried alive; being confined to an underground vault with a lamp, and a little bread, wine and oil. This sacred fire was tended by virgins reared for the purpose for about eleven centuries. During this period twenty maids were condemned to death. To us this is a story which sounds like a myth. To those poor creatures who suffered death in a vault of the earth, there was something unmistakably real. Let us now use the story as an illustration. In free America education is the sacred fire that swings before her altars. Let that sacred flame be extinguished and the business of the world must stop. Chaos and confusion would reign, and expiation could not be procured except by the sacrifice of many noble sons. The pure light of knowledge needs guardians. Ruthless hands are ready to destroy the good everywhere. Our colleges, like vestal virgins, stand and minister at the altars. They are unceasing in their efforts for the higher development and culture of the youth. This care and watchfulness colleges exercise, not for their own sakes but because all that is sacred and good is in jeopardy, except a sleepless eye guard it well. Long live Harvard and Yale! Long live McMinnville college! Mr. Crannall narrowly escaped a serious hurt recently. While turning on the horizontal bar his hold gave way and he came to the ground, lighting on his head and shoulders. He kept at his work, however, and did not lose a recitation. The literary society debated the tariff question at one of its recent meetings. The young orator on free trade was just a little puzzled that the recent elections went against his principles. Among the sick on Colleside we mention Martin Rhodes, who is still out of school on account of sore throat, Miss Walton, who has had a severe attack of quinsy. After medical attendance she is slowly improving. Two of Prof. Crawford's children have been ill with sore throat. They are better. The cold foggy weather of the last few weeks seems to have started the annual run of colds, and not many on Colleside, as well as elsewhere, have escaped. More than ninety pupils have been enrolled this year. Mrs. Walton of La Camas, W. T., is at Prof. Crawford's, attending her daughter. JACKSON. Council Proceedings. The new city council met in regular session last evening. Present: Mayor Wortman, Recorder Spencer, Marshal Kaufman, Street Commissioner Wallace; Councilmen Campbell, Jones, Holl, Narver and Palmer. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Monthly reports of recorder, marshal and street commissioner read and placed on file. The following bills were allowed: Menally & Co., bell, $122 41 Manufan, marshal's fees, 35 40 Spencer, recorder's fees, 6 80 G. W. Burt, coal oil and freight, 12 00 C. A. Wallace, street commissioner's fees, 1 50 D. C. Ireland & Co., printing, 3 50 Campbell, committeeman's expenses, 4 50 Talmage, Spencer and Harding, canvassing city vote, 6 00 Total, $192 11 On motion a committee was appointed consisting of Campbell, Jones and Palmer, to confer with property owners on Third street between B and E streets in reference to cleaning the mud off the streets. This committee was appointed to see if the property owners would not clean the streets at their own expense without the council passing an ordinance compelling them to do so. Committee to report at regular meeting to-night. On motion a committee was appointed consisting of Jones, Narver and Campbell, to suggest amendments to the city charter. Committee to report at some future meeting of council. No further business being on hand, council adjourned to meet in regular session to-night. WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY.—There are now 300 students attending the Willamette university at Salem. This number will be considerably increased before the maximum number of attendance of the school year is reached. The second term opened very prosperously. The university has made arrangements to furnish day board to young men and boys at $1 50 per week. With an experience of one term this arrangement has been found to be practicable. Over fifty young men are now boarding in the hall provided for them at this price. Ex-Governor Gibbs has just sent to the university about 200 volumes as a free gift. There has been a considerable advance in the price of coffee within the past few days; nevertheless, but, don't forget to send your orders for job printing, when you want any, to the TELEPHONE office, because—you are sure to get just exactly what you want. Cheapest, too. DIED.—In Granville, Ohio, November 25, 1886, Mrs. Caroline Johnson. Deceased was the wife of G. B. Johnson, brother of Dr. H. V. Johnson, and Mrs. C. F. Talmage, and Mrs. J. H. Turner, of this city, and an uncle of both members of this firm. LOST.—A diamond shirt stud. Anyone finding the same will be suitably rewarded by leaving same at this office.

OUR ASSISTANTS. Webfoot. December 4, 1886. Colds are prevalent—ague on the decline. Protected meetings are in progress at Pleasantdale. The Sabbath school at Pleasantdale is preparing for a Christmas entertainment. J. M. Lambert wishes to dispose of his young cattle with a view to going east of the mountains. C. A. & T. Carey and W. H. Lambert made a business trip to Oregon City returning yesterday. School is progressing finely, frequent additions being made of the larger scholars; all will probably be enrolled soon. On account of the dedication at Dayton last Sabbath the concert was postponed until next Sabbath (tomorrow.) There is talk of having a Christmas tree at Webfoot church; hope it will prove a verity. It has been a thing unknown here for some time. If traditions of the weather prophets are true that the first three days of December govern the winter then we shall decidedly have a beautiful February. One of our wisdom loving young men has found that it is not good that man should live alone, and has taken to himself a helpmeet, or, in other words, Mr. Joel Dorsey and Miss Huldah Hutchens were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on last Sabbath evening, Nov. 28, 1886. S. R. Baxter J. P. officiating. We join with the many friends of this worthy young couple in wishing them a long life of happy usefulness. They went to their home near Wheatland on Wednesday. CORNET. Amity. December 6, 1886. Mrs. Dr. Goucher died last evening after a prolonged illness. Grand select ball in Lancelotti's hall at this place Christmas eve. Cards will soon be out. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hawley have returned from their wedding tour looking as happy as clams at high tide. Prof. Longacre begins the second quarter of his school to-day with a good attendance. Mrs. L. is assistant. The crew of the large ship that went ashore at Haystack rock came down on the narrow gauge to White's station to-day. They were a jolly crowd. A sister of our townsmen, Chas. Jack, arrived from Iowa last week. She and her brother had not met before for over 20 years. B. Election Notice. An election of officers of Custer Post No. 9, G. A. R. for the ensuing year will be held at Grange hall, December 11, at 1 o'clock p. m. Every member is expected to be present. J. W. GAULT, Commander. BEAUTIFUL WEATHER.—If some of our Atlantic cousins could be set down in Oregon this morning, Dec. 3, says the Albany Bulletin, they would doubtless be greatly surprised. The weather is like an April morning, the sun is shining brightly, the grass and grain are growing nicely, flowers may be seen in many gardens, and December seems like the ides of May. There is no prevailing sickness in the community and everybody seems cheerful and happy. Compare this picture, a truthful one, with any place on the Atlantic seaboard, and you will realize the advantages of climate in the selection of a home wherein to spend your days. FOR SALE.—A piece of valuable property situated just outside the city limits, for sale at a bargain.
