

WEST SIDE TELEPHONE.

McMINNVILLE, FRIDAY, DEC. 31, 1887.

1887.

Once more we swing around the circle on the whirling of time, and 1887 has spread out before us. The Japanese, who are a wise people, and fond of expressing themselves by symbols, present to each other on every New Year's day a piece of the commonest and coarsest dried fish, done up in a rough scrap of paper. This is to remind them of the frugality and temperance of their ancestors, and in this way to exhort each other to form and keep good resolutions for the next twelve months. With us, too, the opening of the New Year is fitly the time to pledge ourselves to good resolves; and these resolves, naturally relate to his or her special weaknesses or temptations. Nor can we, any of us, probably make a pledge more beneficial to ourselves and to others than that same pledge of the Japanese, to be temperate in all things; not only in eating and drinking, and in enjoyment of the pleasures and gratifications of life, but in the judgment and treatment of our neighbors, in the pursuit of our daily dealings, business and social. We should also be temperate in the exercise of all our faculties, in speech and in action, as citizens, as laborers, as members of society and as inmates of the domestic circle.

The blank pages of the New Year are spread out before us. Each of us has his blank page to fill with a chapter in the history of a life. Each has it to a large degree in his power to make that page bright with the story of good deeds, and an upright, unselfish career, or to blot it with illdoings, which once recorded can never be rubbed out, though they may be atoned. But as prevention is better than cure, so the avoidance of evil actions is better than atonement for them.

If we look beyond our individual selves into the great world bustling around us, we may find reasons for cheerful anticipations of peace and prosperity among the nations. Stirring events, no doubt, are before us in 1887. A few dark clouds may be hovering around the world's horizon, but we may look forward to them, however, without much apprehension.

That the year just about to open before us may end with the general peace unbroken, with prosperity still smiling upon the people, and with many, many good resolutions promptly made and firmly kept by young and old, is the wish the TELEPHONE extends to its readers.

Governor Stoneman of California, has been having a general jail delivery lately. Four murderers, three embezzlers and a half a dozen robbers have either been pardoned outright or their terms have been commuted so that they will expire in a few days.

The proposed celebration of the birthday of Adam should be held in Boston, where, we understand, several members of the family still reside. Charles Francis died the other day, but a number of his collateral relatives and lineal descendants are still on the turf.

Gladstone celebrated his 77th birthday Wednesday by attending early service in the chapel at Hawarden, and spending the remainder of the day at home. He received a large number of birthday congratulations by telegraph and by mail, and was also the recipient of many presents, some of which were of beautiful designs and of great value.

A resolution has been introduced by Senator Butler, of South Carolina, providing for a special committee of five senators to be sent to the city of Mexico to investigate alleged disputes between citizens of the United States and the Mexican republic. A special escort of five sober and reliable policemen should be sent along to take care of the senators.

The democrats are already consoling themselves with the thought that the death of Logan will give them Illinois. They claim that his death means a loss to the republican party in that state of 10,000 votes. This may be true; Logan was a host in himself. But we opine that the republican party will still hold its own and that old Illinois will roll up her usual majority when election comes around.

The democracy of North Carolina is completely disgusted with President Cleveland and his civil service reform policy. Ex-congressman William H. Kitchen says that Cleveland will be defeated in North Carolina, if he is the nominee of the democracy for president, by 50,000 majority. Kitchen publishes a newspaper called the Scotland Neck Democrat, and has raised at the head of his columns the names of Governor David B. Hill and Speaker Carlisle for president and vice president in 1883, respectively.

The publisher of General Logan's book, "The Great Conspiracy," received a letter a few days ago from W. B. Taylor, the private and confidential secretary of General Logan, in which he says the receipts from the sale of the book will be about the only legacy left to Mrs. Logan, and suggesting that if this fact be made known to the public, the patriotic impulses of a grateful people might through this channel place her beyond want.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—The man known as Jim Cummings arrested here Friday last by Pinkerton as the robber of the Adams Express company, last October, on a train on the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, proves to be Fred Witrock of Chicago, formerly of Leavenworth, Kansas. He had been in business there as a coal dealer. But a small amount of the stolen money was recovered.

VIENNA, Dec. 29.—The press is becoming convinced that Russia is determined upon war. Reports of increased Russian armament are continually coming to hand from various sources. The latest intelligence is to the effect that 300,000 Russian troops have been ordered to Massiukoff. The occupants of 10,000 houses have received official notification that the soldiers will soon be billeted in them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—Everything is quiet on the cable roads to-day. No further developments in the dynamite plot. The talk of a general tie-up continues. The men on the Market street cable line say they will refuse to go out if a tie-up is ordered on the other lines. They say they are unwilling but will go out if the general assembly so orders. The examination of the Monday morning rioters is postponed until January 5.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The senate committee in charge of Senator Logan's funeral arrangements met at 10 o'clock this morning. Every senator was present. The order of proceedings, so far as determined upon, are as follows: The body will be taken by the committee of arrangements of the senate and house of representatives, and escorted by the different posts of the G. A. R., Thursday to the rotunda of the capitol, where the body will lie in state until noon of the following day under a guard of honor. The public will be admitted to the rotunda to view the body.

On last Sunday, a Mr. Blanchard, the proprietor of a store at Ranier, Columbia county, had a difficulty with a man named Tom Sullivan, a logger, and the latter drew a knife and stabbed Blanchard in the left side, about four inches. Great difficulty was experienced in obtaining a physician for Blanchard, owing to the isolation of the place, and he died before one could be procured. Sullivan has been arrested and lodged in the Multnomah county jail.

The new river steamer N. S. Bentley, owned by the Oregon Pacific railroad, collided with a pier of the Oregon Pacific railroad bridge at Albany, and was broken in the middle and sank within fifteen minutes with 3,400 bushels of wheat and fifteen tons of miscellaneous freight. Fifteen passengers were on the boat, but they were taken safely ashore. The boat and cargo are a total loss. The boat cost $16,000. The wheat was from Salem and the river towns and was owned by Moore, Ferguson & Co., of San Francisco, and insured. The boat was uninsured against accident.
