Jas. McPhillips says he feels like a new man since Dr. Taylor treated him and that a person is very foolish to suffer with piles when so fair an offer is made to them by Dr. Taylor at the office of Dr. Johnson. 61tf

Miss Stannus has an exceedingly well trained voice, and with her personal attractions of face and form favorably impresses an audience. It is almost a pity that her talent should be withheld from the dramatic stage. Miss Stannus would shine as a star in the theatrical galaxy. Los Angeles Herald. Miss Stannus will appear at Garrison's opera house in this city next Friday evening. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

BORN.—In McMinnville, Oregon, January 9, 1887, to the wife of W. E. Martin, a daughter.

In McMinnville, Oregon, January 10, 1887, to the wife of John Wortman, a son.

SAD NEWS.—Rev. T. H. Henderson of this city received a letter Saturday from our old fellowtownsman L. Shobe, containing the sad intelligence of the death of his daughter Gilly, who died at Wellington, Kansas, December 30, 1886, aged 17 years. For several years before her departure from this city she was a sufferer from the dreaded disease, consumption, and it was mainly with a hope of benefiting her health that Mr. Shobe left Oregon. It was a vain hope. The grim reaper death, has claimed her for his own. The announcement of her death is sad news to this community, where she was loved and respected, and her sorrowing father and mother, brothers and sisters have the heart-felt sympathies of all here who knew them.

MISS ROSA STANNUS.—This talented young dramatic reader will appear at Garrison's opera house on next Friday evening. The admission has been put very low—25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children—and all should go. The papers throughout California and Washington territory speak in the highest terms of Miss Stannus and her entertainments. From the Tacoma Ledger we clip the following: "Miss Stannus has a good figure, a pleasant expressive face, and a deep contralto voice, powerful in tone and well modulated. She appears to be at home on the stage, strong in facial expression and naturalness of movement. All of her recitations showed careful study and were finely rendered."

HIBBS SENTENCED.—Hibbs, the Lewis-ton forger, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Just before sentence was pronounced he made a little speech, in which he thanked the officers of the court, and everybody who was interested in the case, for their courteous treatment during his trial, but he had some bitter remarks to make against J. J. Murphy, of Salem, and the man who showed up Hibbs' crookedness. It is not supposed that he will be very friendly toward Mr. Murphy.

RUNAWAY.—Saturday, as Judge Loughry was returning from this city to Lafayette, he stopped at the St. Joe depot to wait for the 4 o'clock train. When the train arrived his horse became frightened and breaking loose from the buggy went tearing down the road toward home. He was stopped by some boys just this side of Lafayette. The judge hitched his buggy on behind Frank O'Connor's express wagon and rode home as serenely as though nothing had happened. The damage was slight.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.—Following is a list of officers installed by Amity Grange at a regular meeting held at their hall in Amity, Saturday, January 8, 1887: G. Springer, M.; Grant Allen, Overseer; Jos. Watt, Lecturer; D. Colter, Steward; B. Colter, A. S.; Mrs. W. F. Colter, Chap.; W. F. Colter, Treas.; J. L. Watt, Sec.; Oscar Phillips, G. K.; Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Pomona; M. S. Colter, Ceres; Miss Adelia Colter, Flora; Edna Wallace, Lady Asst. Steward.

OUR FIRE LADDIES.—At a meeting of the fire department last Thursday evening, committees were appointed to complete arrangements for the annual fair of the fire company. The fairs are always held about the 22d of February. The annual election of the department takes place at the regular meeting in February, and it was decided to celebrate the event with a social supper. A big feast will be prepared and the fire boys with their guests will have a good time.

INSTALLATION AND SUPPER.—Occidental Lodge No. 3, I. O. O. F., will have an installation of officers, and a supper, Thursday evening, January 13, 1887, at Garrison's opera house. All members of the order and their families are cordially invited to attend. Also others who have an invitation signed by a member of the order. There will be an interesting programme arranged and a good time is expected.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—Forty acres of land, situated five and one-half miles northward of McMinnville, adjoining the Dave McCall place on the left. This piece of land is offered for sale cheap on easy terms. It is well fenced, contains a living spring of water, ten acres of it has been under cultivation, and eight acres has been slashed. Price $10 per acre. For further particulars call at the TELEPHONE office.

FOR SALE.—A piece of valuable property situated just outside the city limits, for sale at a bargain. Large house, well built; several acres of ground for gardening, and fruits of various kinds nicely started, numerous outhouses, barn, etc. Everything in good order. Property is situated on College-side. Satisfactory reasons for wanting to sell. For further particulars enquire at this office.

THE SALE.—At the harness shop of Al. Young the other day, enough goods were sold, to satisfy the judgment held by Mr. Bingham. Articles went at a fair price. On the 24th inst., the sale will be continued this time to satisfy a judgment held by Clark, the saddlery dealer of Portland.

JAS. McPHILLIPS says he feels like a new man since Dr. Taylor treated him and that a person is very foolish to suffer with piles when so fair an offer is made to them by Dr. Taylor at the office of Dr. Johnson.

I. W. Vs.—The Indian War Veterans held their regular quarterly meeting last Friday, in this city, and the regular routines of business was transacted. Their next regular meeting—the first Friday in April—will be held at North Yamhill, at which time it is proposed to hold some sort of a fair or festival.

HERE'S A CHANCE.—We have for sale a small place adjoining town containing a little more than an acre of ground; a good two-story house and barn; well set with small fruit trees; good well, etc. We will sell this place at a bargain. For further particulars enquire at this office.

BORN.—In McMinnville, Oregon, January 9, 1887, to the wife of W. E. Martin, a daughter.

In McMinnville, Oregon, January 10, 1887, to the wife of John Wortman, a son.

College Notes.

It is a truism to say that the mind is intimately connected with the body. It is also true that the best efforts of the mind depend upon the condition of the body. How mind and matter are related to each other forms a theme of deep search for the philosopher. The fact of the relation is without dispute. There is another thing true in this connection; that is, the mind can attend with its whole energy to but one thing at a time. In every moment of full consciousness there is one thought which absorbs the attention. There is one thought uppermost. Each minute of existence there is one supreme something which demands attention to the living soul. In proportion as the body absorbs the attention of the soul, in that proportion is man allied to the beasts. It is possible for man to descend lower than any beast of the field. A glutton is one who is given over to his appetite. He eats to excess; hence we have an animal of that name. Suppose you that the mind can be cultivated in such body? No, no. The mind is made a slave, driveling and polluted. The gormand of pleasure is no better. He is, perhaps, even worse than the other. To make this matter more plain, the devotee of pleasure is very far removed from the true student. The bodily passions must be overcome and held in subjection, if the mind has its fullest and freest development. There is something wise as well as quaint in the fact that philosophers in olden times dwelt in secluded places, away from the gaze and glitter of the world. We must shut out from view, as it were, the world in order to get a view of the inner self and do work in the palace of the soul. Holiday dissipations are detrimental to the interests of the mind in pursuit of knowledge, to say nothing of the moral tendencies of such things.

HON. JOSEPH CRAVENS, of Independence, was in chapel one day during the week. He came down to attend an important business meeting of the executive board of the college. Miss Jessie Spencer, of Port Townsend, W. T., began school with the new year. It will be remembered that she came down early last fall to go to school but took the typhoid fever and was compelled to remain out of school.

Mr. Thomas Kay, who has been at Sheridan some months, has returned to McMinnville. He is to be found in the store of Bishop & Kay.

Prof. Crawford, ably assisted by students and others, is preparing to issue a new paper in the interests of education. We shall expect something good.

Mr. James Haynes, who started for his home in southern Oregon, went as far as Oregon City only, and returned in time to start in school on Tuesday, at the opening.

Holidays are over and the students are busily engaged in their work again. James Durham is in school again.

This is certainly a very mild winter so far. No snow, no cold, little frost, ana rose buds almost ready blow.

On account of the religious meetings in progress at the Baptist church there was no meeting of the missionary society in the college. The literary society will hold their meetings a little early, in order to adjourn in time to go to the revival meetings.

The student, who was greatly alarmed on the subject, says the board did not prohibit the boys from going with the girls—just a little after church, anyway.

JACKSON.

THE G. A. R.

Custer Post, No. 9, G. A. R., held their public installation at Grange hall last Saturday. A large number of "boys in blue" with their families and friends were in attendance, and a general good time was had. The following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

T. H. Henderson, P. C.; C. W. Powell, V. C.; C. R. Cook, J. V. C.; H. R. Littlefield, Surg.; J. W. Gault, Q. M.; J. W. Covert, Chap.; A. L. Newgard, O. D.; A. M. Hoff; O. G.; J. C. Cooper, Adj't; P. P. Gates, Q. M. S.; C. A. Sweet, S. M. After the installation of officers, the lunch baskets were brought out and an elegant lunch spread. Such a lunch as the boys did not often see during the dark days of the war.

The following resolutions were drafted and passed, by the order:

Resolved, By Custer Post, No. 9, Department of Oregon, G. A. R.

That in the death of our distinguished comrade, General John A. Logan, our order has lost an honored member, our government a valuable servant and our country one of its most exemplary citizens, both in war and in peace.

That we commend the record of his life to the consideration of every boy in our union. While we cherish his memory with sincere sorrow, we recognize the lengthening roll wherein the names of all our comrades must soon be written.

IN DEFENSE.

The following communication from North Yamhill needs no comments, as it is self-explanatory:

NORTH YAMHILL, Jan. 7, 1887.

ED. TELEPHONE:

In your issue of to-day in mention of the Cameron and Wynn trial for horse stealing, you seem to rather leave the impression that we are horse thieves, after we have had our examination and were honourably discharged. The fact of the case is that E. N. Ford did not have a horse stolen, as he accused us, and it was nothing more nor less than a malicious prosecution. Therefore you will confer a favor on us by publishing this in your next issue.
