In the meantime she is selling hats at half price. Messrs. Wm. Galloway, A. J. Apperson, Wm. Campbell and J. D. Fenton went up to Salem yesterday. The charade party, given at the residence of Mr. W. D. Wright, Wednesday evening, was a very enjoyable affair. The ladies of the coffee club are requested to meet Friday, February 4, at 2 p. m. for the annual meeting of the club. The auction sale at the St. Charles hotel will be next Monday. Don't forget the time. Some excellent bargains will be disposed of. If you want to purchase a good second-hand piano, comparatively new, at a very reasonable price, call at this office for particulars. Mrs. J. H. WELCH. The meetings being carried on at the Baptist church are well attended. Services to-night will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. J. Burchett. Mr. Cairns, a noted singer of Portland is expected up to-day to assist in the exercises. The train from Portland was nearly an hour late yesterday. The greatest trouble reported was getting up the Fourth street grade. If this cold weather continues, with much more snow, a block-ade on the west side road is very probable. Yesterday was the coldest day this winter, and there is much weeping and wailing among the ladies of the town because of the fate of choice house plants left insufficiently protected. The thermometer registered from 10 to 16 deg. above zero yesterday morning—according to exposure. It snows, and blows and stings you nose—makes all creation shiver. It bites your toes, increases your woes and freezes up the river. The frost nips all both great and small, this dismal dreary winter; it freezes type, it bursts the pipe and vexes sore the printer. So if you could, pile on the wood, it takes the cash in winter—please be so kind and make up your mind to settle with the printer. OPEN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—There will be a meeting of the citizens of McMinnville, at the Grange hall Monday evening at 7 o'clock, February 7, 1887, for the purpose of adopting a constitution for an Open Temperance society. After the adoption of the constitution there will be some further exercises of interest. Every body is invited to attend. FOR SALE.—A piece of valuable property situated just outside the city limits, for sale at a bargain. Large house, well built; several acres of ground for gardening, and fruits of various kinds nicely started, numerous outhouses, barn, etc. Everything in good order. Property is situated on Colleside. Satisfactory reasons for wanting to sell. For further particulars enquire at this office. MARRIED.—At the residence of Geo. Gilson, Esq., six miles southwest of McMinnville, on February 1, 1887. Mr. Nelson Chapin to Miss Ada Jones, all of Yamhill county. S. F. Harding, justice of the peace of this city officiating.

Passed The House.

A dispatch from Salem signed J. J. Spencer, to Mr. A. J. Apperson, of this city, says that house bill No. 18, to relocate the county seat, passed the house yesterday by a unanimous vote. This is just about what was expected, but nevertheless will be hailed as good news. The bill will undoubtedly pass the senate without changes or additions, and the people of this county will have a chance to settle this vexed question fairly and squarely.

WHAT DAYTON SAYS.—The Dayton Herald is little, and doesn't come out but twice a month, but it is chock full of live news and good common sense utterances. Approves of the county seat question we clip the following from its columns: "Much stir is now being caused in our peaceful county over the question of the relocation of the county seat. In the first place, McMinnville wants the county seat. They don't deny the charge. Lafayette is so afraid that the county seat will be removed from there that they are almost shaking their boots off with fear. North Yamhill says: 'We have a pleasant location; place it here.' Wee little Carlton says: 'Oh no; we are nearer to the center of the county; here is the best point.' Away up at Amity, rumblings of discontent are heard, and they think a good chance should be afforded them. Dayton now has her say. We want the county seat; yes sir-ee, we'll take it without refreshments, and pay the charges. We have a good location, head of navigation on the Yamhill river, railroad close by and many other advantages in our favor. But, McMinnville says: 'We'll give $25,000 and the ground to build the court house on,' and that almost settles it. McMinnville is a thrifty, enterprising town, and if ever it becomes our county seat, will be a large business center. The public will soon know whether they are entitled to vote on this important issue or not. The sooner it is settled the better for all. Our opinion is that McMinnville will get the county seat by a good majority, if ever the question is voted upon."

SHOT HIMSELF.—A messenger was sent to this city from Lafayette for Dr. Calbreath yesterday afternoon to attend Mr. Almond Fletcher, who had shot himself while hunting. Particulars as to how the accident occurred are not at hand, but it seems that in some manner the ball struck him in the heel and ranged along the foot and lodged in the big toe. It must certainly be a very painful wound—even dangerous—for a rifle ball is apt to lacerate fearfully. His wife has been visiting for some time with her sister, Mrs. W. E. Martin, of this city, and returned home yesterday, but it is thought she had not heard of her husband's accident when she left here.

AUCTION SALE.—The furniture of the St. Charles hotel will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, on Monday, February 7, 1887, consisting of a fine large kitchen range almost new, suitable for a large family, a hotel or restaurant, beds and bedding, carpets, kitchen and dining room furniture, lamps, tables, chairs, and a thousand other things too numerous to mention. Terms of sale—all sums under $10, cash. All sums over $10, eight months' credit, with approved notes. This is a positive preemptory sale, and there will be an excellent opportunity to secure bargains.

BUSINESS CHANGE.—Our young friend Baz Hibbs has purchased the tailoring business of C. Symons, and will open out soon with as fine a stock of samples as has ever been shown in McMinnville. A. M. Taggart has been engaged to take charge of the manufacturing department; he needs no recommendations from us. His skill as a workman is well established in Yamhill county. Baz is one of our best young men, full of vim and energy, and we bespeak for him a successful business career.

BOY WORSE.—Through a private letter from J. F. Spencer, who is in Portland, we learn that his little son, who has been under treatment there for so long, is not so well as he was some days ago. Erysipelas has attacked the ankle and leg under treatment, rendering him more helpless than ever. It is not in a very severe form, however, and hopes are entertained that he will soon be entirely recovered.

NEW COLLEGE PRESIDENT.—President E. C. Anderson's term as president of the McMinnville college will expire in June, and the state board recently in session here elected to fill the vacancy Rev. T. G. Bronson, now of Albany. Mr. Bronson is a graduate of Madison college, Hamilton, New York, class of '77, and also a graduate of the Chicago theological seminary, class of '85. He has been in charge of the Albany church for about three years.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—Forty acres of land, situated five and one-half miles northwest of McMinnville, adjoining the Dave McCall place on the left. This piece of land is offered for sale cheap on easy terms. It is well fenced, contains a living spring of water, ten acres of it has been under cultivation, and eight acres has been slashed. Price $10 per acre. For further particulars call at the TELEPHONE OFFICE.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.—Mrs. James Sparks returned from Portland Wednesday evening. She has been in attendance at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Yager, of this county, who is lying dangerously ill at St. Vincent hospital in Portland. It is thought that she will live but a few days longer.

HERE'S A CHANCE.—We have for sale a small place adjoining town containing a little more than an acre of ground; a good two-story house and barn; well set with small fruit trees; good well, etc. We will sell this place at a bargain.

Fire Matters.

Last Tuesday evening was the regular annual meeting of the McMinnville Fire Department, for the election of officers for the department and various companies, and for the transaction of such other business as properly came before the department. The first business attended to was the reports of retiring officers. As the report of the chief engineer embraces a full and correct showing of the affairs of the department as given by the reports of the various company officers, and is an interesting document, we print it to show the condition of the department at the beginning of the fiscal year.

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT. To the Officers and Members of the McMinnville Fire Department.—Gentlemen:—I herewith submit to your honorable body my annual report as chief engineer of the McMinnville fire department. I assumed the duties of chief officer on the second day of February, 1886, all matters pertaining to the department having been turned over to me by my predecessor in office ex-chief D. C. Narver and I wish here to state that I found everything in first class order. I also have the honor to respectfully submit suggestions and recommendations for such action as in my opinion necessary to still further increase the efficiency of the department. In the matter of appointments to the force I have at all times used care, and as demonstrated at fires satisfactorily, discipline has not been relaxed, and the members of the force have conformed to rules and regulations readily. All has gone forward with complete satisfaction. The apparatus belonging to the department is in first class order and has at all times received the closest attention. April 27 an alarm was sounded and the fire department responded promptly but fortunately for all concerned the fire was extinguished before any damage was done. The fire was caused by an exploded coal oil lamp being thrown from Garrison's opera house onto the roof of an adjoining building. May 6, at midnight a second alarm was occasioned by the burning of the brick flouring mill owned and operated by John J. Sax & Co. The fire department responded promptly but owing to the inclemency of the weather, and the muddy and slippery condition of the streets we were unable to get to the fire with our apparatus until the fire in the mill was beyond control, but by strenuous efforts of the fire department the private residences and wooden warehouse adjacent thereto together with the mill-office, books, safe, etc. were prevented from taking fire, thereby saving thousands of dollars to the occupants and owners, but the fire boys as usual got nothing, not even thanks, for their service. Aug. 18 a third alarm was occasioned by boiling coal tar in an iron cauldron at Henderson Bros. livery stable. The alarm was false, the fire doing no damage to anyone except the department and city, as in sounding the alarm our fire bell was cracked and ruined, but thanks to our city fathers it was immediately replaced with a new and much better one. I would earnestly recommend that the fire department be supplied with 300 feet of good hose, making with what we have at present, 600 feet, which would be very necessary in case of a fire occurring out of range of any of the present cisterns. I would further recommend that there be a couple of cisterns put in, one at the intersection of Third and F streets and one at the intersection of First and H streets.

I have made personal examination from time to time of all public buildings and private residences and found that the ordinances pertaining thereto have been properly complied with as a general rule. Our apparatus at present consists of one hand engine complete, one hose cart, one hook and ladder truck, 300 feet of hose—maltose cross—in good condition, five ladders, thirty-six iron buckets, two axes, one hook and rope, all in good working order. The pale horse and his rider has been among our ranks. Our much esteemed comrade B. E. Sanders, president of the Eclipse engine and Star hose companies, died on October 19, 1886, of typhoid fever. During the year the department has been extremely fortunate, no accident of any serious nature occurring to any member.

In conclusion I most respectfully tender my acknowledgments for the cordial encouragement I have received from your honorable body in my efforts to maintain and increase the efficiency of this branch of the public service. I also take this opportunity of expressing the renewed obligations under which I have been placed by the valuable cooperation of the different attaches of the department. The officers and members have carried out the work of saving property carefully, prudently and well. Their cheerful submission to the rules and orders adopted by your honorable body, and their willingness at all times to perform labor assigned to them is not nor will not be forgotten by me. There is a good feeling still exists between the companies, not one report of any shortcoming touching any member having reached me. All have promptly assisted each other when required, the result being that all is pleasant and harmonious. I cannot close without tendering the thanks of this fire department to the press of the city for the many kind notices extended to the department during the year, and I can say that they have been duly appreciated by every officer and member of the department, as well as by your most obedient servant. W. G. HENDERSON, Chief Engineer McM. F. D.

After this the election of OFFICERS of the department for the ensuing year was proceeded with, with the following results: Chief engineer, E. W. Fuller; first assistant, G. W. Jones; secretary, C. W. Talmage; treasurer, G. F. Tucker. Exempt certificates were granted on application, to C. W. Talmage and D. C. Narver, they having served the required time—seven years—as active firemen. The engine and hose elected as officers: E. W. Wallace, president; J. D. Fenton, vice-president; C. H. Fleming, secretary; J. L. Rogers, treasurer. The meeting then adjourned to allow the different companies to elect their officers. Eclipse engine company elected as foreman, Elsie Wright; first assistant, S. J. Fore; second assistant, Henry Carlin; delegate to department, C. W. Talmage. Star hose elected as follows: foreman, J. D. Fenton; first assistant, J. P. Jagger; second assistant, W. V. Rogers; delegate to department, J. L. Rogers. The hook and ladder company is now officered: J. F. Calbreath, president; D. Glenn, secretary; C. Grissen, treasurer; O. O. Hodson, foreman; Cooper Brooks, first assistant; Hugh Collard, second assistant; C. Grissen, delegate to department. All the companies adjourned after their election, to the opera house where a fine supper had been engaged by the boys, for themselves and ladies, and a general good time was had until a late hour. The department and companies start out under favorable circumstances, and we hope they will continue in the future, as they have in the past, to merit the support and good will of every citizen of the town.

Died. Veda, daughter of Arthur and Clara Ball, died at the St. Joe saw mills, near McMinnville, on Saturday morning January 29, 1887, aged four years and four months. She was brought to North Yamhill and buried in the cemetery at Pike, there to await the resurrection of the just, while her sweet sainted spirit has gone to dwell with Jesus and the angels in the mansions of glory, by the invitation of him who said "suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." H. C. MORGAN. Dear little Veda, you've left our home; You've gone to a home of eternal love, You've left our hearts so sad and lone; But you've gone to dwell with him above. Dear little sister I miss you now And will miss you for many a lonely day; I miss the smile that wreathed thy brow; You've gone from the nooks where we used to play. We miss you from our fire-side bright; Our family circle is broken now; Your little chair is vacant to night, And the golden curls kiss your pale cold brow. The voice we loved, is hushed and still, And the little hands lay still and cold; But God calls in his lambs at will, And he guards them well in the shepherd's fold. But from life's music a note has gone; There's a broken chord, a double rest; But in the beautiful bright beyond The soul of our Veda, lives with the best.

OUR ASSISTANTS.

Lafayette. February 3, 1887. Too much snow to find many items of interest. Mrs. Matty has gone to Tacoma on a visit to her sister. A Mr. Hamilton has moved to town to run the butcher shop. Mrs. Littlefield is quite sick, and has been for several days. Gid Ely hurt little Roy Hunter, last evening, pretty badly. It seems that Gid thought Roy had hit him with a snow ball, and being mad and Roy a small boy, he jumped on him and mashed him down on the sidewalk, knocking him so hard that he was not able to get home alone; and was out of his head at dark last night. Gid is a big heavy boy and a coward. He is always bullying some of the little boys, but he never attacks any one near his size. He needs good training, or locking up. I think both might do him justice but nothing short of that.

North Yamhill. February 3, 1887. The mail carrier reports about ten feet of snow in the mountains on the Tillamook road. The rain, snow and mud does not seem to affect the business in our town, as every thing goes on just as usual, every body busy and no time for play. Mrs. Goser, who was reported sick some time ago with consumption, died on the 23d of December. She was a daughter of F. S. Glandon, an old resident of this precinct, but now residing at McCoy, Polk county. On the 27th, of December, the inevitable tax collector, Jeff Harris visited our place, the weather being so bad but few of the tax payers of this precinct responded to his call; only ninety putting in their appearance. They played over about thirty-five hundred dollars.

Two or three families of emigrants from northern Kansas, arrived here on the 26th. I have not learned their names. A Mr. Brock, a friend of theirs, has been in the neighborhood since August. His good reports to those of this country helped to influence them to come. They say that there is a little more mud in this season of the year than they are used to. In looking over the U. S. circuit court proceedings in yesterday's daily Oregonian, I notice that a bench warrant was issued for the arrest of our neighbors, Wm. Eall and H. M. Daniel, for cutting timber on government land, and that they be admitted to bail for the sum of $250, each. Lafayette, McMinnville and the other rural districts in the county, need not expect to be called upon to assist on their bonds, as North Yamhill will see that they are not restrained of their liberty by furnishing all the bondmen necessary.

A few days ago while L. L. Stillwell was driving home with "Uncle" Andy Wright, Ira and Utah Orton, in the back with him, his team became frightened and ran and making a sharp turn upset the hack. Stillwell was buried in a mud hole about three feet; Uncle Andy had his knee joint dislocated; Ira Orton, some of his ribs were, and Utah Orton falling square on his head, was rendered senseless for some time. Uncle Andy was carried to the house of J. L. Castle, close by, and his knee put in place by Stillwell. All parties are improving but have not fully recovered.

Grandma Griffin, one of North Yamhill's oldest citizens, and who has lived here for a great many years, died on the 29th of December, in her eighty-fourth year, at the residence of A. H. Roberts, her son-in-law. She was buried on the 1st inst., and although the weather was extremely disagreeable a large number of friends accompanied her remains to the grave. On account of the inclemency of the weather the funeral sermon was postponed until the third Sunday of this month, when it will be delivered by Rev. James Campbell, of the Christian church, at 11 o'clock, a. m. at this place.

The Yamhill Lumbering Co., made a good run of logs from the mountains during the late heavy rains, making a clean sweep, as they say; getting down over two million feet, half or more having reached their lower mill at St. Joe. The Hutchcroft brothers made a good start of their logs further up in the mountains, but a large tree falling across the creek caused a blockade, and the creek falling before they could clean it away, created a jam which requires an extra rise in the creek to clear. They got down nearly two hundred thousand feet, a small part of what they started with.

Occasional. Wonderful Cures. W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by Rogers & Todd.
