

WEST SIDE TELEPHONE.

McMINNVILLE, TUESDAY FEB. 22, 1887.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

The fourteenth session of the legislature of the state of Oregon concluded its labors Friday night, with the calm that usually follows a storm. At a few minutes past 10 o'clock the motion to adjourn sine die was adopted in each house, and the members quietly took their departure after the usual congratulations and farewells.

Among the motions of thanks adopted by the house was one extending thanks to the Pacific Postal Telegraph company.

An attempt was made to suspend the rules and take up Watts' license liquor law to-night, but failed, and it now quietly rests in the boneyard of defunct laws. The temperance men made no special effort in the house to rescind the bill and claim its death will gain thousands of votes for prohibition.

There were about 450 bills introduced in the two houses, and only about half of them were acted upon, and among them were many important and useful measures.

The bill appropriating $230 to each county for the purposes of county fairs passed both houses, but was not enrolled and properly signed, and consequently fails to become a law.

Grey made a dying attempt to deliver his pilot speech in the senate, but had only about half finished when the time allowed him had expired and the senate refused to allow him to proceed and continued the order of business, with Grey demanding the floor.

The bill authorizing Governor Penoyer to issue a proclamation for a special election, to be held on the second Tuesday after the first Monday in November, passed both houses. This election will be held for the purpose of submitting to the people the three proposed amendments to the constitution, namely: prohibiting the sale and manufacture of liquor, raising the salaries of state officers, and changing the time of holding the general elections from June to November. Consequently Oregon will be favored with a very interesting election next November.

The English and German ministers have had a number of conferences of late with Secretary Bayard regarding the situation of affairs in the Samoan Islands, and they disclaim any intention on the part of their respective governments to assume a protectorate over the Islands. It is suggested that in view of the fact that the present consuls at Apia are more or less concerned in the internal troubles there it would be better to relieve them and fill their places with new men instructed to attend strictly to legitimate duty and leave King Malieto to manage his affairs unmolested. It is also said in this connection that the next consul at Apia will not be a Californian, but will be taken from one of the eastern states.

The Eugene Register, commenting on the prohibition amendment to the state constitution, says: "It would seem that the mission of the political prohibitionists is about ended in Oregon, and the vote for submitting the amendment at a special election was almost unanimous and without political significance. It is now time for those who think the adoption of such an amendment will end the woes and wrongs caused by the use of intoxicants to get in and drill. This method will give a fair chance and the matter will stand upon its merits only. No political intrigue can be woven into the contest. It is, as we had hoped, a fair fight on the question of prohibition only."

The secretary of the interior transmitted to the senate a letter from the governor of Washington territory, together with a memorial of the commissioners of Kings county, Washington territory, requesting reimbursement by the United States in the sum of $4,168 expenses incurred by the county for the suppression of violence, and the enforcement of the law during the anti-Chinese disturbances in Seattle in November, 1885, and February, 1886. The secretary is of the opinion that the claim is a just one, and recommends its payment.

The following resolution was passed by the Temperance alliance, in session at Salem last week: Resolved, that the Oregon State Temperance Alliance in session in Salem, send fraternal greetings to the temperance workers of Michigan, Alabama and Tennessee, which states are this year to vote on constitutional prohibition. We look to you to carry the flag to victory in your respective states, and Oregon will follow in November.

Should James G. Blaine be nominated for president in 1888, and Ex-Governor Alger, of Michigan, be nominated for vice president, it would be a ticket that the democrats could not beat, even if they put up their very best available men. With Cleveland at the head of the democratic ticket, and these men as the republican standard bearers, the republicans would have a walk-over. Blaine and Alger would be simply invincible.—Statesman.

School clerk in Multnomah county must be a "fat take." Nearly every other man in Portland announces himself as a candidate for the office in that district.

WORK OF THE SESSION.

What we Guarantee for the Dress Goods of our Manufacture:

To be made from the very best material, by skillful workmen, with the latest and most approved machinery, and to be the cheapest goods in the market when service is considered.

Are so thoroughly finished that they can be worn in damp weather or a shower, without fear of being ruined by curling or shrinking.

The manufacturing, dyeing and finishing is done in such a manner, that the goods can be washed if desired, without the least injury to the fabric.

Our goods are wool dyed, and the colors are as fast as the purest dyes and greatest care and skill can make them.

Goods show just what they are and will be until worn out, as there is no weighting, stiffening, or artificial lustre used to increase the weight or finish; as is the case with a large class of goods in the market, but which disappears after a few days' service.

As manufacturers we have taken great pains to supply an article in every way reliable, and unsurpassed by similar goods, either foreign or domestic, and would respectfully ask an examination of the various styles and shades to be found on sale by merchants who are agents for the goods.

All goods of our manufacture should bear the name and trade mark of
