

WEST SIDE TELEPHONE.

McMINNVILLE, FRIDAY APRIL 1, 1887.

"Star Route" Brady was married last week to a young widow formerly a department clerk in Washington.

Ex-Secretary Manning has gone to Bourne, a quiet English watering place near the Isle of Wight, where he will remain a month.

Rumor says the president has chosen Theodore Cook, of Cincinnati, for Treasurer Jordan's successor. Cook belongs to the kid glove faction of the democracy and was backed by Thurman.

S. F. Flood, the rising young orator of the Umpqua, fired the first gun for the prohibition amendment at Rabbit creek, out in that country, last week. It is not stated whether he hit any rabbits or not.

Striking has got to be very popular throughout the east. Indeed, so very popular that the Vassar college students have gone on a strike, because the president of that institution would not allow them to adopt the students cap and gown as a college uniform.

A warrant was issued by the treasury department Tuesday for $150,000 in favor of the board of managers of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers, to be used in the erection of a branch home for disabled volunteer soldiers west of the Rocky mountains.

Speaking of cheek, the cables bring us news from Vienna of an exhibition of cheek that lays in the shade anything we have ever heard of on this side of the fish pond. Here it is: The conspirators who kidnapped Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, last fall, have had the audacity to sue him to recover a loan of $1,000 they made on liberating him.

Rumor has it that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad transfer is about to be a grand fizzle after all. It is said the buyers demanded a chance to examine the condition of the road thoroughly, but Garret would not consent. The stipulated ten days in which the syndicate might decide whether to buy, have elapsed without a reply and the "deal" has apparently failed again.

Unless the inter-state commerce bill will cause rates to advance too high, there will be at least 10,000 head of Oregon and Washington horses shipped to eastern markets the present year. The Pacific coast has an abundance of horse flesh, and the Atlantic states have fine horse markets, and the only drawback to our horse-raisers is the expense of transportation. The Oregon horse possesses a power of endurance which the Atlantic horse does not attain.

The Oregon Pacific company are having another steamer built in addition to the Eastern Oregon and the Willamette Valley, before mentioned. The new boat has not been named. She is an iron steamer of about 3000 tons burden, and will have all of the modern improvements. This steamer will be built by John Roach & Co. and will be used on the line between Yaquina and San Francisco, and with the other two named vessels will make a tri-weekly line between those ports.

Governor Hill, of New York has struck a hard lick at temperance by vetoing a bill prohibiting the sale of liquor within half a mile of certain county insane asylums, for the reason that it was special legislation. This is regarded as a sign that he will veto the high license bill if the senate concurs with the assembly in passing it. This is the republican measure designed to placate the prohibitionists and help carry the state next year, but applies only to large cities. The governor may offer the same objections to it as to the one he has already vetoed.

St. Louis is about to undertake a great reform. Governor Marmaduke has signed the repeal of the law of 1857, which enforces the Downing Sunday law in St. Louis. It was confidently anticipated by the majority of the citizens of St. Louis that the governor would pocket veto the measure and now that he has signed it, great consternation follows. The Downing law which now goes into force prohibits the keeping open of saloons, beer gardens, theatres and other places of amusement on Sunday; barber shops are to remain closed and all manner of business is to cease.

Postmaster-General Vilas recently solicited an opinion from Attorney-General Garland as to whether or not the inter-state commerce bill prohibited the issuance of railroad passes to inspectors and special agents of the postoffice department, as has been customary heretofore. The attorney-general has delivered an exhaustive opinion on the subject, to the effect that the inter-state commerce bill in no way affects the postoffice department and its employees when in pursuance of their line of duty or when going or returning from their places of residence while in the service, which should be regarded as a performance of official labor, and they are, therefore, unaffected by the provisions of the act.

NOTES AND NEWS.

Father McGlynn's church in New York was the scene of a disgraceful row last week.

It looks as though Oregon and Washington would add 75,000 to their population this year, judging from the number now arriving daily.

Captain Bush, the happy owner of the Coronet, has ordered the yacht to Cowes England, where he will offer her for sale for $15,000. He purposes building a new vessel to beat the Coronet.

Captain Thomas W. Slusher, who has just been appointed receiver of the land office at The Dalles, is an old soldier who participated in fifty battles during the war of the rebellion. The Captain's appointment will give general satisfaction to his friends all over the state.

Captain Boyton was picked up at sea on Wednesday last near Cape May. He cast himself overboard from a Norfolk steamer, intending to make his way to shore, but Old Neptune was too rough for him, and he was compelled to hoist his flag of distress, which caught the attention of a passing vessel.

Naval officers who have recently returned from the Alaska coast say that the reports of the richness of Senator Jones' mines in that place have not been over-estimated. There is said to be ore enough in sight to last a lifetime. The farther work progresses the richer the deposits become. For example when the shaft was first dug the ore went about $20 to the ton and it gradually increased to $40 a ton and is expected to go still higher. The stock is paying a dividend of 300 per cent. per year.

Sunday Mrs. J. E. Spofford died under suspicious circumstances at 8 o'clock, about twenty-five miles from Seattle. As she was about to become a mother, the neighbors became suspicious and suspected her husband of being the cause of her death. The district attorney and sheriff were notified, and left Seattle Tuesday to investigate. They found sufficient evidence to arrest J. E. Spofford, husband of the deceased, and the sheriff brought him to Seattle that evening and lodged him in jail. He admits giving his wife Indian medicine to cause an abortion. He dug a grave, and buried his wife immediately after her death. The neighbors told the officers if they had not made their appearance they would have lynched Spofford.

What we Guarantee for the Dress Goods of our Manufacture:

To be made from the very best material, by skillful workmen, with the latest and most approved machinery, and to be the cheapest goods in the market when service is considered.

Are so thoroughly finished that they can be worn in damp weather or a shower, without fear of being ruined by curling or shrinking.

The manufacturing, dyeing and finishing is done in such a manner, that the goods can be washed if desired, without the least injury to the fabric.

Our goods are wool dyed, and the colors are as fast as the purest dyes and greatest care and skill can make them.

Goods show just what they are and will be still worn out, as there is no weighing, stiffening, or artificial lustre used to increase the weight or finish; as is the case with a large class of goods in the market, but which disappears after a few days' service.

As manufacturers we have taken great pains to supply an article in every way reliable, and unsurpassed by similar goods, either foreign or domestic, and would respectfully ask an examination of the various styles and shades to be found on sale by merchants who are agents for the goods.

All goods of our manufacture should bear the name and trade mark of Broadhead Worsted Mills, Jamestown, N. Y.
