

WEST SIDE TELEPHONE.

McMINNVILLE, TUESDAY JULY 19, 1887.

NOTES AND NEWS.

Walla Walla has $900,000 capital in her two banks.

A piece of land 16x34 feet was recently sold in Philadelphia for $85,000; or $7,000,000 an acre.

Multnomah county is out of funds and has to pay 7 per cent interest on money to pay current expenses.

President Cleveland has fixed October 15th as the date of his proposed visit to the exhibition at Atlanta, Ga.

Ben Holliday died at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland Friday evening, after an illness of three weeks, in the 68th year of his age.

A new postoffice has been established at San Lana, Linn county, Oregon, with James Mitchell as postmaster. The Star Route from Myrtle Point to Elliott, Oregon, is extended to Denmark, 27 miles.

The Thistle will make a trip across the Atlantic under one lower mast and reefed topsail about the size of a sixty-ton yacht's mainsail. It is intended to practice cruising in American waters before the race for the American cup.

Northern California has a character nicknamed "Strachine Jack," through his capacity for taking that drug, of which he consumes a spoonful at a dose. If he cuts his flesh and lets a dog lick the wound, the animal dies.

The managers of the state fair will endeavor to make the coming fair a success. They have offered a series of new premiums which ought to add greatly to the popular interest of the occasion.—West Side. Why can't Yamhill county have a fair?

A San Francisco morning paper says: More opium is smuggled into the United States through Port Townsend custom district than is legally entered at this port. The treasury officials, by their criminal negligence, are assisting in these frauds on the revenue.

An army officer perfectly familiar with the Apaches and their whereabouts, said that the statement made a few days ago, that the hostiles were hidden in the Sierra Madre mountains 150 miles south of El Paso, is without foundation. He says all the Apaches are now on the reservation.

Vacant lands in the vicinity of the proposed route of the Oregon Pacific, it is said, are being rapidly settled. The only unfavorable feature of that section of country heretofore has been its inaccessibility. Now, however, that the Oregon Pacific is soon to traverse that region, available land is being taken and many new homes are being unaided.

The suit of Joseph W. Reay against John Butler, P. H. Owens, and Mabel Treadwell as executrix of the estate of James P. Treadwell, which involved the title to about sixty acres of the Sans Scuir ranch, close to the Lone Mountain cemetery, and worth $300,000, was decided, on July 15, in favor of the defendants by Judge Levey. The complaint filed in 1886.

It is probable that the State Department will station a confidential officer at San Francisco, to whom all state mail will be delivered from Pacific steamers, and whose duty it will be to advise the department by telegraph of anything in the mail which may seem to require immediate attention, and for which the department ought not to wait the slow course of mails between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Walla Walla Union: The wheat crop of this immediate section will aggregate 500,000 tons this season. The Oregon Railway & Navigation to take it all must haul 1500 tons a day, or five trains of 20 cars each. It takes a wheat train a week to make the round trip to Portland and back. This would necessitate the constant use of seven hundred cars, and that company has no such number that it can call into requisition.

Skeletons of sixty men were found in a cave at Cookville. Skulls discovered with bullet holes through them. Others have been crushed with an axe or some other blunt instrument. It is stated the skeletons were those of traders murdered for a number of years past for the valuables they carried. Their disappearance could never be accounted for and the discovery has caused the greatest excitement. Steps will be taken to ferret out the murderers.

A gentleman from Columbus, Ohio who is well versed in political affairs in the Buckeye state, said that he had positive information that John Sherman is disgusted with the carryings on of his leaders at home, and that he has stated distinctly that unless the Toledo convention of the 27th endorsed him as the candidate of the state of Ohio, plainly and unequivocally, he will positively refuse to allow his name to go before the national convention next year.

At the New York Stock Exchange July 15th, at noon, Vice-President A. B. Hill, apparently in full health, ascended the platform to announce the death of M. M. T. Dervias, and had hardly finished when he was taken with a sudden weakness. Friends assisted him to the entry, but he had just passed a flight of stairs leading to the door when he expired. The announcement of his death was immediately made, and a special meeting of the governing committee was called to take action. The Exchange immediately adjourned.

The Boston Grand Army Record says: In a word, the chief magistrate of the nation—the choice of over fifty million American people—is to be ignored by a loyal organization of his countrymen because he presumed to follow the dictates of his own judgment in deciding a matter of vital importance to the entire country. Such action is essence of bad policy, and is to be deplored in view of the fact that we are more than likely, at no distant day, to need his friendship.

One would think from reading the republican papers that Cleveland committed treason against the government when he sent a substitute to the war. On all occasions they refer to it as a criminal matter, forgetting that they bawled themselves blind shouting for Blaine who had done the same thing when he was drafted. The dullest eye can pierce such thin, stupid subterfuges.

Democrats will present Mr. Cleveland as their nominee for the succession, the Chicago Times thinks, not because they love him, but because he is the only available man they can present; and this journal thinks the country probably will accept him, as before, chiefly because they do not love him.

Robert Caples, son of J. F. Caples, of Portland, is at home to spend his twenty-first birthday. While engaged on the editorial staff of the San Francisco Examiner, and as a student of law, he became converted to democracy and will cast his first vote for that party.

What we Guarantee for the Dress Goods of our Manufacture:
To be made from the very best material, by skillful workmen, with the latest and most approved machinery, and to be the cheapest goods in the market when service is considered
Are so thoroughly finished that they can be worn in damp weather or a shower, without fear of being ruined by curling or shrinking
The manufacturing, dyeing and finishing is done in such a manner, that the goods can be washed if desired, without the least injury to the fabric
Our goods are wool dyed, and the colors are as fast as the purest dyes and greatest care and skill can make them
Goods show just what they are and will be until worn out, as there is no weighting, stiffening, or artificial luster used to increase the weight or finish; as is the case with a large class of goods in the market, but which disappears after a few days' service
As manufacturers we have taken great pains to supply an article in every way reliable, and unsurpassed by similar goods, either foreign or domestic, and would respectfully ask an examination of the various styles and shades to be found on sale by merchants who are agents for the goods
All goods of our manufacture should bear the name and trade mark of Broadhead Worsted Mills, Jamestown, N. Y.
