TELEPHONE WHISPERINGS.

Albertus Davis has his oats all down. Fresh roasted peanuts at H. H. Welch's. Wanted immediately a girl to work at Mrs. Sturats. Little Pearl Campbell is suffering with the measles. The Randall musical entertainment will be held to night. Come and subscribe for the Democratic WEST SIDE TELEPHONE. Geo. W. Snyder started for his home at Astoria Saturday morning. Rev. A. J. Hunsaker held divine services at Albany on Sunday last. Bill Bangasser was in town Saturday. He looks every inch an old railroad man. For Sale.—A good milk cow with a young calf.—Inquire of Mrs. J. P. Powell. Rock and lumber are now on the ground for the building of the new C. P. church. The old C. P. church reached its destination yesterday—corner of E and 4th streets. C. A. Cole, formerly editor of the Corvallis Chronical, is clerking in a store at Spokane Falls. So says T. M. Fields, "all ye that thirst come and drink ice-cold lemonade." Luff in, boys! Luff in!

David Caldwell went to Willamina yesterday to be gone a week. Will Loughary has been transferred from Corvallis to Roseburg. Hon. Jacob Westman is now one of the happy band at Nescueca. Little Miss Blanche Harding has recovered from an attack of measles. H. F. Turner came up Saturday and returned yesterday morning to Portland. So many people have gone to the coast that nearly all the stores in town are run by clerks. The Grants Pass Courier has changed hands, W. J. Wimer having sold to A. A. Allworth. The committee on the foundation of the new Odd Fellows' building has decided it good. Ed. Mathien, while on his way to the coast lost a fine gold watch and chain, which he could not find. Wheat cutting has commenced in earnest in all parts of the county. The yield promises to be good. Report reaches this state that "O. A." Brown, an early pioneer in Oregon, is lying dangerously ill in Washington. E. S. Longacre, formerly principal of the Amity school, has moved to Dallas, and will take charge of the school there. The first salmon laden vessel to leave the Columbia river this season is the Warwick Castle which carries 41,582 cases. Mrs. Rev. Neil Johnson was quite sick on Sunday. Dr. Young was called and we are glad to say she is improving rapidly. Detectives think they have got the Kelly brothers spotted. They claim that the majority of them live in Yamhill county. The WEST SIDE TELEPHONE thinks it would be a good idea to build a railroad from McMinnville to Astoria. Betcherite.—Astorian. Prof. V. Garrigus, of Independence, well known as a somewhat cranky but inoffensive lecturer on astrology, died Friday morning at Independence. Uncle Mid Simpson, one of the pioneers of Polk county, died at his residence on the Lukiamute, on the 12th. He was a pioneer of 1845, and a man much respected by his neighbors and friends. Rev. John C. Fair preached his farewell sermon at the St. James church Sunday last. He has been called to a church in The Dalles. He intends leaving McMinnville on the 22d of this month. May success go with him. John H. Smith, who, it will be remembered, attended school at the college in this city for several years, has recently graduated from the Washington-Lee university, Virginia, and settled in Astoria for the practice of law. May success attend him. If you wish to restore the bloom to your wasted cheek, and so improve your health that plumpness and strength will succeed emaciation and debility, purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Every person who has used this remedy has been greatly benefitted. Take it this month. Warehouse men are cleaning up, renovating and repairing their machinery ready for business. This is especially true of Galloway & Goucher, who have ten or a dozen hands employed, inside and out of their large warehouse. Surely the farmers of this vicinity will not be hindered by a lack of warehouse room. The Randall convention and concert company arrived on the up train yesterday morning. Owing to Major Henderson's entertainment the free concert was postponed until to night. Our music loving people should go to the M. E. church and give the professor and his excellent company a good reception. The WEST SIDE TELEPHONE has gone "solidly Democratic" and advises the Southern Pacific to build a road from McMinnville to Astoria. Why not advocate the building of a narrow gauge from Sheridan across the Coast Range and up the coast to Astoria? That is an item that would not be ignored.—Astoria Transcript. That's so. The grand lodge of A. O. U. W. has elected the following officers: Grand master workman, Geo. T. Russell, of Oakland; grand foreman, E. L. Smith, of Hood river; overseer, Oliver Hall, of Colfax; recorder, J. T. Brown, Olympia; receiver, R. L. Durham, Portland; representatives, W. D. Hare, Hillsboro; D. C. Wheeler, Seaside; D. L. Green, Sallen; trustee, W. J. Plymale, Jacksonville. FIRST SHIPMENT.—JUNE 11 Mr. W. A. Wells bought 1000 bushels of this year's oats at 50 cents per bushel, to be delivered at his warehouse on June 16. They will be shipped to Yaquina on Monday and will form a part of the Eastern Oregon's cargo on Tuesday. This is the first sale and shipment of this year's crop that we have heard of.—Corvallis Gazette. SCHOOL CLOSED.—The students of the Indian school at Chemawa are now enjoying their vacation, the year's work having closed some time since. A large number of the students have been permitted to depart for their several homes but the majority are still at Chemawa. During the spring the disease of scarlet fever was contracted, and, although over a hundred were taken down with it, not one case resulted fatally. Owing to the prevalence of the disease, the usual commencement exercises, which are always interesting, were omitted. The fever has now disappeared, and the school is enjoying its ordinary good health. The next school year will begin about September 1st.—Statesman.

Four Men Drowned at Tillamook.

From the Rosie Olsen, lying at Hume's wharf, is learned tidings of a dreadful accident at Tillamook, July 10, by which four men lost their lives. It appears that a man named Albert Briggs, who runs a sloop from Lincoln to Hobsonville and Garibaldi, started from the former place carrying five passengers. When off Hobsonville a flaw struck the boat and she capsized and sunk. The owner of the boat and a boy named Woodruff got on the flats and were saved from the canerny, the other four unfortunate men were drowned. Three of them were new arrivals from Pennsylvania and had only got there the day before. Their names couldn't be learned. The body of one was found next day; in his pockets were $3,350 in gold and notes. An inquest was held by a jury of which ex-governor Thayer was forman, a verdict returned of accidental drowning. The fourth man was from the Nescueca. Efforts were making when the Rosie Olsen left to find the other bodies.—Astorian.

Letter from the Sinlaw.

WALTON, Or., July 12, '87. ED. TELEPHONE.—Are all o. k. on the Sinlaw river. Got here Saturday night. As there was no church or Sunday school to attend we spent the afternoon fishing; caught a fine string. Monday hunted; to-day fished, and to-night came in with another fine string and a ravenous appetite; and after sharpening it with a pull at the medical aid chest, sat down to a fine supper of venison steak, beans and baked potatoes. Ye pampered sons of civilization don't know what good living is. The road down the Sinlaw is much more level than any route we have ever traveled over the Coast range; no mountain on the road. The country is new yet, but developing fast and will soon be a fine stock country. Having nothing but p. c. to write on can not give you extended description, but deer and bear are plenty, and fish, oh my! More anon. W. V. F. C. W. T.

The Kelly Murder Items.

The people of the town and county are still greatly excited over the murder of Kelly. Nine men out of ten desire to see the matter unearthed and the guilty ones brought to justice. It is understood that the county court is taking steps to investigate the foul deed, but just what those steps are we do not at this time know. One thing positive has been ascertained and that is, that every scrub in Yamhill and Polk counties that could be induced to join a mob was here on that black Thursday; and the crowd that was here represented every man in both counties who could be induced to join a murderous gang. Immediately after the horrible crime we, along with others, surmised that there were a good many representative men in it, but now it has been proven beyond doubt that every one of them is without character or standing in the community where they live and are known for what they are worth.—Itemizer.

Gone Booms.

Where the little boomlets, which were blooming weeks ago? When the spring was young and scarcely risen from the winters snow; where, O whether have ye wandered, boomlets anon so young and fair? They have left their vale of sorrows, they have climbed the golden stair. Where are now the frenzied boomers, who were painting every town, where are they who in the spring time, galloped up and galloped down? They have gone to join the firm flam, where it soars about the moon; they are where the gentle whang whang, sings at eve a maudlin tune. Once these boomlets were so handsome, once these boomers were so strong! Once they gladdened all the bosoms, of a wide and surging throng; and the throng took up the spirit, sure they could not be bereft; then the boomlet quickly vanished, and the throng was badly left. Once I saw a booming boomlet and it held the village down; true it wasn't in proportion—it was bigger than the town; for a week or two it lasted, then it glided up the flume, and the town looked, oh, so lonesome, it was bigger than the boom. When at eve the pale whang-doodle mourneth in a solemn tone, slumber on, O weary boomers, in your grave beneath the stone; where the deadly bill-flop wenders, breathing forth its song of hate; take your rest, O broken boomlets, till you reach the golden gate.

Owing to the concert this evening, the Y.W.C.T.U. will meet at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Johnson on Wednesday evening instead of Tuesday evening as usual. HORSETHIEF.—G. W. Wilson yesterday traded a horse to Watt Henderson, and within an hour a telegram from the sheriff of Polk county, stating that he had stolen the horse and to arrest him, which was done as nice and neatly as could be imagined. The man at present is in the cooler in this city and the horse at the livery stable. The outfit was stolen from Roseburg.

SCROFULA

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a cure for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength to the body, and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used. —E. Haines, North Lima, Ohio.
