

NAPOLEON IN EXILE.

How the Conqueror Spent His Days at St. Helena. Napoleon's life at St. Helena was so guarded from the knowledge of the islanders...

An English ensign, now General Ward, was stimulated by curiosity to see the exile, to such a degree that one night he risked his commission for the chance of a glimpse at the mysterious captive...

The last occasion on which Napoleon was out of doors, the ensign guided him through a military telescope. It was a bright morning, and the sergeant of the guard at Longwood Gate said to the ensign...

The severe restrictions were maintained as precautionary measures. Napoleon had once before escaped from St. Helena, and the British Government...

The remark was prophetic. "France's cry: 'On to the Rhine!'" which heralded the war with Germany...

A Household Hint. "Mrs. Molly Bignam, a newly-married lady, does not know any thing about house-keeping...

Interesting Legal Decision. The general rule is that when a mechanic laboring for an employer in the construction of a machine invents a valuable improvement...

The London Road Car Company. To their credit, stand out against the practice of running cars on Sunday, although they believe their dividend could be increased one per cent, by adopting it.

At Mr. Moody's two hundred young men and women are now being educated to become missionaries, teachers and workers in other branches of Christian effort.

A little girl in a Boston school was asked to define the word "redress" promptly replied that it meant a female reader. And a little girl in an English school recently gave "gandras" as a synonym of "garden."

FEMALE PHYSICIANS.

One of Their Number Speaks About Their Success in the East and West. Miss Harriet Post, a talented young lady who has been a practicing physician in New York City for eight years...

"In the East and in the extreme West it is different. In the West the female doctor, like the female farmer, is growing up with the country, and if she proves herself a woman of sense and understanding she is consulted in cases of illness, and her advice received with respect and followed with obedience.

"The medical colleges are more strict with lady students than with the gentlemen. In the first place a good high school examination is required of ladies before they are admitted. This the gentlemen, except in rare instances, may omit.

FIFTY YEARS A TYPO.

A number of St. Paul women have organized themselves into a band to report to policemen all gentlemen who try to flirt with them. The report is to be made for the woman who does not want to flirt rarely flirts anyone trying to flirt with her.

A VALUABLE MEDICAL TREATISE.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling Medical Annual known as Hostetter's Almanac is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere.

The gentleman whose abode covers such a wide extent of territory is now in the winter of life, being about seventy-five years of age. He is very intelligent, pleasing in conversation, and on the whole a most agreeable personage to meet.

"In 1839 I became apprenticed to Timothy C. Strong, editor of the Orleans American, Orleans, N. Y. I became, in time, a journeyman printer. About 1840 we had chance to distinguish ourselves in politics. I had no voice for making speeches, and so went about singing 'Old Tip and Tyler too' into office.
