JOINT REPRESENTATIVE-YAMHILL AND TILLAMOOK COUNTIES.

C. V. KIRKENDALL.

John M. Gearin, the candidate for congress is an able and gifted speaker. He was born in Unadilla county in 1851 and is 37 years old. He will make the most brilliant canvass that Oregon has seen for years. His friends claim that he will carry Multnomah county by 2,000 majority.

The head of the editorial columns this week is graced by the democratic state ticket, it is also the winning ticket, or at least we will consider it so until it is defeated, not before. John M. Gearin has declared his popularity in Multnomah county, the stronghold of the republicans, three times during the past few years.

At Milwaukee, Wis., in the municipal election that took place last Wednesday the names of old political parties were dropped. The contest was between the socialists and the citizens' ticket. It was a close run. Brown, citizens' candidate for mayor, received 15,978 votes, and Kroeger, socialist candidate, received 15,033. The election was a very exciting one. Republicans and democrats dropped their party names for the once, and united to beat the socialists. Milwaukee is one of our cities that have a larger foreign born than native population.

Rhode Island held her state election last Wednesday. She is a manufacturing state, yet the democratic platform adopted by her state convention commends President Cleveland's message and declares in favor of a reform in the tariff. Rhode Island gave Blaine 6,000 majority in 1884.

But it is not Rhode Island that our republican brethren are mourning over. Just now, the country is going to the devil, on account of the talk about removing the tariff on wool. When they get the farmers sufficiently interested to be scared over their wool, they will look after the manufacturers. Too bad!

Jacob Sharp, the New York boondler is dead. His funeral occurred Saturday. The following is a dispatch from New York regarding the same: New York, April 7.—One of the queerest episodes that ever occurred in this city was the funeral of Jacob Sharp, which occurred at 8:30 this evening, at his late residence. The utmost secrecy marked the arrangements, and no one was allowed to enter the house, except by invitations especially sent by the family. Even the visitors had evident instructions not to give any information about the affair, and when questioned denied that the funeral was taking place.

QUITE THE OPPOSITE.

At a Democratic caucus held by the Democratic members of congress on April 8, for the purpose of discussing the bills for the admission of territories, the result was quite the opposite to the howls of the Republican party. The Democrats stand solidly for the admission of Dakota, New Mexico, Washington and Montana. The aim of the Democracy and the policy suggested in the caucus was one of great liberality to the territories. Irrespective of party policy the Democrats stand firm for the new states in the hope that the admission to statehood will give them aid in their rapid progress and development.

THE DIFFERENCE.

People of this city have repeatedly asked the editor of this paper if he could see any difference between Pendleton and McMinnville. We will say to the public that we can in many ways. For instance a man in Pendleton mortgaged his property in that city to enable him to pay his share of the bonds which he had subscribed for a flour mill. This is one difference. Another is in the report that the two papers of Pendleton receive from the business men of that city. There is not one place of business in the city of Pendleton but what has an advertisement in the local papers, saloons not excepted. When a man in business will help support his home papers then a town can be said to be advancing, for through its newspapers a town gets what popularity it has with the outside country.

NOTHING TO BE ASHAMED OF.

When a person reads the following plank of the democracy of Oregon, he can not help but feel that the democratic party is doing all that is possible for the poor man. The other day we overheard a bloated monopolist on a small scale, ridiculing the democratic party, because it could not raise enough money to carry an election with; because he said the party is composed of poor men. We admit it and by the help of these same poor men we intend to roll up a good democratic majority in support of the plank which reads:

Resolved, That we most earnestly and unqualifiedly endorse the policy of tariff revision, and a reduction of the surplus revenue to the needs of the government, economically administered, as set forth in the president's last annual message to congress. We believe that such a revision is dictated by sound policy and that unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation and oppression, and public revenue should, as far as possible, be derived from taxes levied upon the luxuries rather than on the necessities of life.

A poor man has no luxuries, and the republican party in order to help our home manufactures whose capital runs up into the millions, protects them and pours money into their coffers which is sucked from the arteries of the laboring classes. Protect our poor men and tax our capitalists to be a better scheme. Poverty is nothing to be ashamed of. In order to gain a good majority in favor of the democratic party on the issues that are before us, we must each and every one consider ourselves a missionary in the land of the heathen trying to convert them to the true principals of tariff reform.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, April 2, 1888. Congress was not completely extinguished last week, but it must be confessed it was considerably overshadowed by another attraction—the Woman's International Council. And the convention was quite a financial success to say the least, its surplus being limited only by the size of the opera house in which the gathering was held. For four days the storm clouds wrestled with the council, and for four nights the rain pattered down and the women splattered back and forth. They were burning with the fires of too lofty an enthusiasm, to bother about the weather.

It was not until the fifth day of the convention that the sun shone and the delegates from foreign countries got the first glimpse of the American capital with its stately public buildings. I might say every subject that pertained to woman was considered. Attention was given to the notable advances in all lines of development, involving a review of what has been accomplished, which gave a congratulatory tone to the gathering, and drew certain representative women here who would not have been attracted had the cause had only a political end in view.

The necessity of better organization in the work for women's advancement was the main idea of the convention, and the organizations perfected as the result of the effort promise to be of historical interest and importance.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland accorded the Women's Council a special handshaking on Friday, and Susan B. Anthony, who presented the pioneers of the woman's suffrage movement heading the line, rested her hand on the President's shoulder during this performance and was so unique in her style altogether that she kept the President and Mrs. Cleveland laughing. There were colored women in line who were affably presented and received, meek looking quakers in grey and brown, an Indian woman gorgeous in a gown with beaded embroidery, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Scotch, and English ladies, many of whom were elegantly dressed while a few Americans were in the widest evolution of the dress reform. The President emerged, looking as if he had been through a thrilling experience. Yesterday a number of delegates of the council occupied various pulpits of the city churches.

The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weakness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I heartily believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, M.D., D. D. S., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. Today my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.
