WOMAN AND HOME. REMEMBER THE BIRTHDAYS AND OTHER FAMILY ANNIVERSARIES.

The Doctrine of Heredity—A Sensible Suggestion—Tired Mothers—Use of Fruit—The Cockerroach—Water for Cooking—Careless Dress—Paragraphs. As a people, we pay far too little attention to birthdays and other family anniversaries.

The Doctrine of Heredity. "My child's moral development began when I was 6 years old," a mother sadly remarked to a visitor whose face expressed surprise at the child's disobedience.

The Tired Wife and Mother. Man, that is born of woman, is prone to fatigue. Woman, that is married to man, is just as prone to fatigue. It is in their respective methods of showing their tiredness that a man and a woman differ as widely as the roar of a cyclone differs from the sigh and sob of the ocean's voice.

The Name of Gentlemen. Tenneyson, in sweeping the whole range of tender praise for his dear friend Arthur Hallam, says that he bore without abuse the grand old name of gentleman.

Make Children Orderly and Neat. If you have several little children in your nursery, give each one a rule in which to keep its own toys. Make it a rule that each child should help the mother or nurse, and help each other, to pick up all the toys, books or games, and put the nursery in order before it is time for the evening meal.

A Free Use of Fruit. Few people, I find, realize the benefit to be gained from a free use of fruit. Now, I would suggest that the child, rather than the mother, be held responsible for the preparation of the daily lunch, but instead of sending him to the pantry for bread, meat, cake, etc., I would suggest that he be sent down cellar or out into the field for some ripe apples, pears or grapes.

Slaying the Festive Cockerroach. "Everything is in knowing how, you know," remarked an observant frequenter of the city hall. "If everybody knew as much about cockroaches as I do the vermin would soon become extinct."

Hard and Soft Water. All cooks do not understand the different effects produced by hard and soft water in cooking meat and vegetables. Peas and beans cooked in hard water, containing lime or gypsum, will not boil tender, because these substances harden vegetable casines.

A Washstand of Beauty. You can make a corner in washstand thus: Have an enameled board, with hole cut for the basin, fitted in at a convenient height; above on one side put a small shelf for bottles and so on, on the other the towel rail, and in the corner hang the basket for sponges; then about seven feet from the floor fix a brass rod, on which hang two cretonne curtains that will hide the fixtures when not in use.

Carelessness in Dress. Slowly, carelessly dress is offensive because inconsistent with perceptible unities in nature. The human body is in itself a type of order demanding orderly attention; and one will often find that the person who preferences total indifference to dress is lacking in appreciation for the subtle features of natural beauty. They will admit sublimity and grandeur on a large scale, but take little or no pleasure out of the intricate geometrical regularity of the marvelous works of nature's lower kingdoms.

Make it a rule that each child should help the mother or nurse, and help each other, to pick up all the toys, books or games, and put the nursery in order before it is time for the evening meal.

Responsibilities of a Hostess. A hostess should think twice before she invites any one to her house. But having invited them, she must remember that she is henceforth their slave. She should be so gracious as to let her friends alone unless she wishes to treat them to a meal of children and sleep.
