CLEVELAND and THURMAN.

Where is Harrison? Vote for Cleveland and tariff reform.

When did you hear of Harrison last?

What about better fire protection in McMinnville. Keep the ball rolling.

Bets are being made in New York City at the following proportions $100 on Cleveland to $75 on Harrison.

How many Democrats in Yamhill county voted for Van Buren and intend to vote for Cleveland. Send us your names.

Of the twenty leading trusts in the United States, all but three deal in and seek to control the articles heavily protected by the tariff.

Bird-fanciers say that the voices of American-bred canaries become harsher in each generation. German birds must be constantly imported to preserve a mellow note.

At the annual convention of the G. A. R. Hon. William Dornier was chosen commander-in-chief. He has a splendid war record, and is now a member of congress from Missouri.

A single shad produces 100,000 eggs, and only about 5,000 are hatched naturally. By the artificial method 98,000 are successfully hatched. No wonder this fine fish gets cheaper every year.

Politics are booming in the east and it is a sure thing that Cleveland will be elected. Thousands of hardshell Republicans will vote the Democratic ticket. They know what is for their own interests.

McConnell formerly of this county is blossoming out into a thorough bred full blooded Republican. He has cornered the flax seed crop of the north west coast and the people must pay his price or not get it.

The fifteen great American inventions of world-wide adoption are: 1. The cotton-gin; 2. The planting machine; 3. The grass-mower and reaper; 4. The rotary printing-press; 5. Navigation by steam; 6. Hot-air engine; 7. The sewing-machine; 8. The india-rubber industry; 9. The machine manufacture of horseshoes; 10. The steamblast for carving; 11. The gaugelathe; 12. The grain-elevator; 13. Artificial ice-making on a large scale; 14. The electric magnet and its practical application; 15. THE TELEPHONE.

EXTRACTS.

The Following are Extracts From Governor Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.

The cost of the government must continue to be met by tariff duties collected at our custom-houses upon imported goods and by internal-revenue taxes assessed upon spirits, wine and malt liquors, tobacco, and oleomargarine.

I suppose it is needless to explain that all these duties and assessments are added to the price of the articles upon which they are levied, and thus become a tax upon all those who buy these articles for use and consumption. I suppose, too, it is well understood that the effect of this tariff taxation is not limited to the consumers of imported articles, but that the duties imposed upon such articles permit a corresponding increase in price to be laid upon domestic productions of the same kind; which increase, paid by all our people as consumers of home productions and entering every American home, constitute a form of taxation as certain and as inevitable as though the amount was annually paid into the hand of the tax-gatherer.

These results are inseparable from the plan we have adopted for the collection of our revenue by tariff duties. They are not mentioned to discredit the system, but by way of preface to the statement that every million of dollars collected at our custom-houses for duties upon imported articles and paid into the public treasury represents many millions more, which, though never reaching the National treasury, are paid by our citizens as the increased cost of domestic productions resulting from our tariff laws. In these circumstances, and in view of this necessary effect of the operation of our plan for raising revenue, the absolute duty of limiting the rate of tariff charges to the necessities of a frugal and economical administration of the government seems to be perfectly plain. The continuance, upon a pretext of meeting public expenditures, of such a scale of tariff taxation as draws from the substance of the people a sum largely in excess of public needs is surely something which, under a government based upon justice, and which finds its strength and usefulness in the faith and trust of the people, ought not to be tolerated.

While the heaviest burdens incident to the necessities of the government are uncomplainingly borne light burdens become grievous and intolerable when not justified by such necessities.

Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation.

And yet this is our condition. We are annually collecting at our custom-houses and by means of our internal-revenue taxation many millions in excess of all legitimate public needs. As a consequence there now remains in the National treasury a surplus of more than one hundred and thirty millions of dollars.

No better evidence could be furnished that the people are exorbitantly taxed. The extent of the superfluous burden indicated by this surplus will be better appreciated when it is suggested that such surplus alone represents taxation aggregating more than one hundred and eighty thousand dollars in a county containing fifty thousand inhabitants.

COPP'S LAND REVIEW.

Some Recent Decisions by the Secretary of the Interior—Old Rulings Rescinded and Greater Liberty Toward Settlers Shown.

Secretary Vilas seems not to take it for granted that the constructions of law and departmental decisions of the past have been correct and for the best interests of all concerned.

Since the pre-emption and homestead laws first became operative, it has been the rule of the General Land Office and Department of the Interior that the laws intended that each settler should acquire title to 160 acres of land, and that where entries were made for parts of fractional sections, although all of the sub-divisions applied for by the entryman might lie within the boundary lines of a technical quarter section, the entry must be restricted to that number of such sub-divisions that nearest approximated in area the magic 160 acres or nominal quarter section, and in many instances settlers have been required, after having made entries, to relinquish some one of the sub-divisions covered by their entries so that the excess over 160 acres should be as small as possible, and frequently under this rule settlers have been forced to take less than the 160 acres, the practice being to permit the entry for such tracts as come nearest—whether above or below that acreage.

In homestead entries, where the land embraced exceeded the area of 160 acres, the settler was required to make payment in cash or its equivalent in some kind of "Land Scrip" for the "excess," as the surplusage is technically called, at the rate per acre at which the land was rated by the government. The Secretary has recently changed this practice, and a pre-emption or homestead settler may now enter all of the land within the limits of a quarter section as surveyed, regardless of the quantity, it being held that the language of the law "shall be entitled to enter one quarter section" means that a quarter section as surveyed may be entered, and that the references to 160 acres are merely explanatory, not restrictive in character, or that they may apply to entries for sub-divisions of sections not forming a quarter section as surveyed.

The rule, it would appear, for the future is to be that a settler may enter all of any quarter section, regardless of area, and without payment of excess; but if the settlement be upon lands not embraced within the surveyed lines of one quarter section, then the old rule of restriction as to area and requirement of excess payments will govern.

It has also been decided that a pre-emptor may not be permitted to sub-divide the land covered by his filing into town lots and establish places of business and trade thereon without waiving his right of pre-emption, and persons so doing will not be permitted to make payment for and perfect title to the land under the pre-emption law. It is held that a subsisting entry, though the land may have been abandoned by the settler prior to the attachment of rights under a railroad grant, is sufficient to except the land from the operation of the grant, and the act of selection or listing of the land on account of the railroad grant, confers no right under the grant and will not operate to prevent the admission of an entry for the land under any of the laws relating to the disposal of public lands. It is also held with regard to railroad grants that land covered by a pre-emption filing valid on its face is excepted from the operation of the grant. A pre-emption filing is considered as the record assertion of a claim into the validity of which a railroad company is precluded from inquiring. Even the fact that the land has been awarded to the grant in former controversies involving its status, does not prevent the Department from reconsidering the matter and making a different decision.

MASONRY'S POET LAUREATE.

Dr. Robert Morris the Poet Laureate of Freemasonry was born in Massachusetts on the 31st, of August 1818. He early became an active Free Mason and began to lecture in 1837. He was 70 years old at the time of his death which occurred July 29th, at La Grange, Ky., and he is sincerely mourned by tens of thousands Freemasons and fraternity folks generally, upon three continents, who knew him personally during the two score years and more he was connected with masonry.

DR. ROBERT MORRIS.

thousands Freemasons and fraternity folks generally, upon three continents, who knew him personally during the two score years and more he was connected with masonry.

Robert Morris was initiated into the craft on March 3, 1846. He became at once what is known as a "bright" Mason, and his progress in the order was steady until his election as Grand Master of Kentucky in 1858. Very shortly after his entrance into the order he began to write upon his mysteries, and at the time of his death he had contributed over 300 articles upon them. This made him very popular with Freemasons, and during all his later years his lectures were confined exclusively to subjects of interest to his beloved order.

Since 1860 Mr. Morris has resided at La Grange, Ky. In 1884 he received the title of Poet Laureate of Freemasonry. Among his works are "Lights and Shadows of Freemasonry," published in 1852; "History of the Morgan affair," published in 1852; "Code of Masonic Law," published in 1855; "History of Freemasonry in Kentucky," published in 1859; "Freemasonry in the Holy Land," published in 1882; "The poetry of Freemasonry," and works on numerics. About a year ago Mr. Morris lectured to the masons of this county at Lafayette. The above portrait of him is a good picture of him at that time. Mr. Morris is a man whose fame will never grow less in the minds of the masonic fraternity.

'Rob' Morris' Last Poem.

We are indebted to the Knights of Honor of Louisville, Ky., for the following poem, which was read by Captain H. B. Grant at the funeral of the poet laureate of Freemasonry, in La Grange, Ky., on July 29, 1888. Captain Grant stated that it had been sent to him by Dr. Morris, with the request that it should not be made public until after the author's death. We feel confident that our readers will be pleased to obtain this, the last contribution of the beloved fraternal.

A MESSAGE FROM THE GRAVE. Brothers in June or in December, Honoring the memory of the dear St. John. Then let some kind participant remember The name of him who wrote this, but is gone; Let some kind brother rise, while all are silent, And with deep pathos and fond friendship say: He was a Mason, gentle, true and tender. And loved old things that do not pass away. He loved his friends; in them his heart found anchor. Bound in affection as with hooks of steel; As for his foes, he gave few signs of rancor. But bore their slanders patiently and well. He loved to make in simple verse that rhyming, Where ancient signs and emblems smoothly lie; Where deeds of brother-love and truth are chiding. And Masonry is wed to poetry. He loved the word of God; his hopes eternal Grew sweeter as the end of life grew nigh; A sinful man, but saved by grace supernatural, Trusting in Christ, he dreaded not to die. At times a cloud the promises dimming, And deep humility obscured the scene, But the bright Son of Righteousness uprising, Dispelled the gloom and warmed the soul again. He gave the widows and the orphans aid, A portion of his hard-earned, scanty store, And though the amount might seem but trifling truly. He gave so cheerfully it seemed the more His heart was in his work, to build the temple. In fervency, he toiled through many years, To "build the temple," spiritual and mental. He triumphs now—is freed from toil and tears. He's gone; the problem that so long he studied, That mystery of "the world to come" profound Is solved; his tree of life which only bud-died. Bears now full harvest in celestial ground. In the Great Presence, with the wearied resting. He has his wages and is well content. Brothers, in silence stand; your love attesting— This is the word your dying brother sent.

The Saturday Review gives currency to a report that the Government of India contemplates "a general move forward all along the line" in the matter of sanitation and expresses a hope "that the projected changes will be thorough, courageous, and effectual." It adds that "with respect to cholera the unchecked prevalence of that disease in India places the English Government in the embarrassing and illogical position of having secured immunity at home by sanitary precautions, while India continues to be the headquarters and starting point of epidemics which threaten the rest of the world."

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has given me nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had was growing thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.  A disease of the scalp causes my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. H. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

DUJARDIN'S LIFE ESSENCE

This wonder of Modern Chemistry is pronounced to be unequalled for its power of replenishing the vitality of the body, by supplying all the essential constituents of the Blood, Brain and Nerve Substance, and for developing all the Powers and Functions of the System to the highest degree. It acts as a specific, surpassing all those of the present age, for the speedy and permanent cure of all derangements of the Nervous and Blood Systems, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Incapacity for Study or Business, Noises in the Head and Ears, Loss of Energy and Appetite. Being a Natural Restorative, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are Permanent, and are frequently shown, from the first day of its administration, by a remarkable Increase of the Nervous Power, with a feeling of Vigor, Strength and Comfort to which the patient has long been unaccustomed. The nervous symptoms disappear, as well as the Functional Derangement. Sleep becomes calm and refreshing. At the same time the patient gains flesh, the features presenting a striking improvement; the Face becomes Fuller, the Lips Red, the Eyes Brighter, and the Skin Clear and Healthy. The hair of the head and beard grows and acquires strength, as also the nails, showing the importance of the action of the medicine on the organs of nutrition. It gives back to the human structure, in a suitable form, the Lively, Animating, Element of Life which has been wasted, and exerts an important influence directly on the Brain, Spinal Marrow and Nervous System, of a Nutritive, Tonic and Invigorating character, thereby checking all wasting of the Vital Fluid and the more Exhausting Processes of Life, maintaining that Buoyant Energy of the Brain and Muscular System which renders the Mind Happy, Cheerful, Brilliant and Energetic; entirely overcoming that dull, inactive and sluggish disposition which many persons experience in all their action. Price, $1.50 per bottle.
