LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT THE CITY.

King Humbert of Italy is ill. A thunder storm Thursday night. The fire cistern will be done next week.

The roof is being put on the court house. The engine leaked at the fire and was not of much use.

A fine shower of rain is prayed for by the farmers. Read the last poem of the poet laureate of masonry.

W. D. Fenton is visiting his father-in-law near Northmouth. No one who has been vaccinated has contracted the small-pox.

It is reported that Tom Youem, of Bellevue has gone crazy. The Oregon Register has reduced its size to a seven column folio.

A fierce storm in Mexico last week destroyed much property. Dr. W. H. Boyd arrived in this city on the evening train, Monday.

Mrs. S. A. Manning arrived in this city from the east last week Thursday. Several new houses are in progress of construction east of the railroad.

S. A. Manning is at work putting the iron roofing on the school house. A row between Mexicans and Americans is in progress on the Rio Grande.

Mr. Hopkins the saloon keeper has been ill with a fever but is now better. Mr. A. L. Talmage left for Tacoma Wednesday. He will be gone about four weeks.

A Houck's little girl was taken suddenly ill Wednesday night and died before morning. Miss Ella Woods left for Tillamook, Monday. She will be gone a month and possibly longer.

Allegheny county, Pa., has celebrated its centennial, dedicating a $2,500,000 court house.

The Socialist Labor party of New York will put in the field a state and municipal ticket. John Knight is in the city. He has been selling sewing machines through Southern Oregon.

The foot in Salem is not yet dead as can be seen by the telegraphic dispatches in the Oregonian. Mr. W. Simons of this city has left for Galois creek where he will reside for three or four months, then return to this city.

Mr. Morgareidge the small-pox patient on Dayton prairie is better and the doctors have left him, he not needing their assistance. Father White formerly pastor of the Catholic church in this city, but now pastor of the church in Salem was in this city Monday.

The Oregonian reports a man in Sheridan having the small-pox. The man so reported has not been in the county for the last 5 years. Logan Bros & Henderson extend to the firemen and the public at large, who so unitedly worked in saving their effects from fire, their thanks.

A young man named Peter Griffith, who has been working for Jack Wellesley for the past few months, died Wednesday and was buried Thursday.

Mrs. T. D. Phifer left for The Dalles Wednesday evening. She is troubled with lung disease and goes for her health. Mr. Phifer will join her in about three weeks. A horse owned by Addie Braly died Wednesday night, from injuries received in a runaway some time ago. This is two horses which Mr. Braly has lost since January.

The people of this city can protect themselves and they will. This will be a bad town for a tramp to emigrate to, between the wrath of the people and the bad luck he will stand a poor show. Wm. Henderson and J. H. Nelson left Monday evening for the Big Lostucca where fishing and fun is plentiful.

The above is a fib told by Wm. Henderson to fool the reporter on this paper. H. Rummel will soon locate in this city. It is reported that he has bought property in the Chandler addition. Mr. Rummel is a jolly pleasant Democrat and will swell the ranks in the south precinct.

Mrs. J. C. Cooper writes that she is having a splendid time. She has visited the largest nursery in the east comprising about 300 acres, and one of the strange things in it is a large number of young fir trees grown from the seed which had been planted in beds like onions.

A plucky woman in Texas killed a highwayman who attempted to assault her. She knocked him down with the stock of the gun then shot him. He managed to get to his horse and left. When her husband came home they trailed the fellow twenty miles and found him dead.

Afflictions seldom come singlehanded. McMinnville is prostrated with small-pox. Owing to the epidemic many of her business houses are closed, circuit courts has been adjourned till December and the fair, which is to take place next week, will be a failure. We deeply sympathize with our sister county.—Independent.

W. F. Coutler has sold his ranch near Armit and has bought G. E. Detmering's property in the suburbs of this city. He has also purchased 1/2 acre adjoining this property for a garden etc. He will move into it soon. Mr. Coutler is a very desirable citizen being an honest wholesome man and he is heartily welcomed to this city.

All the towns in the county seem to be wild over the small-pox. If they will pass a law to the effect that everyone should be vaccinated it would do more good than all their quarantine ordinances. They will not let a person in nances. They will not let a person in nances. They will not let a person in nances.

Friday night Mr. Robert Lynn locked Mr. Adams' dog up in the harness on Saturday morning when he came to the door he found the dog had broken out. He opened the door and had went out and then returned and pulled some of the robes to the floor and was peacefully sleeping. Persons across the street had got up and looked around, night and had heard the noise during the thinking burglars were trying to break in the store. They found nothing and returned to bed.

MURDER AND ARSON.

James Bewley Killed by Willard McKune of Sheridan.

A $20,000 CONFLAGRATION.

The Business Center of the City Visited by Fire.—The Work of an Incendiary—Who is It?

A chaos of events have occurred in McMinnville during the past month which makes the average man want to get at the bottom of them in order to protect himself in the future. First came the dread pestilence small-pox. Then an incendiary fire. Then several new cases of small-pox. Then the killing of an old citizen by a young man through an exaggerated idea of duty, and to cap the climax a fire which has devastated one of the best parts of the city and burned to the ground $20,000 worth of property. No such series of events come without cause. Everything tends toward the downfall of the city, but the citizens are more determined now to stay with it, if every building in the city is burned down.

JAMES BEWLEY KILLED.

Shot by a Quarantine Guard who had an Old Score to Settle.

Tuesday morning James Bewley an old pioneer of this county and who was the possessor of much land in the neighborhood of Sheridan, left this city to transact some business in Sheridan. Before going he was informed that Sheridan had quarantined against this city and that he would not be allowed to enter the town. He said that he did not intend to enter by the guards but intended to go to his farm and then come down a trail into the town. He did as he said he was going to and entered the town about 4 o'clock. While sitting in his cart in front of his brother's livery stable, Willard McKune a quarantine guard and who had also been appointed deputy marshal appeared and ordered Mr. Bewley out of the town. From reliable witnesses of the shooting we learn the following: McKune said "I'll give you five minutes to get out of town in."

Mr. Bewley in a jocular way said "What will you do if I do not get out of town."

"I will arrest you," replied McKune. "Then arrest me" said Bewley. At these words McKune stepped back and pointing his left hand at Bewley said "Mr. Bewley I arrest you. Consider yourself in arrest" and while saying this was drawing a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver from his pocket. Mr. Bewley seemed to pay no attention to him and in a jocular way said "I am arrested" as he finished these words McKune had his pistol aimed and after a momentary pause pulled it off, the ball entering the right cheek just below the cheek bone and lodged in the brain. Mr. Bewley fell from the cart to the ground. Ros Bewley, son of Mr. Bewley, was standing at the back end of the buggy and McKune fired a shot at him. Ros returned the shot and ran into his uncle's stable and informed his uncle and another man what had happened. They arrested themselves and began to shoot at McKune who stood in the ground until he had emptied his pistol and then he started for home to get another; Ros Bewley chased him, firing as he ran.

It seems that Mr. McKune, father of Willard, had heard the firing and came out to see what it meant just in time to see his son fired upon. He picked up a rock and threw it at Ros who dodged it and picking up a rock threw it at McKune striking him on the head and knocking him senseless. The latest report is that he has not yet recovered from the stupor. The above account of the affair was given by a reliable witness and will not differ much from the testimony. Many contradictory stories are afloat. Mr. Bewley was taken to the house of his brother immediately after the shooting which occurred about 4:30 He lived until 2:23, never regaining consciousness. Relatives in this city and the sheriff were immediately sent for. Mr. A. Hussey of this city accompanied Mrs. Bewley and it was with difficulty that they entered the town. Orders had been issued to allow Mrs. Bewley to enter. Mr. Hussey entered with the sheriff and stayed all night. In the morning the shooting was ordered and he left. When graves called the police and armed them, a thing which he had no right to do and is liable to court martial for the offence. A TELEPHONE reporter went to the town in the afternoon and was stopping by the guard; a citizen and an armed militiaman, who all about his ancestors etc., and wanted to know where he came from. Upon saying from McMinnville the guard turned white and seemed scared his eyes stuck out and in a voice of command said that we would be arrested if we attempted to enter. The sympathy seems to be with McKune, and we heard a remark about his "nerve" being good. Coroner Fellows and assistant prosecuting attorney Magers had a hard time to enter the town. The town authorities refused to allow the request to be held there, so they went to Willamina and were driven out there, they returned to Sheridan and at this time the authorities had reconsidered the matter and allowed the inquest to be held. The people in that section of the county seem to be more scared than they should. Capt. Raleigh of the company went and ordered the boys to put up their guns and take off the uniforms but the voice of the commanding officer was not heeded. This is a sad affair and should be a warning to hot-headed young men.

Mr. Bewley was buried in the Masonic cemetery yesterday. The funeral was held at the house.

The coroner's jury brought in the following verdict: "The death was caused by a pistol shot in the hands of one Willard McKune, accusing said one Willard McKune of murder."

THE FIRE.

Total Loss, Nearly $20,000 with about $9,000 of Insurance.

Wednesday evening the firebell clanged its alarm notes and the people were once more roused from their slumbers to see one of our best blocks in the city in flames. The first persons on the scene saw flames issuing from the stairway of Dr. G. F. Tucker's new building on Third street, which was just completed this spring. A strong smell of pitch oil filled the air, which gives the impression that it was of incendiary origin. The flames gained headway and the firemen were unavailing and they turned their efforts toward saving property on the opposite side of the street. The fire soon burned to the ground the building owned by Dr. Tucker and it was only a short time before the building owned by Force Bros. and used as a carriage and wagon factory was a thing of the past, then came W. H. Bingham's furniture store and last of all the livery stable owned by Logan Bros. & Henderson.

There was nearly no wind and with the aid of buckets and the fire engine the fire was confined to the above buildings. The losses are G. F. Tucker, about $10,000, insurance $7,500; W. H. $2,000, insurance $1,400; S. C. Force $1,100, no insurance; Logan Bros. & Henderson $5,000, no insurance. There is considerable loss on the Odd Fellows hall which was not burned badly. The plate glass windows, doors and the window frames will have to be renewed. The loss on this building will probably reach $900.

Among the things burned in Dr. Tucker's building were all the county superintendent's books. This is a serious loss.

Miss Nin Sperry lost a fine new piano which she had received a day or so before the fire. Nothing was saved from the Tucker building.

E. B. Fellows was in Sheridan at the time of the fire and the whole work of removing and after the fire moving in, fell upon Mrs. Fellows. She went to work as if she meant something and in a short time she was in order.

THE CIRCUIT FLYERS

Will be Taken to Denver and Salt Lake City.

A letter has been received in Portland requesting the horsemen of the Montana circuit to come to Denver and Salt Lake and participate in the races there. There are some six entries to fill and the horsemen are asked to make them up. Good inducements have been held out and it has been determined by several Oregon and Montana horsemen to go to Salt Lake and Denver at the conclusion of the Walla Walla fair, which ends October 6th.

MISTAKEN.

McMinnville Sept. 24, 1888. ED. TELEPHONE. Some time since the TELEPHONE published an article in reference to Colby, who it stated was in confinement in San Francisco also that he was known in this town inferring that it was George P. Colby who lectured in this town. I wish to say that George P. Colby is at Lake Helen, Florida. I have a letter I received a few days ago from him dated Sept. 9th, 1888. He is at work on his farm in the above named place. Yours, B. F. FULLER. An Appeal to the Governor.

Governor Penoyer received a telegram the other day from the trustees of the town of Sheridan in this county, asking for some measures be taken to prevent the spread of small-pox in the county. The governor answered that the law gives him no authority to act in such case, and he cannot acquiesce in the petition. A similar petition was forwarded to Gov. Taylor of Tenn. in regard to yellow fever who answered as Oregon's governor did.

Received their Uniforms.

The employees on the passenger trains of the Oregon & California railroad have received their new uniform, according to orders issued some time since by the Southern Pacific company. Conductors wear frock suits of navy blue, with brass buttons bearing the initials "S. P." The baggage masters, engineers, brakemen and firemen wear sack suits of the same material, trimmed in a similar manner. The suits are very neat, and give the wearers an official air and render it easy for any one to distinguish them.

The Resources of Oregon.

All persons wanting a copy of the Resources of Oregon can get one by calling at this office. If that is too much trouble just write to us giving the name of the person you want it sent to, and enclose two cents in postage and we will mail it for you. This is a valuable book and should be distributed where it would do the most good. If you have a friend in the east who would like to come to Oregon just send him a book and the chances are that he will come when he sees the great openings for energy in this great state of Oregon. Come and get one before they are all gone.

A Freak of Nature.

L. H. Cook caught a mouse in a trap Thursday which is a freak of nature. It looks like the ordinary mouse except it has quite a large white spot on its back. The spot is pure white.

Wanted.

At this office, 10 cords of wood on back subscription or front subscription. Bring it in as soon as possible.

Sheridan at West Point.

Gen. Sheridan's standing at the Military Academy during the four years in which he took ranks was 35, 34, 27 and 34 the class numbering about fifty; his graduating rank in a class of fifty two being 34. In a list of cadets in the Academy varying from 206 to 224 he stood in contact in the several years in their order 74, 135, 111 and 69.

With all our boasted societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals and for general growth to a higher grade of humanity we have not as yet taught the Indian our ideas in that line as a few days ago a young Indian squaw was burned at the stake for a witch in Southern California near Rock Spring, San Bernardino county, by a band of Mojave Indians. It was two hours before the horrible deed was completed and the girl's screams silenced. The Indians told Semon, who reported the horrible deed, that it had been several years since they had burned a witch, though several had been condemned since then, but managed to escape.

FROM AN EXCHANGE.

McMinnville Given a Little Advice which She Better Take.

McMinnville has several cases of smallpox, and our only wonder is that they haven't cholera, yellow fever and a dozen other plagues mixed in with it. A town of 1,500 souls without any sewerage, with their wells and cesspools all on a level, is liable to be attacked with any disease at any time. We sympathize with the people of our old home, but at the same time breathe a word of warning to them regarding the sanitary condition of the town.

The above item appeared in the Astoria Transcript and is the average publication of the condition of this city which appears in the state press. The efforts of THE TELEPHONE are all bent in one direction and that is toward the improvement of this naturally beautiful city which at present is in such a bad sanitary condition. Our efforts may seem peculiar and that severe measures are taken to bring about this much needed reform, but we can see no other way. The people of this state are all cognizant of the existing facts and it is no detriment to the town to publish the facts as they are without one iota of exaggeration. When such items as the above are a daily occurrence in papers out side this town it is sure to follow that McMinnville will soon be looked upon as a sickly hole and people will shun it as they would death. When such items do appear, the press of this city cannot deny them, for we know it is true. Something must be done, as we have said before McMinnville will go to the dogs. Already four or five cases of typhoid fever have appeared and in connection with the smallpox the city presents a pitiful spectacle. This reform must come and come soon if the city wishes to draw people to it. As at present if nothing is done the town will slowly but surely go down in the estimation of the people in the state. With good sewerage and water works the sanitary condition of the town can be kept good, and there is no disguising the fact that this is the only thing which keeps it down. Some of the people in this city think that because we have, with an effort on the part of the progressive element, secured a large fine school house all is done that is necessary to make this a city of 10,000, in the next few years. They are mistaken as they will find it nothing is done further in the line of improvements. With a good system of sewerage and water the public health would be as good as 50 per cent better and a fire protection would at the same time be furnished which would save to the property owners of this city at least $200 a year. The people of this city must begin to think for themselves and argue this question and endeavor to do something or the results of this smallpox epidemic will be felt for years to come.

DEATH FROM SMALL-POX.

A Ennis Died at the Pest House Sunday Afternoon.

Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock the spirit of Andy Ennis left the casnet of clay and winged its way into the great beyond. This is the first death from the dread disease and has cast a gloom over the entire community. Mr. Ennis was born in the city of Dublin, Ireland. There he has several relatives residing at the present time. He was the possessor of considerable property; the building and lot on the corner of Third and B streets, in which Mr. Bettman keeps his dry goods store belonged to him. Before death he made a statement to a nurse describing the manner in which he wished his property disposed of. He was a Catholic in religion and several hours before death requested the attendance of a priest. Mr. Dielschneider immediately drove to Salem for Father White, but arrived too late. Mr. Chas. Palmer of this city has been appointed administrator of the estate.

The only disposition of property made in the last statement of Mr. Ennis was that he wanted his watch sent to his nephew. He has a brother living in Dublin, Ireland, and a sister in New York.

A Letter from the Editors.

Eddyville Sept. 23. ED. WEST SIDE TELEPHONE. You will see by the heading of this that we are still in the mountains about half way from Corvallis on the railroad. We are stopping at the ranch of the Booth Bros., in the hope of getting some deer as there are plenty of them; we started one yesterday run it into camp scared the women folks so bad that some of them climbed trees and others run out in the brush and hid while others jumped up and down and howled.

Ennis Booth is just getting over the lung fever; his wife is now down with the typhoid but is improving slowly. It costs only $20 for a doctor's visit, nothing small about that only the doctor.

We leave here Wednesday for Newport for a week's sojourn on the coast; the soldiers passed here Saturday on their way over. Some teams going in and out all the time during the day.

We are having lovely weather and enjoying the best of health. Thursday we had some rain causing us to seek shelter in Mr. Writener's barn for the rest of the day and night. This is the finest road to the coast I ever traveled, no hills to amount to anything and ranches all along where a person can get accommodations for man or beast.

The fishing is not extra as it is late in the season. Should we get a good nights rain we could get all the salmon trout we could possibly eat.

Grouse and pheasants are plenty, have had them for breakfast every morning since we left the county seat of Yamhill.

We have heard nothing in regard to the small-pox since we got out of old Yamhill. I have about four miles to go to mail my letters; generally get up and go down before breakfast just for an appetizer.

Mr. Luckey's wife has been down with the typhoid I just learn.

UNCLE SAM.

Sheridan School Closed.

Miss Katie Casey, principal of the Sheridan public school accompanied by her assistant, Miss Fannie Parrish arrived in McMinnville Saturday last, but owing to the excitement over small-pox in this city will not open school until October 15. Miss Casey is at present in the country visiting. Miss Parrish returned to Salem.
