Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all Impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. Geo. W. Burt, Druggist.

MOTHERS!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhoea and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend, 35 doses, 35 cents.

Save the Children. They are especially liable to sudden Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. We guarantee Acker's English Remedy a positive cure. It saves hours of anxious watching. Sold by Geo. W. Burt, Druggist.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she became a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Wife, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The people of the surrounding country are informed that it has been nearly a month since the last case of small-pox was removed from the city, and that there is no danger in coming into the city. Business is on the move, the merchants are selling large quantities of goods. Call in and see them before the best bargains are gone.

Strayed, from R. W. Phillips farm near Amity, an iron gray mare with black mane and tail, 2 years old. The mare was last seen on the 22d of August. Any person finding or knowing the whereabouts of same will please take up same; and you will be well rewarded for your trouble. Reference R. W. Phillips, Amity, Clark River, McMinnville.

Monday evening Mr. R. B. Hibbs was awakened by hearing a noise in the chicken house. Thinking an owl had got in and was killing few chickens he loaded his gun with No. 7, and went out there, when close to the house a man started out. He yelled at him to halt but he would not stop he let two barrels of No. 7 into him, but the fellow never stopped. Good for him!

It will perhaps interest our readers to know that 45 tons of our older ore, this of course depends upon the quality of fuel, work done, speed, and character of the road. On freight trains an average consumption may be taken at about 1 1/2 lbs of coal consumed per car per mile. With a heavy train and cars of which are heavier and the speed higher, and coal consumption is greater. A freight train of 30 cars, at a speed of 30 miles per hour, would therefore burn from 900 to 1,350 pounds of coal per hour.

About Jacksonville and Ashland apples are the rage among fruit men. The Times says that the owners $200 to $300 per acre this fall. We are sorry to state that the Lane county apples that have been unexceptionally good heretofore have been ruined this year by the codlin moth. The apples are large and of good quality but a worm has been in nearly every apple. Will not some horticulturist suggest a remedy for this pest, heretofore unknown in Oregon?—Guard.

A farmer in Wallowa county, has succeeded in raising a monster squash, weighing 183 pounds. He took it to the fair for exhibition, and no town of Joseph has been in the world since he arrived there than that it was made the object of a political buff. If Cleveland is elected a prominent business man of Joseph has agreed to oil the squash to Enterprise, a distance of seven miles; and in case Harrison is elected Charles Allan has agreed to do the same thing.

The state fish commissioners expect to take possession of the salmon hatchery on the Clackamas November 1, and run it until spring when it will again be committed under whose auspices and in charge of the United States commission. There is enough money on hand to keep the hatchery going during the winter. There are now about 4,000 eggs in the hatching house, and 100,000 are added to the number daily. It is expected that fall will be turned into the river November 1.

The milk wagon we hope in time will do away with the town cows. The greatest annoyance in this city is the town cow, she is always on hand to break the fence and gobble the first garden truck that sticks its head above the ground. Let every man who owns a cow sell it. Let every man if possible and get rid of the troublesome pests. This city is large enough to run the cows, not let the cows run the town. There would be a kick from the cow owners of course when they are declared alien but the kick is far better and less annoying than the milk vendor who buries your nose in the milk vendor's business and time enough from their business to look after the interests of the town and the town cow it would be a blessing but they can't so we all must stand it.

FOUND IN THE RIVER.

Supposed to be the Body of Joe Cole.

SUICIDE, MURDER OR ACCIDENT?

An Empty Whiskey Bottle Found in One of the Pockets.—Drink Indubitably the Cause of Death.

Tuesday afternoon "Jinks" McCowan, a college student, in company with two of the college boys went hunting. About a mile or so above the county bridge they discovered a boat on a drift and getting into it paddled down the stream.

About three-quarters of a mile above the bridge they discovered the body of a man laying face down on a snag. It had apparently drifted down and lodged there. They examined the body and saw that there was on danger of its drifting away and then came to town and informed the coroner of the fact. Wednesday morning a TELEPHONE reporter went up the river before the coroner arrived and the body was seen on the opposite bank of the river resting in the position described by the boys. When the coroner arrived the body was brought to shore and turned over. It was then seen that it was a man of about 30 years of age, with dark hair, black eyes, sandy mustache, with a small bald spot on the back of the head. The hair was of medium length and the forehead was barren a considerable way back.

He was a man of about five feet six inches high and would weigh 150 pounds. In the inside coat pocket was found an empty champagne bottle which had contained whiskey, as a little remained in it. The clothes were of a purple color, the coat was a sack, the shirt was without a collar and was made of polka-dot blue and white, the shoes about number seven and laced. In one of his pants' pockets was found a purse which contained nothing, in the other $7.10 in silver was found, also a button and the ring to a watch. His handkerchief was of fine white silk with a narrow black border. In his vest was found a pack of floral visiting cards, six in number, with the name "Georganna Knowles" printed upon them; they are undoubtedly cards belonging to some female friend. Wrapped around them was the business card of M. Reichler a dealer in clothing in Kansas City, Mo., upon the back of this card was the name of a person in Portland, Oregon, the only letters of which could be read were "Piest—D. Di—Portland, Ore."

Upon the back of one of the visiting cards was the name of "D. D. Fouts," a paper of needles an I a spoon of thread were also found. None of the articles found could establish his identity and he will possibly never be identified for he appears to be a travelling man.

The coroner's jury consisted of J. H. Nelson, J. L. Rogers, Nate Rowland, Marion Rowland, West Wallace, A. J. Gaunt.

Dr. E. E. Goucher was appointed examining physician.

The inquest was held on the bank of the river. The boys who found the body testified that they found the body and that they had been in swimming at that place several days before and nothing had been seen to arouse suspicions. They also stated that a short distance above was a drift which extended across the river and to its bottom so that it would be impossible for a person to float by this point.

Dr. E. E. Goucher testified that the body had been dead for 10 or 12 days and that no marks of violence could be seen. The jury then adjourned to town to render their verdict.

The body was taken down the river and Mr. Fellows took charge of it. He took the clothes off and is keeping them in identification. The body was placed in a coffin and taken to the building next Smith's blacksmith shop and a large number of people looked at it and several noticed a resemblance to Jim Kane a sackmaker who has been in this neighborhood this summer but has not been seen lately. The body was badly decomposed so that identification by the features is an impossibility. Many suppositions are advanced as to the manner in which he met his death.

Yesterday morning Mr. McGuire, proprietor of the McMinnville hotel looked at the clothes of the man and stated that he would swear that they belonged to a man by the name of Joseph Cole, who left his place two weeks ago to morrow.

The coroner's jury could find no evidence as to how he came to his death so brought in a verdict to that effect. The body was buried in the Masonic cemetery Wednesday afternoon.

BROKE JAIL.

Young Tripp, the Boy Who Shot Dudley Escapes.

Tuesday evening young Tripp the boy who shot Delmer Dudley some time ago at the fair grounds in this city broke out of the county jail and is now in some place. He managed to get through the hole made by Jack Cooper some time ago when he broke out. The officers are on his track and as yet have got no clue to his whereabouts.

Business Failures For 1888.

According to Bradstreet's Mercantile Agency, the number of business failures for the first nine months of 1888, are 7,330. It has been the custom of this journal for the past five years to make an estimate for the entire year upon the basis of the first nine months, and in every close to the actual numbers of failures summed up at the close of the year. Last year their estimate made on October 1st, was 10,600 and the actual failures up to Dec. 30, was 10,588. The estimates for the present year are 10,180 which shows not only fewer failures than last year, but it is also stated that the percentage of assets to liabilities is much greater this year than last, being 53.1 to 49.1 of last year. The business of the country is more favorable than in 1887 and much more so than 1886.

THE SCHNELLER CASE.

The administrator of the estate of Mary Schneller, the young woman who was killed by a criminal abortion, has brought suit against Mrs. Dr. Murray and her husband, Louis Blumner, for $5,000 damages. The death of Mary Schneller has been a much talked of subject for months throughout the entire northwest, and much indignation has been felt and expressed that the authorities did not bring the guilty to justice. At last it is probable that the case will be investigated in a court of justice and the facts of the murder and death of this unfortunate girl brought to light. The community has been rightly indignant that such crimes upon the life and morals of society should go unpunished. Is there one law for the rich and another for the poor?—News.

A Strange Phenomenon.

A contract has been let on the Martin White mine, at Ward, Nev., and work is to be resumed forthwith. A queer phenomenon is connected with the working of the Martin White ore, says the Virginia Enterprise. The ore is very base and it is necessary to roast the whole of it. During the roasting process no deleterious or disagreeable fumes are observable yet the hair and beards of the men engaged about the works are soon dyed a bright and permanent green. Even the eye-brows of the workmen are dyed as green as grass. In scores of Nevada mines ores of various kinds are smelted and roasted, but at none of them is either the hair or beards of the workmen changed from their natural hue. It is said there is less arsenic in the ore of the Martin White than in that of many other mines. Old smelters say that arsenic has no effect on the hair, and all declare that the emerald hue imparted to the hair is due to the presence of some unknown and mysterious metal or mineral. White, light and sandy beards and hair take a grass green, whereas black or dark brown hair is dyed a dark bottle green. The hair is not injured by its change of color. It retains its original softness and strength.

A WARNING.

To whom it may concern, from and after this date, any person that I see creeping or prowling in my back yard after dark, will get a dose of galena pills, Oct. 18, 1888.

Prace Up.

You're feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you're bothered with headache, you are fatigued, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters which have for their basis, very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in a worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Acker's Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at Rogers & Todd's, 35

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running nose, and in a few days he was unable to attend to his business. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half-dozen bottles, found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at Rogers & Todd's Drug Store. (4)

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention.
