Leslie Fouts, Frank Fouts, Ernest Redd, Scott McCutcheon, Adelle Fouts, Maggie Fouts, Ella Swanson, Anna McCutcheon.

AGNES SWEET, Teacher.

In one of our exchanges we found the following: It was in the Gasburg correspondence to the Martinsville (Ind.) Republican.

In looking over last week's Republican, we learned that our old-time friend and neighbor, J. W. Hobbs, is now keeping clerk's office in one of the finest court houses that grace the Pacific slope, where Wes had been cast ashore by the tide of immigration that a few years ago rolled over this vicinity bearing away some of our best citizens. Thus it seems that another one of the Gasburg students has successfully entered one of the avenues leading to places of honor and profit, and we are of the opinion that Wes has not yet reached the goal of his ambition. We also learn, by receiving a neat little paper published somewhere in Oregon, that Frank Matthews is editor-in-chief of the same, and if we have not been misinformed Ezra Woodward has served one term in the legislature.

It is said that Oregon has been favorably impressed with Morgan countyites who emigrated from this vicinity.

TIERED OF LIFE.

The Jack-knife Route not a Through Line.

Friday night a young man who gave his name as Mahew, but whose right name is withheld from publication for the reason that it can't be found out, attempted to commit suicide by stabbing himself with a jack-knife in the throat and breast. He did not happen to hit a vital spot so he is now in the jail waiting for the soreness to go away. Friday he was found near White's station by some farmers just as he was going to jump from the bridge to drown himself. They brought him to this city, but before the county judge could be found he walked into Hairy's saloon, and sat down at a few moments he walked out the back door and came in with blood streaming from wounds in the neck and breast, which he had inflicted with a jack-knife, with a blade about two inches long. He walked to the row of whisky barrels and lying down beneath one, turned the faucet and remarked that he intended to die happy. He was put out, and he then sat down upon the sidewalk and every one who passed was requested to kill him. He was finally taken to a doctor's office where his wounds were dressed and then in a very weak state he was conveyed to the jail where he is still confined. His past history is blank as far as any information he gives. He is undoubtedly suffering from a very serious case of alcoholism.

THE NEW HOE PRESS.

One of the P. & W. V. Railway Coaches Turns a Complete Somersault—Several Persons Injured.

An accident happened on the P. & W. V. railway Tuesday afternoon near Middleton, by which a passenger coach was thrown from the track and four persons injured, none of them, it is thought, seriously.

About 5 p. m., as the train for Portland was rounding a sharp curve on a trestle, one of the fish plates broke, allowing the end of a rail to spring out, and a piece was broken off. The baggage car and the first coach passed over the place all right, but the rear coach was thrown from the track, breaking the link which connected it and landing right side up at the foot of the trestle.

Superintendent McGuire, who was on the platform of the car in front. He gave the alarm and the train was stopped before it had gone seventy-five feet. The four passengers in the derailed car were at once transferred to another car and the train came on to this city, arriving at 6:45 only thirty minutes behind time.

Three of the injured persons were taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, where their injuries were attended to by Dr. Pantou, while the other, Mrs. Charles Ray, was conveyed to the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Snort No. 38 Mill street, where she was attended by Dr. Strong. She was supposed to be injured internally, but it was found that she had sustained but slight injury, the effect of a rather severe shaking up, which will cause no serious results.

Those taken to the hospital are: F. S. Barze, a merchant of Monmouth. He has a cut on the scalp which is not serious. He will go home to-day. Reuben R. Gant, of Ballston, who like all the others fell first to the roof of the car and then to the bottom, striking on his side across a seat, was at first supposed to be very seriously injured, but soon recovered from the effects of the shock and his condition is not considered at all dangerous.

E. A. Willey of Dayton, a harness maker, suffered a fracture of the right leg, but no other injury of consequence.

When it is considered that the car turned a complete somersault falling about fifteen feet and alighting on its wheels, it is fortunate that no one was more seriously hurt.

PROHIBITION.

TWO THOUSAND PER HOUR.

A Marvel of Workmanship and Power—Exceeded by None in the Valley—Best Equipped Paper Outside of Portland.

The consolidation of THE TELEPHONE and REGISTER increased the business to such an enormous extent that a plant with a larger capacity was necessary. The proprietors of the monarch of Yamhill papers immediately started to procure an outfit equal both in speed and good work to do the large amount of work which is flowing into this office. They purchased a Hoe press, built by Hoe & Co., of New York, the most celebrated press builders in the world to-day.

The press is large and is fully capable of doing the entire press work of the county. It will print a sheet 32x44 inches and print 2000 of them in an hour. It has all the latest improvements and is a perfect press in all its parts. It is fed by one man and delivers the papers right side up at the rear end, printed.

The power is furnished by a two horse power Willard engine which is a model of good workmanship. The steam is furnished by a six horse power boiler. The boiler is large enough to furnish steam for a steam heating apparatus to heat the entire TELEPHONE-REGISTER office, which will be put in as soon as the fixtures can be obtained. The people of Yamhill county should feel proud of such an enterprising paper, and the management deserves a good word for the paper if you think it deserves it. Our subscribers and the people at large are cordially invited to call at this office and inspect the new press at any time. If you call on Thursday or Friday of each week the press will be running and the whole work of getting off a paper can then be seen. The TELEPHONE-REGISTER at one jump has become the most popular paper ever published in Yamhill, and it will continue to be so, if good management and a desire to please the public can make it so. The paper does not intend to rest with the laurels it has already gathered but intends to gather new ones, and as the support to the paper increases so will the paper, until the time will come when McMinnville will be noted for the best paper published in the state. All persons wishing printing of any kind are requested to call at this office and get figures. We are prepared to do any work at the lowest prices for by doing we increase our business. Judge us by what we do and not by the evasive spite of others.

AN INTERESTING DOCUMENT.

The Last Will and Testament of John Sax Admitted to Probate—A $55,000 Estate.

The will of John Sax, who died of paralysis in this city on the 27th of January, was yesterday admitted to probate. The document bears date August 28, 1888, and was at the request of the testator signed for him by B. L. Norden, and witnessed by that gentleman and Frank Hachney.

Mr. Sax bequeathed to his wife, Prudentia, to hold her own right, all the household goods and personal effects, and for her use during life, in lieu of dower, the north half of lot 4 in block 2, Portland, with the buildings and improvements thereon. This property, to carry 107 grown people, all these people who came in during the two days were not city people but all from the country around. This is the travel over one bridge, understand, and there are forty other county roads which enter this city, each of which has as much, if not more travel. Let the towns of this state look out, McMinnville intends to be something in a short time.

No bequest is made to John J. Sax, for the reason that he has already had more from his father than the other children, and that it is thought better in this way to make the grandchildren's portion more secure.

"John Lewis, son of my old friend, C. H. Lewis, and Charles E. Ladd, son of my friend, W. S. Ladd, executors," etc.

These two named executors have filed their petition in the matter, which estimates the value of Mr. Sax's Portland property at $15,000, and his McMinnville property at $40,000.—Oregonian, 2d.

AWFUL CRAZY.

Frank Howard cuts his hand off so he can't work.

Frank Howard, a convict in the state penitentiary, deliberately cut off his left hand with a dull hatchet at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 30. He was sent up from Multnomah county for five years, having been convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses, and arrived at the prison the 19th inst. On his way there he informed the deputy sheriff that he did not intend to work in the foundry, but he was put to work in the moulding room at once. On the first day he burned his foot and was laid up. Dr. W. H. Byrd, the prison physician, was called and attended him. Howard declared he was sick, and had been treated by Dr. Lane in San Francisco for diabetes and bright's disease—two diseases impossible to exist at once.

Dr. Byrd reported that his only disease was laziness, and he was put to work again in the foundry.

Wednesday afternoon when no one was looking he placed his hand on a block, and with a dull hatchet cut his hand off at the lower part of the wrist. The first stroke failed to do the work, and he struck a second time, severing it totally and he was compelled to amputate the arm, and says the fellow is not insane.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces.
