They are gentle and on these pills for the cure of liver and stomach complaints."—John B. Bell, Sr., Abilene, Texas. Serofala is transmitted from parent to child, and thus becomes a family inheritance for generations. It is therefore, the duty of every careful person to cleanse his blood by a thorough and persistent course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The parlor meeting held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., this week at the residence of Mr. Galloway was attended by quite a number of our town people, both ladies and gentlemen, and the discussion of the topic heretofore announced was pleasant, instructive and entertaining. A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Ivan Powell Killed at Jones & Co's. Mill in the Mountains.

Monday morning word was brought to this city from Jones & Co., mill, that a young man by the name of Ivan Powell had been killed while oiling the machinery preparatory to the day's work. Mr. Powell was a young man about 22 years old, his parents living near Pendleton, this state. He has been in the employ of Jones & Co. since last October. It seems that Powell's business in the morning was to oil the machinery before starting, but being a little late the engine had been started and the saws were going at the rate of 50 revolutions to the minute and he, without stopping the saw attempted to oil the bearings by crawling between the saw and frame which were separated by about 20 inches, the saw caught his right arm to the saw which was stripped clean of flesh, this brought his whole body down and the saw caught him on the neck, cutting the jugular vein and throwing him across the carriage. The only words he spoke were "My God." Two men attempted to hold the jugular vein together with their fingers but he bled to death in 20 minutes. He was unconscious all the time. The mill was shut down and a messenger despatched to this city. His folks were telegraphed and everything necessary attended to. His death was caused by his own carelessness it appears, as last Friday he oiled the machinery in the same manner and his pants' leg was caught in the saw but before any serious accident happened his leg was pulled away by a fellow laborer.

Only three teeth of the saw showed signs of being in contact with flesh and they are about equally distributed around the circumference of the saw. The remains were interred at Glenbrook cemetery Wednesday. This accident has cast a gloom over the mill in the mountains which will take time to dispell.

Mr. Alvyn of the firm of Barkhoff & Allyn will move to the city of Portland to take charge of the McMinnville mill's business in that city. When a woman shows enough interest in a man to pick a piece of lint off his overcoat he can marry her if he only says so.—Fort Valley Transcript.

Miss Lulu B. Hayden of Port Byron, New York, sister of Mrs. T. G. Brownson arrived in this city Tuesday. She will teach in the college while Prof. Brownson is away.

Last Saturday the city of Portland lost the last half of the Van Friedland block, on Twelfth and Washington streets, for $25,000 upon which the new city hall will be erected.

Chinese gross starch is made of two tablespoons of raw starch, one teaspoon of borax, dissolved in a cup and a half of cold water. Dip the thoroughly dry unstarched cuffs, collars and bosoms of shirts in this, then roll them up tight and let them remain a few hours in a dry cloth, then rub off and iron.

Andrews, in Eastern Oregon, after which she will return home via Northern Pacific. She is well pleased with such a progressing town.

E. A. Wright, business manager of the Pacific Cyclopedia Excursion Co., was in town one day this week. He was loud in praise of this section, the great Willamette valley. He has been through Polk county and is now billing Yamhill county. Mr. Wright is a young man of great ability and energy, and we hope he deserves success and credit for his energetic business.

Conterites in the Hills. The Silverton Appeal has been digging up the following find: Quite a sensation has been created in the foothills about four miles east of here over the finding of a complete outfit of conterites tools. Two mounds, one for $20 and the other for 50 cents, were among the kit. They were found by Mr. John Inman, in an old house formerly occupied by Mrs. Hesseltine. They were taken to Portland this week and turned over to the proper authorities.

Coming, April 26th. Once more we are favored with a visit by the renowned Royce & Lansing Musical Comedy Co. This company, it will be remembered, made a decided success on the Pacific coast about one year ago. They return from the East with an enlarged company of the best talent that could be obtained, and their program is far superior to any that has been presented by them during the past nine years. Their present season cannot fail to add thousands of friends and fresh laurels to those already gained. And we advise all those wishing to enjoy an evening of refined music and comedy to secure seats at once.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

The County and District Institute to be held in McMinnville.

County Superintendent Baker has sent the following letter to all the school directors in this county.

It explains itself. I desire to call your attention to the following: 1st.—The annual county teacher's institute for this county, in connection with the annual judicial district institute will be held at McMinnville on April 30th, May 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 1888. All teachers of public schools are required to be present, and for that purpose three days are allowed by the amended school laws.

I earnestly hope you will recognize the importance of these educational meetings and urge your teachers to be present. Competent instructors have been secured also able lecturers for the evening sessions. The day sessions will be devoted to subjects pertaining to the teacher's work in the school room. The evening sessions will consist of lectures, essays, music, etc., and all tending to prepare the teachers for their responsible positions and to develop fresh enthusiasm for their profession.

2nd.—School officers are earnestly requested to attend and aid us by their attendance and counsel.

3rd.—Owing to an unusual amount of office work I have been detained from visiting schools, and as that work must be done while the schools are in session, the completion of the district boundaries will be deferred until the school closes for the summer vacation. The work will then be taken up and district maps prepared as rapidly as possible.

In the meantime I would discourage all petitions for changes in school districts until such time as the work can be completed. Changes at this time will cause confusion and might be the cause of much trouble and litigation in the future.

Yours truly, L. H. BAKER, School Superintendent Yamhill Co., Or.

THE CREAMERY.

McMinnville's Creamery Began Making Butter Yesterday.

Any one making a visit to the McMinnville Creamery, Cold Storage and Cheese factory, at the south end of B street, cannot fail to be impressed favorably, and amply repaid for the time so occupied. A reporter for this paper was shown through the extensive establishment on Wednesday afternoon by the secretary of the company, Mr. B. F. Fuller, and the use and manner of using the different machines and implements were fully explained. The material being, in dollars and cents, that this large establishment will be to this town and county cannot at this time be comprehended. The foundation has been laid, and operations have begun that with the exercise of ordinary business sagacity in its management will not only pay the stockholders, but will also be of untold value to the farmer and dairyman who lives within a reasonable distance. The creamery will furnish the latter with a constant market for his cream or milk at a good price, payable monthly. His land will be enhanced in value, and he will have the wherewith to pay his store bills at least six times a year, instead of once by the old plan of raising only wheat and nothing more. This creamery cannot be a success without the co-operation of the farmers who own cows; it must have cream. At present the cream from 450 cows will be used, and as this is not one-half the capacity of the factory a continued effort will be made to interest more farmers in this way of doing, and it is hoped that enough cream can be procured to run the creamery at its full capacity, though this may not be reached this year. Every farmer and cow owner should give it a fair trial and you cannot, in our opinion, fail to gain by it.

What Will You Do?

At Roseburg the immigrants are coming in so thick that they are compelled to spread tents and camp in the grove west of the city, and the citizens are going to fix up two of the large warehouses near the depot for shelter for the newcomers until they can find other quarters, for the houses are all occupied. There are no houses to rent at any price. The same story is repeated in all of the valley towns. New building are going up in all of them, and this country is in the eve of a new era. The people of the overworked East have just heard from Oregon, the modern land of Canaan, and for the next twenty years there is going to be a rush for this country. It has already started. Mark this prediction. The era of big wheat farms and Webfoot laziness and shiftlessness is beginning to pass, and it is going never to return. It is apparent, from the influx of immigrants by every train and from the scarcity of houses, that Salem will soon be called upon to make some such provisions as are made in Roseburg for their temporary shelter while selecting homes. The strangers must be provided for, well taken care of and encouraged.—Salem Statesman.

Important to Salmon Keepers.

Messrs. Hardy & Co., of this city, have just received a letter from A. P. Hotaling & Co., of Portland, in regard to the Layman high license bill. Messrs. Hotaling & Co., state that they have consulted the very best legal authority in Portland, who advised them that the law passed by the late legislature does not go into force until the 27th of May. They also advise the salmon keepers in incorporated towns, or unincorporated towns as the case may be, no matter whether their license at the date of application shall have expired or not, they can make a fresh application and legally obtain a new license for one year in accordance with the law as it now stands.—Baker Democrat.

The Aid Society Meets.

The Aid society of the M. E. church of Lafayette having received an invitation from Mrs. Frank Canfield to sow for her, met at her house on the 16th, twenty-seven being present, but instead of the usual amount of work for them to do they were agreeably surprised to find that Sister Canfield had prepared for them a bountiful repast, which they enjoyed hugely, doing ample justice to the many good things and having a good time generally. As no one was initiated as a member to the society but the preacher the rules were suspended in his favor, as it was decided it would be very unministerial to ride the goat; but the poor goat did not escape, as he was made to perform in the treadmill to the great delight of all present. Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Canfield for their generous hospitality.

A Bargain.

In order to make room for our large invoice of glass ware now on the way from the east, we will now offer our entire stock of glassware at greatly reduced rates for thirty days only, so come early and secure a bargain, at Wallace & Todd's.

School Furnishings.

The contract for furnishing the seats and desks for the new school house was let Tuesday, to the Minneapolis School Furnishing Co., of Minneapolis. They put in 148 seats for $1105. They will be here by the first of August.

A Tile Yard.

Messrs. Derby and Edwards, of Newberg, have purchased two acres of land from James Derby, of this city, and will start a tile factory. This institution has long been needed and will be well patronized by the farmers.

GIFT OF PROPHECY.

Words of the Great Oliver P. Morton Coming True Like the Prophecies of Old.

Oliver P. Morton, the renowned senator from Indiana, whose name has such a conspicuous and creditable place in the history of the country's great struggles in the cause of liberty and patriotism, delivered a speech at the opera house in Salem on the 27th day of July, 1877, and the last public address he ever made, and in the light of subsequent events, some of his language is remarkable. He clearly foresaw the magnificent future for this part of Oregon and was fully aware of the requirements to hasten its development. Those who have watched the progress of this valley the past year, since an effort has been made to make the country know in the East, will readily see how closely Senator Morton read the horoscope, when he uttered the following:

"This, I feel, a great future before you. What Oregon needs is to be well advertised; that is to say, to have her resources and character made known to the people of the United States. You are far away in the northwest corner of the Union. It is a long journey to come here, and it is one that ordinarily strikes the imagination of people with dread. Those who came across the plains in the earlier or later years, were man of uncommon resolution, willing to undergo all kinds of hardships, and able to surmount all kinds of difficulties. But such men are rare. The great mass of the people are not willing to encounter these hardships. They do not see the inducements to make such long journeys, to endure such great difficulties. But when the character of the country is known, and when communication is made cheap and easy, and it requires but a few days from the Missouri to the Columbia, then you will have a sudden great influx of white, and growth as rapid as that of your sister California."—Salem Statesman.

CENTENNIAL PROCLAMATION.

The 30th of April a Legal Holiday.—The Proclamation of the Governor.

The centennial proclamation of Governor Penney is as follows:

Inasmuch as the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as first president of the United States will occur on the 30th day of April, A. D., 1889, which day has been set apart by an act of congress as a general holiday for the people of the whole country.

Now, therefore, I, Sylvester Penney, governor of Oregon, by virtue of the authority conferred upon me by the laws of the state, do hereby declare the aforesaid Tuesday, April 30, 1889, to be a legal holiday, and I request that it shall be so observed by the good people of this commonwealth. And, inasmuch as the impressive act of inauguration, which occurred at noon as provided at 9 o'clock in the morning by prayer in all the churches of the city for God's blessing upon the government to be instituted, I would further request, in obedience to such a worthy example, that prayers should be held at 9 o'clock in the morning of this holiday in all our churches to the end that the blessing of God may be vouchsafed to our government for all time.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state to be affixed, this 10th day of April, A. D., 1888.

SYLVESTER PENNEY, Governor. Geo. W. McBride, secretary of State.

Carlton.

The mother of C. Hendrix is visiting him this week. Oh! Beautiful Oregon always know her people's wants. Mrs. Daisy Stott visited Mrs. C. Hendrix last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Anderson, merchant of Seattle is visiting relatives here, for the benefit of some of our citizens, that it would look much better for all to take hold willingly of the truck than to run along the sidewalk giving orders, while others do the work. It should be the object of everyone to do all in their power to extinguish a fire for their neighbor, for the next call may be for help on their own premises.

M. T. HEAD. The mother of C. Hendrix is visiting him this week. Oh! Beautiful Oregon always know her people's wants. Mrs. Daisy Stott visited Mrs. C. Hendrix last Saturday and Sunday.

Carlton now offers the best inducement for a good blacksmith of any point on the west side. Our present blacksmith "owing to the ill health of his wife," will leave for California next week; then Carlton will be without a blacksmith. Let some good workman consult W. A. Howe of this place.

While starting on a little hunt last week, with dog and gun in a two wheel cart, and entering our mind with the large amount of snipe to be bagged, and caught at a 2:27 gallop, imagine our surprise when all of a sudden we were thrown over the horse's head, by the animal striking and rolling over so quick as to throw the whole contents of his head. When seeing the condition of things "I made us look a little foxy I guess."

Mr. Handvill has built a new house. Mr. Fox has had his house repaired this spring. Mr. Cornelius had one of his milk cows mired a few days ago. Mrs. Brown has moved back in the bend and is farming her place. Crops look fine in this neighborhood. The farmers are busy sowing their spring grain. Thinking a few items from the bend would be read with interest, I send you a few.

Robert Fox found a tree a few days ago that yielded about one hundred pounds of nice honey. Mr. Woods' child that was burned so bad about four weeks ago, is still in a very critical condition. Mr. Glover has had a new house, cellar and woodshed built this winter; Amasa Brooks did the work.

China pheasants are quite numerous in this section, as many as fourteen have been seen in a flock; they do seem to do damage to crops or gardens.

ORA. FAIR GROUND LEASED. Frotting Meetings to be Held Regularly During the Season. The Yamhill County Fair association have leased the fair ground to Chas. Woods, the well known horse trainer, till just before the fair. Mr. Woods states that on the middle of next month a race meeting for Yamhill horses will be held on the 4th and 5th of July. Yamhill horses have now a chance to show their speed. All these 2-40 horses can now have a chance trot a mile in four minutes.

The Desperado Identified. Mr. Hankins, of Maple Lane, clears up the mystery as to the identity of the noted horse thief, says the Oregon City Courier. He says that he went to school with him in Pennsylvania, the state of his birth, and that his name was L. Streeter. Before he was 21 years of age he was sent to the penitentiary on an affidavit of Mr. Hankins, for horse stealing. The thief spoken of above is the man who was shot to pieces in the southern portion of Multnomah county a few weeks since by the officers who were trying to effect his capture for horse stealing near Oregon City.

Use Wright's Arabian Condition Powders if you take pride in seeing your stock look well. Sold by Rogers & Todd.

Deafness Can't be Cured by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) which we can not cure by sending Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Closing Out At Cost. I am closing out the well selected stock of boots and shoes of the late firm of Harris & Haney, at Lafayette at cost. Will sell your boots and shoes 25 to 40 per cent less than you can get them elsewhere. MARY HYVON.

NOTICE. The parents of children in this city will please warn their children to keep off my property, they have already done considerable damage and I will not allow it to continue. A. J. BAKER.

MOTHERS! Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are pure, its action is gentle, and it is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhea and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend, 35 doses, 30 cents.

The Auction Sale. Wednesday the directors auctioned off the old public school buildings, Mr. Christmas was the auctioneer, and he is a dandy. He sold the old building to Mr. Simpson for $150, the wood shed to Mr. J. S. Martin for $22, the cottages to H. L. Heath for 50 cents. Persons wishing the cottages can have the same by giving a 10 per cent raise on the cost price.
