The famous Star route cases are at an end at last. A note passed has been entered in each of the twenty-four cases, a conviction having been found to be impossible. A few years ago these cases attracted considerable public attention.

A "poor man with a large family" has written from Philadelphia to the superintendent of prisons at Albany, N. Y., offering to be a victim to science by testing the efficiency of the apparatus to cause death by electricity, provided that $5000 is paid to his family in case the experiment succeeds.

For years David D. Porter and Benj. Butler have been looked up to by the American people as war heroes. Since their controversy opinion has changed. David D. Porter is a coward and Benj. Butler is a scoundrel. Let it be verdict go into history and people in the future will get well-enough alone.

Last week the Reporter fought, bled and died indignantly for its adopted party. How much did you pay the editor or for that Mr. Commissioner? We know it cost you money, for the Reporter does nothing for its friends or party unless the coin is in sight. A renegade democrat is about as mean and contemptible an animal as God ever made.

A convict in the California penitentiary who received $20 reward for causing a man's life to be saved, gave the amount to the fund for the relief of Seattle. The story reached the ears of Governor Waterman, who pardoned the prisoner. This little story ought to be sent to some of our Eastern capitalists who have not yet been heard from since Johnston's misfortune sent out its mite appeal.

A simple stove for warming rooms by means of solar heat has been contrived by Prof. E. S. Morse. It consists of a shallow box, having a bottom of corrugated iron and a glass top. This device is placed outside the building, where the sun can shine directly into it. The rays pass through the glass and are absorbed by the metal, heating it to a high temperature and warming the air of the box.

It is not generally known that Gen. Neal H. Dow has an invalid daughter in Nashua, N. H., who may certainly be regarded as a wonderful woman. The Lewiston Journal tells us that the lady has not been able to move from her chair for years, but she has been an indefatigable student and has mastered the French, German, Spanish, Russian and Greek languages. She recently performed the feat of repeating a long passage from her Greek Testament, verbatim, from memory, a month after she had read it. Here is an illustration of comfort in affliction. Miss Dow loses sight of her misfortunes in her love of study.

An exchange truthfully remarks: "Some people, ignorant of what good editing is, imagine the getting up of selected matter to be the easiest work in the world to do, whereas it is the nicest work done on a newspaper. If they see the editor with scissors in his hand, they are sure to say, 'Eh, that's the way you are getting up original matter, eh?' accompanying their new and witty question with an idiotic wink or smile. The facts are that the interest, the variety and the usefulness of a paper depend in no small degree upon the selected matter, and few men are capable of the position who would not themselves be able to write many of the articles they select. A sensible editor desires considerable select matter, because he knows that one mind cannot make so good a paper as five or six.

In a recent editorial the Oregonian referred to the fact that the great majority of the vast fortunes achieved in the country were not represented by real estate, but by personal property, stocks, bonds, etc. An examination of seventy-two millionaires, whose combined wealth equals the national debt, reveals the fact that but two of them, J. J. and Wm. Astor, are large holders of real estate. The rest of the men, like Lieter, Morton, Drexel, Spruells, Armour, Donner, Huntington, Sears, Pullman, Field, Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, Gould, Carnegie, Crocker, Stanford, Hearst, Westinghouse, Cooke, Mackay, Fair, Ives, Childs, Wannamaker, Dillon, Miller, Hay, Stokes, who hold enormous amounts of personal property of all sorts, with but little real estate. This list does not contain by any means the names of all the great millionaires of the country. There is Mrs. Hetty Green, who is worth between thirty and forty millions of dollars, nearly all represented by personal property. These are the plutocrats, whose combinations so strongly threaten the welfare of the people, because they can take their portable wealth of stocks and bonds into the corn and stock exchanges and disturb the whole business of the nation. The single tax on land would not reach these persons at all. They pay something now but under the single tax they would pay little or nothing, while every laboring man and small trader who had his savings invested in land would carry the whole burden of taxation. The argument that England has a land tax and no tax on personal property, save gold and silver plate, is not a fair answer, for England tax the houses heavily, a tax unknown in America, save during the war.—Oregonian.

JAPAN. Japan has an area of 37,000 square miles, not quite equal to that of California. It has a population of 38,000,000, or about seven times that of New York. In 1869 Japan will become a constitutional monarchy with an upper house and a lower house, like England. In 1863 Japan had no vessels, steam or sail, of any account. To-day she has a well-equipped navy and dock-yard, and can design, construct, equip and officer a fleet of war-ships. She has 138 national banks, with a capital of $44,000,000; 4500 postal stations; telegraph stations in 112 cities and towns; eight lines of telegraph communication and 5000 miles of wire. She has kindergarten schools far in advance of those in this country, and has 20,000 schools of different grades, in which 60,000 teachers give instructions to well-nigh 3,000,000 pupils. She supports 173 colleges, six schools for the higher education of women, seventy-eight normal schools and two universities. In the law school at Tokio are more than a thousand students, nearly half of whom study in English. She has also thirty-one medical schools, in one of which are 900 students, and 665 hospitals where patients are sheltered. The exports and imports of Japan amount to about $90,000,000. The United States sells $17,000,000 worth of products and sells her something less than $3,000,000 worth in return.

THE PENSION DEFICIENCY. The money appropriated for the present fiscal year has run short and many of the pensioners will have to wait until some time in July for their amounts. Why is this? The matter is explained in various ways. There is the Tanner theory that the corporal has been too zealous and has distributed more than is necessary. There is the New York Tribune theory that the shortage is due to the malice of Gen. Black, who, though he was shot to pieces in defense of the Union, is a democrat and therefore must be bitterly hostile to the veterans. The correct theory is the arithmetic one which is, that the amount appropriated was less than the amount needed. The old soldier in need of his money, however, will have to wait until the political pensioners draw their coin.

Some printer's devil gets off the following for the country. It is not ours for she is at present at the coast coasting. She has a fat take too. I would flee from the city's rule and law—from its fashions and form cut looses—and go where the strawberry grows on its straw and the gooseberry on its goose; where the catnip tree is climbed by the cat as she clutches for prey the guileless and unsuspecting rat, at the rattan lurch at play. I will catch at ease the saffron cow and cowllet in their glee as they leap with joy from bough to bough on the top of a cowslip tree; and list while the partidge drums his drum and the woodchuck chucks his wood and the dog devours the dogwood plum in the primitive softside. Let me drink from the moss grown pump that was hewn from a pumpkin tree. Eat nut and milk from a rural stump, from fern and fashion free—new gathered mush from the mushroom vine, and milk from the milkweed sweet—with luscious pineapples from the pine to make my repast complete. And then to the whitewashed dairy I'll turn, where the dairymaid hastening hies her ruddy and golden red butter to churn from the milk of her butterflies; and I'll rise at morn with the earliest bird to the fragrant farmyard pass, and watch while the farmer turns his herd of grasslopers out to grass.

OREGON is fast filling up with Eastern people and if those who intend to move to Oregon soon don't hurry up they will get left. The chances for a bright future will all be taken.

BOLUS AND DIABOLUS. There was a time when people thought that there was a connection between drugs and the devil. Many a successful practitioner was looked on askance and suspected.
