

THE TELEPHONE-REGISTER.

Friday, September 27, 1889.

Table with market prices for various goods like potatoes, chickens, and eggs.

COMMERCIAL.

WHEAT-The market shows no improvement. We quote nominal prices for Eastern Oregon and Washington.

OATS-Receipts for the past week have been 11,660 cts., against 13,013 cts. for the week previous.

DRYED FRUITS-Receipts for the past week have been 200 pkgs. The market is fairly active.

WHEAT-The spot market is strong, and although not quotably higher, there is an upward tendency.

OATS-Business is quiet with only a small demand, but prices rule steady.

LOCAL AND GENERAL. Mrs. Geo. Hemstock is quite sick.

Grant McGuire is home from Woodburn to attend the fair.

Ernest Eccleston is able to be on the streets after quite a spell of sickness.

P. D. Glenn has returned to McMinnville and is working for O. O. Hodson.

Wayland Hunsaker, of Marion county, was in town this week attending the fair.

J. A. Todd is moving into his new residence, corner C and Fifth streets, this week.

John M. Geerin and family returned to Portland this week from a visit to Europe.

The water works contractors arrived and commenced on their contract on Monday.

Mrs. B. E. Clubine, of Centralia, Washington, is here on a visit to relatives and friends.

The new fence in front of the Burns property on Third street greatly improves its appearance.

W. L. Bradshaw, of The Dalles, is in attendance at the session of court. Bill is honestly getting on his feet.

James O. Rogers has returned from Moscow and will go into business on the Sound. He left this city Monday.

George Squires' little daughter Mattie had the misfortune to dislocate her ankle while at play at school on Monday.

The Portland Welcomes asserts that if all the men in that city had their just dues of matrimony, there would be no more crime.

Use Wright's Arabian Condition Powders if you take pride in seeing your stock look well. Sold by Rogers Bros.

If so soon I was to be done for, what in the world was I begun for? -Corporal Tanner.

J. A. C. Freund is in town looking hale and hearty. He is pushing the interests of the Northwestern Fire Insurance company.

J. C. Cooper has received his commission as postmaster of McMinnville and will take charge of the office next Tuesday, October 1st.

Felix Gratton was found dead by the roadside near his home in Marion county, last week. Heart disease was the cause of his sudden death.

Wright's Red Cross Cough Syrup cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, loss of voice and all inflamed conditions of the lungs. Sold by Rogers Bros.

It is singular fact that the number of newspapers that died in 1888 was, according to the Newspaper Directory, just 1,888. The number born was 2,665.

This office has two stores for sale cheap. Will Albertson arrived Wednesday from Portland.

The street fakirs have been busy in town during the fair.

Wm. Henderson is clerking in J. H. Henderson's grocery store.

All kinds of agricultural implements can be found at Ballinger's.

W. Jacobson, of Portland, was visiting friends near this city Sunday.

The finest willow and rattan chairs can be obtained at Bingham's.

Bingham has a new model bedroom suit of cloth with velvet looking at it.

Chas. Ladd, executor of the Sax estate, has been in town during the past week.

J. C. Wilson has sold his boarding house at White's and thinks of moving to Amity.

H. B. Baxter has been secured as clerk at Apperson's store in the place of S. P. M. Briggs.

The McMinnville creamery is now running and has already made three shipments of butter.

S. P. M. Briggs leaves Saturday for Chelalis where he will take charge of a general merchandise business.

Prospectors are finding good silver in the mountains just west of this city. Will McMinnville be a mining camp?

Born-to the wife of A. H. Gault, on Wednesday, September 25, 1889, a boy. Still the democrats are reinforced.

Geo. Barum has the contract for building the boiler house for the water works; the contract price being $500.

The rock crusher has been unloaded and is ready to put up, if anyone can be found who knows how to put it up.

Judging from the number of stores our local merchants are selling, the people of the county propose to keep warm this winter.

Look at the "Flying Dutchman." He can be found at I. G. Ballinger's. He is a dandy and is the best plow in the market.

Wright's Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla can be relied upon for all blood diseases, skin affections, etc. Sold by Rogers Bros.

The streets will now receive a good coating of crushed rock. Men are at work in the quarry getting out the rock for the crusher.

Stop! Don't go further! Look at the Monitor drills and seeders at J. G. Ballinger's. Look at them before you purchase elsewhere.

For Sale-Two good stoves can be purchased cheap at this office. We will heat the office with steam and have no use for the stoves.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. McClellan, mother of General George S. McClellan, died in Philadelphia, September 18. She was ninety years of age.

Bingham has a large invoice of furniture made in Oregon from Oregon timber. It is especially fine, and you are invited to inspect it.

The military opening at Mrs. I. S. Fuller's was attended by a large number of ladies, and they were all surprised at the fineness of the display.

James Durham left Wednesday morning for Grants Pass. O. O. Hodson will leave Monday. Work will then begin on the iron roof contract at this city.

In the case of state of Oregon vs Alfred E. Copple, the grand jury found a true bill, Copple pleaded guilty and Judge Boise sent him to the pen for two years.

This week Tuesday a team belonging to J. W. Jones ran away with a plow on the farm of W. C. Henderson, and the horses was so badly injured that it died the next day.

Mrs. Tyler and wife, of Aberdeen, Washington, have been in this city the past two weeks. Mrs. Tyler has great faith in the prospects of McMinnville and may locate here.

Found-Near the crossing of the Yamhill river near Sheridan a leather carriage belt with 32-38 Calibre cartridges. One was taken up by calling at this office and paying for Calibre.

The great case of the trial of court is the one known as the "Howe Case," in which Sappington of North Yamhill sines Howe of Carlton for damages.

The second annual fair of the Yamhill county association commenced on Tuesday and closed today.

The rain has been more propitious. The rain of Saturday and Sunday caused some anxiety of the part of those most interested, but when on Monday morning the sun shone out bright and clear, and the wind came from the North, the best of Indian summer weather was assured for the entire week.

The attendance on Tuesday was not very large, but fully as many people were on the grounds as is usual on first days. There was one race Tuesday.

One mile dash between Dude, Lancer, Jordan and Kacine, and they came under the wire in the order named.

The display was not complete in the pavilion on Tuesday. Several prominent additions were made as late as Wednesday afternoon.

In the pavilion one may see the usual amount of fancy work, including quilts, spreads, embroideries, etc.

The McMinnville Music & News company have a large and fine showing of musical instruments of all kinds.

Manning & Ungerman, Ballinger & Co., and Martin & Sanders have displays of farm machinery, wagons, etc.

The enterprising firm of Martin & Sanders made the largest and best display in the above line. Their exhibit was tastefully arranged and consisted of plows, harrows, wagons, hacks, carriages, buggies, and other articles needed by the farmer to make life less burdensome, and the filling of the ground a pleasure.

Elna Wright shows some fine harness of his own make.

Wallace & Todd exhibit an upboard of fine dishes of late pattern.

Next comes the pumpkin and corn department, in which there are very good specimens of grains, vegetables and grasses.

The exhibit in the dairy and house manufactory department is limited, although a few nice specimens of butter, bread, etc., are shown.

The whole west side of the south wing of the pavilion is occupied by the Davis sewing machine and its beautiful work of every description.

Anyone who has never seen this work cannot imagine the great variety and quality of work done on this machine. The entire credit for this display is due to Martin & Sanders, of this city, who are agents for this celebrated machine.

There are several notable relics and curiosities on exhibition in the pavilion, among which may be mentioned a Bible over one hundred years old, the property of A. J. Nelson. Mr. Nelson also has a very unique frame, about cabinet size, made from stones and metals indigenous to Colorado, which is very beautiful and valuable.

Wm. Galloway has a large picture frame made of 9898 pieces of wood that is really beautiful, and is perhaps the most valuable article in the pavilion. It is not for sale, however.

Manning & Ungerman have the White sewing machine on exhibition, and its work shows for itself.

The display of handturned horsehoes, the work of George H. Westerfield attracted considerable attention.

O. O. Hodson's is the only display of stores and cooking utensils on the grounds. He also exhibits specimens of galvanized iron cornice and his celebrated Garry's iron roofing.

Wednesday afternoon the three minute trot for Yamhill horses came off. The contestants were Dr. Young's Kittleman and J. Carter's Bally. The former won easily in three straight heats; time, 3:13, 3:12, and 3:09. This race was very tame and the crowd seemed to want something more exciting, so it was announced that Chas. Wood would drive Dick Flaherty against a running mate to beat 2:30.

This arrangement pleased the crowd immensely, and I took care on the track eager for the sport. They got off at the second trial and made the mile in 2:07. Kittleman and Dick both made friends by the exhibition.

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the horses were called forth for inspection and to be rewarded with premiums. The number of horses was small but made up for it in breeding. Yamhill farmers should take more interest in the county fair, and bring out their stock.

In the draft stallion class, four years old or over, King Ferguson, owned by Ladd & Reed, received first premium; Victor Jr., owned by D. Curtis, second premium.

Three year old, draft-Mason Chief, owned by James Mitchell, received first. No others entered.

Two year old, draft-Lewis Stafford, owned by Geo. Owens, received first; Oscar, owned by N. H. Perkins, second; Yearling, draft-Top Gallant Jr., owned by J. S. Hibbs, first. No others entered.

Draft mares, four years old or over, with colts-Gypsy, owned by C. V. Kaykendall, first; Clara Glasgow, owned by Duncan Ross, second.

Yearling brood mare, draft-Blue Ribbon, owned by Geo. Owens, first; no others entered.

Best team in harness, draft-Geo. Owens first; James Mitchell second. Stallions of all work, four years old or over-Duke of Wenlock, owned by Ladd & Reed, first; Grizzly, owned by R. W. Phillips, second.

Good Weather-Good Display in most Departments-The Races.

The second annual fair of the Yamhill county association commenced on Tuesday and closed today.

The rain has been more propitious. The rain of Saturday and Sunday caused some anxiety of the part of those most interested, but when on Monday morning the sun shone out bright and clear, and the wind came from the North, the best of Indian summer weather was assured for the entire week.

The attendance on Tuesday was not very large, but fully as many people were on the grounds as is usual on first days. There was one race Tuesday.

One mile dash between Dude, Lancer, Jordan and Kacine, and they came under the wire in the order named.

The display was not complete in the pavilion on Tuesday. Several prominent additions were made as late as Wednesday afternoon.

In the pavilion one may see the usual amount of fancy work, including quilts, spreads, embroideries, etc.

The McMinnville Music & News company have a large and fine showing of musical instruments of all kinds.

Manning & Ungerman, Ballinger & Co., and Martin & Sanders have displays of farm machinery, wagons, etc.

The enterprising firm of Martin & Sanders made the largest and best display in the above line. Their exhibit was tastefully arranged and consisted of plows, harrows, wagons, hacks, carriages, buggies, and other articles needed by the farmer to make life less burdensome, and the filling of the ground a pleasure.

Elna Wright shows some fine harness of his own make.

Wallace & Todd exhibit an upboard of fine dishes of late pattern.

Next comes the pumpkin and corn department, in which there are very good specimens of grains, vegetables and grasses.

The exhibit in the dairy and house manufactory department is limited, although a few nice specimens of butter, bread, etc., are shown.

The whole west side of the south wing of the pavilion is occupied by the Davis sewing machine and its beautiful work of every description.

Anyone who has never seen this work cannot imagine the great variety and quality of work done on this machine. The entire credit for this display is due to Martin & Sanders, of this city, who are agents for this celebrated machine.

There are several notable relics and curiosities on exhibition in the pavilion, among which may be mentioned a Bible over one hundred years old, the property of A. J. Nelson. Mr. Nelson also has a very unique frame, about cabinet size, made from stones and metals indigenous to Colorado, which is very beautiful and valuable.

Wm. Galloway has a large picture frame made of 9898 pieces of wood that is really beautiful, and is perhaps the most valuable article in the pavilion. It is not for sale, however.

Manning & Ungerman have the White sewing machine on exhibition, and its work shows for itself.

The display of handturned horsehoes, the work of George H. Westerfield attracted considerable attention.

O. O. Hodson's is the only display of stores and cooking utensils on the grounds. He also exhibits specimens of galvanized iron cornice and his celebrated Garry's iron roofing.

Wednesday afternoon the three minute trot for Yamhill horses came off. The contestants were Dr. Young's Kittleman and J. Carter's Bally. The former won easily in three straight heats; time, 3:13, 3:12, and 3:09. This race was very tame and the crowd seemed to want something more exciting, so it was announced that Chas. Wood would drive Dick Flaherty against a running mate to beat 2:30.

This arrangement pleased the crowd immensely, and I took care on the track eager for the sport. They got off at the second trial and made the mile in 2:07. Kittleman and Dick both made friends by the exhibition.

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the horses were called forth for inspection and to be rewarded with premiums. The number of horses was small but made up for it in breeding. Yamhill farmers should take more interest in the county fair, and bring out their stock.

In the draft stallion class, four years old or over, King Ferguson, owned by Ladd & Reed, received first premium; Victor Jr., owned by D. Curtis, second premium.

Three year old, draft-Mason Chief, owned by James Mitchell, received first. No others entered.

Two year old, draft-Lewis Stafford, owned by Geo. Owens, received first; Oscar, owned by N. H. Perkins, second; Yearling, draft-Top Gallant Jr., owned by J. S. Hibbs, first. No others entered.

Draft mares, four years old or over, with colts-Gypsy, owned by C. V. Kaykendall, first; Clara Glasgow, owned by Duncan Ross, second.

Yearling brood mare, draft-Blue Ribbon, owned by Geo. Owens, first; no others entered.

Best team in harness, draft-Geo. Owens first; James Mitchell second. Stallions of all work, four years old or over-Duke of Wenlock, owned by Ladd & Reed, first; Grizzly, owned by R. W. Phillips, second.

BAR DOCKET. Court Proceedings-Several Terms. James Agoo vs Frank Mittelstade; action for money. Default; judgment.

The Solicitors Loan & Trust Co vs William T. Raleigh et al; foreclosure. Settled.

J. A. Buchanan vs J. B. Gardner; action for money. Judgment.

John Taylor vs Mary M. Lewis; divorce. Default; M. D. Rhodes referee.

Morris, Miles & Co vs Jesse Hobson; action for money. Judgment.

Irving vs O'Brien; action for money. Dismissed.

State vs Walter Holman; gambling. Fine.

State vs Jordan Morris; gambling. Fine.

John J. Hughes vs M. Schmeier; action for money. Settled.

Brower vs Turner and B. Clark; foreclosure. Settled.

Wm. Campbell and Millap vs Orin E. Skinner; action. Continued.

Orin V. Kirkwood vs J. H. Peckham; confirmation. Continued.

Chas. H. Dodd & Co vs Fred Bent; action for money. Settled.

McGinnis vs J. P. Stratton; foreclosure. Dismissed.

F. S. Cottle vs D. P. Stratton; action for money. Judgment.

Amanda Messenger vs J. C. Messenger; divorce. Default; J. C. Cooper referee.

The Solicitors Loan & Trust Co vs Smith et al; foreclosure. Settled.

John Aspinwall vs George L. W. Burton; foreclosure. Decree.

Orin V. Kirkwood vs J. H. Peckham; confirmation. Continued.

Chas. H. Dodd & Co vs Fred Bent; action for money. Settled.

McGinnis vs J. P. Stratton; foreclosure. Dismissed.

F. S. Cottle vs D. P. Stratton; action for money. Judgment.

Amanda Messenger vs J. C. Messenger; divorce. Default; J. C. Cooper referee.

The Solicitors Loan & Trust Co vs Smith et al; foreclosure. Settled.

John Aspinwall vs George L. W. Burton; foreclosure. Decree.

Orin V. Kirkwood vs J. H. Peckham; confirmation. Continued.

Chas. H. Dodd & Co vs Fred Bent; action for money. Settled.

McGinnis vs J. P. Stratton; foreclosure. Dismissed.

F. S. Cottle vs D. P. Stratton; action for money. Judgment.

Amanda Messenger vs J. C. Messenger; divorce. Default; J. C. Cooper referee.

SALEM'S MOTOR ROAD. The Season Has Been a Poor One-About 1,500,000 Cases Packed on the Coast.

The salmon season on the Columbia came to an end by midnight on the 23rd of July, and the season's pack approximated 520,000 cases, the smallest pack for many years.

In several respects this has been the poorest season known on the river. The cost of a case of salmon to the packer has been in excess of any previous year, reaching a total of $6.00, being at least $1.00 more than last year.

This has been caused chiefly by the forced raise in the price for fish, $1.40 the highest previous price being $1.00. Notwithstanding this increase in price, fishermen have not done well, the average catch for the season being but 300 fish to the boat.

Neither have the traps and pound nets done as well as expected. Taken together, the outlook is not as bright for this industry so long as natural propagation is relied upon.

Happily this fact has been recognized by the state legislature and officers of the U. S. fish commission and an appropriation made by the former placed the Clackamas hatchery in operating condition, and this year millions of fry were turned into the river by the employees of the latter, who had charge of the hatchery.

Preparations are being made to largely increase the number of fish hatched, and the indications are that in a few years the Columbia and its tributaries will again swarm with the food of some salmon. Meanwhile the fish do not return to the river for four or five years after being hatched, two or three more seasons of a light run may therefore be expected.

Reports from Alaska are to the effect that more canneries are at work there than last season, and the total pack will probably reach 500,000 cases. Quite a contrast with the Columbia is the Fraser river, where the run of salmon seems to be larger than ever before, and the canneries are literally swarmed with fish.

It is estimated that the coast of Oregon and Washington, where the season lasts until late in the fall. Figures of the Columbia pack are not yet at hand, but it is estimated that the total pack of the coast this year will approximate 1,500,000 cases, having a total value approximating $7,000,000.-West Shore.

WEATHER BULLETIN. For week ending Saturday, September 27, 1889. Oregon State weather bureau, co-operating with U. S. signal service, central office Portland, Oregon. Bulletin No. 29.

The temperature was above the normal for the week, the 16th, 17th and 18th being very warm days.

There was no rainfall except on the last day of the week, when light showers were experienced in many portions of the state. The sun was generally obscured by smoke.

The forest fires are burning very extensively in many sections of the state. The winds during the week were very light and the smoke dense for some days, together with the high temperature, made the week sultry and somewhat unpleasant.

On the 19th the temperature was lower and in the northern part of the Willamette valley the fog and the smoke combined rendered the atmosphere so thick that until noon it was impossible to see over fifty yards.

The weather conditions were favorable to grasses, and quite favorable to plowing and seeding. In Eastern and Southern Oregon the ground is yet too dry to admit of any farming operations.

The hop crop has been safely gathered, and fair yields are reported. Fruit raisers are now drying pears, prunes and plums. The apple crop is short. The insect enemies of this fruit have nearly ruined it in many sections.

Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

Grapes are very plentiful, they are very large, of excellent quality and flavor. Reports continue to come in from more than enough for some sections. The potato crop is being gathered and poor yields are generally reported. Prunes, plums and pears continue to be plentiful. There are not so many watermelons in the market as in years ago, and the cantaloupe season is drawing to a close.

THE OREGON PACIFIC. Tuesday we stated that work was to proceed eastward on the O. P., with a new impetus. It is now learned that it is proposed to push grading and track laying this winter to a point fifty-three miles beyond Galesville, ninety-two miles beyond Albany. This will take the road to the end of the eight miles on the summit graded by Hunt.

The present situation is about like this: The road is graded, including Antonelle's contract, twenty-four miles beyond Galesville, which is thirty-nine miles east of Albany. This leaves thirty-nine miles of grading to be done to reach the Hunt grading on the summit. Rails have been laid five miles beyond Galesville. The programme is to grade and lay rails the full forty-eight miles from the end of the track this winter and to let new contracts in the spring and continue right along to Boise City. Oregon thousand of more will be wanted, as nearly as we can learn. The Oregon Pacific may be slow in getting started; but it is getting along all right, and it is a great thing of time to be a