

THE TELEPHONE-REGISTER

McMinnville, Oregon. July 3, 1890

Lullaby. Beat upon mine, little heart, beat, beat!

Sunol and the Record. Robert Bonner and Hamilton Bayley were sitting at luncheon in a New-York cafe the other day and the question of lowering the trotting record came up.

Plies Call the Guests. "The queerest hotel in the world is in Guatemala, Central America," said an English tourist who is stopping at the Richeleu.

Neglected and Alone. The London correspondent of the Liverpool Mercury furnishes this interesting bit of news: "While all England is continuing to fete Mr. Stanley it is not pleasant to reflect that his great predecessor in African exploration Sir Richard Burton, is lying very dangerously ill, neglected and alone, in London lodgings.

Curiosities of Dreams. When it comes to stories of queer dreams, the person most reticent about this form of self-revelation is likely to think if not speak of some extraordinary experience in the land of Nod.

A Snake Story. Thomas Ballard comes to the front with the only genuine snake story of the season. Last summer while Mr. Ballard and his two sons were making hay on Jim Sheely's farm, a mare they were using in raking hay was bitten on the leg by a large rattlesnake.

The Hop Outlook. In an interview with George W. Hubbard, the hop buyer, Monday, we learned that there is quite an increase in the acreage of hops in Oregon and Washington this year.

Queen Victoria is living her portrait painted in her uniform as colonel of the regiment of Prussian dragoons to which she was some time ago appointed. It will be only a little less imposing than the picture of a drum-major.

BELLS ACROSS THE SEA.

That will Merrily Jingle at Weddings of Well-Known Americans. Not content with taking to herself some of America's fairest daughters as mates to her own titled sons, England seems to have usurped even the privilege of celebrating the nuptials of our own plighted lovers.

The recent marriage of Mary Anderson, an American and a Californian as well, to Antonio de Navarro, also a native born, celebrated at Little Holyhill Chapel, is the first of these weddings.

The fact that the "marrying season" so to speak is limited in this country to the few weeks following Easter and preceding the summer outings may in a measure account for the popularity of English weddings in June and July, and the subsequent continental honeymoon trips.

The Stanley wedding has been fixed for the twelfth of July and will unquestionably be the event of the season. It is only on rare occasions that the metropolis is gay in midsummer, but this will be a notable exception.

One of the first of these midsummer weddings will be that of Miss Romaine Stone and Lawrence Turner which is sure to be witnessed by a very large proportion of the American colony there.

I have heard that had she been ambitious she might have made a brilliant match here at any time during the last two years, and that more than one has been suppliant at her feet.

Another July wedding will be that of Mrs. S. S. Sands Jr., and Lewis Morris Rutherford. This lady is also quite well known in New York society and was a prominent figure at social gatherings until the death of her husband two years ago, from a fall in the hunting field while riding after the Meadowbrook hounds.

Another July wedding will be that of Mrs. S. S. Sands Jr., and Lewis Morris Rutherford. This lady is also quite well known in New York society and was a prominent figure at social gatherings until the death of her husband two years ago, from a fall in the hunting field while riding after the Meadowbrook hounds.
