New Advertisers. R. JACOBSON—Dry goods. HOWARTH & Co.—Druggists.

Local and General. There will be no services at the C. P. church next Sunday. The boy slight of hand performance at the opera house tonight. What is the matter with our electric lights? Try a new engineer. Those excellent cakes baked by Wm. Kuns are very fine. Try them. Who was the first child born in McMinnville; can some of our readers tell? Highest cash price paid for Poultry of all kinds at Knight, Wood & Wallace's. Acorns in every conceivable variety at Hodson's, sold separately, not by the bushel. Chas. Brathwaite had Robt. Patton about two feet in 50 yards. The stakes were $100. Cold weather is knocked out by Hodson's Acorn stoves. It stands no show at all. Burglars have been raiding Corvallis. Load your shotgun with B B shot and wait for them. The Merrill-Abbott combination at Garrison opera house to-night. A good show; attend it. Mr. Jacobson is preparing to move into the new brick. See his removal ad. in another place in this paper. County Clerk Hobbs has purchased a new hammerless Parker gun. He will now go to the coast and try it. John Jacob Dil was taken to the state insane asylum Thursday by the sheriff. He is from near Bridwell station. Mr. Stappington of North Yamhill has purchased the Grand Central hotel in Tillamook. He will move there. Mrs. E. A. Clark died the Sheridan Courier. Yamhill has a woman editor at last. Long may she live and prosper. Jas. McCain and Geo. W. Jones leave today for Tillamook, where they will attend to business and to the ducks and geese. Seattle has increased the license of theaters containing bars to $1,000 annually and circuses from $200 to $1,000 per day. Wright's Blackberry Cordial should be kept in every house. Invaluable in all relaxed conditions of the bowels. Sold by Rogers Bros. The attendance at the Agricultural college is overrunning all expectation and there is no question but that there will be 200 students during the winter months. Impure blood and low vitality will make fearful inroads on your health. Wright's Sarsaparilla will cleanse your blood and build you up. Sold by Rogers Bros. The armature to the Corvallis light dynamo burned out about a month ago and the town has been in darkness since. Westinghouse experts are now winding it. Dr. J. H. Nelson, of this city, is a first class dentist and will endeavor to him will be turned out in a manner perfectly satisfactory to the person having it done. Never before in our history has such an expensive novelty company called us as the Modern Miracle Co. The intelligent citizens should turn out in force on the occasion. The acorns this year are very plentiful and many bear no doubt will fill their stomachs with them. Those at Hodson's will not digest and will make Mr. Bear very sick. Go and see them. There are now no women prisoners in the penitentiary at Salem. There has only been six women confined in the place since its construction. How is this? Oregon is the place to live in. Triplett and Cook have purchased the Shobe property on D street and will open a seed and feed stable immediately. Produce of all kinds bought and sold. Fruit trees will also be carried. Old Hornet, a horse belonging to Mrs. D. A. Wallace, died October 16, aged 28 years and 5 months. Such a faithful animal is always remembered by neighbors and friends of its owner. M. M. Bannister, formerly editor and publisher of the Yamhill county Herald, of Dayton has purchased an interest in the Central News and assumed editorial charge of that journal. We are promised the best show ever seen in McMinnville tonight. If that promise is not fulfilled, each and every one of us can go the box office and get our 50 cents back. That is indeed a fair offer. Quite a number of residences have a yellow flag displayed at the front door denoting the presence of scarlet fever. It is of a very mild form, however, and no deaths have occurred.—Walla Walla Statesman.

You can tell good bread can't you? Try that baked by Wm. Kuns. Insure with the oldest, the largest and best—the Mutual Life. See ad. Fresh bread, cakes, pies and taffy every day (Sundays excepted) at Grissens. Lots in Cambridge, the gem of Portland's suburbs, sell for $250, 10 per cent down and 5 per cent a month, no interest and no taxes. The Jersey Dairy still continues to furnish cream with the milk. Chas. Holman is the proprietor. Just tell him you want some of the milk. Fifty of the "Business" fanning mills for sale. For particulars address W. E. Newsome, box 354, East Portland, Or. Call at the factory 4 & C street, East Portland. No one can afford to do without Wright's Myrrh Tooth Soap. It cleanses the mouth, purifies the breath, preserves the teeth and makes them beautiful. Sold by Rogers Bros. Parties visiting Portland during the Industrial fair, should call at 33 Morrison street for free transportation to see Cambridge, one of Portland's most beautiful suburbs. Rhodes & Rhodes, The Oregon bureau of information, at the N. W. corner of Third and Washington streets, is a thing of the past, having made room for a temperance billiard hall, which is to contain ten tables.—Welcome. Next week the first installment of the Woman's Department will be published. It contains an article on women's clubs by Florence Finch-Kelly and several other readable articles by the foremost writers on women's subjects. Miss Effie Leabo has opened an art studio opposite the Grange store, on B street. Instructions given in any kind of art work; sketching, crayon, pastel and oil. Enlarging portraits a specialty. Callers are solicited to examine work. The Southern Pacific railroad company has purchased the Whitecomb colony, a section of about 8,000 acres in Washington county. The purchase is regarded as a preliminary step toward the extension of the Southern Pacific system to Astoria. Persons knowing themselves indebted to W. A. Howe will please call and settle, as this is the time to do so. I have carried all my customers as long as able and now must have the money before Nov. 1, 1890. This will save trouble for you as well as for me. W. A. Howe. Saturday was a lively day for hops in Salem, says the Statesman, not less than 140,000 pounds, or $50,000 worth of the rotunda, having been actually transported. Among other transactions was the sale and shipment by W. J. Herren & Co., of 250 bales, of these hops at a quality and brought 35 cents. The ruling price for hops is 35 cents and at that figure a good many are selling. Papers that are publishing a statement that the county sheriffs in this state get $20 a week for boarding four prisoners and $15 a week for boarding five prisoners, according to a state statute, are mistaken. The law contemplates that the sheriff shall receive $3 each per week for the board of four prisoners, and $3 for all above that number. Thus, for four prisoners he receives $20 or five $25, for six $30, etc. This is the intent of the law, and we have yet to hear of the sheriff who does not so interpret it. The Oregon Pacific asked to have its indebtedness exempted from its assessment in Benton county. As the assessment is $383,352, it means considerable. Should it be asked to refund the tax paid for several years the amount, a loan of $200,000 would be required. The matter will probably be litigated. In this county the road has done an immense amount of work and is not disposed to quarrel over $2000 a year.—Democrat. There is to be a general election in the Methodist Episcopal church this fall to decide the question of the admission of women as delegates to the electoral and general conference of the church. All members, in full connection, who have attained the age of twenty-one years, will be entitled to vote. The election for the church here and McCabe chapel, will be held on Thursday, Nov. 20th, under the direction of a proper board, to be selected by the official members of the church. Major J. L. Hallett has sold his farm near this place, consisting of 1100 acres together with the stock and farming implements, to A. H. Johnson, of Portland, for a consideration of eighty thousand dollars. Mr. Hallett started on Monday with his family for Los Angeles, Cal., where they will probably make their future home. Mr. Hallett was the first man to own and operate a steam thresher in Washington county. With his departure the county loses a practical business man and a good citizen.—Independent. The committee on assessment and taxation, appointed by the last senate, is grinding away at the capital building upon a bill to be reported to the next session of the legislature. Very little of a definite character has yet been done. It is more than probable that the committee will favor the repeal of the mortgage tax, and it is likely that the clause of the bill of the last session upon this point will be taken as a basis of action. This bill will, it is expected, be reported to the official flights of the next session says the Statesman.

Advertised Letters. Following are the letters remaining for two weeks in the postoffice at McMinnville, Oregon, Oct. 22, 1890: Anderson, Belle Arthur, W H Brown, A M Berkenson, F Cronin, J S Cram, Isaac Sherman Cooper, A G Gilbert, Anna Gilbert, Thos Glendening, J Hillman, T H Huner, Ella Hayden, W C Miller, Mrs I W Mainland, J-2 Miller, Miss M Parks, E S-1 Prentiss, Jas Parrish, Ben Robbins, Henry Spencer, Alex-2 Turner, Mrs S P Thomson, Sam Walton, Mrs M Wisner, Frank M Wisner, I Krom. Parties calling for the above letters will please say "Advertised." If not called for in two weeks they will be sent to the dead letter office as "unclaimed." J. C. COOPER, Postmaster.

The Godfish Trade. Last Friday the Jane A. Falkenberg arrived from the Ochotsk sea with 140,000 codfish, being the first arrival for the present season, and bringing up the total receipts to 865,500 fish. There are yet four vessels to arrive. The catch is already somewhat heavier than that of last year all told, and the catches of the vessels yet to come there will be a very considerable increase over the aggregate of receipts of the previous season. One of the largest companies has a fishing station at the north and one of their vessels has made three trips up and back this season, and brought down 342,000. She left San Francisco on the 1st inst. for the station, and is expected to bring down a full cargo.—Columbian. WILL you suffer with dyspepsia and liver complaint? Shilo's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by Rogers Bros.

TAX SUMMARY OF 1890. A Falling off in the Taxable Property of Yamhill county. The assessor, F. M. York, has completed the assessment of Yamhill county, and the board of equalization has been in session since Monday. The Board of Trade. The board of trade of this city is composed of 56 members. It is an organization for the advancement of McMinnville and all who are not members should join immediately as there is an immense amount of work that can be done. The more members the more ideas advanced, and ideas make the difference. The following is a list of the members: J. E. Rogers, A. J. Apperson, J. W. Henry, W. J. Shurtlett, Frank S. Harding, H. J. Little, C. A. Wallace, A. E. Wood, F. W. Hewitt, Wm. Galloway, M. D. L. Rhodes, R. H. Welch, J. W. Wallace, J. C. Cooper, R. Ginsberg, W. E. Martin, Chas. Grissen, J. H. Evenden, S. E. Messinger, J. H. Fleming, Wm. Holl, R. Jacobson, Calbreath & Goucher, J. L. Hewitt, C. E. Gates, C. E. Hanson, P. Barneker, J. C. McMinnville, J. W. Stewart, Flouring Mills Co, Charles Allen, A. C. Chandler, J. G. Ballinger, E. Wright, H. Ballinger, H. C. Burch, P. D. Glenn, J. W. Cows, H. L. Heath, T. B. Kay, Alex. Reid, J. Bettmann, J. D. Tompkins, S. Howarth, O. O. Hodson, F. Dielschneider, Martin & Sanders, J. J. Collard, F. J. Martin, Jacob Wortman.

The Bettman Concert. Ever since his return home the people of this city have been anxious for a chance to hear Mr. Henry Bettman perform on the violin. The first department took a lively interest in the matter, and a concert was arranged for last Wednesday evening, the 15th. The opera house was well filled, and every one whom we have heard speak of the entertainment enjoyed it very much. Mr. Bettman's appearance upon the stage was very dignified and manly, yet not stiff or affected. The music he brought out of his favorite instrument was simply grand, considering his age. It is not expecting too much to look for his name among the future great masters. The playing of Mr. Bettman was interspersed throughout with vocal music and recitations by local talent, which was so good that it is not proper to mention any one in particular.

Figures from the Prison. The last quarterly report of Superintendent Downing of the penitentiary shows a total expenditure of $11,761.07, with earnings of $9181.10. Number of convicts at close of last quarter, 327; number at close of this quarter, 314, number of convicts discharged by expiration, 28, number discharged by commutation, 4, number died, 1, number escaped, 1, number received during quarter, 21, daily average number during quarter, 320. The convicts were employed as follows: Contractors 215, brickyard 28, farm work and care of stock 18, care of prison 9, convicts in kitchen 6, officers in kitchen 2, gardeners 3, bakery 2, tailor shop 4, shoe shop 1, carpenter 1, blacksmith 1, soap maker 1, aged and unable to work 3, all told 314.

Lecture on Andersonville. The G. A. R. and public generally were treated to lectures last Thursday and Friday evenings by Lieut. Ralph O. Bates. The lecture was received with marked attention each night. The recital of the scenes in and about this famed war prison, its final escape and flight to the northward followed by bloodbaths and rebels on horseback was very entertaining. His visit to President Lincoln in the condition in which he reached the Union lines was very affecting. He closed with an appeal for all to stand by the reunited states and strive for the advancement of the whole country.

He Wanted a Drink. "Can you give me a drink on this?" asked an intoxicated individual as he walked into a down street saloon yesterday afternoon, at the same time placing on the bar a small leather covered bible. The bar-keeper picked it up, examined it and then placed a bottle of "snake-bite" before the stranger. He filled the glass to the brim, placed it to his lips and gulped the contents down at one swallow, and then, with a satisfied look on his countenance, turned and walked out.

The Profit in Dried Prunes. Dried prunes are worth this fall. The cannery dried 6000 pounds daily, producing 3000 pounds of dried prunes. The fruit is bought at 1 1/2 cents a pound, or $145 for 9000 pounds. The drying of this quantity does not cost over $25. As the expectation is that that dried prunes will rise to 15 cents a pound this fall, it is easily seen that at that price the evaporator at the cannery makes at least $250 on each 9000 pounds of prunes. The evaporator is now drying apples.—Oregon City Courier.

Many Thanks. The fire department of this city wish to extend their thanks to all the people who helped make the entertainment of Wednesday last the success it was. The entertainment brought $114 into the treasury of the department.

$100,000 to Loan. Money to loan upon real estate in Yamhill county, for a term of years. For terms write to or call upon F. W. Fenton, attorney at law, McMinnville, Oregon.

Electric Lights and Health. It has been remarked, as showing what a powerful element of health the electric light is, that the general health of those who use it improves, their appetite and their ability to sleep increase and the visits of the doctor become less frequent. This is especially apparent in the statistics of the attendance of working people in factories and other places. In the savings bank in Queen Victoria street, London where 1200 persons are employed the absences from illness have been so far reduced that the extra labor gained is said to have paid for the electric light. The influence of artificial light on the eyes, of which the growing short-sightedness of the day is but one result, is due to the heat rays, and not to the light rays. If that be so, the electric light is less injurious than any other. If the eyes are exposed to the strong light of the arc lamp, its ultra-violet rays have a painful effect, but no one has ever complained of the influence of a steady glow lamp upon the sight, and it is possible to read and write for many hours by such a light without experiencing the least fatigue.—New York Sun.

The Name Oregon. The name of Oregon is of uncertain meaning and origin. Bancroft reviews all the theories of the name and concludes that it was invented from certain Indian words (or possible heard) by Johnathan Carver, while in Minnesota in 1776, as belonging to the distant and unknown river of the west. The word Oregon was printed for the first time in Carver's Travels in 1778, made famous by Bryant, in his poem of "Thanatopsis," in 1819; and fastened upon the northwest territory by Hall J. Kelley, a Boston schoolmaster and western emigrant about the year 1830. Prof. J. D. Whitney maintains that the name was given by the Spaniards, Oregon being an old Spanish word. J. H. Trumbull thinks that Oregon comes from the Algonquin word "wauregan," meaning good or fair, and applied to the Columbia river. Another theory derives it from the Spanish form of "origanum vulgare," the latin name of wild majoram, which grows in abundance in "the continuous woods where rolls the Oregon, and hears no sound save its own dashings."

A Sunday Suicide. At Woodburn Sunday afternoon, while Richard Kennedy and wife were walking in the northern part of Woodburn, they discovered a man hanging to a tree with his face close to the tree and one foot resting on the ground. The rope was a three-eighths, about four feet long. The fence was within three feet of the tree. The suicide was a laborer named L. Evans, who had arrived two or three days before in Woodburn. He took dinner at the hotel and was found hanging to the tree about 5 o'clock. He had put the rope around his neck, then around the limb and jumped off the fence. A jury was summoned by Coroner Stott, of Gervais who had the man cut down and taken to Woodburn. On his person was found a letter showing that he had been working on the railroad in the vicinity of La Grande, a new pair of gloves he had purchased at Gervais, and twenty-six cents in money. The jury rendered a verdict of suicide on account of despondency and lack of means. The man was about 40 years of age and had a black beard.

Shall Oregon Be There? Shall Oregon throw off its mossy cloak, arouse from its lethargy, come proudly forward, claim and fill a prominent department in the great international exhibition of the world's progress, or will she sit supinely indifferent in her imbecility and listen to the triumphal march of surrounding states, carrying their resources and prodigious machinery to Chicago in 1892, when the resounding roar of the vast machinery of the Columbian exposition is echoing and re-echoing all over the civilized land into its stupendous melody is heard in the most distant isles of the sea, listened to in the wilds of Africa and the jungles of India. When the representative millions of earth's broad domains are gazing in wonder at the gorgeous spectacle presented in the city of the great lake, shall Oregon be there in place, or will she dishonor our American manhood, ignore the grand opportunity and be relegated to the obscurity synonymous with the ignorance and barbarity of the dark ages.—Astorian.

Hard at It. The senatorial committee, now in session at the capital, is busy at work drafting and discussing all points relative to the preparing of the bill on assessment and taxation for the coming legislature. They are reviewing house bill 237, of last session, with a view to drafting one similar. Had this passed in the senate it would have been the law now. It provided for full deductions for indebtedness in 1889, fifty per cent for this year, twenty-five per cent in 1892 and no deductions thereafter. It created the offices of precinct assessors, and made county treasurers ex officio tax collectors, but left sheriffs as tax collectors of delinquent taxes. No doubt, there is a demand for radical changes in the present assessment and taxation laws, and this committee is going to do everything possible to form a bill that will receive the just approval of the people of the whole state.—Salem Statesman.

Under Sentence. The murderers of the Fredericksens in Pacific county, Washington, last year, who are now under sentence of death at Oysterville, are said to be quite cheerful. The trio look to be in remarkably good health and are quite fat, appearing as though no cares or worries ever came to their mind. Edwards, who is the best looking of the three, is a man nearly six feet in height, with a full black beard, slightly tinged with gray. He uses good language when conversing and is quite a ready talker. It is said he devotes all of his time in writing a history of his life. Gibbons is a very large man weighing fully 200 pounds, and has a rougher appearance although not appearing to be a man who is steeped in crime. Rose and Gibbons seem to be quite cheerful and do not appear at all cast down with their impending fate.

Won His Wager. F. L. Miller, of Portland, made a wager that he could walk from McKenzie bridge to Eugene, a distance of 55 miles, in two days. It is not much of a walk, but Mr. Miller weighed 240 pounds until he went to the McKenzie about two months ago, since which time he has reduced his flesh 40 pounds. He left the bridge Friday morning of last week, arriving here Saturday evening, winning by half an hour.—Guard.

A WORD OF CAUTION. In this as in every other locality where it is known, there are hundreds of persons who are taking Dr. J. C. Shilo's Vitalizer. To those who wish to say one word. In nine cases out of every ten it is the best of all cures. But worst of all is its occasional effect upon people who report that it operates with unusual rapidity. We want to call the attention of those to the fact that they are not taking the printed instructions and are taking too much of it. It is not so freely to be used, as to take any more at any time than causes easy and perfect action. Keep this injunction in mind, and take it regularly for a while and do not include in too much gray food, and you will have rapid relief within a fortnight. If taken under these conditions it is an absolute cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headache, constipation, faint eruptions and liver and kidney diseases. It may be asked how it can possibly cure so many ailments. But the reason is clear. All those troubles are the legitimate result of improper liver and kidney action or impaired digestive organs. Its effects upon these functions are as astonishing to the medical fraternity as to the thousands who are daily taking it.

A WINTER'S OUTFIT. The increase of prices under the new tariff law concerns chiefly the consumers. The winter is near and many people are beginning to buy their supplies of warm clothing, the cost of which is always an important question with persons of moderate means. The new tariff law will add very greatly to the hardships of the coming season, for it must increase the price of nearly everything that goes to the making up of a winter's wardrobe. It will be necessary for the dealers, for example, to charge about $19.50 for a woman's ulster that last year cost $15; $12.50 for what was then a $10 suit of clothes. The material for an all wool dress costs at least $2 more than it did a year ago. A waterproof that could be had last summer for $9 will cost in the neighborhood of $8. The following table shows, with a very close approach to accuracy, how much the new tariff will add to the cost of certain important articles of the winter's outfit. The family assumed consists of a man, his wife and a boy. The articles enumerated are comparatively cheap but of decent quality. The woman is given a cotton and a woolen house dress and a good woolen dress for best wear. The man and the boy are each given two suits of clothes:

Old Price.	New Price.
Outside garment of wool for women	$15.00	$19.50
Men's overcoat	5.00	6.00
Men's suspenders	25	40

The addition of $30 to the year's expenditures, means with a majority of men, dependent upon their labor, a difference between a savings bank account and debt. And this $30 does not begin to include all the extra burden which the new law puts upon the consumer, although it does express the ratio of the increased cost of living. It may be taken for granted that the man who receives an annual salary of $1,500, of which he spent last year $1,000 must this year go without some articles that he and his family have enjoyed or else go into debt, for it will require $1,300 to buy what could have been purchased last year for $1,000.

A CASH PARTY. Originally the republican party revolved about the idea of freedom as its central thought. It was for free soil, free speech, free men. Today it revolves about money. Its animating principle is cold cash. The tariff, whatever it was once, is now simply a scheme for levying campaign expenses. The legislator gives the manufacturer access to the people's pockets, and the manufacturer contributes to the legislator's election fund. The pension system has been extended far beyond its original and beneficent purpose of caring for the maimed and the widow. It is now a device for the purchase of one beneficiary vote and two or three collateral votes from the beneficiary's relatives. The sole plank in the party platform which has the slightest appearance of the old time philanthropy is in reality nothing more than a contrivance in the interest of greed. The object of free legislation is, by neutralizing one-half the southern vote by the other, to retain the grasp of the party of cash on the national strong box. The welfare of the colored man is simply a veil to cover this ulterior purpose. No less an authority than Speaker Reed openly said in his Philadelphia speech on the Fourth of July last, that if the southern states would send up republican representatives proportionate to the colored population they might deal with negro suffrage in state elections as they saw fit; and on this his party practically stands with him. If the colored man is disfranchised, as claimed, the remedy should not extend merely to his congressional and presidential vote, but so far only does the Force bill go. His interior or state vote is of no service to the republican party and no legislation is proposed upon it. His exterior or national vote is all it cares for, and to this extent only it proposes to legislate in "its alleged behalf. In the ranks of the republican party are thousands and hundreds of thousands who are disfranchised, but the leaders of the host believe that the only sound political principle is cash. They rely for supremacy on the use of the finances and business of the country as a party fund.

No such mortgaged land in western Kansas has come into the hands of the loan companies, through foreclosures and the exodus of farmers, that a syndicate of the mortgages has been formed known as the "Syndicate Land Company" to dispose of or cultivate the surrendered acres for the benefit of the combined owners. Their holdings are said to be very large.
