BETHLEHEM OF JUDEA.

We are on this December afternoon on the way to the cradle of him who called himself greater than Solomon. We are coming upon the chief cradle of all the world, not lined with satin, but strewn with straw; not sheltered by a palace, but covered by a barn; not presided over by a princess, but hovered over by a peasant girl; yet a cradle the canopy of which is angelic wings, and the lullaby of which is angelic wings, and the lullaby of which is the first Christmas carol ever sung, and Standing in the chill khan of a Saviour's humiliation, and seeing what he did for us, I ask, What have we done for him? "There is nothing I can do," says one. As Christmas was approaching in the village church a good woman said to a group of girls in lowly and straitened circum-stances, "Let all now do something for Christ." After the day was over she poor, but I can sing a little, and so I went down to a poor sick woman in the lane, and ness, from everlasting June to a sterile December. If I were going to Palestine as a botanist and to study the flora of the land I would go in March; but I went as a minister of Christ to study Jesus and so I went in December. I wanted to see how the land I would go in March; but I went as a minister of Christ to study Jesus and so I went into the church after the people who had been adorning the altar had left, and I scrubbed down the back altar stairs." Beautiful! I warrant that the Christ of that Christmas day gave her as much credit for that earnest act as he may have given to the robed official to do, and so I went into the church after he may have given to the robed official who on that day read for the people the prayers of a resounding service. Something for Christ! Something for Christ!
