

THE TELEPHONE-REGISTER

Thursday, November 13, 1890.

POSTOFFICE HOURS. From 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. From 7:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Services every Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

At the Red Front Grocery You will find a complete line of fancy and staple groceries, crockery and glassware.

Local and General. Positively no diphtheria in this city. The mumps are abroad in the land—look out.

Miss Mattie Griffith will remain a few weeks in our city. You can tell good bread can't you? Try that baked by Wm. Kuns.

Elisa Wright has one of the finest signs in town. John Rohr is the artist. Highest cash price paid for poultry of all kinds at Knight, Wood & Wallace's.

Liberty has signed a contract to furnish the mumps for the Mechanics fair in San Francisco next year. For Sale—I have a large quantity of baled hay in town for sale.

It sounds strange to recent arrivals from the east to hear the complaints of the farmers that it is too dry to plow. The old route going over the high mountains to North Yamhill never can be made a good road.

Wright's Blackberry Cordial should be kept in every household. The Jersey Dairy still continues to furnish cream with the milk. Jas. Holman is the proprietor.

Mr. Ed Beedel of Dallas, was in the city Monday, fitting patterns to the cornice on the new brick, from which patterns he will make the cresting. Little Lettie Wood near Yamhill, who had the misfortune to break her leg recently, is getting along fine under the care of Dr. W. Tyler Smith.

Impure blood and low vitality will make fearful inroads on your health. Wright's Sarsaparilla will cleanse your blood and build you up. Sold by Rogers Bros.

Melissa Westfall aged 15 years, was brought here Monday from Newberg, and after examined by Drs. Calbreath and Goucher, was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum.

Fifty of the "Business" fanning mills for sale. For particulars address W. E. Newsome, box 264, East Portland, Or. Call at the factory 4 & C street, East Portland.

H. L. Heath writes from Nestucca bay that there are millions of ducks and geese on the flats. Salmon are very plentiful, and the boys are having all they can eat of them.

No one can afford to do without Wright's Myrrh Tooth Soap. It cleanses the mouth, purifies the breath, preserves the teeth and makes them beautiful. Sold by Rogers Bros.

The second quarterly conference of the M. E. church South, for Lafayette circuit will be held at Hopewell the 2d Saturday and Sunday in December; D. C. McFarland will be in attendance.

Those excellent cakes baked by Wm. Kuns are very fine. Try them. Miss Jennie Griffith visited the public school on Monday. She returned to Salem on Tuesday.

The Best Remedy—Wright's Paragon Headache Remedy. Stops pain in five minutes. Harmless, tasteless, no ill effects. A positive cure for headache and neuralgia. Sold by Rogers Bros.

Rev. O. B. Whitmore spent Sunday in this city with his family. Mr. Whitmore is the official organizer of the A. O. U. W., and has instituted several new lodges and added to the membership of many others.

Mr. Elery Rogers, who served as county clerk of this county, several years, was elected county treasurer of Whatcom county, Wash., last Tuesday. Mr. Rogers was the only democrat elected in Whatcom county.

Wanted—All persons who have not settled their accounts this fall to call and do so at once, as I need the money, and am tired carrying the account and paying interest on money for me.

G. W. Jones, the proprietor of Jones' cash and drug factory at McMinnville, and also of Jones' mill on the east side of the coast range near the headwaters of Trask river, made this office a call last week.

Don't Want a New County. In conversation with a number of prominent residents of the Bridge creek country this week we were informed that they do not want to draw out of Crook and go into a new county.

It is reported that B. S. Harlaere, foreman for H. Beethler, had a queer experience with a band of 600 lambs which he was driving along Tuta-Willemoon about 11 o'clock Sunday night.

Probate Court. Estate of F. D. Stott, ordered that personal property be sold at public sale. Guardianship of Albert Crawford; bond approved, Jacob Wortman, W. D. McDonald and E. N. Ford appointed appraisers.

Estate of Samuel McKutehon; final voucher filed. Estate of A. A. Kenyon, will admitted to probate. J. A. Cain, Sylvester Potter and Dr. Field appointed appraisers.

Estate of Jefferson Davis; Jacob Wortman, J. O. Guild and H. C. Burns appointed appraisers. A New Enterprise. Yesterday afternoon we were shown through the McMinnville produce market, which Tripitt and Cook have recently opened on D street near the First National bank.

BIDS SOLICITED. For the Purchase of School Bonds. The directors of school district No. 11, in Yamhill county, Oregon, will receive bids for the purchase of the bonds of said school district which are in the sum and amount of $133,200, to mature in five years, drawing 8 per cent. interest payable semi-annually.

Public School Notes. The registration still increasing. Several pupils out of school on account of sickness. A few cases of mumps among the children attending the school. No cases of measles, scarlet fever or diphtheria as yet reported.

Married. HIGH-FENDALL.—At the residence of the bride's parents Sunday, November 9, 1890, Mr. M. M. High to Miss Anna Fendall; Rev. B. F. Fuller officiating. Mart's many friends join in wishing him joy, peace and prosperity.

A Sad Accident and Death. Last Thursday Rev. J. N. Cobb and M. C. Hewitt were shingling on the roof of B. Clark's new residence when their foothold gave way and they slid down the roof from near the comb and fell to the ground, a distance in all of about thirty feet.

In the matter of the application of W. T. Hask et al for a county road near Dayton; dismissed. In the matter of the equalization of the assessment of John Emery; continued.

In the matter of the assessment of R. B. McDonald; ordered that certificate of deposit for $2500 named in writ not assessed be taxed. In the matter of the assessment of T. A. Turner; certificate for $1000; decided not taxable.

In the matter of the application of Susan Sawyer; deduction of $2520 security mortgage. In the matter of road district No. 1; supervisor to get 1000 feet of lumber for repairing bridges.

In the matter of the sheriff's tax bond for $8000; approved. In the matter of the building of the Dayton bridge; $175 retained for fixing stringers under approach.

In the matter of the application of B. W. Cave for county aid; referred to Commissioner Perry with power to act. In the matter of the application for a bridge in Lafayette district; ordered that county furnish the lumber and other material and the district to do the work; lumber not to cost more than $9 per M.

Where is the Husband All This Time? Any one who will step between man and wife and destroy the happiness of a household, as has been done near this city during the past week, deserves a coat of tar and feathers, and have the nose repeated until the party either concludes to emigrate or become a moral being.

It is rumored that an electric road is about to be built between this place and Springfield. This would, of course greatly increase the value of any property through which it passes. It is also reported and generally believed that the force of men working in Cow creek will be put to work on the West Side, and that it will be extended from Corvallis to Springfield via Eugene. An electric road between Eugene and Springfield will, without question, be built the coming summer, as that is, as we understand it, part of the plans of the Springfield Investment Co.

Heart disease is usually supposed to be incurable, but when properly treated a large proportion of cases can be cured. Thus Mrs. Elmira Hatch, of Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., were cured after suffering 20 years. S. C. Linberg, druggist at San Jose, Ill., says that he cured the former, worked wonders for his wife, Levi Logan, of Buchanan, Mich., who had heart disease for 30 years, says two bottles cured her. It is pathetic to observe the game attempts of the republican leaders to explain away the awful disaster that has befallen their party in the east—a disaster the like of which has not been known since the collapse of the whig organization in 1852.

Mr. Lodge, admits that they were fairly and squarely beaten. The others take refuge in remarks about "off years" and the "swing of the pendulum." Mr. Carnegie says that every administration has such a swag in the middle of its term. Mr. Sherman says that he can remember a dozen such incidents.

Mr. McKinley insists that the result in his district is a striking victory for his bill. This is not the way these gentlemen were talking before the election. There was nothing said about "off years" then.

The people were notified that the McKinley bill and the policy of the republican congress and administration were on trial, and a republican majority of one in the new house would have been accepted as a popular verdict in favor of the party.

"The eyes of the nation are upon you," said General Goff, of West Virginia, to the voters of Pennsylvania. "A disaster in Pennsylvania; then look out for the deluge," shouted Representative Cannon. "The effect of such a disaster would be irredeemable," cried Senator Ingalls.

"The election of Pattison would mean a democratic president in 1892," said Mr. McKinley. Are all these solemn words to be taken now to garnish a banquet of crow? A simple inspection of an ordinary political almanac or a reference to any memory of average length will show how unfounded is the assertion that every administration suffers from a disastrous reaction in the middle of its term.

The Hayes administration was not especially strong, but there was no democratic tidal wave 1878. The Cleveland administration was backed by a democratic house throughout its entire four years. In several of the states the democrats displayed much greater strength in 1886 than they had in 1884.

As to Mr. Sherman's assertion that he can remember a dozen such catastrophes as the present, he would make a valuable contribution to political history if he would name even one. The simple fact is that Tuesday's elections were of tremendous significance. They mean the absolute certainty of a democratic president in 1892 unless the democrats commit some monumental blunder in the mean time, or unless a foreign invasion shall unite all parties in the national defense.

At the time of the democratic tidal wave in 1874 the republican party was much stronger in the country than it is now. It numbered in its ranks many men who are now active leaders of the new democracy. The war had been over for only nine years, and the animosity of the rebellion period still burned in the veins of the western farmers.

The men who rebuked republican shortcomings at the polls did not mean to abandon their party permanently. Yet the elections of 1875 still went against the republicans and in 1876 Tilden carried every doubtful state. In 1882 a similar experience was repeated. The congressional election of that year was the forerunner of a democratic president and house in 1884.

The present crash is wider and deeper than either of the two former ones, and is likely to have greater results. It means a democratic victory in 1892, not only in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana, but in several republican states that have always voted for republican presidential candidates heretofore. It means a democratic senate in 1893 to work with the democratic president and house.

The republicans have played their last card in the way of admission of new republican states. Whatever territories are admitted hereafter will be democratic. Already the republican majority in the new senate is reduced to four, and the maintenance of that depends entirely upon the stolen senators from Montana.

One very important result of the tidal wave is the fact that the democrats will have the reapportionment of almost the entire union under the new census. That means future legislators, senators and representatives without number. It is a pity that California is left out of this programme, but so far as national power is concerned the democracy can get along without us.—S. F. EVANINE.

A CASE IN POINT. In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to a diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create pimples by feeding the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stomach torpid, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an embolism of the pores which obstructs or becomes impure. The modern theory therefore is not to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was conceived. It has wiped out one of the leading sarsaparillas. It did not help me, but I wanted to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potato. It contained hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral and salt differently, I sent for a bottle.
