County School Notes.

The teachers' examination last week was unusually difficult. There were 29 applicants; of these two received 1st grade certificates, five 2d grade, fourteen 3d grade and eight failed to pass.

The superintendent's report, as published in the TELEPHONE-REGISTER, is already producing good results, as numerous directors have called upon Mr. Baker and signified their intention to build new houses or repair the old ones. Expressions like the following have been used without number during the past week in talking about the report: "That was a rough sendoff you gave us, but it is true." "You will not get another chance to write us up in that kind of style." "Come and dedicate our new schoolhouse; it will be ready by Sept. this year." "Don't call our house a woodshed again, we are going to build a woodshed and paint the schoolhouse this year." "You ought to have written us up long ago."

The Greatest Strike. Among the great strikes that of Dr. Miles in discovering his New Heart Cure has proven itself to be one of the most important. The demand for it has become astonishing. Already the treatment of heart disease is becoming revolutionized and many unexpected cures effected. It soon relieves short breath, fluttering, pain in the side, arm, shoulder, weak and hungry sleep, oppression, swelling of ankles, smothering and heart disease, faintness, book on heart and nervous diseases free. The unequalled New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by Rogers Bros. also his Restorative Nervine for headache, fits, apoplexy, hot flashes, nervous chills, opium habit, etc.

State Board of Equalization. An excellent law passed by the legislature, and the only one on the assessment and taxation question, was that authorizing a state board of equalization, one member to be elected from each judicial district. The "funny" schemes to escape taxation, such as assessing mortgages at 50, 75 and 80 per cent and scaling down assessment rolls 20 and 25 per cent, as has been done in several counties, will receive a quietus. To the credit of Lane county it can be said that her county courts have never adopted such unwarrantable measures. The members of the board will be appointed by Gov. Penney, to hold until the election next June.

YAMHILL PUBLIC SCHOOLS

SUPR. BAKER REPORTS THEIR CON- DITION.

Earnest, Competent and Zealous Men and Women are Teaching the Young Ideas How to Shoot - A Creditable Showing by Districts - New Schoolhouses With Good Accommodations on Every Hand.

No. 56. This is a new district formed of territory taken from other districts. There was some objection to the organization of this district, particularly from No. 9, but affairs being adjusted, the new district not only moved on in advance of No. 9 in matter of improvement but takes rank among the best in the county. It has a complete schoolhouse, finished throughout, and furnished with improved desks of the very best pattern; it is also well supplied with apparatus. It only needs a well, woodshed and a fence around the premises to make it a model country school property.

No. 57 is situated on the hill called the "Highlands," above Sheridan. The house is another wretched affair but takes rank among the best in the county. It has a complete schoolhouse, finished throughout, and furnished with improved desks of the very best pattern; it is also well supplied with apparatus. It only needs a well, woodshed and a fence around the premises to make it a model country school property.

No. 58. This is one of the remote districts, being situated on the hills above the Williams. Though the country is new and only partly developed, educational affairs are not allowed to suffer, considering the surroundings. The house is fairly good. Miss Jesse Van Tress taught the school the past year.

No. 59, lying on the extreme northern boundary of the county, is among the new districts of the county. The house is in much need of repairs. The desks are home made, like most of such desks, are much too high for the pupils. It is well supplied with apparatus. The pole bridge at the door should be removed, good steps supplied and the premises fenced. A good slatted blackboard should be purchased at once. Mr. E. Rogers taught the fall term.

No. 60, called the River Side school, is situated between Sheridan and Williams. Like all buildings when occupied by the school, this one is rapidly getting better. It is a good school, though comparatively new, has a dilapidated appearance and is rapidly decreasing in value. The criticism concerning the desks in No. 50 is applicable here. The desks, particularly as to height of seat, is out of all proportion, being entirely too high. The school is partly supplied with apparatus but a good blackboard is much needed. The premises is fenced and has a nice location on the banks of the South Yamhill river, and by planting a few shade trees could be made a beautiful spot. Miss Minnie Potter taught the spring term; Mr. O. P. Lee the fall and winter term.

No. 61, situated in the mountains of McMinnville near the Eagle mills, has a hard struggle for existence. During Miss Agnes Sweet's school there were but eight pupils in the district to attend school. The people have built a school house that is, considering the sparsely settled district, a credit to the district. They are anxious to have as much school as possible. There is a good deal of good land in that part of the county, and the condition of the district in the near future may be much improved by immigration.

No. 62 is a joint district lying in Marion and Yamhill, only a small portion lying in Yamhill.

No. 63, Originally a part of No. 41, is situated about five miles west of McMinnville. The house, a fairly comfortable one, was until quite recently, poorly seated and furnished; but at my last visit the directors ordered a full supply of the best double desks made, with separate or individual settings, together with teacher's folding and lock desk and fine bracket globe, and ten linear yards of best slatted blackboard cloth. Now with a woodshed and new fence the premises will be in good condition.

No. 64. In the year 1887 this district formed the east half of district No. 27. The proposition to divide the district was hotly contested, but the "separatists" carried the day. The new district set about building, and there was no half-way work done. No compromise as to legitimate cost, and there is now one among the best school houses in the county, furnished throughout and furnished with the best of patent desks; nor did the work stop here. The entire "room" was fenced with a strong plank fence, a good woodshed nicely painted and a well supplied with a pump. The school is also well supplied with apparatus. This is one of the best county districts in the county. Miss Alice Downing taught the spring term; Miss Alice Hunter is now in charge.

No. 65. This is another small district, in the vicinity of the Nestucca mills. Owing to the altitude school property is not successfully maintained during the summer months. Miss Leah Carr taught the summer school.

No. 66. This is the smallest valley school in the county. It is situated near Bellevue on the east, and has the smallest house in the county, although I found but eleven pupils in attendance (and there are but nineteen in the district) I found the house too small for that number. It is impossible to maintain any thing like an even temperature in so small a room. Mr. L. Root taught the spring term; Miss Ella Green the fall term.

No. 68, formerly a part of West Chehalena district, is a newly organized district, but is making a good start. A comfortable and well-furnished school house has been built. The directors have recently supplied the school with good slatted blackboard, Webster's unabridged dictionary, reading chart, globe and one dozen charts. Miss Vinton taught the spring term; Miss Davis the fall term.

No. 69 is a newly organized district in a newly settled part of the county far up the Williams. A house was
