I could eat, but the work came that hard on me sometimes that I nearly died. "When there were visitors I was going all the time; every night I was out till 2 or 3 in the morning at balls and parties, and all day I was first down among the shops and then out through the park. At last my woman said she'd run away from me if I didn't keep better hours. I spoke to the mistress about it, and she said if I Horace and Nate Stanley have didn't like my place I could leave. That night there was a big ball at Delmonico's and I didn't get home until 4 in the morning, after waiting nearly two hours in the coldest wind that ever blew.

"I got down to my house just as the wom an was getting up to light the fire for breakfast. I deserved a different kind of a warm reception from the one I got. There was no use of explaining about the ball was no use of explaining about the ball. I had to take my scolding, and it was that bad I made up my mind to leave my place between your are spending a few days at their place in Fairdale.
