The fetish man under any name is the authority on all matters connected with relations of man to the unseen. He is the exorciser of spirits, the maker of charms, and the prescriber and regulator of all cer-emonial rites. He can discover who "ate the heart" of the chief who died but yesdile and the dark waters of the Congo, or even who blighted the palm trees of a village and dried up their sap, causing the supply of malafu, or palm wine, to cease, or drove away the rain from a district and withered its fields of nguba (ground nuts). All this is within the ken of the Nganga Nkisi, and he is appealed to on all these occasions to discover the culprit by his insight into the spirit world, and hand him or her over to the just chastisement of an outraged community. This is the only substitute for religion that the African savage possesses. Its tenets are vague and unformulated, for with every tribe and every district belief varies and rites and nies are as diverse as the fancies the fetish men who prescribe them .- E. J

An ingenious invention has recently ap peared for enabling shooting practice to be made with service rifles in many cases where no range exists, and where it is only possible to fire with some device of this kind. An ordinary cartridge case is employed to hold a miniature cartridge and bullet in its mouth, which together occupy the position of the service bullet, the part occupied by the service charge being filled up by a chamber containing a piston, which is struck by the regular breech block piston on firing, and so carries its blow to the miniature cartridge.
