A big celebration (with a big "B") is talked of for July 4. It is about time that it was started. The people who intend to celebrate the Fourth are now advertising the fact, and the people are settling in their mind the place to visit on that day.
A law enacted at the last session of the Oregon legislature requires all notaries public to register their commissions with the county clerk or recorder in the county in which they reside, and unless this is done the commissions will be forfeited. The new law takes effect May 20.
The first carload of the 1891 pack of Columbia river salmon was learned from Thursday. It arrived at Cincinnati Thursday morning and the Buckeye boys on the banks of the Ohio had an agreeable change in their diet, from salmon river catfish to Columbia river salmon. The shipment was from Kinney's entry, Astoria.
It costs $20,000 a year to run the city government of Astoria. The Astorian intimates that little is received for this expenditure and asks for a reckoning. This suggests that a city government should be run on the same business principles that a man uses in his own affairs, something that does not often occur. A city should be enterprising and full of life, but should never leap in the dark.
The press of Washington is warning all persons who obtain divorces not to marry again within six months owing to the fact that that length of time is allowed for an appeal, and the supreme court might reverse the decision. Such a law has been on the statute books of Oregon for many years but never regarded. Divorced persons in this state frequently marry again on the same day the divorce is granted.
Grant and Tillamook counties paid the last of their taxes to the state treasurer on Saturday. Baker county also turned over to the treasurer $9000 on that day. This last named county is yet indebted to the state in the sum of $4847 44, being delinquent for nearly every year since 1873 and prior to 1880. The state treasurer has officially notified her county court and treasurer that a settlement of these old taxes must be made immediately, as every dollar must be needed for use in the many funds requiring state money.

Monday evening the passenger train pulled four coaches into the city for the use of the people intending to see the president. Tuesday when the train left the coaches were well loaded with a crowd of McMinnville people. This town was well represented at the reception.

The McMinnville Mills have stopped making flour for the time being and the price of Willamette and Lafayette flour has advanced. This shows the benefit the people receive from the building of manufacturing industries within the city. When the mill starts the price will go down.

J. G. Ballinger has received a telegram from the navy department ordering him to report at San Francisco on the 12th of this month for service in the revenue marine as lieutenant. He will leave Portland by steamer on Friday of this week. This is a good position, it having a salary of $1200 per year and a good chance of promotion.

The citizens of Anity are congratulating on the success of the May-day festivities at that place. Numbers of people from this city and surrounding country attended and they all say they had a splendid time. Anity is a small town but she really "gets there" when it is necessary for her to do so.

The balloon ascension was not a success; the failure was no fault of the committee of arrangements, but was caused by the wind.

The state board of commerce is undertaking a grand work for Oregon. It has made a list of the products of cultivation of the sugar beet. Success in this direction would be of great benefit to the agricultural interests of Oregon, and it is to be hoped that progressive farmers will accept the opportunity offered to test the question fully. Seed for the purpose is in the hands of the various boards of trade.

A young newspaper man, who last spring found himself in the Whitman county, Wash., 500 miles from the base of his supplies and "broke," hired out to a farmer. He was seen plowing with a pair of horses, but both man and beast being new to the business the furrows looked as if they were the result of an earthquake rather than of design, and crooked and zigzag, were they. At the close of the day the farmer rather testily criticised the job. The newspaper man felt that his dog was scolded, but mustered up courage to reply: "I know the rows are rather crooked, but the sun was extremely hot today and it warmed them." The answer turned away the farmer's wrath, and instead of being discharged the newspaper man was given a much easier and pleasant job—and is now the farmer's son-in-law.

John Grant, well known in Polk county as "Uncle Jack," is dead. He came to Oregon from Missouri in 1822, and took up a claim on the Lickuamite. His wife, who has been his faithful companion for forty-five years, survives him. The Polk county Register says of the old pioneer: "Mr. Grant was a man of very positive opinions political and otherwise, and was always ready to associate or defend his faith. He was in 1870, and for the third time in 1878. He earned the appellation of 'Democratic warhorse,' and was often a leading spirit on different occasions. Both he and his companion were noted hunters, and many a wild beast has he slain." He was a prominent Odd Fellow and that order conducted the funeral.

A Sad Accident.

Last night about 7 o'clock a very deplorable accident occurred about seven miles south of this city on Mill creek, by which Mrs. Alice Tucker, wife of Dr. Tucker, lost her life. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker left early in the evening for the purpose of fishing in Mill creek, and proceeded up the creek some distance, when they dismounted and commenced angling. The doctor went up the creek about 100 yards and Mrs. Tucker threw in the line over an embankment laughing remarking to her husband that he would be surprised if she caught a trout a foot long in the place. Dr. Tucker had gone about 100 yards when he heard a splash in the creek and called his wife loudly by name. No response coming he ran down the creek where he felt Mrs. Tucker and found her at the foot of a steep embankment with her face in the water. By strenuous exertion he managed to drag her out of the stream and she breathed two convulsive gasps and was dead. Thinking she was drowned the doctor used every means for resuscitation, but to no avail. He was then forced to go a half mile for help to take her to the city. The fatal accident was so sudden that Mr. Tucker was completely over come by his fright and sorrow. Kind neighbors in the vicinity helped him convey the lifeless form of his wife to the city, and the many friends in The Dalles rendered what aid they could to the grief-stricken family. It is supposed Mrs. Tucker slipped from her position by means of a loose rock, and pitched forward into the creek. There is a contradiction of opinion as to what she was doing, but it is evident she was rendered unconscious and perhaps received her death blow before her head struck the water. She was a member of the First Baptist church, and memorial services were held this afternoon. The remains will be taken to Brownsville for interment, her parents residing at that place. Mrs. Alice Tucker was born in Heidelberg, Cal., Dec. 20, 1859, and came to Oregon with her parents. She leaves a husband, two children, father and mother, four sisters and one brother, to mourn their sudden and sad bereavement.—Dallas Times-Mountaineer, 25.

Let Them all Return.

Eli Apperson and Frank Rogers returned from California on Friday night of last week, both looking well. They have had a splendid time, but, like all the Yamhillers, they were glad to get back. They brought with them a large number of curios from Mexico and southern California. Clark Braly was glad to see their familiar faces and the boys say that he can be expected no later than this fall. If he was here now so that he could see the brilliant outlook for fruit of all kinds, the waving masses of grain and the beautiful Yamhill weather, the numerous young trotters, and especially the beautiful little fruit farm on which he bestowed so much thought and labor and sold and migrated to the barren shores of southern California, his heart would fill with emotion and he would hire the editor to take him out in the back lot and kick him good. If that would not be sufficient pursuit he could start out and hunt up Jim Gallagher, who is as hard to find as ever. For his information, will say that the old gang is as chippy as ever, and the mysterious sign of the three fingers in the air is now a common sight. He is also missing a whole lot of argument, as the horsemen are quarreling over the pedigree of Col. Wallace's Guy Wilkes colt, lately imported from California. Oregon is now full of joy and the people who are away are missing it.

The President in Portland.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of Tuesday, the reception given to President Harrison in Portland was a grand success. The decorations were necessarily modest, but were well arranged and presented a very pretty appearance, especially the illuminations along Morrison street, through which the president passed on the way to the pavilion where the reception was held. In the parade which immediately followed the arrival of the president, were to be seen hundreds of every shade of political faith, who showed their love of our country and its institutions by walking fully two and one-half miles through the streets in a drizzling rain. The sidewalks all along the line of march were packed with a throng of humanity eager to catch a glimpse of the chief executive. The school children made a fine showing. About eight o'clock in the evening the reception and speech-making began in the pavilion. The president, the postmaster-general and secretary of agriculture each made a short speech, after which the people filed past the stage and out to the street; this was dispersed the largest gathering ever seen in the pavilion.

New Judge Appointed.

Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, of this city, received a telegraphic announcement of his appointment as circuit judge of the seventh judicial district Friday morning, and will enter upon the duties of his office next Monday in holding a term of court in Prineville. Judge Bradshaw was born in Missouri in 1828, and was graduated from the St. Louis law school in 1851, since which time he has practiced his profession in Oregon. He is a young man, of strict integrity of character, of thorough legal knowledge, and of excellent judicial acumen, and his appointment will no doubt give perfect satisfaction to the bar and the people of the district. For the past three years Hon. W. L. Bradshaw has been a resident of this city, and a member of the law firm of Story & Bradshaw.—Tines-Mountaineer.

The year's eclipses will be something beyond the average. On the evening of May 23 the moon will rise in eclipse at five minutes to eight but the shadow will for the greater part have already passed away and it is only in the eastern and at the antipodes that her face that evening will be seen totally obscured. It will be otherwise with the total eclipse of our satellite which will begin at thirty-five minutes past ten on November 15th next. There will be a solar eclipse on the morning of the upper limb beginning at two minutes past five on the morning of June 6, the other a partial eclipse in the South Pacific. Besides these there will be on May 10 a transit of Mercury over the sun's disk which will be only partially visible in this part of the globe.

The Year's Eclipses.

Jerry Simpson's constituents have been stirring him up with a long pole for stopping at a tony New York hotel where they charge $6 a day for board. Jerry says that when he has been driven to the aforesaid hotel, and asked the clerk the price of board and lodging, and was told "six dollars," he thought it meant for the week, and that he left post haste the next morning after finding out that the price was six dollars a day. Some of the grangers accept the explanation, but others shake their heads and look dubious.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it you are one of its staunch friends, because when once given a trial Dr. King's New Medical Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, send a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed to cure you, or money refunded. Try a bottle free at Rogers' Bros. drug store.

Height of Cruelty.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the pangs of health they are constantly afflicted with, and the suffering they undergo, is the height of cruelty. They have weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in the side, weak and languid spells, and finally swelling of ankles, smothering, choking and dropsy. Dr. Miles' New Medical Discovery is the only remedy for their nervousness, headache, etc. his Restorative Nervine is unequalled. Fine testimonials in our "Nervous Diseases" and marvelous testimonials free. Sold and guaranteed by Rogers Bros.

Don't Enlist.

U. S. Commissioner Cardwell had a pow-wow with the Putes here the other day, says the Burns Items, the object to get the Indians to enlist as United States soldiers. The chief Indian here, Joe Paddy, looked upon the idea with suspicion, and objected to having his men make soldiers of themselves. At least he wanted time to hear from other members of the tribe down in Nevada, so nothing was accomplished.

WEATHER-CROP BULLETIN.

For the Week Ending Saturday, April 27, 1891.—U. S. Signal Service.

The weather throughout the state during the month of April was very favorable to the growth of crops. The temperature was slightly below the average. The amount of cloudiness and rainfall were above the average. There were no injurious frosts. The rainfall retarded spring seeding in Western Oregon. Fall and early spring sown grain had unusually good growth. The fruit was never more promising. The grass is good, stock is fattening rapidly. May opens most auspiciously for a fruitful harvest of all productions. On the 23d, 24th and 25th frost and ice and snow squalls occurred in sections of Eastern Oregon.

WESTERN OREGON.

The fore part of the week was cloudy, cool and rainy, while the latter part was cloudless and warm. Douglas, Josephine and Jackson were warmer and had less rainfall than the Willamette valley and coast. There were occasional light frosts on 27th and 29th but no damage was done. The usual frost period is now past and no damage need be expected from it.

The sunshine is greatly desired, and is proving of great benefit to the growing crops. The present weather is excellent for all vegetation, which is now making rapid growth. Poplars, lindens and other deciduous trees are coming into leaf.

Spring seeding on lowlands is now being rapidly pushed. Early wheat is very heavy and is lodging in places. The farmers are all jubilant over present crop prospects. Fruit never promised better yields than it does at present. Apples are blossoming, peaches and cherries are dropping their bloom and the calyx is enlarging. The grass is remarkably good and stock are fattening.

The late cool, damp weather appears to have revived the la gripe. Many communities are suffering from it.

EASTERN OREGON.

Showers occurred in fore part of week in most sections on 23d snow and ice were experienced along and south of the Blue mountains. On 24th, 25th and 26th frosts were general. No serious damage is reported from them. Cherries and wheat were slightly injured in a few places. The temperature continues cool, but gradually rising. Not quite an average temperature prevails.

Fall and early spring wheat continues to be promising. Late sown spring wheat is not so good on account of lack of rain. More rain would prove of great benefit to the wheat crop. While the best reports at present are of the wheat prospects indicate that the promising conditions will not continue unless more rain falls, the fields are dusty and the lack of rain is already apparent. The grass is good. Stock are reported to be doing well.

It is said that "Sandy" Olds, who murdered Emil Weber and after four trials was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary is working side by side with a man who stole twenty dollars and was sent up for five years. According to mathematical calculations the last which sent these two men to the penitentiary must have placed a value of four dollars on Emil's life, as it cost five years to stay in $20, and one year to kill a man, the man must be worth one-fifth as much as the twenty dollars.—Astoria Bulletin.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is no pain in using it, and it is guaranteed by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running snore or imperfect hearing, and it is entirely closed if the inflammation is not removed, and the tube is destroyed for ever. Nine cases out of ten are cured by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that we cannot cure by taking Hall's catarrh cure. Send circular free.
