It used to be an old saying in the early days of Oregon that when the tide was out over at Tillamook the table was spread. Now comes the modern Bay City Tribune with this item: "The tide was out on the 23d of last week and we stocked the Bay City clam market. With big fat sleek clams and delicious oysters for our tables, our bright sun shining above and the green grass under your feet, you can be happier than one who lives in fair and bounteous Tillamook."

Owing to the middle of state finances for the coming year the militia of the state is suffering. The state allowance for the militia is being cut down and the finances of every company in the state are in a very bad condition. It is hoped that this difficulty will be done away with in the meantime all persons to whom R. Company of this city, is indebted are requested to hand to the secretary, Mr. D. L. Rhodes, bills for the same in order that they can be allowed when the remittance comes.

A WORLD'S FAIR SOCIETY.

The Ladies of McMinville Organize a Local Auxiliary.

On Tuesday afternoon about forty ladies of this city were met by Mrs. E. W. Allen, of Portland, member of the board of Ladies Managers of the World's Columbian commission, at the Methodist church. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. O. B. Whitmore, and after song and prayer Mrs. J. W. Cook was elected to preside and Miss Lizzie Hand- ley secretary.

Mrs. Allen was introduced and ad- dressed the meeting at considerable length on the work of women. In con- nection with the coming world's fair she described the magnificent build- ing now nearing completion which is to be entirely set apart for the special exhib- ition of women's handicraft in every avocation of life. The real object of these local societies is to assist the ladies commissioner for our state to search out and bring to the notice of the board of managers any pieces of work possess- ing real excellence or novelty, wholly or in part manufactured or designed by women. This will see, opens a large field for investigation, and there is no doubt that many really beautiful works of art and utility will be selected for the exhibition.

At the close of Mrs. Allen's address a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. E. D. Fellows; vice- presidents, Mrs. O. B. Whitmore; the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Wm. Campbell for the Baptist church, Mrs. Judge Gal- loway for the W. R. C., Mrs. Dr. Goucher for the Rebekas, Mrs. O. O. Hudson for the O. E. S.; Secretary Mrs. Dr. Calbreath; Treasurer Mrs. J. W. Cook. Vice-presidents for other soci- ties or orders will be elected when it is ascertained how many there are. Wherever the paving joins an un- paved street a curbing of fir timber six by twelve inches was firmly set on edge to hold the blocks in proper places. There is a street railway in the center of the street with ordinary curbs. The blocks are held in place along this line by means of a fir timber four inches thick by twelve deep that is set firmly against the cross ties. The cost of this pavement was $1.20 per square yard.

Dr. Miles' Nervine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, neuralgic, nervous prostration, sleep- liness, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria, but also builds up the body. It can be taken in any form and is never ill and is perfectly safe, and an still improving wonderfully.

CEDAR BLOCK PAVEMENT.

The Cost and Manner of Building in Van- couver.

Since there has been some talk about paving Third street in this city and various kinds of pavements have been suggested the following from the Vancouver Columbian relative to the manner of building a cedar block pave- ment and its cost will be read with inter- est here.

An artificial curbstone was laid at the outer edge of the sidewalk. This curb- ing is six inches thick and extends eighteen inches below the grade of the street and costs forty-five cents per lin- ear foot. The roadway was carefully excavated to a depth of sixteen and one half inches below the intended sur- face of the street using care not to stir the ground below the proper excavation. The sub-grade having been completed a coating of not less than three inches of clean sand was spread over the surface of the street between curbs. This sand was thoroughly packed by means of a heavy roller, then a foundation of one and one-half inches of cedar boards was laid lengthwise of the street close together on one inch by ten inch center stringers under the ends and center stringers were firmly imbedded till the foundation plank came down firmly on the sand. Upon this foundation five cedar blocks, cylindrical in shape, not less than five inches, and not more than eight in diameter and in length were placed on end. These blocks were carefully set upon their bases and driven together so that the interstices between the blocks were not more than one and one-half inches nor less than three-quarters of an inch. The spaces between the blocks were filled with clean, screened dry gravel that was not less than one-quarter nor more than one inch in size. This gravel was thoroughly rammed with proper tools, refilled and thoroughly rammed again. The street was then again sprinkled with clean dry gravel of sufficient thickness that when swept it left the interstices between the blocks well filled. Ross walks were made by raising the sidewalk parallel to the cross walks and then paving as the balance of the street.

Wherever the paving joins an un- paved street a curbing of fir timber six by twelve inches was firmly set on edge to hold the blocks in proper places. There is a street railway in the center of the street with ordinary curbs. The blocks are held in place along this line by means of a fir timber four inches thick by twelve deep that is set firmly against the cross ties. The cost of this pavement was $1.20 per square yard.
