That was a terrible catastrophe of fire and water in the oil regions of Pennsylvania on Sunday. Fully 200 lives are reported lost, besides a great amount of property.

A large number of republican organs and newspapers are still trying to convince the people that the tariff is not a tax. It would seem about as reasonable to a nineteenth century man if they would contend that the earth is flat.

The additional taxation levied on the coal consumers of the country by the Reading combine, is at the rate of $750,000 a month, or $9,000,000 a year. This is about equal to the interest at the present quotations on nearly $400,000,000 of government bonds, or one half of our interest bearing bonded debt.

The theory in this country is that corporations are the creatures of the people, but we have evidently come across a case in which the creature is more powerful than its creator.

Reciprocity means you trade with me and I will trade with you. The farmers send nearly a billion dollars worth of agricultural products yearly to Europe, selling them in an open market, and then the McKinley tariff compels them to purchase in a closed home market, largely controlled by trusts and combines. A pretense is made of reciprocal trade with a few South American republics, the trade of which amounts to but a few millions a year.

Great is the fraud and pretense of reciprocity as practiced by the protectionists. It is used only to solve over the consciences of a large element in the republican party who honestly oppose the protective tariff principle, but are held to the part by the memory of past days.

In many parts of California land is too valuable for grain raising. The same will be true of Yamhill county when fruit growing and dairying are the chief occupations of our rural population. There is no danger of an over-production in either industry.

Mr. M. Collins, manager of the McMinnville creamery, will tell you that he could sell one hundred times as much butter as he now does if the farmers in this vicinity would but furnish the cream, from which to make it.

Mr. C. E. Hoskins, the principal fruit grower near Newberg, finds an unlimited market for his peaches and prunes, both green and dried. He doesn't say very much about his success in this line for to the inexperienced it is incredible. If you don't commence soon you will be like one or two farmers at Vacaville, California, who are reaping meager returns from grain and hay while their near neighbors are clearing from $200 to $500 per acre from their fruit.

The Democracy of the state of New York are not divided on the eve of the presidential election. Yesterday's convention enthusiastically pledged in unequivocal terms the support of the hundreds of thousands of democratic voters whom it represented to the nominees of the Chicago convention. As an earnest that the pledge will be kept, the presidential electors nominated yesterday are identical with the electors nominated in Albany last February, and the ballot bearing their names will be voted in November by every democrat deserving of the name.

Thus, whatever differences may exist at present will end when the Chicago convention arranges democracy against republicanism. The Syracuse convention elected a full delegation to Chicago. The views of the Argos as to the wisdom of this course have already been set forth at length and it is not necessary to repeat them here. The delegation chosen yesterday, however, has the greatest latitude of discretion in its action at Chicago, and when the national convention assembles we believe the party will be so in accord as to the best course to pursue that a contest and all semblance even of disagreement in New York will vanish.

THE BURDEN IS HERE. President Harrison congratulated his hearers on Memorial day that "we do not burden our people to maintain standing armies."

No—but we do burden them with taxes for pensions which exceed the cost of the largest standing army in Europe.

Our list of pensioners exceeds by over 225,000 the great standing army of 500,000 in Germany.

We support wholly or partially from the treasury one in twelve of the entire voting population north and south. We added to the pension list in ten months of last year—twenty-seven years after the close of the war—25,448 names, which is 70,000 more than the total Union loss in killed, wounded and missing in the twelve great battles of the war.

The cost of pensions alone is now more than double the entire expense of the government in the year before the war. Peace in the United States is more expensive than the front of war abroad.

WE WANT BETTER ROADS. County Commissioner Thos. Perry of North Yamhill is interested in the road question, and he wants good roads if it is possible to get them.

In a conversation with him yesterday during the noon hour we learned that he spent the whole of Monday in soliciting signatures from the citizens of Checonin and North Yamhill precincts to a subscription list headed like this:

"We, the undersigned subscribers do hereby promise and agree that if the county court of Yamhill county will procure a rock crusher and crush rock on the farm of Warren Merchant, for the making of a roadbed the entire distance from the crossroads in the town of North Yamhill, at the corner of J. J. Burton's land, to where the county road crosses the railroad track at North Yamhill railroad station, said road to be 16 feet in width and to be covered with not less than 6 inches of crushed rock, that we will donate for assistance in the construction of said road, the amounts of money or labor set opposite our names. The work to be done under the supervision of the supervisor of the road district, and at the time he may designate, and not later than November 1, 1892."

Mr. Perry informs us that the road mentioned is about one mile in length, and although not on bad ground for making road, it is, owing to the large amount of travel over it, in a bad condition. No less than eight daily mails and nineteen-twentieths of all produce is shipped from the two precincts, and all that is brought in passes over this road. The ground is continually worked into dust or mud, and during the past winter had to be abandoned, owing to its impassability. Even the mails had to take a circuitous route. By careful computation it was found that it would take 215 days' work with man and team to haul the rock from the quarry and place it upon the road and make the road passable at all times of the year.

Mr. Perry presented the list to individuals owning in the aggregate nearly $1,000,000 worth of property, tributary to this road, and the entire production of which must pass over this road, no matter what its condition; he only received the promise of 100 days' work for a man, ninety days' work for a team, and $77.50 in money. A considerable portion of this amount was given by men who do not own property, but still our most progressive citizens.

Mr. Perry has concluded that he could have put the day in to better advantage talking politics, and it might appear to a person who has not given the benefits of good roads careful consideration, that politics and legislation were of more importance and benefit to the United States, such as exist in the republic of France, would have more to do with the prosperity of the people of this country than the money legislation demanded by all the political parties. Our space is limited in this issue and a lengthy discussion cannot be entered into. During the past year we have been collecting facts, figures, plans, specifications and laws on roads, and road building and we propose to agitate this matter until something is done in this county. We would like the people to discuss the matter through these columns and space will be given to all opinions, providing they are to the point and not too lengthy. It is time to agitate, as the population is increasing faster than public improvements.

Pimples. The old idea of 40 years ago was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. Thus all the old Sarsaparilla contain potash, a most objectionable and drastic mineral, that instead of decreasing, actually creates more eruptions. You have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparillas than Joy's. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood creating organ, is the seat of all vitiating or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, result pimples. A clean stomach and healthy digestion purifies the blood and they disappear.
