FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, ADLAI E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Presidential Electors, W. M. COLVING, of Jackson, Geo. E. NOLAND, of Clatsop, ROBT. A. MILLER, of Jackson, W. F. HUTCHER, of Baker.

Capt. Geo. W. Bell, the author and orator, who canvassed the state of Oregon in May, has gone east to take the stump for Cleveland and Stevenson.

The political complexion of the next Oregon state legislature will be as follows: Senate, republicans, 18; democrats 12. House, republicans, 26; democrats, 24.

General John Bidwell of California, received the probit nomination for president on the first ballot. Dr. J. B. Cranhill, of Texas, received the nomination for vice president.

The president has appointed John W. Foster, of Indiana, to be secretary of state. He is the man who it is said insulted Blaine during a conference with the Canadian envoys.

W. J. Campbell, who was elected chairman of the republican national committee has declined. P. D. Armour, the beef monopolist, whose attorney he is, has refused to release him.

General James B. Weaver was nominated for the presidency at Omaha on Monday, and James Field, of Virginia, for vice-president. This is four tickets not counting Victoria Woodhull. What a glorious thing it is to live in a free country.

A HIGH INDEPENDENT TRIBUTE.

The ex-president has proved his invincible fidelity to principles, and his countrymen not only honor a brave and honest man—they love him. As sheriff, mayor, governor, president he did not discriminate between private obligations and public duties. He had in private and official life, but a single code of morals. When, in 1887, he threw his famous tariff-reform message before the country, it was a challenge to the thought of the nation. He compelled it to consider a theory by presenting it as a condition. The majority did not agree with him, nor do we believe they do now, for the courage of his convictions, for his negation of self, as in throwing down his challenge to the country he threw away his almost certain chance of being re-elected president of the United States in 1888.

Mr. Cleveland is one of those Americans who would rather be right than be president. In vetoing the dependent pension bill he displayed the courage of his illustrious predecessor, President Grant. In proclaiming his policy against excessive coinage of silver he evinced a like degree of moral bravery and a wise appreciation of sound finance.

Mr. Cleveland's candidacy represents principles, not mere political power, patronage or partisanship. He has given his party vital ideas to defend, to carry forward, to fight for. He found it aimless, purposeless, except for official spoils; he gave it great aims, great purposes, and in return it has summoned him to bear its standard.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The senate has passed a free-coinage bill by a vote of 29 for to 25 against. The division was chiefly sectional, the south and west generally voting for the bill, and the northern-east and central states against it. To this there were some exceptions. Felton of California, Dolph, of Oregon, and both senators from Wyoming voted against the bill, while Cameron of Pennsylvania and Hill of New York voted for it. Thirty-four senators were absent, of whom about half favor such a bill. Stanford of California and all the Dakota senators except Kyle, were among the absentees.

The Oregonian speaks right out in favor of Jeffersonian states rights, pure and simple, as follows: "What bridges we may see fit to build over the Willamette river at this city is no part of the business of the United States. We should insist therefore, on speedy repeal of the act of congress requiring submission of propositions for bridges in such cases to the secretary of war for his approval. It is a local affair and can no more concern the United States than the adjustment of our county.

The appointment of Boss Lotan as collector of customs at Portland does not receive the full approbation of republicans in this part of the state. One says Harrison ought to be defeated in consequence; and it is not unreasonable to suppose he will lose quite a number of votes in all parts of the state.

Before the Minneapolis convention the Lagrange, Ind. Register carried the name of Blaine as its candidate for the presidency. Since the convention it has dropped Blaine of course, but it is significant to note that it has not elevated Harrison to that position.

COLLECTOR LOTAN.

What the State Papers Say of His Appointment. In the matter of the appointment of Lotan to the collectorship, there has been a species of indirection and deception that is reprehensible, and even despicable. It was known three weeks before the general election that he was an applicant for the office. There were many protests against the appointment and the delegation at Washington held it off, with a design of misleading the public into a belief that it would not be made. Then it was put off again until after the city election, with the same intent. Finally the nomination was smuggled into the senate, no announcement of it was permitted, lest protest might defeat it, and the first thing heard here was that Lotan was nominated and confirmed. This is of a piece with the snappish judgments and general methods and ring politics that have made all the trouble here. People don't like it; they feel that they have been deceived or trifled with, and they will bite their time to show their displeasure. It may just as well be set down for a certainty, here and now, that the republican party of Oregon can't be carried further on the old ring basis. This last proceeding is going to change not a few votes from Benjamin Harrison to Grover Cleveland. The resentment is not confined to Portland by any means. It will be felt all over the state.—Oregonian.

We must take off our hat to Senator John H. Mitchell. He was the original Lotan man, and it seems that he made Dolph and Hermann both believe they would be the next senator, to be elected two years from next January, if they would stand in with him to pay the political debt which he owed to Lotan, or thought he owed to him. He pulled out the chestnuts with Dolph and Hermann. We believe it will not be considered reckless to predict that Dolph and Hermann both cannot be elected senator by the legislature two years from next January. And this writer does not think either of them will be. There are able men in Oregon, eligible to the office, republicans, who are not owned or controlled or contaminated by Lotan or Lotanism.—Salem Statesman.

The fact that President Harrison is willing to doff his title to the most corrupt element of the republican party of this state and reward its wicked members for their dishonesty is certainly discouraging to those upright supporters of principle in a campaign like this Good men in the party are unspokeably disgusted at the spectacle now presented. The Mercury has charged that the party brigands yeelp political bosses, are destroying the republican organization in this state and we have new proof of it every day.—Sunday Mercury, (Rep.).

The people of Portland and Multnomah county snubbed Boss Lotan under three times, but he looks up serenely with the appointment of collector of customs made by President Harrison. Talent of the Lotan kind cannot be hid under a bushel. The election of Cleveland, however, would be disastrous to Lotan. His record in the political vineyard would invite the ax at once. The appointment is not creditable to President Harrison or the Oregon delegation that recommended it.—Eugene Guardian, (Dem.).

Mr. J. Lotan, the ex-boss of Portland has secured the collectorship and the light is over. This appointment will not be very satisfactory to the republicans of Oregon, because they can see no reason why Lotan is entitled to special recognition. Some one must fill the vacancy, but we believe that either of the numerous applicants would have had a greater effect in harmonizing the rank and file of the party.—Times-Mountainier, (Rep.).

James Lotan has been appointed collector of customs at Portland, vice R.P. Earhart, deceased. Have our republican representatives in congress lost their heads? This appointment is an actual disgrace to the state of Oregon. We fully agree with the Oregonian in reference to this case, and would add the sooner the "old gang" is out the better. Our theory now is, we should have a new deal all around.—West Side.

James Lotan, the "republican boss" of Portland, was on Wednesday confirmed collector of customs for the Willamette district. A large majority of the republicans of Oregon, as well as good people in other parties, will be much displeased with this item of news.—Forest Grove Times.

So boss Jim Lotan is to be collector of customs at Portland. Give the Oregon delegation rope enough and they will do the rest.—Roseburg Review.

Mr. Lotan gets there. The republicans will stand up and take their medicine.—Salem Democrat.

Before Starting on a Journey. A person usually desires to gain some information as to the most desirable route to take, and will purchase tickets via the one that will afford him the quickest and best service. Before starting on a trip to Chicago or any point east, you should provide yourself with a map and time table of the Wisconsin Central Lines. The trains run on this route are vestibuled and are equipped with Pullman's latest Drawing Room Sleepers, elegant Day Coaches and dining cars of latest design, built expressly for this service, and are exquisite in furnishings and convenient and comfortable in arrangement and so complete in every detail that they have no superior in comfort and elegance. The Dining car service is pronounced by all the most elegant ever inaugurated, and is operated in the interest of its patrons. Fast trains via the Wisconsin Central Lines leave Minneapolis daily at 12.45 p. m. and 6.25 p. m., and St. Paul at 1.30 and 7.15 p. m., making favorable connection with all trains from the west and southwest.

For tickets, time tables, berth reservations, etc., apply to G. F. McNeill, C. P. & T. A., Minneapolis, Minn., or Jas. C. Pond, G. F. & T. A., Chicago, Ill. Lotan and Simon.

THE COLLEGE.

Allow me to say a few words through the columns of your paper concerning the advance movement that the college is now undertaking. Several times you have called attention to the importance of mounting the telescope, but the money for doing so has not been received. The plan now adopted by the trustees, is to undertake to raise $10,000. One half of this is to be used in mounting the telescope, making needed improvements on the college grounds and paying off the floating debt. The writer has been requested to spend so much of the vacation as he can in this effort. He begins in McMinnville this week. He hopes that the citizens of McMinnville and immediate vicinity will subscribe $2,500 of the needed $10,000. The Baptists throughout the state will be appealed to for the rest. An influence you can exert through your paper will be appreciated.

Respectfully, T. G. Brownson. Probate Court.

The County Editor. There being no foreman in this office last week, the work of "making up" the fourth page of the paper was intrusted to the tender mercies of the "devil," who succeeded in arranging four columns of matter so it would read from right to left. The force being short, and all hands rushed, nobody discovered the mistake until the entire edition was off.—Vernonia Journal.

That's the way it goes, the world over. It's the Devil's business to make things and people go wrong, but a printer's "devil" is usually such an innocent and conscientious individual that wrong intentions are seldom scored against him.

The mail stage had a serious mishap while coming down the grade above the toll gate Saturday evening, and George Shotwell, who was working on the road, was pushed off the grade and had his arm broken and suffered other serious cuts and bruises. L. Crenshaw, who was working on the road with Shotwell narrowly escaped. The three passengers, ladies, and the driver, jumped down from the stage in time to save themselves.—Tillamook Headlight.

Pimples.

The old idea of 40 years ago was that facial eruptions were due to a "blood humor," for which they gave potash. Thus all the old Sarsaparillas contain potash, a most objectionable and drastic mineral, that instead of decreasing, actually creates more eruptions. You have noticed this when taking other Sarsaparillas than Joy's. It is however now known that the stomach, the blood creating power, is the seat of all vitiating or cleansing operations. A stomach clogged by indigestion or constipation, vitiates the blood, result pimples. A clean stomach and healthy digestion purifies it and they disappear. Thus Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is compounded after the modern idea to regulate the bowels and stimulate the digestion. The effect is immediate and most satisfactory. A short testimonial to contrast the action of the potash Sarsaparillas and Joy's modern vegetable preparation. Mrs. C. D. Stuart, of 400 Hayes St., S. E., writes: "I have for years had indigestion. I tried a popular Sarsaparilla but it actually caused more pimples to break out on my face. Hearing that Joy's was a later preparation and acted differently, I tried it and the pimples immediately disappeared."
