LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Fourth was cool and quiet in McMinnville.

Statement of the county finances in another column.

One of the Carlton celebrators occupied the city cooler Monday night.

F. W. Cady and family spent the 4th at Beaverton with his father's family.

J. A. Todd wishes the person who borrowed his saddle would return it at once.

Mr. Foster, of the Sheridan, spent the 4th at home.

County Clerk Hendricks and Deputy John Thompson took charge of the office Wednesday.

The street work is progressing slowly but surely. The rock crusher was a good investment.

C. E. Dukenfield will have charge of the McMinnville Mills warehouse this season. See ad in another column.

R. B. McDonald returned Friday evening from a pleasure trip to Northern California. He was gone several weeks.

A. M. Dee handed us a cluster of 41 cherries, all fully developed and large, picked from a tree near Amity. Pretty good, for this year.

The fire alarm system is being put in by Supt. Griffith, and work has gone far enough to convince any reasonable man that it will do the business.

Lost—About ten miles from this city on the Salem road, a reputation. Finder will be suitably rewarded by returning same to sheriff's office, Portland.

Sheriff Warren gives notice that the delinquent tax roll is soon to be placed in the hands of the clerk, and will be advertised. Pay now and save costs.

J. W. Hobbs visited the penitentiary last Sunday and was there during church services and saw Nay Unger and his companions in the jail here singing in the choir.

Hall's Hair Renewer contains the natural food and color-matter for the hair, and medicinal herbs for the scalp, curing grayness, baldness, dandruff and scalp sores.

M. Collins and family left McMinnville yesterday morning for their new home near Washington, Wash. The best wishes of a large circle of friends accompany them.

Architect Morrison, of Dallas, is in the city, and will make a thorough examination of the courthouse and report to the county court what repairs are needed and the probable cost.

An exact fac simile of the San Louis Rey mission, perhaps the finest and most celebrated of all the famed old mission ruins in Southern California, will be seen at the World's fair.

There will be an L. T. L. picnic Saturday. They will meet at the G. A. R. hall at 9:30 sharp and march to the grove, where there will be a nice program and a basket lunch. All the children and parents are invited.

"Excuse me, George, but when I saw you a year ago, your face was covered with pimples; it seems to be all right now." "Yes sir; that's because I stuck to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the greatest blood medicine in the world. I was never so well in my life as I am now."

Byron Millsap met with an accident last Saturday, caused by the breaking down of his delivery wagon. He had a lady and her little boy in the wagon and was driving along at a brisk gait when the king bolt broke, letting the vehicle collapse and frightening the horse. But Byron's presence of mind and superior horsemanship averted what might have been a serious calamity.

Four new hydrants will soon be put in at the following places: Near the residence of H. C. Edwards on B street; at the residence of J. A. Peckham, corner of E and Pine; at the residence of E. N. Ford, corner of Lincoln street and Redmond avenue, and near the residence of Jas. McPhillips on Fifth street near I. The necessary fixtures for this improvement are now on the way.

The Portland Industrial Exposition has adopted the general plan of securing for their exhibition this year all the exhibits intended for the Chicago Exposition of 1893. This plan, especially in regard to jarred fruits, grain, minerals or whatever is not perishable or can be preserved, will be of great advantage to exhibitors in the assurance of superiority which a successful exhibit at Portland will give them. The exposition management will carefully store such exhibits free of cost. Our people should avail themselves of this liberal proposition, and thus insure a good representation both at Portland and Chicago, at the least expense of time and trouble.

In old times it seemed to be thought that a medicine must be nauseating to be effective. Now, all this is changed. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one of the most powerful alteratives, is agreeable to most palates, the flavor being by no means medicinal.

WILSON ESCAPED.

Through the Negligence of the Officers.

In consequence of persistency of the residents of Milwaukie and vicinity, to do violence to Wilson, the self confessed murderer of little Mammie Walsh, it became evident to Sheriff Kelly, of Multnomah, that it would be safe to keep Wilson in Portland, where the mob was growing larger and more furious, and he decided to take him to the state prison by way of McMinnville and lodge him there until the court demanded his presence. Kelly and Deputy Morgan, started Saturday evening with Wilson and came to McMinnville, where they were met by Sheriff Warren, of Yamhill county. Kelly, Morgan, Wilson and Mr. Henry the liverman, in a double seated carriage started cross country to Salem, expecting to arrive there about 12 o'clock that night.

The four pursued their journey all right until they started down a hill near the H. Simpkins place in Polk county, about ten miles from McMinnville.

Suddenly, as they were coming down the hill at a brisk pace, Wilson put his hand on the driver's shoulder and leaped out on the right side of the vehicle, and in two jumps had cleared the rail fence and was lost in the brush and heavy timber. Morgan was sitting with Wilson in the rear seat and attempted to follow the prisoner when he made his leap, but his feet caught in something and he fell. Wilson was neither handcuffed or shackled, and as there was nothing to hinder his flight, he was soon out of reach of the astonished officers. The driver awoke the people in the surrounding farm houses and they soon thought they had the escaped man located in a thicket. Close watch was kept but when morning came there was nothing but a few tracks to show which way he had gone.

The place Wilson chose for his escape was a deep canyon running west about two miles from the road. It is covered with a dense growth of fir timber and underbrush, and if Wilson had looked all over Polk county he would have found no better place for the accomplishment of his designs.

Sheriff Kelly returned to McMinnville Sunday afternoon but his deputy and the men of the neighborhood kept up a diligent search all day Sunday and Sunday night but without avail. At a house about a mile and a half from the road it was seen where Wilson had been walking around the yard and about the barn, no doubt with the intention of stealing a horse or getting something to eat. After reconnoitering there he retraced his steps to the canyon and all further trace of him was lost.

Early Sunday morning Sheriff Warren telephoned to the penitentiary to know if the party had arrived and was told that nothing had been seen of them. As soon as possible the sheriff accompanied by Clerk Hobbs, started toward Salem. When he arrived at the scene he learned of the escape and at once went on to Salem and gave the alarm Sunday afternoon. He sent word to all the surrounding towns with Wilson's description, which is as follows:

Height, 5 feet, 10; dark brown hair; dark brown heavy mustache; weight 160; slim build; large shoulders; large head; wears 7 hat; forehead very large and full; black spots under eyes and on top of nose; stiff black hat; colored shirt; walks with head down; 27 years old.

Nothing but criminal carelessness of the officers need be searched for to account for this escape.

Wilson escaped by a neat ruse. He went about half way down the hill he cried "Look out!" and at the same time placed his hand on the driver's shoulder. The officers looked ahead and Wilson leaped for liberty and was well over the fence before the surprised officers could realize what was up. They fired not a single shot.

Sheriff Warren and Clerk Hobbs returned to this city Sunday evening, and on Monday morning Warren and Kelly returned to the vicinity of the escape and have been since on the search for the wily wretch.

The only likely clue to his whereabouts comes from near Lambert's landing, three miles south of Dayton. On Sunday night from Mrs. Crabtree's house some one stole their picnic luncheon and a small target rifle, also a coat and hat. This is thought to have been the work of Wilson. This clue is given strength, because it is known that Wilson lost his hat when he first entered the brush and a change of coat would help to conceal his identity.

Word came yesterday morning that Wilson had been seen the night before near the place of the murder, and it is evident that he must soon be captured, either dead or alive.

LATEST—Sheriff Kelly and Warren arrived in this city last evening about five o'clock. They had made no new discoveries. Soon after their arrival Kelly received word from Portland that nothing knew was known there. He thinks the report that Wilson had been seen near Milwaukie can not be true.

Fell Dead.

These words were very familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "Heart disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short breath, pain in side, tenderness in shoulder or arm, smothering spells, swollen ankles, asthmatic breathing, weak and hungry spells, fluttering of heart or irregular pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. COUNTY FINANCES.

The Clerk and Treasurer File Complete Reports.

The finances in Yamhill County are in fairly good condition, but not quite so good as they were a year ago. It will be remembered that the court reduced the levy from 22 mills to 17 mills, and estimated the county expenses would be amply provided for by 4.98 mills, but the enlargement and improvement of the courthouse grounds and other miscellaneous items have made a large share of the deficiency. For this no taxpayer can have reason to find fault with the court. The enlargement and fencing of the grounds was necessary to the high standing and dignity of Yamhill county, and the court ought not to stop here but go on and further improve and repair the courthouse and appropriate sufficient funds to employ a janitor to keep it clean and in decent order. The waiving in several of the rooms is getting away and we are told that last winter it was not an unusual thing to find the floors flooded with water. This ought not to be. A county that can afford to spend $60,000 for a courthouse surely can afford to keep it in repair and not let it fall down.

Fall to do Our Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty toward themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. H. Hertzberger, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nerve and Brain Tonic cured her. She writes: "After three weeks' use of your medicine, my head aches, nervous prostration, etc., was entirely relieved. Sold by Rogers Bros. Trial bottle free."

DAYTON.

Quite a number of our citizens took in the hand boys' excursion to Salem, and report a very pleasant trip, although the steamer did not arrive in Salem as early as was expected.

The A. O. U. Lodge have rented the room formerly occupied by R. W. Conover and will rent the same for their lodge room. Mr. Conover has moved into the lower story and is now on a level with the other business men of the town.

Carl Duclou is up with the Columbia spending the day with old friends.

Edith Peery of Seaside is here visiting relatives and friends.

The people of Dayton and vicinity are anxiously waiting for the opening of the new county road through by way of Mission landing to Marion county. This road will open up and develop some fine country which has long since been in great need of a road. It will also be a great benefit to our town and every farm this side of the river by which it runs. Those living off of public highways only know how to appreciate public improvements of this kind.

CROP-WEATHER BULLETIN.

For Week Ending Tuesday, July 5, 1892.—U. S. Signal Service.

WESTERN OREGON.

The hot period broke on Tuesday, June 28th, since which time it has been cooler, yet almost normal temperature, with an average amount of sunshine; no rain has fallen during the past seven days.

The winds have been northerly and fresh in force.

Rain is badly needed for all vegetation is in need of it. The ground is dry and is becoming more so day by day, under the influence of the dry winds. Fall wheat is heading, but it is not up to the average. Spring wheat would yet be greatly benefited by rains.

The total wheat yield of 1891 in Western Oregon amounted to nearly 9,000,000 bushels, while this year it will amount to over 7,000,000 bushels, the unfavorable weather conditions lessening the yield for this year.

The oats crop while fair will be short of last year's crop by about 20 per cent. Hay is now in progress in all sections and good yields are generally reported, though in a few localities it is not up to the average.

Present weather conditions are extremely favorable to the hops, which are growing finely. The hop louse of last year is to be found, but not the damage from them of last year is expected this year. There has been a fine new growth to all young trees, but there is a noticeable lack of fruit.

Raspberries and blackberries are plentiful.

There is a general failure of prunes and plums which was never known before. Corn has slow growth, due to the absence of rain.

Gardens need rain badly, as does also the potato crop; the latter will be a short crop if it does not receive more moisture soon.

The peach and watermelon crop of Josephine and Jackson counties promise fair returns, the quality is expected to make up for the loss in quantity.

EASTERN OREGON.

From July 29th to June 29th extremely warm weather prevailed. The maximum temperature ranged from 95 to 105 degrees; since the 29th it has been cooler. Occasional thunder showers occurred on the 29th. The winds have been northerly, but not so injurious as in the preceding week.

The cooler weather during the past five days has been of great benefit to the grain, but yet there is much grain ruined and past redemption. Good general rains would yet improve some of the grain.

In 1891 Eastern Oregon had a total wheat yield of 6,000,000 bushels, and it is estimated that not over 3,000,000 bushels will be harvested this year. The greatest injury and loss is in Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow counties, where last year they had 2,300,000 bushels and this year the four counties will not have a total yield of 1,000,000 bushels. A great many farmers are discouraged and some will not be able to secure seed and feed; the conditions are nearly as bad as they were in 1888. Wheat on the higher belt of Umatilla county and on the reservation is in fine condition and it will yield about as well as it did last year. In Union county the prospects are good. In the other counties the unfavorable prospects continue. Haying is in progress and very good yields are reported. Peaches, apples and plums are ripening at The Dalles. The hot weather here has done some of the apples about The Dalles.

There will be no general failure of crops in Oregon this year, though the wheat will be very scarce in some localities.
