McMinnville Grange, No. 31, P. of H. meets in their hall the first and third Saturdays of each month at 10 a. m.

Local and General.

Work on the new school house is progressing nicely. Mrs. Atkins, of Portland, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. F. J. Martin.

Byron Millsap was in the metropolis on business several days, returning Monday. The Statesman says that a soap factory will help Salem. We have no doubt of it.

H. L. Heath and family returned on Monday from a three week's visit on the Sound. You need not a spy glass to see McMinnville's building boom. It shows for itself.

Will Laughey and family, of Woodburn, are paying the old folks at home a visit this week. Miss Mattie Martin, who has been in Albany several months, came home Monday on a visit.

Lost - Near this city July 7th, a pair of field glasses without case. Finder please leave at this office. It is announced that H. G. Guild, formerly of the Silverton Appeal, has purchased the Sheridan Star.

Prof. Peables and family and Henry Bretman have gone to Silver creek falls Marion county, for a fortnight's outing. Chas. R. Fenton, of Fenton, Henry & Fenton, attorneys, Spokane, Washington, is in the city accompanied by his wife.

A. M. Sanders returned home Monday from his business trip to Weiser, Idaho and other towns east of the mountains. The Epworth League will give an ice cream festival at the M. E. church Friday evening, July 14th. All are cordially invited.

Write a postal card to your congressman asking for a copy of "Protection of the Trademark" recently printed in the Congressional Record. Quite a number of Odd Fellows from neighboring towns attended the installation ceremonies of that order here last Saturday evening.

Brig. Gen. H. W. Compton and the adjutant-general of the O. N. G. will inspect B Company of this city on Saturday evening of this week. Rev. G. F. Rounds, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church here, has gone to Newport to supply the place of E. D. Horner until conference meets.

By using Hall's Hair Renewer, gray faded or discolored hair assumes the natural color of youth, and grows luxuriant and strong, pleasing everybody. Leslie Laughlin accompanied his uncle, of Olympia Washington, on a trip to the East the first of the week. He expects to be gone several months.

Mrs. Jessie Johnson has been employed as a teacher in the McMinnville public school for the ensuing year. The schools will probably open on the first Monday in September. A jolly party starts for Netarts next week. It will consist of Dr. Goucher and family, F. W. Martin and family, F. E. Rogers and family, J. C. Cooper and family, and Miss Josie Gortner.

Ayer's pills promptly remove the causes of sick and nervous headaches. These pills speedily correct irregularities of the stomach; liver and bowels and are the mildest and most reliable cathartic in use. Portland suffered a fire at which the loss was about $125,000 last Sunday night. Nearly the whole block surrounding by Sixth, Washington, Seventh and Stark was destroyed. As this is in a desirable business portion of the city, it will soon be rebuilt.

At the school election held Tuesday afternoon Chas. Grissen was elected over David Stout. The new director immediately qualified and came down to the McMinnville National Bank and signed the bonds and they were forwarded to Boston to the parties who purchased them. Report from Newport says, summer tourists are beginning to arrive and very soon Newport will be alive and the steamer service on the bay is better this season than formerly. Two boats being on now and the fare is only two bits from Yachina City to Newport. The beach is fine this year.

S. Brutscher of Newberg was in the city on business Tuesday. He remarked that Newberg would probably have a pressed brick factory in the near future. An establishment of this kind would no doubt be a profitable investment, as there is a great demand for bricks of that kind for building. When your heart is bad, and your head is bad and you are bad clean through, what is needed? asked a Sunday school teacher of her class. "I know - Ayer's Sarsaparilla," answered a little girl, whose sick mother had recently been restored to health by that medicine.

IT WILL BE MOUNTED.

The Telescope at the College Will Soon Be Reused. Prof. T. G. Brownson, President of the McMinnville College, has been canvassing in the city for subscriptions for the purpose of building an observatory for the telescope and to enlarge the endowment fund.

A bunch of keys has been lost and the finder will please hand them to O. O. Hodson. Judge Bradshaw, of The Dalles was seen greeting old acquaintances in the city on Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Chas. Grissen and family go to the mountains during the latter part of the week, for a week or so. Quite extensive repairs will be made on the court house, under the supervision of Architect Morrison of Dallas. John E. Evenden, of the First National Bank, has been appointed deputy County Treasurer, by Treasurer Pennington.

W. F. L. Wright and family leave for the mountains Saturday next. They will spend some three weeks away from town. F. H. Barnhart, of the Reporter, and family leave the latter part of the week for Yachina Bay, where Mrs. Barnhart will remain for two or three weeks.

A. M. Peery and R. N. Snell, of Dayton, were in the city Wednesday. Mr. Snell took home a fine Altamont colt that he had had in the hands of Chas. Wood, the trainer. The Telephone Company would make money by putting in instruments at North Yamhill, Carlton and Amity giving those towns connection with the county seat. There is a demand for it.

Chas. Kline and family leave Saturday for Foley Springs. Mrs. Kline will remain there while Mr. Kline accompanied by two other gentlemen will go into the mountains on a prospecting tour. Mrs. Geo. Squire has gone to her sister, near Wheatland, to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Eunice Robertson who is to be married to John Hibbs of this place, Thursday morning at eleven.

G. A. Douglas, of North Yamhill, was in the city yesterday and asked Mr. Thatcher, manager of the Telephone line, when an instrument would be put in at North Yamhill. Mr. Thatcher said that one would be in operation next week. The post office is again on wheels. The council has compromised its charge against the owner of the building, Jacob Wisecarver, and he is moving it back to its former locality. Next time the council should know what it is about when it gives a permit to move or repair a building within the fire limits.

Wm. Dielschneider will return from Philadelphia on the 25th of this month and will go into the jewelry business at the stand now occupied by Wm. Holl, who leaves the city on the first of the month on a tour of inspection preparatory to investing. Mr. Holl has rented his residence to J. H. Henderson, who will move in Aug. 1st. Mr. Holl is a careful business man and has made money in this city. He is progressive and while the citizens do not wish to see him leave, they wish him success in any business venture he may make.

WILSON CAPTURED.

The Villain and Outlaw was Cleverly Captured in West Chehalis Last Friday. After six days of successful seclusion and evasion of the officers, Constable Carter, the murderer of Mamie Walsh, takes boldly to the public road in broad daylight and is arrested. The honor of the capture belongs to Constable John T. Carter and his brother Pearl. They were working in a hayfield early in the afternoon of last Friday, when they noticed a stranger passing, especially as they thought looked suspicious, as they had heard the account of Wilson's escape. They overtook him easily, as he thought he could convince them that he was not the man they were looking for; but they saw the sore on his nose and his sore wrist and were sure they were right. They proposed to bring him to this city and went to the house, the constable remaining with Wilson while the younger Carter went to the barn to get the team. Wilson said he would lead the way, but while Carter took him to the well, but while Carter's back was turned he started to run, but the constable was too fast for him, and after a run of fifty yards he overtook Wilson and a scuffle ensued, during which Wilson got Carter's little finger in his mouth. He was holding on with a vice-like grip, and at the same time getting a razor out of his pocket. Carter saw the glint of the blade and jerked his finger from Wilson's mouth and retreated until he found a convenient club, with which he struck the wretch a severe blow, breaking his arm. During this melee the constable had called to his brother, to bring the gun, so, leaving the team and taking the gun from the constable's wife, he ran to his brother's assistance. Wilson was now retreating through the wheat and had found a club also, with which he thought he could keep his pursuers at bay, but he was mistaken. For the man with the gun arrived on the scene and handed it over to the constable, who proceeded to level it at Wilson's head. Wilson begged to be shot, but Carter said that they could take him without taking his life, and the younger Carter gathered Wilson in and threw him to the ground, where he was tied and put into the back and safely brought to this city.

Sheriff Kelly had been here all the afternoon waiting for news from his deputies and organizing a party to go out and watch several farmhouses in the vicinity of Dayton, in the hopes that Wilson would come out that night for something to eat. But he did not have to go. When the Carters arrived they drove Wilson immediately to the jail and the news spread rapidly over the city, but there had been so many guesses as to where he was, that he thought this was but another one. Sheriff Kelly was at the telephone office in Rogers Bros', drug store when the news came down town, and he, too, refused to believe it until a messenger was sent to the jail to ascertain its truth. Then he was happy, and lost no time in getting to the jail to see his late charge.

Dr. Goucher was called and set Wilson's broken arm, and the newspaper men piled him with questions, until Sheriff Kelly and Warren with a party of eleven men took him from the jail and started for the penitentiary at Salem. The halls of the courthouse were crowded, and when the cartages drove away there were a couple of hundred people in the street, but all were quiet and there was no loud talk.

After his capture by the officers on the night of Saturday, July 23, Wilson had followed the Willamette down to about half-way between Wheatland and Dayton, and finding a good place in the river bottom to hide he remained there until last Thursday night. He had built a bark shanty and went to the hills several times a day to get good drinking water, and got the bread from Crabtree's as told in these columns last week. He subsisted principally upon turnip greens, a shirt, coat and pair of pants from Wm. Forrest, who lives with his his mother and brother about five miles south of Dayton, on Wednesday. The mother and brother were out picking blackberries, and were away from the house from 8 in the morning until 2 in the afternoon. Here he also took the razor with which he shaved off his mustache, and with which he afterwards assaulted Constable Carter. He remained in the vicinity of Forrest's all day Wednesday and Thursday and on Thursday night he passed through Dayton and went over the Lafayette hills into the Chehalis valley, and about noon, apparently uneasy and too nervous to sleep, took to the road, evidently not caring very much whether he was captured or not.

He laughed at Deputy-Sheriff Morgan when he told him he managed to get out of the cartage, asking Morgan if he remembered how he worked his feet to free them from the lap robe, and later feigned a cough to hide his maneuvers; and Morgan said, "Yes, I remember it all now." All in all, it is a most peculiar case. The dastardly crime; the arrest of two other men, one of whom might have hung but for Wilson's over-carelessness in the matter; the attempt to lynch Wilson; his being spirited out of Portland by the officers; his escape and successful seclusion; his brazen effrontery in taking to the road; his nearest by the brave constable, and his incarceration in the penitentiary until he can have a trial, all go to make it a celebrated case, and the end is not yet.

THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL. The state normal school at Monmouth has made a remarkable growth during the past year, as shown in a gain of 80 per cent in attendance over the attendance of the year before. The enrollment this year reached nearly 400 students, and the faculty anticipate that the number will reach fifty 500 next year. The school is wide-awake, full of life and draws a remarkably fine body of students. Two new members have recently been added to the faculty. Prof. P. A. Geitz, a graduate of the Millersville, Pennsylvania, state normal, and Miss Alice C. Priest, a graduate of Cornell university, the music department has also been strengthened by the addition of Miss Fanny A. Ayres, a specialist in vocal culture, who has studied with some of the most famous singers of America. The school is broadening its work in many ways and is rapidly adding to its facilities for the special training of teachers. The rapid growth of the school would indicate that it is doing all in its power to merit the highest degree of success.

Fail to do Our Duty. Everybody has at times failed to do their duty toward themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbercher, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie city, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for headache, nervous prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by Rogers Bros. Trial bottle free.

Lodge Organized. The Hon. Newton Clark, Grand recorder A. O. U. W., organized a lodge of Degree of Honor at the A. O. U. W. hall Friday evening, July 8th, with 30 members. The Fruit Crop. The fruit raisers of this county are not looking for a large crop this year. Cherries are an average crop and have the old time color, size and flavor. The other fruits are very scarce, especially apples. The scarcity is making the good housewives look around for something to put and the wild blackberries are much in demand. It will not be long before the fruit crop of this section will be more than enough to supply the local demand, as hundreds of acres of fruit trees of all kinds have been put out during the past two years, not only in this section has this been done, but in all parts of the state. When these trees are bearing the people in the east will find that Oregon is not excelled by any state in the Union as a fruit producer.
