MESMERIZING THE CZAR.

xhibition of Occult Science that Amus ed the Monarch.

The famous mesmerist, Stuart Cumberland, was recently summoned to the court of Denmark to give an entertainment in the presence of the monarchs and princes assembled there. The czar who had never witnessed a mesmeric performance, but is a diligent student of works treating of the occult science, says the Phare de la Loire. displayed great interest in the experiments of the eminent thought reader. As he, however, appeared to entertain some doubt as to the power of "suggestion" in his own case, the mesmerist invited him to submit the matter to a personal test, to which Alexander HI consented with the best grace. It was then shown that, subject to a "suggestion" on the part of Mr. Cumberland, the czar, who is well known to be endowed with hereulean strength was unable, in spite of the greatest exertion, to lift from the ground a little girl (Miss Bentley), whom a few minutes previously, he had carried around the room at arm's length. The court was highly amused, and the czar laughingly congratulated the performer.
