The entertainment at the opera house on Friday, the 13th of this month, will probably be the best one of the season.

The citizens are looking forward to a lively movement in the spring. The growth of the city depends upon themselves and an effort on their part to make things lively will bring new life to the city.

Last week this paper received too late for publication an account of the wedding of Knight Olds, of this city and Miss Minnie Pearce of Carlton.

The marriage license record for the week contains the names of S. E. Stagg, aged 75, and Maria L. B. Stagg, aged 59, who were married on Sunday, the first of January, 1893.

The calendar of the Wisconsin Central railroad is the neatest one yet for the year '93. This road will probably, in connection with the Northern Pacific, transport the majority of the people from the Pacific northwest to the World's fair.

A scandal has come to light in the insane asylum at Salem and it will be investigated. It is true that the feeble-minded are too light a penalty for the fellows who have ruined several of the crazy female occupants.

Granville Baker, who has been suffering with neuralgia of the stomach, is now better and is once more on the street. The disease has made a great change in his appearance, as for some eight days he was unable to retain anything upon his stomach.

The masquerade at the rink Tuesday night was well attended. The prize for the best skates was awarded to Thad Simpson and Miss Annie Dieckman. The fancy skater's prize was awarded to a young man from Portland by the name of Allison.

The McMinnville band gave a concert on Friday of last week, and, like all the other entertainments given by the band, was a success. The band is making steady headway in music, and while the city is not large she has the best band in the state outside of Portland.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES.

The Schools of the City Start in With an Increased Attendance.

The city public schools reassembled, after a week's holiday, on Monday. The festivities usually incident to holiday days did not make any inroads on the attendance, as all the rooms had their full complement of pupils and several new pupils put in an appearance.

There are now more than 400 pupils in actual attendance distributed among the several schools as follows: FIRST STREET SCHOOL.

Geo. A. Peebles higher grade 29 Miss Woods grammar 39 Miss Peters intermediate 48 Miss Mark 2nd primary 44 Mrs. Johnson 2nd 46 Miss Ground 1st 46

Total 258 B STREET SCHOOL. J. A. Buchanan gram'r grade 40 Mrs. Mathieu intern'd 55 Miss Greene 1st & 2d primary grade 59

The following is the general summary of the principal's December report to wit: No. days taught 29 " attendance 680 " absence 76 " cases tardiness 123 " boys enrolled 206 " girls enrolled 206

Total number enrolled 409 Average number belonging 380 Average daily attendance 346 The schools are now in good working order, the teachers and pupils all taking great interest in their work.

Notwithstanding the snow storm, serious interruption in the attendance all the schools closed for the holidays with interesting literary exercises, that were especially creditable to all taking part. The teachers were the happy recipients of presents at the hands of the pupils, and the little folks were remembered with beautiful Christmas cards by their teachers. A number of visitors witnessed the various exercises. Lack of space forbids an extended notice of the several programs rendered.

The principal is arranging for the organization of a local teachers' association composed of the teachers in the city schools. This organization will greatly facilitate uniformity of school work and also prove of much benefit to the teachers individually.

SILVER WEDDING. A Surprise Party Given to Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Johnson on this City. On Wednesday evening, December 28, shortly after 8 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Johnson were seated quietly in their home the ring of the door-bell summoned them to the door, which, upon being opened disclosed to their astounded gaze, an apparently innumerable throng of people, who immediately took unceremonious possession of all parts of the house. It was, indeed, a complete surprise, and when the recipients recovered the use of their faculties in a measure they ascertained that the occasion of the same was the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their own marriage and that all this company had assembled to give the affair proper observance. The guests were at once given the freedom of the house and every effort made to insure their comfort and enjoyment. Various games of a social nature were instituted and enjoyed until a halt was called and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were summoned to the parlor, where they were confronted by a stand on which were displayed a number of pieces of silverware which Hon. J. E. Magers, in a few appropriate remarks, speaking in behalf of the assembled company, presented to the couple as a slight token of the regard of their numerous friends after a quarter of a century of wedded bliss.

The presents were: Silver tea-set and tray, set of silver teaspoons, silver pie-knife, silver berry spoon, silver cake knife, silver server, silver souvenir spoon, and silver card receiver and toothpick holder—these last two articles from friends in Montana.

After the presentation was concluded a substantial lunch, which had been provided by the ladies, was served after which social amusements again held sway until a late hour, when the guests dispersed, unanimously voting the affair a success and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Johnson another quarter of a century of unalloyed bliss, when they all hope to again meet to celebrate their golden wedding.

William Campbell was the only member of the company who was present at the marriage ceremony in 1867, when these twins were made one, and announces a firm determination to be present at the celebration twenty-five years hence.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she became teething, we gave her Castoria. When she had Colic, she gave her Castoria.

For the next thirty days Apperson will be kept busy invoicing his stock, as the clerks go through. All broken lines, odds and ends, will be carefully assorted out of every department. The goods assorted out will be sold at just one-half price to clean them up, making the greatest bargain ever offered to the public. As these are good seasonable goods, and sold at these low prices simply because of being broken lines, it is not likely they will last long. Therefore those coming early and often will get the best bargains. All goods not included in our Odds and Ends sale will be sold at regular prices.

When she was a Child, she gave her Castoria. When she became Miss, she gave her Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Dr. Churchman's barn caved in one day last week, the roof falling all around his buggy horse, but beyond a few scratches the animal was unhurt. A cart and buggy were somewhat smashed up.

The wheat saved from the fire that consumed the Dixie warehouse, will pay about 20 cents a bushel on the original amount.

Thursday evening a messenger arrived from Sampson's mill and stated that Henry Moore, well known in this vicinity, had died at the mill shortly before noon that day. Word was immediately sent to his sister and brother, who reside in Lafayette, and his brother came up accompanied by another man, and on Friday they started for the mill, but were unable to make the trip, and returned to this city about noon. Later in the evening some news came in from Moore's valley with a sleigh, and they took the men as far as they were going that night, and the next day they got through to the mill where they assisted in burying the unfortunate man, it not being possible to bring him out until after the snow goes off.

Mr. Moore was a man about forty-eight years of age, having been admitted to the bar in this state a number of years ago. He was also a first-class mechanic and worked in this vicinity for a number of years. He was his worst enemy, being unable to resist the temptation to drink he would spend his entire earnings for liquor, and his end is given as the cause of his sudden death.

There is a prospect that a lodge of Knights of Pythias will be organized in Dayton. A number of names have been pledged for this purpose.

We have a potato at this office which weighs 4 pounds. It is all one potato, smooth and no sprouts. It was raised by A. L. Alderman, who had more of the same.

The barn on Chasley Spaulding's place adjoining O. Hatfield's, collapsed under the weight of the damp snow last week. There were several oxen of the logging team in the barn. Two of them were somewhat scratched, but all escaped serious injury.

It is not every country that produces a second crop of fruit in a year. It is a rare occurrence to pick grapes from the vines on Christmas day and when the snow is on the ground. It was the good fortune of the editor to pick a bunch of grapes of second growth from vines in John Mauts' garden, which were well matured and of good flavor. Mr. Mauts had quite a lot of second crop grapes and raspberries this season.

Andrew Christenson and daughter, formerly from Sioux City, Iowa, but now from Dakota, arrived here last week and are stopping with his brother H. L. Christenson, of our town.

Mr. Van Robertson, brother of Warren and Walter Robertson, who has been up in Idaho for the past sixteen years, surprised his relatives one day last week by quietly dropping in on them with his family to spend the holidays.

The heavy snow on Sam Shultz's barn roof for 14 and the whole thing collapsed. The falling timbers killed his horse and broke his cow's leg so that she had to be killed. Roofs should always be well supported in this country as some very heavy snows fall occasionally.

The following ticket was nominated at the city caucuses last Monday night: For Mayor, Dr. G. W. McConnell; Recorder, J. C. Colcord; Marshal, Frank Mills; Treasurer, M. Volav; Surveyor, M. Reece; Street Commissioner, Cass Ellis; Councilman, first ward, Paul Macy; Jos. Wilson; second ward, Jesse Edwards, S. M. Calkins; third ward, H. F. Lashier, M. J. Jones.

Mr. Morrison, of Whiteson, is said to be slowly growing worse.

The new mill dam on Mill creek west of Sheridan, built by Brown & Co. for the Sheridan Mill Co., was washed out during the recent snow.

The roofs of three sawmills and a number of other buildings up in the mountains were much for it and the whole thing collapsed. The falling timbers killed his horse and broke his cow's leg so that she had to be killed. Roofs should always be well supported in this country as some very heavy snows fall occasionally.

A tramp straggled at the residence of Mr. Haworth west of the city just before the late snow storm set in and wanted lodging and employment. Mr. Haworth did not need his services but permitted him to remain during the severe weather with a promise of his services at 50 cents per day when the weather cleared up, to at least pay his keeping. Mr. Haworth had a business trip to make to Portland and while gone the family also went visiting leaving the stranger in charge, on his promise to attend to the chores during their absence. They remained over night and on their return next day the tramp had skipped and taken with him every available article of value that he could make way with. Mr. Haworth and his wife set out at their earliest possible convenience, which was Tuesday morning, to see if they could trace the vagabond. He was a man of average size and build, wore a mustache and spoke two weeks' growth of whiskers, about with an Irish brogue and was crippled from the north end west junction of First and A streets of the town of McMinnville, Yamhill county, state of Oregon. These south along west line of said A street 66 feet; thence west 204 feet; thence north 66 feet; thence east 204 feet to the place of beginning.

LO REGRETS IT.

The Sivasches at the Grand Ronde Reservation are Citizens.

Our Indian citizens at Grande Ronde are beginning to experience some of the discomforts that follow in the train of citizenship. Under the law they are liable for their debts.

The other day Ellis Bros., who keep the Grande Ronde store, brought suit against a newly fledged citizen named Billy Shoefawn. The latter came to town Thursday last and compromised the suit by paying the account and cost of the case. This is the first case on record in this county where an Indian has been sued, on account of their being wards of the government, and consequently irresponsible for debt. Several of the Indians, according to the constable, expressed themselves as being sorry that they voted. Every sweet has its bitter, however, and if our Indian brethren get into the political arena and whoop it up according to their convictions, they must also shoulder all of the responsibilities of the average citizen, among which is the right to sue and be sued. They must learn that business is business, and that if a man buys he must pay, and if he pays his debts and conducts himself respectfully, he is just as good as a white man and no better.—Sheridan Sun.

A Landslide—Very Marked Results. The term landslide usually conveys intelligence of disaster, whereby many are killed, but this time it is used to indicate the enormous sales of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, a remedy that is daily saving the lives of thousands who are suffering from nervous disorders. It cures palpitation, nervous prostration, headache, backache, spinal diseases, hysteria, ill effects of opium, confusion of mind, etc., and builds up the body surprisingly. From Near Town. The people of Eden valley are not dead, but liveth. They were badly snowed in during the snow storm, but are too enterprising to stay long buried. Quite extensive preparations were made for an entertainment and Christmas tree for Christmas eve at the Cowles schoolhouse, but on account of the deep snow and crust, had to be abandoned. But the entertainment was given New Years eve to a large and delighted audience.

A great deal of credit is due Mrs. Annie Wiscaver, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Derby, Mr. Chas. McCall and wife and Dr. Dukenfield for the management of this entertainment.

Ward and Pratt Sitton, who are attending school at Monmouth, and Ward Wiscaver, who is attending business college at Portland, were home for the holidays.

The snow did considerable damage in this vicinity to barns and sheds. Joseph Hunt and Jerome Derby each had a shed crushed in. Derby's shed was attached to the barn and in it was housed a separator, which was crushed into kindling wood. Three head of stock were buried in the debris of shingles and fallen timbers, but were not seriously injured.

Dr. Dukenfield gave his school a week's holiday on account of the deep snow.

Rumor has it that one of our popular young men is soon to turn benedict.

A party of young people dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Derby Friday evening. Refreshments were served during the evening and an enjoyable time had by all that were present.

Another entertainment will be given in the near future. The proceeds will go to finish paying for the organ.
