The floral department of the Oregon horticultural society will hold a flower show in June next in Portland.

A liberal list of premiums is offered; also two medals of the value of twenty-five dollars each will be given for the two best essays written by pupils of the public schools of the state, one each for the graded and ungraded schools.

Subject: "What I think about Flowers." The contestants not to be more than fifteen years of age. These essays to be read at the June exhibit at one of the evening entertainments.

The above information has just come to me and I am desirous that the boys and girls of Yamhill county should enter this contest. All who do so will please hand their productions to me. After collecting them I will, with the aid of two or three other persons, select from them the two best and forward them to the secretary of the society. Let us have a general effort made. The effect will be good, even if we do not secure the medals.

J. B. STILLWELL, County Supt.

A Freight War Probable. Sweeping reductions in freight rates from San Francisco to all Willamette valley points over the Oregon Pacific system have been published and they went into effect on the 23rd.

According to dispatches this reduction was caused by a policy of general obstruction, which the Southern Pacific company has inaugurated against traffic delivered to them by the Oregon Pacific, with the idea of delaying freight routed via that line.

This action on the part of the Southern Pacific is caused by the efforts of the Oregon Pacific people, in connection with the valley merchants, to open the Willamette for navigation to Eugene. Thus it appears that the Southern Pacific has lost ground in positions and the first move in the game is about to be played.

The Oregon Pacific people announce their intention of following up every shipping unnecessarily delayed and placing it before the railroad commissioners. The Southern Pacific has taken precautions in this respect, and have notified their agents to see that no delay is caused by shipment delivered by the Oregon Pacific for points on its road.

A Wonderful Engine—Cannot be Surpassed. An engine exerting surpassing power, it always a source of wonder, and yet how many are entirely forgotten—the existence within themselves of an engine more powerful and enduring than any ever invented.

Not perhaps until they have experienced irregular pulse, heart fluttering, tenderness in shoulder and arm, swollen ankles, automatic breathing, weak and hungry spells, smothering, short breath or pain in side, when its existence is no longer to be denied, as the possessor must know he has heart disease.

Mr. LeBar, Fitchburg, Mich., had heart disease fifteen years; had to hire horse help; lived on liquid food, used Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and all symptoms left. Continued use cured her. Sold by Rogers Bros. on a guarantee, who will give you a doctor's book free.

Notice. To breeders of trotters it is reported that there are no trotting stallions in this county but Vanquish and Duroc Prince. I wish it distinctly understood that I have a horse with which no other in the county can compare, in blood or as a sire.

He is the grand sire of Longitude, 2:18; Montrose, 2:24 and Sugar Pine who will go in the list and may be by Adrian, 6:03. The old sire is doing well here notwithstanding the false reports about him.

Special Attention. We call especial attention to our dress goods, notions, trimmings and shoe department. In these lines we have unquestionably the largest and most varied stock to select from.

Just think of a lace curtain 3 yards long at $1 per pair, better at $1.25, $1.50, $2 and $3 per pair. All new this season. Spring cloaks and blouse waists all new this season. Very stylish.

Respectfully, A. J. APPERSON. Prevent and cure Constipation and Sick-Headache, Small Blue Beans.

Probate Court. Estate of Sarah E. Smith: J. T. Smith appointed administrator; bond fixed at $100; filed and approved. E. A. Woodward, J. L. Hoskins and H. C. Miles appointed appraisers.

Estate of Chas. Lehman; petition for appointment filed; to be heard June 6th at 11 a. m. Citation to issue. Estate of Isaac Waddell; first semi-annual account approved.

Cure for Colds, Fevers and General Debility, Small Blue Beans, 25c. per bottle. Out of Sight. The traveling public are now fully alive to the fact that the Chicago, Union Pacific & Northwestern line offers the very best accommodations to the public from and to Chicago, Omaha and intermediate points, not only during the World's fair, but all the year around.

One Small Blue Bean every night for a week cures Torpid Livers, 25c. per bottle.

VERY SUCCESSFUL.

The Closing Exercises of the City Public Schools. The public schools of this city held their annual closing exercises at the opera house on Friday afternoon and evening.

The afternoon program consisted of Miss Johnson's by the intermediate and primary grades. In the evening were held the commencement exercises of the classes that completed their respective courses of study in the Cook and Columbus schools.

The afternoon program presented a pleasing variety in the numbers rendered that held the attention of the large audience present with increasing interest from the beginning to the end.

The teachers and the pupils justly merit the words of commendation universally expressed for the very creditable program presented and excellently rendered. The following brief synopsis of the several numbers is given of the little folks' exercises:

The opening number was a song, "The Merry Brown Thrush," by the boys of Mrs. Johnson's and Miss Grounds' rooms, some 30 or more boys taking part.

Fourteen pupils of Miss Green's room gave a dialogue entitled the "Vacation Class." Master Claude Elsher declaimed a humorous poem, "Too Sick to go to School," receiving great applause. He is a bright little fellow belonging to Miss Mark's room.

"The Flowery Festival," rendered by the pupils of Mrs. Johnson and Miss Grounds, was a beautiful exercise and well rendered.

A concert exercise by six little boys of Miss Green's room, told what each would do when he became a man. "Nobody's Darling," a pretty and touching solo, was sung by Christie Selzer, of Miss Howard's room.

The little girl has a sweet voice and acted her part well. Six little girls of Mrs. Matthew's school rendered a pretty dialogue, "The Work Days," the work of each day in the week being cleverly represented.

Miss Brosia Pennington, of Miss Woods room recited "Whistling in Heaven" very creditably.

The exhibition drill of young soldiers, Harry Hobbs acting as captain, all members of Mrs. Johnson's school, was very skillfully performed, the boys making a very pretty appearance in their natty uniforms. This was one of the best parts of the program.

Pupils of Miss Green's room next represented the "Months" by appropriate symbols and costumes. "Choice of Trades," by a class of boys of Miss Mark's room, very creditably given by each as he told what trade he should choose.

"The pretty Moon," a motion song, by the little girls of Mrs. Johnson's and Miss Green's rooms, was a beautiful exercise. The stage was filled to its utmost capacity. Their pretty white dresses bedecked with stars presenting an attractive spectacle.

Mrs. Matthew's pupils in their dialogue, "Open the Gates as high as the Sky," in which the different walks in life were represented by suitable costume and speech as each passed through the gates improvised, received a storm of applause for their performance.

Master Charlie Rehr, of Miss Green's room, took the cake in his recitation, "Little, but Keen."

Pupils of Miss Mark gave a concert recitation, "You put no Flowers on Papa's Grave," with marked precision and union in delivery.

Next followed a laudable dialogue, reciting great amusement, entitled "How the Ohio stopped crying," by pupils of Mrs. Matthew.

"The May Queen March," Paul Cooper carrying the May pole and Mand Hobbs crowned queen. The floral display was exceedingly beautiful. This exercise was rendered by Miss Peters pupils.

The "Little Mothers" with their dolls gave a motion song in a pleasing manner that reflected much credit upon the participants and upon their teacher, Miss Green.

"A scene in Court," a dialogue, by boys of Miss Woods' room, was well done. This was followed by another dialogue, "The Old Fashion," by Mrs. Matthew's pupils, in the rendition of which the contrast between the old style and the modern school was very cleverly represented.

"The Seasons," a song by 16 girls arranged in fours, each four having a special feature to represent and the whole closing with a full chorus; was well rendered. This exercise was performed by Miss Wood's pupils.

"Waiting for the 23rd Train," a dialogue by pupils of Mrs. Peters, was amusing, many a taking number Nanna Ungerman, especially, in the leading part did well. She represented an old lady with cure alls for the ailments flesh is heir to.

Miss Hattie Hodge, of Miss Woods' room, delivered a brief valedictory in an effective manner and the exercises for the afternoon closed by singing a vacation song, Mrs. Matthew's address. This song sung in a rousing manner by 250 voices was a good closing to the exercises.

THE GRADUATING EXERCISES. Long before the time for the beginning of the exercises of the graduating classes the opera house was filled to overflowing with the parents and friends of the several classes. At 8:15 the exercises were opened by the appearance of the classes led by Prof. Peckert, principal of the schools, followed by Prof. Buchanan, principal of the Columbus school, accompanied by President P. L. Campbell, of the state normal school at Monmouth, next in order the classes graduating. When all had taken their several stations on the stage and were seated the first number on the program announced was a piano trio by the Misses Apperson, and which was prettily rendered.

The first graduate to speak was Claudine Clark, her subject, "The Greatest Republic." She briefly reviewed the history of the world, showing wherein they achieved greatness and clearly pointed out the causes that combined to their overthrow. Of course she made it appear that ours was the greatest republic the world has seen. She delivered her oration in an easy and natural manner.

"Music" was the subject of Minnie Howell's oration. She said the love of music was a common bond. It fits the soldier and its inspiration given has led to many a victory on the battle field. It is born of love and is the first inspiration of the fond mother looking into the eyes of her babe. Her oration was replete with thought showing the power music exerts.

Charles Howe made a strong plea for "Our Public Schools." Millions must be educated in them. They are the safeguard of our liberty. Schoolhouses are better than jails. It is a hopeful sign that larger and better school buildings are everywhere being erected. When public schools begin to decline liberty will fall.

Mr. Whitmore spoke on the "Girl of the Future." Frances Willard said "it was better for women to have been born in the 19th century. Yet the 19th century girl has great duties to perform. She should be taught everything that belongs to housekeeping. The future girl should receive equal pay with her brother for equal labor performed. Let the girl grow as does the tree—to a perfect development. Let her be trained to eschew the follies of fashion. Then will this be a nation that all lands will call the finest."

"American Inventors" was the subject chosen by Joseph Morris. He thought the United States led all nations in invention. We have produced a Fulton, a Whitney, a Morse and an Edison. He alluded to the advances in agriculture and gave all honor to the men of brains whose genius has demonstrated to the world that liberty is conducive to the fullest development of the mind.

"Hawaii" was the theme of an excellent oration by Anna Conner. She gave a pleasing description of the island of Hawaii and something of the Sandwich Islanders' history. She thought our government did wrong in lowering our flag there and expressed the hope that it would again be unfurled over those lovely isles.

Hattie Clark was the class poet. Her poem gave expression of thankfulness to teachers for patient instruction and expressed the hope that in future years each still bright and happy be, and may kind fortune smile upon this class of '93.

NEWS RETOLD.

Interesting Paragraphs from our County Exchanges. (North Yamhill Leader, May 19.) Mrs. F. L. Sappington left yesterday for Idaho, where she will reside in the future. Fred having concluded to locate there. She will stop off at Walla Walla and visit a week or so with her sister.

C. C. Tallman informs us that his hops which he planted out a few weeks ago are doing splendidly. They came up well and are growing in fine shape. The weather the past week or so has been very favorable to them and yards generally are doing well. There has been a number of new yards planted in this vicinity this spring, and all reports seem to point to a splendid growth. The hop yield this season in this vicinity will doubtless equal all previous yields.

[Lafayette Ledger, May 19.] The Southern Pacific Co. has made a special rate of 50 cents from Lafayette to Newberg and return, on June 14th, that being the day of the A. O. U. W. celebration at Newberg.

[Dayton News May 19.] Art Robinson has returned to town, and he says that he intends to bring suit against J. H. Flower, Justice Baxter and Wm. M. Hamilton for conspiracy.

J. A. Estey had quite a severe attack of hemorrhage of the lungs last Sunday night, but at last reports he was improving.

Dr. Leon Smith, the big man of the Kiekapoo outfit, was in town Monday after his tents and other stuff left here last fall. He tried to run a bluff on Lee Smith, but failed. It seems that he had arranged with Lee to get him a new set of tent poles, but when he found that the freight would be a little high he refused to pay for them, and it took a writ of attachment against his stuff to bring him to town.

[Sheridan Sun, May 18.] Stockmen report that they never saw any better grass at this time of the year.

A man named Hicks, says the Tillamook Headlight, recently saw a big band of elk over on the head of Wilson river.

The "Amity Popgun" has put on a big smear of People's party war paint and will shoot paper for paper money. We don't know on which side of the fence we will fall yet. We shall root on the top rail for a spell till we see something to flop for.

[Dayton Herald May 19.] There are seven A. O. U. W. lodges in Yamhill county, with an aggregate membership of 350. Degree of Honor lodges are six or one-third of the number in the state.

J. H. Hibbert and Wm. Foster will put in about 75 acres of potatoes this season. Geo. Foster will also put in the same number of acres. Many others are planting large quantities of potatoes.
