Mrs. Mattie, left for Portland Tuesday, where she will spend some time visiting friends and relatives.

Thos. B. Kay and wife left Saturday for San Francisco, where they will remain for two weeks enjoying the climate and visiting friends.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a social at the residence of Mrs. F. Purvine on the coming Friday evening. Refreshments will be served for ten cents.

Wm. Holl and wife of Portland, spent decoration day in the city. Mr. Holl remarks that he notes an improvement in the city and he has been away but nine months.

The administrator of the estate of J. S. Hibbs will sell at auction at her residence, near McMinnville, June 3, 1893, the following: Fourteen head of horses, fourteen milk cows, 25 head of stock, cattle, 20 head of hogs, wagon, hack and other farm implements. Sale to commence at ten a. m.

Geo. Maurer and Gus Paulus got to arguing about their sausage making abilities in the Dutch saloon yesterday and inside of three minutes Maurer was stretched out on the doctor's table, having two large gashes in his scalp sewed up. Gus was not cut quite as badly but was about as bloody.

D. D. Prevost, of Bellevue, will leave for Ashland next week. He, with A. Kinney of Sheridan, has purchased a hardware business and he leaves to take charge. Mr. Kinney has been there for some time past. Mr. Prevost thinks that it is a fine country around Ashland and extends a hearty invitation to all his friends in Yamhill to visit him should they pass through that section.

Drs. Wright, Goucher and Calbreath have fine peach orchards on the hills west of the Ross ranch. The trees are in fine condition and we wonder that more of our citizens have not seen the profit in this industry. In three years or so the proprietors will be receiving a large return on the investment.

Care has been given the young trees and without doubt these orchards are as fine as can be found in the country.

According to reports the little city of Sheridan, south of us, will have a little excitement on next Saturday evening. It is announced that Joe Dowd, of Salem, and Gid Ely, of Tillamook, will fight a twenty round contest, with five ounce gloves, for a purse of $50 and gate receipts. It seems that all the towns are sporty now, and McMinnville is not behind as several of the young men of this city are wearing beautiful black eyes at the present moment.

Memorial services were held at the opera house Sunday, the G. A. R. post and the W. R. C. attending in a body. The house was well filled and the program was interesting and well rendered. The sermon was preached by Rev. O. B. Whitmore and was an able effort. The stage was decorated in keeping with the exercises and taking the program in its entirety we hardly see how a more pleasant hour could have been spent by anyone than by attending the services.

The new road to the coast is completed so that a wagon can go into the mountains some 15 or 20 miles from McMinnville. The road goes through a fine body of timber and several persons from this city have located claims in it. Before another month passes it will be possible for teams to go the entire distance to the coast without trouble. New fishing grounds have been opened up on Testament creek and the Big Netuana and the road is already being patronized by fishing parties from the city.

C. J. Barr, of Portland, was arrested Tuesday for being drunk. When arrested he was engaged in the pleasant occupation of driving a horse to death. Up and down Third street he went until he became an eyesore and the marshal pulled him. He was accompanied by his wife who was attempting to keep him away from whiskey. He resisted arrest, but with the aid of Ed Warren he was landed in the calaboose where he remained until yesterday morning. His little fun cost him five dollars and costs.

Meadow lake resort is one of the finest fishing places in Oregon. This is substantiated by the large strings of fish brought caught on the lake. Last Saturday, Mr. Hibbs, the proprietor, brought to this city 106 of the speckled beauties that averaged ten inches in length. Lovers of trout fishing pronounce the sport grand and better than anything else it is so easy. The lake is two miles long and is nearly a mile in width and the trout are caught from a boat, the fish taking the fly. Mr. Hibbs is thinking of giving a three days picnic at the resort, covering the fourth of July.

Aristo! Aristo! Go to Montee's and get your photographs taken; the finest in the city you will always find us ready to please our customers. McMinnville, Oregon.

Two Brave Lads.

The balloonist who has been in the city for some time past, and has made two ascensions, leaved the balloon to Nile Davidson and A. Simpson for an ascension Sunday. The boys stated that they had saved enough to go up and the people of the city raised money enough to pay all expenses. The boys spent Sunday morning in tight and white faces, waiting for the balloon to be inflated, but did not back out as was expected. It was agreed between them that Davidson should make the parachute jump and Simpson was to stay with the balloon. After considerable preliminary work the balloon was inflated and the boys tied on, Davidson on the parachute and Simpson above him on the balloon. The balloon was cut loose and the boys started amid the howls of the multitude and the tears of their friends. The balloon soared like a great bird into the blue empyrean and the hearts of the on-lookers thrilled audibly. It was a case of death or fame to the brave boys who were suspended between heaven and earth. They went up, up, up, until the immense height of forty feet had been reached, when the balloon began to descend. Now was the critical point. Would Davidson have the sand to cut loose the parachute and drop, drop like a bird to the ground? No, he held fast and descended with the balloon. As he struck the ground he loosened himself and the balloon because of the loss of weight soared heavenward again with the brave Simpson attached. Up it went until it reached an altitude of 100 feet, when it came down. The confused thing had not been properly inflated. As the demonstration did not end with mangled remains and a coroner's inquest, the populace pronounce it a fizzle, but the parents of the young men are happy. As a demonstration of nerve on the part of the young men it was a success and they say that they will try it again to show that their part in the matter was one of faith and that they did not know the balloon was not properly inflated when it was cut loose. This not necessary. They had better conclude to win fame upon terra firma, not in the air.

"The Noble Art of Self Defence." Set forth by an Authority.

Self defence is instinctive. Persons who find themselves afflicted with heart disease as manifested by its many symptoms, palpitation, short breath, irregular pulse, pain in side or shoulder, another, fainting or dizziness, etc., naturally desire a defense against what may terminate fatally. For this express purpose no remedy has ever appeared. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, sold Rogers Bros., on a guarantee. Mrs. O. F. Perkins, Northwood, Ia., says Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure saved her life. She suffered from palpitation and her heart would frequently beat as high as 124 a minute. Was not expected to live. The cure was obtained, no relief from physicians. New Heart Cure cured her.

Commencement Exercises.

Commencement exercises at the college will begin on Sunday and continue until Wednesday night. Sunday morning the educational sermon will be preached by Professor Mark Bailey of the State University. He was president of the college some fifteen years ago, and many will be glad to see and hear him again. President Brownson will preach the baccalaureate sermon and give the address to the graduating class in the evening. Both of these services will be held in the opera house. Monday night will be the sixth annual exhibition of the Philharmonic society. Tuesday night Nettie Olds will read a paper on "Reminiscences of Student Life." Laura Myers of Sico will give a declamation and Rev. Robert Whitaker of Salem will give an address, after which there will be refreshments served followed by speeches. The attendance at this part of the program will be limited to two hundred. Tickets can be secured from the students. This will be one of the most enjoyable features of the week. Wednesday at 3 p. m. will the class tree exercises, and Wednesday evening will be the graduation exercises. The class this year is the largest that has ever graduated from the institution. Good music will be furnished at all the exercises.
