A number of teams were engaged last week in hauling rock off the hill north of town for the foundation of Morrison and Embree's mill and other teams in hauling lumber to the same place.

I tell you, it sounds metropolitan to hear the sweet voice of Homer Parrish sing out: "here's your 'Daily Northwest News,' steam-ing hot from the press, full particulars of the great cyclone in Illinois, thousands of lives lost and millions of property destroyed. Have one sir ?"

The so called bridges on the roads be-tween here and Willamina are in a very bad condition. Some body will be mulched in damages unless they are fixed, as an acci-dent is almost certain to happen.

The saw mill at Willamina is turning out lots of lumber. Mr. Churchman says he can supply the demand.

Robert McKune has rented his livery sta ble to his two sons, Walter and Willard and they will take possession the first of June.

We are informed that times are better and collections easier made at Grand Ronde than for years. Quite a number of persons are settling in the Nestacca country, some buy-ing lands and others taking up claims and ing lands and others taking up claims and in purchasing their outfits for house keep-ing and farming at Litchfield's store at Grande Ronde, considerable money is put in circulation and hence the good times.

Dayton turned out in force to to make the picnic a "gala day." We wonder if Mc-Minnville will do likewise on the 4th of July. Our streets witnessed an exciting runa-way list week—Parker's grey ponies broke loose from the rack and took a spin out the road. They frightened Morten's team, that were hitched to a scraper, and they joined in the race. Wrecks collected; damages, populat.

Are we to take it as a compliment when Nat" says "From Breyman's Hill we saw as whole world and McMinnvilles and Day-
