SHERIDAN. June 25th, 1883,

Still hot, dusty and dry.

The frame for the flouring mill is up. Hon, Heary Lamson says that his growing grop looks first rate.

The two children of Pat Churchman, who ives on Mill creek, have about recovered of the dyptheria.

H. Z. Foster is building a sidewalk on two sides of his block. The town would look much better and be more convenient if oth-time it is, now? ers would improve their property in the same Marl Potter, S. Hyde, Lee Bogue and others have gone prospecting, fishing and hunting in the mountains on Salmon river. Several hands are at work on the building used for S. Potter's hardware store. We have had occasion several times, in these items, to mention the name of William C-h-a-p-m-a-n, but the types make us, every time, say somebody else. My growl.

Hon. W. D. Fenton and his father-in-law, A. L. Lucas, of Monmouth, and their families passed through town a few days ago on their way to the coast.

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Bradshaw, Esq., was in town last week on business.

Hon. T. L. Butler who has the contract for putting in the mill dam on Mill creek for the flouring mill at this place, is at work at it with several hands and will have it finished in about ten days.

Wm. Rogers who was in the look up when we wrote you last week, was held by his Honor S. Potter to appear at the next term of the Girouit Court. Bond $500.

The Reporter has made improvement after improvement until it has outsripped all competitors outside of Portland, and is now one of the best newspapers in the Northwest. Your efforts are fully appreciated, and the circulation will be greatly increased. Excelsior is the word.

Mr. Judson has the contract to build the warehouse at the flouring mill, and it takes 80,000 feet of lumber which has been pur-chased at the saw mill of H. C. Rowell.

Many farmers are of the opinion that the crops will be very light, and unless it rains soon, the shortest ever known in this section.

Some two weeks ago a man by the name of Williamson who was thought not to be in his right mind, left Mr. J. Langley's for whom he had been at work, on the water ditch, and has not been heard of since. His bible having his name written in it, together with part of a suspender and other parts of clothing with blood on them, were found a few days ago in Thomas Dickey's pasture. Search has been made in Mill creek and in the brush on each side of the stream, but nothing as yet has been discovered. The whole thing is involved in mystery.

LAFAYETTE.

June 26th, 1883.

Flat, dull, dry, discouraging times are these, vith matters of interest as scarce as the muc a prayed for rain drops. Everybody that can tet away, has gone to Tillamook, Trask, Sil. 42, or some of the springs, or some other place, and the abscence of so many, not only front town, but from the surrounding country as Well, makes the place look as if descried.

When the state of the springs of the surrounding country as Well, makes the place look as if descried.

G. M. Beeler, Esq., of Amity, was down or ousiness during last week.

W. H. Woods, of Wheatland, dropped in ne day last week, as smiling as a basket of one day last week, as smiling as a basket of chips, and said "It's a girl this time, and don't you forget it, and you hear me, she is a bouncer, and pretty as a pink."

Saturday was the day set for the meeting of the three link fellows, and many came from Dayton, McMinnyille and other places. I note L. H. Baker, of McMinnyille, and B. F. Morse, of Dayton, among the visitors.

F. Morse, of Dayton, among the visitors.

On Sunday last A. L. Steward, of Sheridan, was brought down its be examined for insanity. The County Judge is off to Tillamook, but the case was so plain that his services could be dispensed with. His insanity is of a religious kind: he came into town singing hymns and was no sooner out of the hack than he began preaching on the street. One part of his ceremony was to baptise himself, which he did most thoroughly, first by throwing water in the air and letting it fall all over him, but that not being sufficient, he next put his head under the pump and sent a stream down his back, then down his breast, then down one boot-leg and then down the other; finally he began to strip himself (at Burbank's pump) but some men interfered sind took him away. He was placed in the hands of the Sheriff and locked up in a cell where he stripped himself naked and preached and prayed to his hearts content; on Monday he was taken to the asylum. Altogether his performances would have been laughable, if his case was not so pitiful. This is his fifth or sixth trip to the asylum.

NORTH YAMHILL.

June 25, 1883. Jeff McCoy is in town from Tillamook.

Asa McKern has returned home from Portland where he has been attending school. Hambletonian Grandma Stewart, from Forest Grove, is visiting friends in town; also Mrs. Eva Havs and Miss Emma Bowers, of the same place.

Mr. F. Barnekoff is expecting his mother and niece here from Sweeden, before long. Mrs. Andrew Johnson, of Portland, is vis-iting Mrs. Barnekoff.

Emma Maddox has returned home from Portland, where she has been for the past

George Robinson is in town.

H. F. had better keep a string tied to his watch when he gets one, and perhaps he won't drop it in the well. Who knows what Elder Hanna and several of the Presbyterian ministers organized a Presbyterian church here last Sunday. A very able sermon was preached from St. John, 10th chapter and first clause of the 9th verse, after which they proceeded to organize. There were three baptisms, and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

Many thanks to the band of North amhill for their serenade on Monday evening. They were in full dress with their new uniform of gold and blue, just received from the City of Philadelphia. They gave us some very fine tunes of which the town appreciates. Do so again, boys.

Thus it will be seen that Hambletonian

The continued dry spell adds nothing to the happiness of a he farmer. And indeed, when we add to the misfortune of the grain freezing out last win ter, the further misfortune, or the chance of it, of a blight from drouth, we can hardly wonder to see him look and feel discourage d. But it is not too look and feel discourage d. But it is not too look and feel discourage d. But it is not too look and feel discourage d. But it is not too look and feel discourage d. But it is not too look and feel discourage d. But it is not too look and feel discourage d. But it is not too late yet for rain to do so, we good, and it may come in time; at least we can hope so.

I suppose you heard of the burning of Nichols' church and the row of little houses where the worshipers used to camp. The free occurred sometime on the tight of the 20th inst. There is no clue as to who set the fire, but it was probably dore by some one whom Nichols had never in jured, and from pure mischief. Possibly by some one when thought the best way to get ril.' of noxious animals was to destroy their dears
