Farmers are about through hauling wheat and very little is coming in at present. Lafayette's popular merchant, D. I. Corker, was in town last week.

Mrs. J. J. Shipley, of your place, is in town visiting relatives and friends.

Our townsman, A. L. Alderman, will go cast with the pioneer excursion party. He left for Portland yesterday.

Several parties from this place went to Newberg this morning to attend the Fair at that place, which commences to-day. F. A. Hill's drug store was closed by his Portland creditors, last Saturday night. We haven't been able to learn the amount of his liabilities.

Miss Minnie Call, who has been in Portland, visiting friends, during the past two weeks, returned home yesterday.

F. M. Daniels and wife, of Scio, were in Born, at this place, Sept. 25th, 1883, to the wife of John Jones, a son. Our enterprising merchant, J. T. Watson, has improved the appearance of his store very much by putting in new shelving and making other improvements.

Mr. Clayton Uriah, of the Dalles, and Miss Aft. Clayton Crian, of the Dalies, and Aliss Ratie Coovert, one of Webfoot's fair daughters, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, last Tuesday, by Rev. John Parsons. Their many friends wish them happiness. They left for The Dalles last Friday. The band from this place serenaded the happy couple Tuesday night.

There is one item in the Smith case that There is one item in the Smith case that you did not get. I think. I mean a conversation that Smith had with Rogers, his fellow prisoner. It could hardly be called a confession, and yet it might be considered as such. He said "the law makes a crime of an act in one case, and says it is no crime it another case. If a rich man trees to rob poor man, and is killed in the attempt, it is no crime; but if he aunoys and robs him it another way and the poor man kills him, it is murder. My conscience is clear; I feel no guilt of murder resting on it." This may not be the very language used, but it is very

As I understand it, the quarrel that re-suited in the sheeting of Mrs. Petch and ended by G W Smith committing suicide originated in the difference in price of meal-furnished to travelers by the two parties-one wishing to keep it at 50 cents, the othe cutting to 25 cents. A terrible calamity has overtaken James Dickey's family. The fore part of last week four of his children were taken with that dread disease—scarlet fever, and on Wednesday night the eldest daughter at home, about twenty years of age, died, and on Friday night the youngest boy, age about seven years, died, and at last account the mother was not expected to live and two of the children very low. Wm. Newbill's children are all down with the same disease. He has a dren very low. Wm. Newbill's all down with the same disease. e family and great fears are entertaine

Allen Yoenm's oldest boy is also down with the scarlet fever. Every known precaution is being taken to keep the disease from spreading. The above families reside from five to eight miles southwest of Sheridan. About a year ago Mr. Miles Davis had a little girl to die with the scarlet fever. The mother placed the things that belonged to her darling child, particularly a large bunch of flowers which she kept in bed with her until she died, in a trunk, which remained closed until about a month ago, when it was opened and the contents examined by Miss King, and in about ten days she was taken with scarlet fever, which soon resulted in her death and the spread of the disease. Allen Yocum's oldest boy is eath and the spread of the disease.
