LAPAVETTE.

Oct. 16, 1883. The good people of this town were greaty shocked last Thursday night to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. A. J. Ferguson, wife of Hon. J. L. Ferguson, of this place .-Mrs. Ferguson had been in poor health for some time, but not supposed dangerously ill; he was in town he stole about $25 from difso that her sudden death was wholly unlooked for. It seems that the immediate cause of her death was rheumatism of the hear, as I hear, of which she died about 7 o'clock p. m., Oct. 11th. Mrs. Ferguson was a pioneer of '47, at which time she came across the plains with her father, John Bird, of this place. Since then she hear lived in the order place. Since then she has lived in Oregon, and I think in Yambill county, up to the time of her death. She was in her 46th year. The funeral took place from the family residence to the church, where a touch iny residence to the church, where a touch-ing sermon was delivered over her remains by the Rev. Jos. Hoberg, thence to the Henry burying ground, where she was de-posited by the side of her mother. Mrs. Ferguson was greatly beloved by all her relatives and friends, and highly respected by all who knew her. The scurrilous letter written by "Shoemaker" and published in the Sunday Mercury of Oct. 7th, is, we believe, a gross misrepresentation of affairs at this place. While possibly there is some foundation for part of it, yet the greater portion is founded on idle gossip or nothing at all. No person with any regard for the truth would publish an article of this character, and "Shoemaker" was either misinformed or his low attack was prompted by a spirit of malice.
