We take pleasure in recomending Hall's We take pleasure in recomending Hall's Hair Renewer to our readers. It restores gray hair to its youthful color, prevents baldness, makes the hair soft and glossy, does not stain the skin, and is altogether the best known remedy for all hair and scalp diseases.

Michael Ayiward, of Gopher Valley, last week brought Dr. Johnson some fine spare-rib; the Dr. divided, and we all had a feast. They were taken from young hogs and were indeed palatable. We don't know who to hank for them—whether the Dr. or Mr. Ayl-ward—but we guess, both.

Dr. Trullinger's Green valley Salve is a sure ure for scratches, harness and saddle galls, uts and sores of any kind. Good for man or beast. A good healing salve is something that every family should keep. Buy Trullinger's Salve and you will have the best and cheapest salve in the market.

We should have mentioned last week the receipt of a neatly bound book entitled "The Last Spike," and compliments of Mess'rs Staver & Walker, of Portland. Editor Reposites:—I may have been wrong in calling the "Oregonian" affair personal in your last issue, but as you well know, it reflects more or less on the P M here. I know that there has been a great deal of carelessness some where that should be looked after and through the columns of the leading papers is the place to speak of the gatter, It will make us all more careful and attentive to business. The date fixed for the Sunday School Con-The date fixed for the Sanday School Concert by the Union Sunday School, that we mentioned briefly last week, is Friday evening, Dec. 14th. The affair is under the management of our musical friend, M. U. Gortner, and as most of our prominent singers and musicial s are interested, we may expect a musical treat. The price of admission is very reasonable—free. But you must not neglect to take a little change with you, as there will probably be a collection.

There has been plenty of fun here the past skating rink at Mohock Hall on Thursday evening, giving the use of their skates, and of course the skates were in great demand. Boys, girls, middle aged men and women—all took a hand and such motions.

A party was over in West McMinnville last Thursday, and tells us that John Drucks was the wildest man he ever saw. Word came to the mill that something had transpired over at his house: that his wife had given birth to a fine boy. John pulled his hat and wampus and dashing them into one of the burrs, that was running at lightning speed, started for the homse like a quarter-horse and yelling like a Comanche at the top of his voice: "Johnny Sax has been putting on a darned sight o' style over me, lataly; but he'll stop it now; I'm as big a dad as he is, I am. Whoop!" The neighbors sat up with John but two nights; but it is still necessary to keep a close watch over him. keep a close watch over him.

"Deeds of Daring by Blue and Gray" is the title of a new work by D. M. Kelsey, and is a book that should be in the family of every patriotic citizen of this country. It contains exploits of scouts and spies, hand-to-hand struggles, imprisonments and hair-baeadth escapes of those who fought on both sides of the line in the struggles from 1861 to '06, having 608 large octavo pages printed on the best of paper, with 125 fine engravings of personal exploits, partraits of heroes, etc.—Mr. Chas. Grissen, at the Bukery, is agent for this work, and as it comes at a very reasonable price, we expect to see him receive a large number of orders for it.

DR. W. A. B. MILLS,

Office at F. A. Hill's Drug Store, Dayton of the matter why would it not be a good idea to fence the street up.

The "Northwest News" was perfectly correct in its statement (published yesterday morning) that the long-talked of foot race between Martin and Ryan would not take place at City View Park. Reliable information was received at the office that the whole affair was a put-up job and was intended only for the purpose of bilking a too-confiding public, which never scenisto gain wisdom by experience. Yesterday afternoon a large crowd crossed to the other side of the river in the expectation of witnessing a bonafide contest. Martin and Ryan were both on hand, but their backers could not agree upon a referee, and the match was declared off. It is understood that no porton of the stakes had been put up, but that the money will be placed in the hands of some responsible party to day, and that the race will be run next Sunday. It would be well, however, for the people of Portland to have a care that they do not place too much reliance upon statements of this kind.—" News."

Once more the leaves begin to fall

Once more the leaves begin to fall
Upon the dying earth;
And every late-born flower'd drooped
Its little head in death.
As here I stand, a mortal, lone
In presence of the dead,
And call in memory back again
The spirit that has fled.

An ivy green alone remains, Upon the little mound, The pansies and the dasies sleep With her, beneath the ground-With her, beneath the ground.
Whose little form was laid away,
So pale, so cold, so still—
To rest and sleep the sweetest sleep
Beneath the sacred hill.

A flower born, but not to bloom,
A fair and tender bud—
The icy blasts of winter chilled,
Too soon the flowing blood.
Once more a prayer and tear for thee,
Beneath the little mound.
I fain would hope we meet again
Where sorrow is not found.
