

The Reporter

McMINNVILLE, OREGON, NOV. 29, 1883.

If the tariff question is the only issue will the Register bolt the party if Randall is elected speaker of the next house of Representatives?

The annual convention of the National Grange met at Washington, last Wednesday. Twenty-seven States were represented by masters of State Grangers.

We have an abundance of native woods and native iron, to make agricultural implements but we can have no protection against eastern manufacturers, therefore all our money goes east for machinery.

It is astonishing and appalling to read almost daily of the cyclones that are visiting the Western States, sweeping everything before them. Last week several towns in Arkansas and Missouri were visited by terrible storms, that destroyed both life and property.

Heavy rains visited Indiana during the week, raising streams to unprecedented heights. The city of Vincennes was entirely submerged by the breaking of a dam just above the city. The loss by these floods cannot be estimated.

Our neighbor down the way says that Randall can't be elected Speaker of the House, because he is a protectionist. That settles it. You go home Sam, confound your picture, and stay there till you hear further from Yamhill.

We tell you the polygamists over in Utah are "blooded." An election was recently held under the statutes of the United States, but those in office declare it unconstitutional and insist on holding over; and as the newly elected officers want to "keep peace in the family" they quietly submit. Uncle Sam better send Gen. Crook out with his corps of braves to teach those fellows that some of the laws of the country must be respected.

Frank Howard, of Ohio and Marrion and Springer of Illinois will be heard in congress on the tariff issue, Randall or no Randall.—Register.

And how much wiser will the country be for it? The Register has talked and preached on the tariff question ever since it (the Register) sprung into existence, and we don't think the people of Yamhill county are a great deal wiser for it.

Says the Vancouver Independent: A few days ago Clarence Walker, a son of James Walker, of Cape Horn, was handling a Winchester rifle. There was one cartridge in the barrel and only one in the magazine. In firing the gun both cartridges unaccountably exploded, tearing the gun all to pieces. Walker received a severe cut under the chin, a cut over the left eye, and was also powder burned, but fortunately escaped serious injury.

THAT WOOL TARIFF VOTE.

Some of the Democratic papers have been taking Congressman George to task for voting to reduce the tariff on wool, when in fact there was no "wool tariff" vote that the papers refer to. On all wool tariff votes he was found to be working for the best possible protection to our wool growing interests. He did, however vote with all the rest of the republicans and protectionists for the Tariff Bill on its final passage, it being another of those situations in which a Legislator often finds himself placed when called upon to vote on a bill containing many good things and a few questionable ones, and we are confident that Mr. George is fully able to justify his course before any intelligent wool growing protectionist. But the idea of Free Trade papers criticising his course on the wool question is ridiculous, when senator Slater and nearly all the rest of the Democratic Free Trade would vote any day to wipe out the whole wool tariff. The wool men may be thankful that the tariff was revised by Republicans and protectionists, and is therefore not likely to be meddled with by the present democratic Congress which if it could, would wipe away all protection tariff. The democrats of the last Congress wanted to pass such a bill and therefore voted against the bill that did pass, which, while it made a reduction in conformity with the sentiment of the people (it made a reduction all around) nevertheless kept it as a protection tariff still. But the slight reduction of the tariff on wool does not perceptibly effect the price of our coast wool, but it brings out the line of democratic tariff consistency and makes it look like the chromo of a worme fence.

MANNERS IN THE CARS.

A correspondent of the Christian at Work says: I have ridden in public conveyances very often and long, and have given up my seat a great many times to old people and ladies; but I believe the fingers of one hand outnumber the times I have been thanked for so doing; and, judging from what I have seen, other gentlemen have had the same experience. I have come to look upon the lady who expresses the thanks she ought to feel for such favor as a lady. Further than this, I never see a young lady give her seat to an old person, even when there are no gentlemen seated in the conveyance; but on the contrary, often see a lady with a child, each occupying a seat, the mother never seeming to see the "tired clerk's" look toward the seat her active youngster holds, and which perhaps was not paid for. We see few exhibitions of the kindness of ladies toward their own sex, whether in the street cars or in dry-goods stores. I think it is becoming more common to see men give up their seats to old people, who are thankful, usually, than to young females, who if they appreciate the favor take pains not to indicate it by words or looks.

If Mrs. Duniway and some of our equal suffragists will read those girls and women whom they expect us to vote to enfranchise, a sound lecture on this subject, it will be a sensible thing. We are willing to admit that women are better than we are, but for genteel politeness the men do not suffer by comparison with the gentler sex. If so, women should cultivate and practice suavitiveness for political reason if they expect the franchise, even if they cannot be induced to do so by the law of kindness.

There is a question that in the near future must become one of vital importance to the Nation and that question is that which defeated the Republican party in Ohio and was equal to causing a Waterloo in Iowa—namely Prohibition. It is evident that the Republicans must espouse this cause when it is brought before the people of this country, it matters not at how early or late a date that may be; and it is also evident that for a time the party will suffer defeat for accepting it—if defeat it may be called. Some of our ablest speakers and editors say that the question must come before the people, but claim that we are not ready for it now; that the people must be educated to the fact that rum selling and rum drinking is a blighting curse to our country. We would ask them to inform us when we will be ready for it; how much longer it will take our people to become convinced of the fact that the manufacture and general free use of ardent spirits is damaging to our best interests? We are not a temperance fanatic; neither do we wish to see the grand old Republican party defeated. But if that question must come up and bring defeat to the party that dares to adopt a platform containing a prohibitory plank, we stand ready to do battle for it; and if it be defeated, cling manfully to the plank and pull for the shore, which will be reached before many years will have passed.

FACTS ARE FACTS AND SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS.

LOOK HERE!—Sit down and read this, and common sense will tell you that any merchant who advertises with a spirit of malice,

Cannot be Trusted.

It is "nonsense and humbugging to blow and try to blind people about good goods." I claim to have as any other storekeeper, and not any better. They all come from the SAME FACTORIES, and every merchant has to keep different qualities of goods to suit his trade. For instance: if a man wishes to purchase a suit of clothes for $12 he doesn't want a suit of clothes for $35, and so vice versa.

AS GOOD GOODS

Why, it is Ridiculous to say

I keep good goods, and therefore can't sell them as every child that goes to school knows better than that.

CHEAP AS MY NEIGHBORS

are ALL GOODS that I advertise in our Local Paper, the "Oregon Register", and "Dayton Free Press",

Always to be Found in Stock and not "just out of them." TOO THIN! Furthermore, I will say that I am buying my goods

Strictly for Cash, at Bedrock Figures, and Discount my Bills;

therefore, I can make a REASONABLE PROFIT and still sell goods for LESS MONEY than those storekeepers do that are buying on time and leave the wholesale houses and manufacturers wait from 12 to 24 months for their money. In the first place, they can't expect to buy as cheap as the man who buys FOR CASH, and in the second place the wholesale houses will

Charge Interest after four or six Months

whenever the account becomes due. I will add that I devote my Whole Attention to the Dry Goods and Clothing trade, and everything pertaining to it, and leave all other outside business alone.

These are all Facts that I am Willing to Prove.

I don't propose to have my goods lie on the shelves for years. Whatever old goods remain over by the 1st of January will be thrown into THIRD STREET LAKE, instead of letting moths get a hold of them, as has been the case in other stores, here.

Remember that H. Fisher

keeps a

First-Class Dry Goods and Clothing House, and is receiving goods every day and has always a FINE ASSORTMENT OF GOODS in stock. Farmers of Yamhill County, I am prepared to do an Extensive Credit Business this year in my line, and all those that are responsible for the debts they contract will find it to their advantage to buy their DRY GOODS AND CLOTHING of H. FISHER, as you will SAVE from 25 to 40 per cent. in purchasing your goods.

MONEY SAVED IS MONEY MADE.

You will find every week my GOODS AND PRICES ADVERTISED.
Very Respectfully Yours,
HUGO FISHER.

What we Believe! Real Estate Agents

There is no question about it:

B. F. HARTMAN'S

is the place to buy GOOD GOODS. No humbugging or blowing about best quality of goods of any kind for less than half what they can be made for. That is simply nonsense, and is only done to get you in their stores to find them "just out" of the goods advertised at less than half value, or to show you an article too worthless for any use, with the hope of selling your goods at big prices. Talk is cheap, and so are all kinds of goods, and when you want to buy

Good, Durable Goods,

You cannot do better than to buy them of B. F. HARTMAN.

Ladies will find all kinds of Latest style Cloaks, Dolmans, Ulsters and Wraps, Dress Goods, Silk Lace, Mull, Bobonett, Darn-Vit Ties, and everything pertaining to Ladies' Wardrobe.

All kinds of Dry Goods, and any and everything in Gents' Furnishing Goods. Also, Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Hardware and is SOLE AGENT for the best on the coast. Also, Farming Implements of all kinds, all for the lowest prices. Also, remember 10 per cent. discount is given for cash.

Star Mixed Paints,

Call and see him.
