Effore the hour that the services were to begin, every seat was occupied. ing. The services opened by the choir-un der the direction of Prof. W. J. Crawfordsinging that grand old anthem " Before Jehovah's Awful Throne." This was followed by singing by the congregation of "I love Thy Kingdom, Lord;" reading of Scripture by Rev. Dr. Anderson; prayer by Rev. E. Russ; singing "Oh, for a thousand tongues o sing," by the congregation. Rev. G. J. Burchett then stepped forward and stated that owing to a sudden attack of illness the Rev. Mr. Hayhurst was unable to be present, and that the task of delivering the sermor for the occasion had fallen upon him. Tak ing for his text the intter part of the 10th verse of the 53d chap, of Isaiah: "The pleasare of the Lord shall prosper in His hands."
the Rev. gentleman delivered an excellent sermon—one that we would be pleased to publish hat we the space to do so. It was announced that the main services connected with the demeation would be held in the evening. with the deflection would be held in the evening. Lecordingly at an early hour in the evening the building was again crowded. Singing by the choir, "How Beautiful upon the Mountains," opened the exercises. This was followed by reading the Scriptures, by Rev. G. J. Burchett; prayer by Dr. Anderson; singing "Buela Land," by congregation; addresses by Prof. Crawford, Revs. R. C. Hill and E. Russ; singing by congregation, after which Hon. Henry gave a historical sketch of the Church at this place, and a financial standing of the same. The sketch financial standing of the same. The sketch will be found below. The choir then sung "Praise ye the Lord." The services, which were interesting from the beginning, were concluded by Rev. Dr. Hill's delivering the ledicatory prayer. DESCRIPTION OF THE BUILDING. To take merely a passing glance at the exterior of the building, one would think that it was awkwardly arranged. But not so. It is one of the nestest and most commodious in Western Oregon. Its size is 34x54 feet, 14 foot wails, the roof having a half pitch .-School Sapt. L. H. Baker was in town last saturday and informed us that his reason or not attending the teachers' meeting at his place two weeks ago was sickness in his anily. He came very near losing one of his hildren, while his wife has been ill for sevral weeks past. A valid excuse.

The outside is finished with rustic, painted a modest yellow, while the trimmings are a neat brown. From the ground to the top of the tower it is 65 feet, while on the top of this, on a shaft pointing heavenward is a weather vance. Entering the building we find it light, cozy and inviting. At the this, on a shaft pointing heavenward is a weather vane. Entering the building we find it light, cozy and inviting. At the north-east corner, on the north and east are double doors entering an ante-room, and from this room a pair of double doors lead into the room. double doors entering an ante-room, and from this room a pair of double doors lead into the main room. At the south end are two reception rooms, one on the east, the other on the west, both being entered from either the outside or pulpit, the pulpit being between them. Underneath the pulpit is a baptismal fount, of good brick masonry work, which is approached through a door in the floor. The ceiling is one-third pitch, 22 feet high. In each side of the building are four four large windows and in the north and are two, so that there is no lack for light in the day time, while two large four-lamp chandelies furnish plenty of light at night. Inside, as on the outside of the building, the painting is neat and tastefully done, the backs and sides of the pews being grained to finitate maple, and the doors are an imitation of walnut, beautifully grained. The seating espacity of church is about 230, but apwards of 200 were gented on Sunday last. The evidences of good workmanship in the sonstruction of this building are clearly visible, and reflect credit upon Mr. Doyle, the contrictor, while a glance at the painting tells that it was done by those who fully understand their profession. Bohr & King held their own in this instance. We must congratulate our Paplist friends upon having secured so neat and commodious a place of worship. The cost of the building was about $2.100, of which about $660 remains ampaid.

HISTORICAL SEETCE.

there was a fown east of the mountains where a great many of the inhabitants thought it a sin to step or look inside of a ball room where the invitations were general for fear of coming in confact with some discreputable character; but the these same parties would go to skating rinks and skate with any and everybody that came along and thought it capital fun. We feel sorry for the people of that place.

We had thought that our town was free from petty thieves; but we find we were mistaken. Mrs. D. H. Turner left her clothes out over Wednesday night of last week, and in the evening, some garments which she thought would be most likely to be confiscated, she moved glose to the house. In the morning Dave went out is find that he was minus an undershirt and a pair of drawers that had just cost him $5. He ought not to gramble, as his loss is some other man's gam.

J. Hunsaker and others. Having no house in which to meet, the college building having been disposed of, the Church in Oct. 1882 decided to build a house upon lots purchased from the Board of Trustees of the college. A subscription paper was circulated and after a great deal of labor fifteen hundred dollars was secured and the building commenced which is now finished. In August 1883 the Church elected as their pastor Rev. G. J. Burchett, who accepted the call and enters upon his work today. The officers of the Church, are: Elder G. J. Burchett, Pastor: Samuel Cozine and John Rhodes, Deacons: B. F. Rhodes, Clerk. Present membership is 88, including the Brothers and Sisters residing at Dayton, Or. and vicinity: only about 40 reside near the Church, the whereabouts of many others being unknown. It is hoped they may prove themselves worthy of a name among the people of God, although living in disregard of the Church obligations. Respectfully
