DAYTON.

Jan. 8, 1884.
A. M. Peery paid the metropolis a flying visit last week.

Charles Powell left for Salem last Wednesday.

Sheriff Cellard was in town on business yesterday.

A slight disturbance in school last week, furnished food for the gossip.

Miss Minnie Call, closed a very successful term of school in the Crawford district last week.

Ed Crane and wife are guests of Mrs. Jones Esq.

Miss Willis, of Portland is here, a guest of Mrs. F. A. Hill.

Mr. Jake Mann, of New Tacoma arrived here yesterday.

Mr. F. Palmer is lying very low with inflammatory rheumatism, at the residence of Mrs. Gen. Palmer.

Judge Townsend, of Lafayette was in town last Wednesday night.

Mr. G. L. Parker, of your city was here on business yesterday.

Numerous Odd-fellows from various parts of the country, attended the installation at this place last Wednesday night.

Mr. John Grames, whose illness we mentioned some time ago is better.

G. W. Skelton, was made supremely happy by the arrival of a daughter, which made its appearance last Tuesday night.

B. F. Morse, will in a short time leave for the east, via the Northern Pacific on a visit to friends and relatives in Minnesota.

Our young friend, Cally Mann who has been attending school at Oakland, Cal., for some time past arrived here yesterday accompanied by his Uncle, Mr. John Mann. Cally while there contracted a severe cold, which rapidly ran into something like consumption which necessitated his coming home.

The revival, now in progress at the M. E. church, is well attended and we hope may be productive of much good. Rev. Parsons, our local minister is assisted by the Rev. Mr. Matthews.

LAFAYETTE.

Jan. 8, 1884.
The mildness of the winter, up to this time, is remarkable; here it is almost the middle of January and so warm that my doors are open at both ends of the house while the stove is nearly cold.

The favorable weather is telling on the growing wheat of which there is probably more acreage than ever before, at this season of the year, and if nothing unfavorable happens this part of Oregon will turn out a large crop next harvest.

This is County Court week, and several from other parts of the county are here on probate and other business. Among visitors I have seen Rev. S. M. Hubbard and Uncle Enos Williams, of Amity; also, Joe Barton, Sr. and Joe Barton, Jr., of the same place.

Charley Payne, of McMinnville, broke in on us the other evening and made things lively for a little while.

A new restaurant is a new feature in this town. The proprietor advertises quail on toast "a la Delmonico," strawberries and cream, etc., etc., and a whole string of things too hard for a common chap like me to name.

It is the general opinion among farmers that there will be very few wild outs this year, if the present condition holds out.

I am sorry to say that Frank and Mrs. Horey, of this place, were so unfortunate as to lose their babe, who died from pneumonia on the 3rd of this month, aged only six months. The parents have the sympathy of all the neighbors in their affliction.

The W. C. T. U. held a very good and entertaining session here last Sunday evening. The time was passed in reading, singing, speaking, declaiming and tableaux. All visitors express themselves as well pleased with the bill of fare for the occasion.

There is a chap up in Curry county, one J. H. Upton, formerly of this place, who runs a T&O organ of Democratic make up; this T&O editor pitches into somebody in Yamhill, for saying that a protective tariff cheapens commodities. This eminent organ grinder produces no argument to show the contrary; he simply makes light of the idea. Evidently this pig-headed gentleman fails to see that foreign goods is not a tax on the home products. If we were compelled to purchase from other countries, his logic, poor as it is, would have some sense about it, but such is not the case, as all our needs are supplied at home, and home competition is so great that all commodities are a minimum price so low that a good market is found in free trade England.

The smuggling that this dandy demagogue speaks of, is in furs, silks, jewelry and foreign wines and liquors, all articles used by the rich. As to his main question—"did high tariff reduce postage?" I answer yes decidedly—yes. Tariff makes us prosperous, prosperity attracted people, people could write, more writing made more mail matter, more mail matter made it cheaper to handle and that the objection is effectually answered. Now let me ask this dim light, why is it that free trade sugar is 2 cts per lb higher in S. F. than protected sugar is in N. Y.? NAT.

MOORE'S VALLEY.

Dec. 29, 1883.
Christmas is past and the people of Moore's Valley were not behind time in celebrating the event. All the neighbors gathered at the school house and good music and singing was enjoyed by all present, also dialogues and declamations by the children and older ones, after which the Christmas tree was exhibited, much to the delight of the little ones. There were many valuable presents, but for want of space we will forebear mentioning them. To conclude with the young people by the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Smith gathered at their residence in the evening and a social hop was very much enjoyed by all present. Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

MR. EDITOR:—As the whisky question is just now attracting a great deal of attention, I would feel grateful if you would give me space in your valuable columns for a few remarks on the subject. It appears that there are a great many persons in this town who are in favor of prohibition. It would be as well for these people to consider the consequences of such a step, before they commit themselves. If the prohibition law went into effect to-morrow, it would merely transfer the business to the drug stores, and there would be more drunkenness than there is now among those who go in the back way. Now, Mr. Editor, I hold that there is no law that will prohibit the sale of liquor. It has been tried in many parts of the United States, and in every instance it has proved a failure, besides causing depression in business and a depreciation in property value. I cite Forest Grove as an example. It is a pretty place, but no business enterprise has ever been had under the present system. It has one general store, one hotel, a butcher shop and a drug store; (the drug store does the largest business.) Farmers that have any produce to sell take it to Cornelius and do their trading there; when they might stop at Forest Grove if there was a saloon; but they don't want to be seen sneaking into a drug store as if they were going to steal something. There is only one way to reach this question: educate your children in the right way, enforce the law in regard to minors, and impose a high license, so as to place the business in the hands of men that will conduct it in the proper manner. I have a remedy to propose for the prohibitionists. If they wish to reclaim grown men from vice let them throw open their doors and receive the stranger with a cordial welcome, and let him feel that he is at home and among friends. Throw aside your religious prejudices and cease talking about your members not ever well have under the present system.
