McMINNVILLE, - - OREGON

Gotham's Rich Women.

New York Cor. Troy Times. Miss Harriet Lenox and Miss Kitty Wolfe are the richest spinsters, and each is noted for beneficence. One is an Episcopalian and the other a Presbut they seem to agree in the nature of true piety. Miss Lenox in-herits her wealth from her philanbrother, and continues his method of beneficence, which is performed in the same private manner. Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt (widow of the commodore) is worth nearly a mill-She attends the Church of the Strangers, and is of a liberal disposition. Mrs. A. T. Stewart and Mrs. R. L. Stuart are the richest widows in the country, each worth at least half a dozen millions, each occupies a Fifth avenue palace which cost a million, and which displays a degree of internal elegance to corres pond with the magnificent exterior. Mrs. A. T. Stewart is an Episcopalian, while Mrs. R. L. Stuart is a Presbyterian. It is her purpose to maintain the same rich benevolence which characterized her husband, and the same method is pursued. The palace which she occupies was hardly finished when death removed Mr. Stewart to the house ap pointed for all living, and it is rare that grand an establishment is so suddenly shadowed by mourning.

While mentioning this array of wealth I would say to my readers: Do not send these people any begging letters. They are already inundated, and hence you would only throw away your postage. They have their own ways of do-ing good, and do not lack for prompt-It is, however, very sad to see such a tremendous contrast in social ranks as is found between rich and poor in a great city. Turning from the four hundred millionaire to the masses we find thousands of the latter living in misery, and while two Fifth avenue widows each have a palace, there are multitudes who are glad to live in a

Origin of Alfonso's Difficulty.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.] King Alfonso's little difficulty in Paris grew out of his acceptance of a uniform from Emperor William, whose guest he had been. Here are some parabout the much-talked-of equipment: On the conferment of appointments of special importance the emperor himself does the honors. The uniform decided on was that of a Uhlan. The order for it was telegraphed to a Berlin house on the afternoon of September 21, and on the morning of the 23d the head of the establish-ment appeared at the Homburg palace, the king's residence, with the outfit complete. It is thus described: "It consisted of a Uhlanka, an overcoat, a paletot, a short and a long pair of pantaloons, a dress czako, a pair general's epaulets, the shoulder straps, a panache, an interim and a dress saddle-cloth, a sash, a cap, a shoulder belt, a soberrash and a sabre, with leopard's head and ruby eyes. Alfonso is slight of build, and hardly the proper figure for an officer of Uhlans, but the uniform is considered very becoming to his dark complexion. The king being a marshal of Spain, has the batons embroidered on his epaulets and is inscribed on the army list as a general, for which reason he will receive hereafter not only the salary but also the full uniform of a Prussian general.

Curiosities in Stone.

[Chicago Times.]
The tesselated flooring of the new state, war, and navy department buildsons walking over the floor sometimes posed to be fossil formations, cut figures generally look like large snail shells, but the curves are widely separated from each other, and in most instances are exact distances apart. They do not always take this shape, however. In a stone in the corridor in front of Secretary Chandler's door, in the navy department, is a figure which, looked at from a certain angle, is an exact representation of a skull about three inches in diameter. The veins of the white marble, too, take very fantastic shapes, but they are entirely different from the supposed fossilized figures in the black In a stone near the door of the room of the chief clerk of the navy departa tailless dancing bear.

Dentistry of an Extinct Race Santa Barbara (Cal.) Independent.

Dentistry seems to have been quite an art in the days when the extinct race held control here. Among the store of curiosities exhumed from graves upon the Santa Barbara islands and now in Clark's collection are six or seven sets of false teeth. They are formed each from a shell which was fashioned to fit the roof of the mouth or could be adjusted outside of the gums. These shell teeth are perfectly formed and easily adjustable. Whether they were used for ornament or for the mastication of food is one of those mysteries the grave still holds in con-

Richer than Great Britain.

[Chicago Inter Ocean.] Statisticians of London are a little surprised in a review of their figures to find that the reported actual wealth of the United States exceeds that of United Kingdom by nearly $10, 000,000,000. Taking into account houses, furniture, cattle, lands, bullion, etc., the United States is worth $49, 770,000,000, while the other power has round numbers $40,000,000,000. There is, however, a smaller average of individual worth here, being but $995 to their $1,160 per capita. The per centage of remuneration to labor is much greater here, being 72 parts, while it is but 56 in Great Britain.

A GERMAN PEASANT'S WIFE

A Woman Who Carries Man's Physical Burdens... Toiling and Moiling

From Year to Year, [Amos Kaeg in San Francisco Chronicle,] The peasant's wife has no easy time She has not only to attend to what few household duties her humble cottage demands and raise a family of children, the number of whom generally corresponds exactly to the number of years she has been married, but she has to lend her aid in the field and do as much, if not more, of the farm work as her lord and master. Angular stoopshouldered from the heavy burdens she carries and hard-featured from exposure to all kinds of weather and cares she digs. hoes, plows and reaps. Her bare, claycovered feet, her dirty, ill-fitting garments and her general air of slatternly neglect show how completely all her by her hard life. Laving the closely wrapped up infant down upon a sack or a truss of straw, and charging the tant dispatches from the front, any use in the fields, to keep out of mischief, she pulls weeds, bent half double, until one would think her back dream. I thought there was a stillness would break, wields the heavy mattock as lightly as the best man about, or swings the heavy scythe as gracefully as such an awkward instrument can be the crying infant, exactly as crying infants are stilled all the world over.

packed all the tools and other things not to be left in the field, picks up her baby, and, with the other children hanging to her skirts, goes swinging off to the village, followed by her emptyhanded, pipe-smoking, lout of a husband It is not to be wondered at that she soon becomes old, haggard and broken down. The wonder is that she lasts as long as she does. Yet she never grumbles or complains. Her mother and mother's mother for scores of generations have done exactly the same thing. She knew just exact! what she had to expect when she married. And, knowing of nothing better, she toils and moils from year to year, contented and as happy as she can be if she has enough to eat and a place to sleep.

Her daughters, great, strapping, robust Amazons, with arms like blacksmiths and bones large enough for the Cardiff Giant, are able to do and do do a man's work. Their great bare feet a spade into the reluctant earth as if they were shod with the heaviest of boots, and their muscular arms and broad backs are able to manage burdens at which many a man would look askance. For them, not broken down by frequent child bearing, one has not so much sympathy. They are physically able to perform without inconvenience the tasks allotted to them. Coarse in features and manners as they are, with hands like giantesses, they still show many feminine traits not yet smothered out by hard work, and delight in adorning their persons with bright colors and tawdry jewelry whenever occasion will permit of it.

Their brothers, big, raw-boned, uncouth, hulking fellows, stoop-shouldered and shuffling-gaited, work, alongside of them, doing no harder work than they, but, probably, accomplishing less of it on account of the frequent stoppages in order to light the always present pipe and such similar masculine offices. They never besitate to let the women carry all the burdens; in fact, they force them to do it, and they seem never so happy as when loafling and smoking while their mother and sisters drag along bent double under a couple of hundred pounds of potatoes or some similar burden. They and their father most al ways wear boots, while the women go barefooted. Such an arrangement is them. economical. It saves the cost of several pairs of boots per year.

pairs of boots per year.

pairs of boots per year.

pairs of boots per year. pairs of boots per year.

diamond-shaped pieces of marble. Per- they can. One of them—a boy will do acter, but it produced the effect counted sons walking over the floor sometimes have their attentions attracted to the black blocks by figures thereon sup.

if there isn't a girl of proper age—walks alongside of the plow team and do their utmost. black blocks by figures thereon, sup- wields the whip, admonishing the slowthrough in dressing the stone. The The rest pull weeds, pick up stones which the plow may uncover and make long, and the result of all this hard fish swallowing Senator Beck's eye and long work is much less than it glasses is true. servative people.

from being buried in consecrated jewsharps. incident the merchant instituted a search | senator. for the body of the Italian girl, and found it wrapped in sea-weed, the right hand grasping firmly the beads that she had piously counted. He caused her to be buried with the ceremonies of her church, in a plot of land set apart for the purpose, and Margaret Fuller's prediction was fulfilled.

Why Do Nurses Dress in Black?

[Labouchere in Truth.] Some "clothes philosopher" or other ence started the question how far the world's history might have been altered almost deafening reverberation. if priests had always been dressed in red and soldiers in black; and if the popular imagination had thus transerred its fondness for a red coat from the army to the church. The British ing the tallest trees in the world. The Medical Journal now raises rather a eucalyptus has specimens of from 300 similar question by asking why the to 500 feet in height. They lack the color of nurses' dresses in hospitals girth of California trees, however, should usually be black? That lugubrious tint can certainly neither please the senses of the sick, call up happy class pictures made of heliotypes inassociations, nor suggest hopeful pros- stead of photographs is spreading in pects.

President Lincoln's Dream.

It is not generally known that President Lincoln once dreamed that he would be assassinated. While he was neither a professor of religion, nor even fixed in his belief in one particular creed, still he was fond of reading and discussing the bible. On Sunday evenings he invariably read a chapter or two from the scriptures, and then gave his explanation of it. One evening at the White House he read several passages both from the Old and New Testaments relating to dreams, to which Mrs. Lincoln and the children gave great atten-He began to chat with them on the subject of dreams, and said he had been haunted for some days by a dream he had had. Of course they all wanted him to tell it, though Mrs. Lincoln said she didn't believe in dreams in the least, and was astonished at him. womanly qualities have been eradicated he proceeded to tell it. "About ten days ago I retired one night quite late. had been up waiting for imporyounger children, too young to be of could not have been long in bed when fell into slumber, for I was very dream. I thought there was a stillness about me, and I heard weeping. thought that I got up and wandered down stairs. The same stillness was there. As I went from room to room I swung, stopping now and then to still heard moaning and weeping. At length I came to the end room, which I entered, and there before me was a mag-And when it comes night she shoul-ders the heavy basket, in which are 'Who is dead at the White House?' He answered: 'The president.' 'How did he die?' I asked. 'By the hand of an assassin,' was the reply. Then I heard a great wailing all over the house, and was so loud it seemed to awaken me. I awoke much depressed and slept no more that night. Such was my dream From that time until his sad death Mr. Lincoln was haunted by the fear of as sassination, and Mrs. Lincoln's first words after Wilkes Booth had shot him on April 14 were: "His dream was prophetic." The remark was not understood then, but when the story of his dream was subsequently told it was explained.

Nelson's Signal at Trafalgar.

A letter to The Standard on the sub ect of Nelson's famous signal at Trafalgar sets forth once more, on good authority, the origin of the signal in the precise form given to it. expects every man to do his duty, were the words first thought of: but signal-lieutenant, Lewis Browne, observed that for the word "Nelson" six sets of flags would necessary, whereas if the word 'England," already provided for in the signal-book, were substituted, one would be enough. Lieut. Browne's grandson, Mr. J. William Thompson protests against its being supposed that Nelson at Trafalgar "adapted his words to the requirements of writers of popular songs." Nelson, indeed. he may have foreseen though the victory, could never have anticipated its being made the theme of the patriotic ballad called by Braham, its composer or adapter, "'Twas in Trafalgar's Bay." Could be even with prescient eye have realized the fact, it may be doubted whether he would have furnished for the song suitable rhythmical refrain by developing the signal actually used into "Eng land expects that every man this day will do his duty." A writer of memoirs who took part in the battle has, by the way, pointed out that the effect of the signal on the sailors was not in a direct manner to awaken their enthusiasm, but rather to irritate and provoke "Do our duty?" they kept re-The younger children, dirty and illy do our duty!" and so on. The signal clothed, barefooted of course, do what

How Mr. Beck Lost His Spectacles Louisville Courier-Journal

Col. Alexander Morgan, of Green themselves generally useful. Thus everybody works, works hard and works Col. Morgan's hotel should and would be among a less con- runs out to the edge of St. John's river, and immense numbers of catfish are in the habit of congregating at the wharf Margaret Fuller's Prophetic Words. to eat scraps thrown from the kitchen. The Indianapolis Journal says that a A bone, piece of meat, or garbage of New York merchant relates an incident any kind, if thrown into the water, is concerning the last hours of Margaret seized and devoured by these fish, Fuller, who perished at sea, not far which fight like dogs over the food. from Fire island. His summer residence at that time was on the Long are as voracious as sharks. Col. Morgan Island shore, and after the wreck of says he does not allow any one to catch of the chief clerk of the navy department is a perfect representation of a dog's head and neck. A little further on is another figure which represents a tailless danging hear. ship went down, her baby in her arms, all directions, rolling and tumbling her husband at her side, and her hand over each other like hogs trying to get upon the head of a beautiful Italian at a swill trough. They will seize and girl, who, kneeling beside her, bemoaned swallow anything thrown to them, such the cruel fate that was to prevent her as cigars, nails, tobacco, buttons or While leaning over the ground. 'But,' said Margaret Fuller, wharf watching these fish Senator 'you believe in prayer; say your prayers, and everything will come right.'" A few hours after hearing the ran away, much to the disgust of the

One of Our Own Volcanoes,

The Puget Sound Argus says that a large party recently ascended Mount Adams, in Washington territory, reach-ing an elevation of 12,650 feet, where ey descended 100 feet into the crater. There was a ceaseless drip of water from the roof of the ice-encased entrance, caused by a warm air current rising from the slumbering fires far below, which issued with a loud hissing noise. A stone was dropped and there was an Australia's Tall Trees.

[Inter Ocean.] Australia gathers the credit for hav-

The custom of having albums of the larger colleges.

RECOLLECTIONS OF BULL RUN.

The First Shot ... Bees vs. Zouaves ... Marching to Richmond to the Music of the Band.

["Carleton" in Boston Globe accompanied Tyler's division, which moved from Fall's Church to Vienna, imagine, to extend. The cariole is a the first afternoon. I hear the music of the bands playing "Yankee Doodle." sort of a cross between a sulky and a buckboard, and is a little more uncom-The sunlight is glistening from sword and bayonet. There is the steady pair of wheels and of a pair of shafts tramp, tramp, tramp of the troops, as attached to the wheels at one end and if upon parade. They are no longer in to a horse at the other. Upon the aforecamp, but on the march that has begun, and they are on their way to Richhorse's tail, is poised what looks like a mond. At nightfall they file into the small boat, not sufficiently wide for a fields, kindle their fires, and cook their man of broad beam to squeeze himself

Does any veteran recall the next morning—the upsetting of several wobble about. The legs of the occuhives of bees by the zouaves and the pant in either case hang out and find a swarming out of the enraged insects, precarious resting place either upon the putting a regiment to flight? I see the men throwing up their arms, gesticu-lating wildly and running for shelter from, while the extremities of the beneath a straw stack. How they make shafts, which project behind the wheels, the straw fly! Horses and mules kick have a slip of board nailed across them, and rear.

house, upon the cupola of which a Confederate flag is flying. A squadron of Confederate calvary is stationed in a great part of the traveling in Norway meadow, and Gen. Hawley, now sena- is accomplished. You hire your cariole tor from Connecticut, taking a Sharp's for so many days or weeks and journey rifle from the hands of a soldier sends along, finding relays of horses, or rather a bullet towards them. It is the first ponies, at the different post stations, toward Centreville. We see the aban-moderate-about 5 or 6 cents a miledoned earthworks thrown up by Beauregard, with cannon peeping from the animals, and there is not much pleasure embrasures. The rebels, we conclude, in sitting behind them. One pair of have spiked their guns and fled. Up little horses, on the other hand, were the hill in advance of the skirmishers excellent, and they rattled down hill a rush the correspondents in their eager- little too fast. It is a remarkable pecuness to get news, to find that they are liarity in this hilly country that the quakerguns-logs of wood with "painted use no brakes to their carriages, and holes," to represent the muzzles. The enemy is not there. How delightful it as their horses can lay legs to the is this going to Richmond, to the music ground. It is the system of training, I of brass bands!

we did not stand on the order of our most assuredly come to grief if driven going, but went! Of course we all down a steep hill at the pace they drive wanted to get back to send the news to our readers, and we went as fast as our riage crowding on his heels, legs could carry us.

I recall William H. Russell, of The London Times, eating his lunch under the fence by the roadside, at Centreville, who made all haste to get back, and who was not near the battlefield during the day, but whose letter had a great effect upon the British public, doing that "in the remotest days of antiquit" among Goths, Iberians and Moors the more than anything else to make Great Britain hostile to the north. Memory recalls the scene on the battlefield at the Henry house when Elzey made his appearance. I beheld it from the roof of a house by the Stone bridge. Two great columns of sulphurous smoke rise above the two armies. I see the not always and everywhere a sign of struggle at the Henry house, the falling back of the Union line, the advance of the Confederates. Leaving my position I ran to Col. McCook of the Second Ohio and told him of the charge. A confused hum came to us from the direction of the Mathew house. The direction of the Mathew house. of fugitives. I see a hack containing some congressmen from Washington knocked into kindling wood by a passing cannon. What has happened I do not know, but that there has been disaster is plain. An absence of body just at the moment is as essential as presence of wind, for sweeping up through the woods is a body of cavalry, and I the Chinese custom, which still pre make the best time possible till I am beyond Bull Run. If lamentable, it thumbs of criminals, by which, as was a comical scene—men white about the lips, panting for breath, running as fast as their legs can carry them-baggage wagons, hacks, cannon, ambulances, citizens, soldiers, horses, all in hurly-burly. That is the way we left the field. We altered our opinion about going on to Richmond to the music of

A Mexican Home Interior.

[Cor. St. Paul Pioneer Press A Mexican housewife has other ideas than ours in the disposition of her furniture. There are always straight rows of sofas and chairs set stiffly against the wall, all around the room. Though there are few occasions in life when so great a number of seats could possibly be required, yet the family feels itself poor indeed which does not possess enough to reach in an unbroken line around the entire circuit of the sala. Into each corner of the room a triangular table is fitted, and in the center is a larger one-round or ovalwhich has always its tall lamp in the middle, and a row of empty vases and china figures, ranged at regular distances, straight around the outer edge. This central table is generally covered with an enormous crocheted or knitted spread which sweeps the floor, and represents years of patient labor, vast expenditure of precious eye-sight, and hundreds of spools of fine linen thread; for the mistress of the manse begas it when a child and finished it only in time for the wedding. There is a noticeable dearth of those thousand-and-one little ornaments in which American ladies especially delight, per month. for bric-a-brac, easels, brackets, etc., are not within reach of all here as in the United States. Chromos and engravings sparingly adorn the walls, and the corner tables are always crowded with glass lamps and China vases, which are valued for ornament rather than use. A chromo, dreadful enough to set one's teeth on edge-which may be bought for $2, frame and all, in St. Paul-is in Mexico, owing to outrageous duties, as expensive as a decent oil painting. At the extreme end of the sala de recibo, farthest from the entrance, is invariably seen precisely the same arrangements of furniture in every casa-a rug or square of earpet, with four or six chairs, placed in two straight lines, vischairs, placed in two straight lines, vis-a-vis, upon it, bounded upon the further epilepsy." "Samaritan Nervine cures the sofa against the wall. To bare room guests are shown with great ceremony on entering, for in this particular spot the hostess concentrates all her forces, as we understand the art of this little island in the sea of the big doing in spiritual seances and revival Ammen's Cough Syrup never fails to

On our seventh page to-day will be found a striking and instructive illustration of the comparative worth of the various kinds the comparative worth of the various kinds of the comparative worth of the warket.

"Rough on Coughs," 15c., 25c., 50c., at Druggists. Complete cure Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat.

A Norwegian Carriage.

There were a few other carriages on the route as we passed, but the favorite mode of traveling seemed to be by cariole, a vehicle which, as far as I I recall the march to Bull Run. I know, is indigenous to this country, and into comfortably and yet so wide that one of clipper build must necessarily shafts, adjacent to the flanks of the which serves either as a resting place We come in sight of Fairfax court for a valise or a seat for an attendant shot of the campaign.

The rebels have fled, and we push on The charge for these quadrupeds is moderate—about 5 or 6 cents a mile but they are for the most part sorry suppose, that renders this safe, but any When we went back to Washington other than a Norwegian horse would

> Curiosities Concerning the Thumb. An article on "Thumb Lore" in the current number of The Antiquary initiates us in all the legends which have been formed of the thumb. We are told among Goths, Iberians and Moors the licking of the thumb was regarded as a solemn pledge or promise. Another custom of even greater grace and elegance was common in Scotland, where among the lower classes bargains were concluded by "licking and joining of thumbs." But the same ceremony was agreement or a form of business; licking or biting the thumb was often challenge, as in "Romeo and Juliet," or as in Decker's "Dead Term," an act to "beget quar-Sir Walter Scott also alludes to moment later there was a rush told where the bitting of the thumb. or even of the glove, caused death and destruction. Kissing the thumb was regarded as a sign of servility, the cere mony being performed at interviews of tradesmen with superior customers. The important part which the emperor's thumbs played in the days of gladiators is well known; not so, perhaps, thumbs of criminals, by which, as the thumb is said never to change in its formation and other characteristics malefactors are identified on future committal.

A Development.

The question concerning an operation performance in New York is gradually leveloping from "How was the music into "How much capital did the aud. ence represent?"

Mr. I. Carpenter, 463 Fourth avenue New York, after running a gauntlet of eight years rheumatism, used St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain reliever, by which he was entirely cured and has had no return of his complaint,

Work on the Walla Walla and Pendleton Railroad is progressing rapidly.

Cousumption in any stage may be cured by Piso's Cure. 25 cents a bottle.

"Cut-thrut" is Irving's pronunciation of

The virus of all diseases arises from the blood. Samaritan Nervine cures all blood. Samaritan blood disorgers.

A sore throat or cough, if suffered to progress, often results in an incurable throat or lung trouble. "Brown's Bron-chial Troches" give instant relief.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Chicago Magnetic Shield Company in another column.

SKINNY MEN. "Wells' Health Renewer' restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Impotence.

Applications for patents average 2,000

"A DROP OF JOY IN EVERY WORD."

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Three months ago I was broken out with large ulcers and sores on my body, limbs and face. I procured your "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Purgative Pellets" and have taken six bottles, and to-day I am in good health, all those ugiy ulcers having healed and left my skin in a natural, healthy condition. I thought at one time that I could not be cured. Although I can but poorly express my gratitude to you, yet there is a drop of joy in every word I write. Yours truly,

JAMES O. BELLIS, Flemington, N. J.

"Discovery" sold by druggists.

There were 4,000 suicides in Paris last

Dr. J. A. Patmore, of Riley Ind., truly

"Dr. Pierce's Magnetic Elastic Truss" is

cure if used in time and according to di

A DRUGGIST'S STORY.

Mr. Isaac C. Chapman, Druggist, New Y., writes us: "I have for the pastten yer veral gross of DR. WILLIAM HALLS SAM FOR THE LUNGS. I can say of 1 I cannot say of any other medicin never heard a customer speak of it but to its virtues in the highest manner, I have mmended it in a great many cases of W ing Cough with the happiest effects. I ased it in my own family for many year fact, always have a bottle in the me

Dr. J. G. McGuire, Anamosa, Ia., sa "I know Brown's Iron Bitters is a so conic and gives general satisfaction."

Caloric Vita Oil, the renowned healer wholesale. Hodge, Davis & Co., Portla

Why does not the proprietor of Amme Cough Syrup publish testimonials for those who have been cured or relieved his medicine? The answer is, the great his medicine? his medicine? The answer is, the gre the humbug the more testimonials to publish. Ammen's Cough Syrup is humbug, and to prove that and let it st humbug, and to prove that and let it s on its own merits, a 15-cent sample b is prepared, which is certainly more vincing than a testimonial from a strat Large bottles, $1.00. Ask your dru Dyspepsia dampens the ardor of mar an aspiring soul. Why suffer from dy pepsia! Why be frightened over diso dered kidneys! Why continue the mise able life of a dyspeptic nervous morts Brown's Iron Bitters will surely cure ou, has permanently cured thousands of has permanently cured thousands of cas where other remedies afforded only te porory relief. Ask your druggist conce ing its merit. Try a sample bottle and y will be relieved of further mental a as permanently cured the physical distress.

The wheels of railway and other cars a ow made of leather in Paris,

Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Dis-covery" cures every kind of humor, from the common pimple or eruption to the worst scrofula. Four to six bottles cures salt-rheum

One to five bottles cures the worst kin Two to four bottles cares the worst kind oils, carbuncles and sores. Five to eight bottles cure corrupt or run ning ulcers and the worst scrofula.

By druggists, and in half-dozen and lozen lots at great discount.

The Queen of Tahati arrived at New York recently.

Weak lungs, spitting of blood, consumption, and kindred affections, cured without physician. Address for treatise, with two stamps, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. New York city officers' place Chamber lain Church's defalcation at $77,000.

Dr. B. R. Boyle, Wadley, Ga., says: "consider Brown's Iron Bitters superior a a tonic to any preparation now in use.

"MOTHER SWAN'S WORM SYRUP," for feverishness, restlessness, pation tasteless. 25 cents.

REMEDY FOR PAIN RHEUMATISM. Neuralgia,

THE GREAT GERMAN

Sciatica, Lumbago, BACKACHE, HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE, SOBE THROAT. SPRAINS. Soreness, Cuts, Bruises, FROSTBITES. BURNS, SCALDS, FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Directions in Il 26 The Charles A. Vogeler Co.

266th EDITION. PRICE ONLY $1 BY MAIL POST-PAID

Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debremature Decline in man, Errors of Youth, and thold miseries resulting from indiscretions or excesses book for every man, young middle-aged and out, tains 125 prescriptions for all acute and chronic disease, each one of which is invaluable. So found by the author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probabily never before fell to the lot of any physician. 309 pages, bould no beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense—mechanical literary and professional—than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will de refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, Illustrative sample 6 cents. Send now. Gold medal awards, the author by the National Medical Association, to use officers of which he refers.

The book should be read by the young for instruction, and by the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom this book will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or ciergyman.—Tribune.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bullingh street, Boston, Mass., who may be cousuited on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obvinnate diseases + HEAL that have baffled the skill of, all other physical calculations as specialty. Such treated success—THYSELF.

N. B.—Send money by Registered Letter or P. O. Grief. Books can be sent to any address on the Pacific Coat as safely as at home. Concealed in substantial wrappers bearing only the applicant's address.

Norman Stallions!

H. WILSEY,
has just returned from France with a choice lot of Norman Stallions. The ONLY DIRECT importers from France to the Pacific Coast. Sciented by him with great care from the best stock in France Severa with great care from the best stock in France. Sever government approved. Our Motto, Quick Sa'es as all Profits. Those in want of this class of Horses, the care purchase them on one or two years 'time examptable interest, with satisfactory security.

H. T. FAIRBANKS or H. WILSEY,

and