A communication from this place appeared in your paper last week, calculated to give the impression that I made a great many mistakes in an article of mine that appeared in your paper of Jan 31. Now, I will say this much: If I have, at any time, written anything for the Reporter that is not true, I am clad to have it covered. I try to write anything for the Reporter that is not true, I am glad to have it corrected; I try to write only that which I hear on good authority, and what I see with my own eyes. I stated that "ten years ago Chehalem valley cost the county as much or more than any other part of the county." I should have said about ten years ago, and meant, of course, in proportion to the population. No person, hardly, except "One Who Knows," could be so dull as to require this explanation. I have heard the statement referred to made for years by men who were older than myself, and of course I took it to be true. This is and of course I took it to be true. This is my explanation. I want only the truth.— I would ask "One Who Knows" if there has I would ask "One Who Knows" if there has not been liquor sold in this valley within the last ten or twelve years or about that time? He charges me with saying that 13 years ago the people all went to horse races and saloons. What I wrote was that "almost everybody" went, as I know very well that all did not go. He says "there has not been a horse race in this section within that period, until last fall." If he would stop to think a moment or ask for information, he would find that he had missed the truth by a great ways. I don't deny attributing the prospority of I don't deny attributing the prosparity of our valley to the "banner lodge, I. O. G. T." I know that the temperance and religious movement that has been awakened in this section has done the most to induce immi-gration here, which he says himself is the
