Is the most important part of your organism. Three-fourths of the complaints to which the system is subject are due to impurities in the blood. You can, therefore, realize how vital it is to keep it pure.

ELECTRICAL ADVERTISING.

An Ingenious Combination of the Stereoscopic and Sky Sign.

A new departure has been made in the rapidly spreading application of electricity to advertising. Any large open space is admirably covered, covered evenly with incandescent lamps—that is, they are placed at equal intervals in horizontal and vertical rows, and in a neat together as they can be arranged. The result is a sign consisting of as many separate wires as there are lamps, connects them with a small table or operating board, which is placed in a convenient place at any position desired by the operator. This operating board is closely studded with little projections, which are in reality push buttons. Each of these buttons corresponds to a lamp on the sign, and by pressing on any single push button the circuit is closed and a lamp correspondingly lit.

The push buttons are so designed that when pressed upon they continue to keep the circuit closed and thus maintain the illumination of the lamp on the sign-board until they are restored by the operator to their normal position. This system gives an amount of flexibility in the creation of illuminated devices of all kinds that has never before been attained. Heretofore it has been necessary to have a sign designed and prepared beforehand and fixed in permanent lines on a rigid background. Now, by drawing the finger on the face of the operating board, any kind of inscription or design can be brought out on the sign-board and will remain there in the lines of light until the operator desires to release it. This is done in an instant by the pressing of a lever at the side of the operating board, and the sign-board is ready for a new design. Writing on the operating board in letters 6 inches high will produce letters 6 feet high on the sign.

The sign-board can be heated quite a distance from the sign, which there is no necessity for him to see. He has a bright light behind his operating board, and the sign-board is ready for a new design. Writing on the operating board in letters 6 inches high will produce letters 6 feet high on the sign.

Drama of Dissection?

I am not a prude, but I think the time has come when we should discuss the theater as it is to be for the people or to serve simply as a rendezvous for gentlemen who are anxious to discuss moral reform in its various phases. Indian Conjuror Tricks.

Most of the Indian conjuring tricks are imperishable secrets, and are handed down from father to son through a long line of descent. Now and then a traitor betrays a secret, and the trick is lost. He would be found willing to barter his judgment for a few dollars, and he would be found willing to barter his judgment for a few dollars, and he would be found willing to barter his judgment for a few dollars.

Made It More Legal.

Old Squire C—, one of the first clerks of Cass county, Mo., was a man who, though his early education had been sadly neglected, fairly revelled in the use of big words. The grand jury had come into court to report a lot of indictments which he had found and upon which the foreman had properly indorsed. "A true bill," signing his name. The clerk, not being satisfied with the simplicity with which justice had been done, wrote upon each indictment, under the foreman's name the following, "We, the undersigned jurors, concur in the above affidavit, to which each juror signed his name, supposing it to be some necessary legal appendage—Green Bag."

THE PAIN OF ANXIETY NOT PETRIFICATION.

NEVER WAS SUCH A THING AS A PETRIFIED HUMAN BODY.

It is the mingling of hope and fear that forms the most powerful stimulant to energy and exertion—Why a Devouring Fear Must Be Overcome.

All who survive childhood feel the grip of anxiety at some time and under some form for a while, but it usually passes and never will exist. Nevertheless, so dense is the popular ignorance of such matters, and so ready the human mind to be deluded, that reports of this kind are commonly accepted as facts. It would be well if they could be deprived of credibility for all future times by the publication of a few truths on this subject.

One reads almost every week in the newspapers of the finding of a "petrified" human body. Each a thing as it would never exist. Nevertheless, so dense is the popular ignorance of such matters, and so ready the human mind to be deluded, that reports of this kind are commonly accepted as facts. It would be well if they could be deprived of credibility for all future times by the publication of a few truths on this subject.

It may well be doubted whether young men generally in this state appreciate the true condition of the law in respect to the legal engagements of marriage. A recent breach of promise suit in Cheyenne county is an extreme case in this subject and furnishes a clear illustration of the legal doctrine that no express promise or formal language is needed in order to constitute a contract of marriage.
