SOMEbody says the income tax will hurt nobody, as the Wilson bill, when it gets into operation, will leave few incomes above the $4,000 which is made the limit.

The New York Sun is fighting Cleveland on the Hawaiian issue and the democratic party on the Wilson bill, which leads a democratic contemporary to remark that Mr. Dana hasn't had so thoroughly happy a season for years and years.

JOHN MOSES, proprietor of the Glasgow pottery at Trenton, N. J., gave a practical test to protective doctrine when he called his 100 men up and offered them the wages of the men doing the same work in England plus the amount of the duty.

The country is now informed of the nature of that portion of the Hawaiian correspondence which President Cleveland saw fit to suppress. It is humiliating to have to give it up on demand of the senate, but in one sense its suppression reflects credit upon the president.

The democratic clubs which met at the Dalles last week sacrificed a grand opportunity to let the country know how Oregon democratic stands on most of the living issues and events of current interest.

The democratic clubs which met at the Dalles last week sacrificed a grand opportunity to let the country know how Oregon democratic stands on most of the living issues and events of current interest.

The spectacle of the president of the United States negotiating amnesty for the Hawaiian patriots, at the hands of the barbarous wench, who at first demanded their heads and the confiscation of their property as one of the conditions of her restoration, is the worst outrage upon Christian civilization that has been witnessed.

The Chicago Times is impatient with Speaker Crisp. Hear it. The speaker who sternly suppressed Boutelle and Reed when they would speak on the Hawaiian question has confessed himself baffled by a handful of democratic filibusters.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The large woolen mill of Wm. Tinkham & Sons, of Harrisville, R. I., was destroyed by fire on the 13th. Loss $445,000, partially insured.

Senator Dolph's bill granting right-of-way to the Albany & Astoria railroad over the Grand Ronde reservation was favorably reported on the 15th.

John H. Gear, of Burlington, Iowa, was nominated by the republicans, on the 15th, for the U. S. senate to succeed James F. Wilson. Gear is a member of congress from the first Iowa district.

The Colorado house refuses to adjourn, by a vote of 28 to 23. The senate is overwhelmingly against the extra session being continued, and while it cannot adjourn without concurrence of the house, it can defeat any legislation.

Joseph Manley, of Maine, has been appointed to succeed Thos. H. Carter as chairman of the republican national executive committee. Carter retains his chairmanship of the national republican committee.

George H. Gorman, of Oregon, has been appointed assistant attorney-general in the department of justice at a salary of $2500 a year. He is a nephew of Senator Gorman, and located in Portland two years ago.

Secretary Carlisle has dissolved the claim of Miss Phoebe Couzens of $6000 for pay as secretary of the board of lady managers at the world's fair. Miss Couzens claimed she was wrongfully deposed from the office, and submitted a claim for the amount.

The condition of the United States treasury grows steadily worse. Secretary Carlisle estimates that during January and February the deficiency between receipts and expenditures will reach $18,400,000. The coin reserve is reduced to $74,000,000. The secretary recommends the issuance of short bonds at low interest to maintain specie payments.

A most remarkable electrical experiment was successfully exhibited at the college of physicians and surgeons, at Baltimore on the 12th. By means of a flexible rubber tube a diminutive electric light was introduced into the stomach of a patient.

For the opening of the midwinter fair on the 20th it has been arranged that Mayor Elliott will speak for the city and M. H. de Young for the fair. General Barnes will deliver the oration and Mrs. de Young will press the button to start the machinery.

Dole then touches upon Blount's alleged ex parte investigation, and closes by saying: "I am instructed to inform you, Mr. Minister, that the government of the Hawaiian islands respectfully and unhesitatingly declines to entertain the proposition of the president of the United States that it should surrender its authority to the ex-queen.

The remainder of the correspondence consists of dispatches from Minister Willis, which are for the most part reports of events in Honolulu, of which the public is fully informed. The dispatch from Willis of November 16, withheld by the president till now, gives an account of the interview he had with the queen on the 13th.

The college missionary society will hold its regular meeting next Sunday afternoon in college chapel. Messrs. Cooper and Stow are the new students of this week. Miss Mindinger was kept out of school last week by sickness.

DANA'S SUBMARINE.

The duty of every intelligent and patriotic democrat is to do his utmost to smash the Wilson bill.

What is the future of the democratic party to be? Will it become republican as indicated by the Wilson bill, or populist as indicated by the income tax scheme?

It is not certain whether the democracy can avoid defeat next fall or in 1896; but it can at least prevent itself from being put into a hole for ten or twenty years.

Who could have believed that instead of a change from a protective tariff to a tariff for revenue only, Professor Wilson would propose a change from protection with high wages to protection with low wages?

Just twenty-five years ago the national platform of the democratic party demanded the simplification of the system and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue.

OREGON NEWS AND NOTES.

Grant's Pass had a $10,000 fire on the 11th. A $7,000 church building is contemplated by the Baptists of Oregon City.

Two counterfeiters were consigned to the state prison on the 11th for making silver dollars out of pot metal.

The Salem Statesman called H. B. Clement a "Jim Crow detective," and as a result has a $3,000 libel suit on hands.

Four Polk county gunners have paid a farmer $60 for the exclusive privilege of hunting on his place for a year.

About seventy-five Portland saloon keepers are too hard up financially to pay the $100 for license the present quarter.

Corvallis has an indebtedness of $17,000 and thinks her back is broken. Albany's indebtedness is now about $35,000. How about her back?

Oregon City has a mock senate that is familiarizing her citizens with public issues and giving them parliamentary drill and amusement, all at the same time.

Annie Rooney is not dead, and furthermore, she is married now, and lives in Portland. The Independence Enterprise says she visited in that city last week.

The indictment for embezzlement against Rev. O. D. Taylor of The Dalles, has been dismissed because not tried at the term of court in which the indictment was returned.

The populists of Marion county are seriously provoked at the county court because they were refused a judge of election at each polling place. They talk of making a court case of it.

The Oregon Pacific steamship Willamette Valley is tied up at San Francisco until an indebtedness of about $40,000 is arranged for. In the meantime business over the railroad between Yaquina and Albany is distressingly small.

The state midwinter fair committee report that the effort to obtain funds to erect an Oregon building is not meeting with flattering success, and that unless more liberal response comes by February 1st, the project will have to be abandoned.

"Eastern Oregon cannot be sold for enough money to pay its indebtedness," writes M. V. Rork to the Portland Telegram. The gentleman is mistaken. He has a penchant for exaggeration, and unless soon taken from the field will soon do the populists much harm as well as the state generally.—Pork Observer.

A Methodist and an Adventist recently held a five nights' debate at Irving, in Lane county, on the highly interesting and profitable subject: Was there a War in Heaven. The moderators decided there was no good evidence of such a war, while the audience almost unanimously voted the other way.

Clarence L. Gowell, a Toledo citizen, has addressed an open letter to Gov. Penney, suggesting that the purchase by the state of the Oregon Pacific railroad and its extension to Snake river, would be a panacea for the paralyzed condition of business, and result in elevating his majesty to the U. S. senate.

Bush, of the Ladd & Bush bank at Salem, has purchased a magazine Winchester shotgun for use in his bank in case of necessity. It is to be loaded with buck-shot, and the magazine will hold six shells. The barrel is to be cut off eighteen inches, so that the weapon will be handy for instant use against visitors of the James type.

A Philbrick, deputy mineral surveyor, of Baker City, has received a letter from Congressman Hermann, in which he says that the geological bureau has determined upon sending to Oregon two crews of surveyors, one to operate in western Oregon, and the other in eastern Oregon, the object being to extend the geological surveys the coming summer.

COLLEGE NOTES.

The college missionary society will hold its regular meeting next Sunday afternoon in college chapel.

Messrs. Cooper and Stow are the new students of this week.

Miss Mindinger was kept out of school last week by sickness. Mrs. Ruegg and Mr. Sanders attended chapel exercises one morning last week. Mrs. Ruegg was formerly a member of the college faculty, and Mr. Sanders is an alumnus of the college.

Mr. Alderman complains that his room mate occasionally spends late hours helping the assistant hostess in the boarding department.

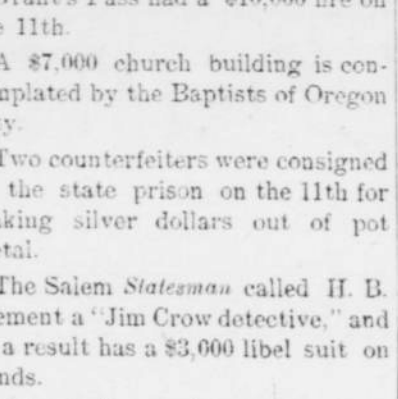

Those rooming on the upper floor of the college affirm that Mr. Jefferson has been smoking early Wednesday morning. The Philergians at the last meeting decided that the western states should be the leading division of the U. S. A good program is prepared for next Saturday. All students are urged to be present.

Wassena, Minn., Nov. 25, 1890. Mr. NORMAN LIGHTY, Des Moines, Ia.

HOOD'S Cures

"I Suffered Several Years With rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and feel better than I have for years. My wife had a bad case of catarrh and was considered incurable. She took confidence from the benefit I had received from the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking four bottles of the medicine she is entirely well." W. H. HANLEY, Fullerton, Wash. Be sure to get Hood's. Hood's Pills cure liver ills, sick headache, jaundice, indigestion. Try a box.

Portland is deprived of about $3,200 in saloon licenses this year, owing to the inability of saloon keepers to pay the license.

The jury in the case of the Umatilla Indian "No Shirt" charged with criminal assault, returned a verdict of not guilty. Thomas J. Hart one of the witnesses was held to answer to the federal grand jury on a charge of perjury.

Salem held a rousing road convention on Saturday. One hundred solid citizens were present, and a permanent organization for the improvement of roads was effected. Polk county should next organize and co-operate to improve the roads in the vicinity of Salem, which are terrible in Polk. Yamhill county has a good road to Salem.

The Astoria Herald has penned an answer to Gov. Penney's letter, purporting to have been written by the president in which it says: "You say that two-thirds of the people of Oregon are out of employment. My dear governor, you are extemporizing through your hat. You're off your Nannie. You have a population of 280,000. Of this number, according to the census, are 93,500 males, 67,500 females, and 138,000 children. Two-thirds of 280,000 is 186,000. There are at least 20,000 merchants, farmers, office holders and clerks. There are 13,000 Chinamen. This would make, including women, children, Chinamen, merchants, farmers, etc., 238,000. Now, then, if two-thirds are out of work, there would be 22,000 men, all the women and children, all the poor Chinamen and 17,000 merchants, farmers, clerks and officers. My dear Sylvester, you seem to be short on finance and long on statistics. You also had too many thanksgivings, which was incompatible with my administration. I feel sure, however, that your letter to me will secure you several hundred votes at the June election, which was probably your object in writing it."

FROM THE COUNTY PRESS. So certain to cure every case of Catarrh of the Bladder, that its proprietors make you this offer: "If you can't be cured, permanently, we'll pay you $500 cash."

THE general report is that there are more strangers in the country looking with a view of investing than for several months past.

At the annual meeting of the stock holders of the Newberg Fair Association, held on last Monday, J. L. Hoskins, N. C. Christensen, Wm. Stratton, D. Tallman and N. C. Maris were elected as a board of directors. The only change made in the board from that of last year was the election of N. C. Maris in the place of N. C. Armstrong who said he was so situated that he could not well serve on the board the coming year. The directors elected J. L. Hoskins president, N. C. Christensen secretary, and E. H. Woodward treasurer.

Amity Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin are the proud possessors of a fine new boy that weighs 8 pounds; the little fellow came to see them Monday, January 8th, 1894. "My, but don't Ira step high."

Yesterday as the special train bound north was passing through town they struck a cow belonging to F. B. Ferguson. It threw her against the sidewalk leading from Fowler's saloon, demolishing about six feet of same and scattering the boards over an area of an acre. Had one of the boards struck a person it would have meant instant death. Trains should not be allowed to run at such a high rate of speed through incorporated cities.

Dayton Herald. The steamers on the upper Willamette river have cut down the fares. The fare for the round trip between Portland and Salem has been reduced to $1.

The nine street lamps ordered by the town council have arrived, and as soon as the posts can be painted and made ready the lamps will be placed in position. Ed. Alderman has been getting a pile driver made for driving posts. L. Olmstead last week made a pattern for the hammer, which will weigh 50 pounds. Mr. Alderman sent the pattern to Portland, for the purpose of having a casting made of it. The machine will be worked by horse power.

Sheridan Sun. Marshal McCune was elected city marshal by the council last Thursday night, vice Wm. Dinsmore resigned.
