REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For Governor, W. P. LORR, of Marion County. For Secretary of State, B. E. KINGSLEY, of Lane County.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN TICKET.

State Senator, J. F. CALBREATH. Representatives, CALVIN STANLEY, GEO. W. BRANSON.

H. G. GUILD, editor of the Sheridan Star, is the republican nominee for joint representative of Yamhill and Tillamook.

The democrats are still resting hard to bring about a fusion with the populists. At the populist convention an executive committee of seven was empowered to fill any vacancies occurring in the ticket prior to election.

An excursion of eastern agricultural editors brought a number to inspect the great Yakima country, which some of them pronounced the most magnificent country they had ever laid eyes on.

An anti-work army led by Galvin captured a Baltimore & Ohio train at Mount Sterling, Ohio, on Friday, but were sent from abandonment it by state troops from Columbus by Governor McKinley.

Frank Hutton, editor of the Washington Post, died in Washington on the 30th. He was appointed assistant postmaster-general by President Arthur in 1881, and upon the retirement of Judge Gresham was appointed postmaster-general.

An earthquake throughout Greece on the 28th completely destroyed the cities of Thebes and Atalana. Many persons were rendered homeless, and thousands will have to depend on the government for shelter and sustenance.

General Schofield on Friday sent to Colonel Swain in command of the department of Dakota, and General Otis of Vancouver barracks, the following order: "Use troops upon application of United States marshals in states along the Northern Pacific, executing processes of the United States court."

The anti-Breckinridge people in the seventh congressional district of Kentucky have issued a pamphlet entitled "An appeal to the people of Ashland district for purity in the house and morality in public life, and a protest against the reelection of Breckinridge." 20,000 copies have been issued.

General Coxy and his brigade advanced upon the capitol on the 1st. Coxy's purpose was to make a speech on the capitol steps. There were 500 men in line, and spectators enough to make up a crowd of 10,000.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Dr. J. F. Calbreath, who heads the local ticket as nominee for state senator, was born in Lewis county, West Virginia, in 1854. The civil war, which raged fiercely over that section of the south, spreading ruin and disaster in its path, caused his parents to seek a new home in the west.

He graduated with good honors after three years of diligent application, and in 1875 he settled at Lafayette in partnership with Dr. H. K. Littlefield. He moved to McMinnville in 1886. In some particulars Dr. Calbreath is one of the best known men in Yamhill county.

While he has never taken a hand in politics in the practical sense, he has been a consistent and unwavering republican from the time of reaching maturity, his convictions taking root away back in slavery days, when as a small boy he witnessed and comprehended the wrong and injustice of the system to which older persons, reared in its midst, became blind as interest or custom preyed upon their sensibilities.

Geo. W. Branson, the other nominee on the legislative ticket, is a good man—an honest man and a person of excellent ability. He is a native of the state of Illinois, born in DeWitt county in 1832. He came to Oregon in 1851, when nineteen years of age, making the journey overland with what was known as Yocom and Hussey's emigrant train, driving an ox-team.

W. G. Henderson, the nominee for sheriff, is a man of more excellent qualities than can be catalogued in a brief newspaper article. He was born in the state of Ohio in 1846, removing with his parents to Iowa in 1853. In 1866, when twenty years of age, hearing glowing accounts of Oregon, he determined to come west and seek his fortune. Accordingly, with very little money in his pocket, but with an ample resource of puerile grit, he made a contract with a party to drive a four-mule team across the plains, receiving his board as compensation. Arriving in Oregon with just ten cents in his pocket, he worked a couple months for Thomas Wright on his farm near North Yamhill, after which he secured employment with O. H. Adams at his sawmill in the mountains, and subsequently farmed for a few years in the vicinity of Carlton. By 1877, through the exercise of characteristic energy and prudence he had accumulated a fund sufficient to embark in the livery business.

He worked for the Portland Transfer Co. for a year and a couple of years for the Whatcom Transfer Co., at the end of which time he found himself able, by dint of patient labor and economy, to return and embark in business, having retained his dwelling here with that end in view. In his business career no man in McMinnville has enjoyed more fully the confidence of the people for his honesty and integrity.

A. E. McKern, the nominee for county clerk, is a resident of North Yamhill. He is well and favorably known within the commercial radius of that place and comes before the people with the highest possible endorsement of neighbors and friends, as a man of integrity, strict business habits and thorough efficiency. For a number of years he has been connected with the establishment of H. F. Bedwell & Co., as clerk, bookkeeper and general manager.

In the nomination of a candidate for county judge the office unquestionably sought the man. Public interest demands in this position a person of sound and practical business. He should be honest and upright, and if in addition to these qualifications he is a good lawyer, the county is fortunate in securing his services. Such a man is J. E. Magers. Mr. Magers was born in Morgan county, Ohio, in 1847, and came across the plains with his parents in 1852. He has resided in Yamhill county since 1874, and is known by nearly all residents of the county. He is in the true sense of the term a self-made man of the successful type.

W. L. Warren, the nominee for sheriff, is a man of more excellent qualities than can be catalogued in a brief newspaper article. He was born in the state of Ohio in 1846, removing with his parents to Iowa in 1853. In 1866, when twenty years of age, hearing glowing accounts of Oregon, he determined to come west and seek his fortune. Accordingly, interested to the probate department of the office he will bring the experience of an able attorney. Amos Nelson, nominated for county commissioner to succeed T. W. Perry, is a thrifty and level-headed farmer of the Chehalis valley, and a man of good parts generally. He was put forward by the people of the northeastern portion of the county, realizing the importance of having a man of practical sense and ability in that responsible position, and from what we know of Mr. Nelson we believe he fills the bill admirably.

The nomination of John Pennington for county treasurer seemed to be the unanimous will of the convention. He is filling the office acceptably, is always at his post during business hours, and he lacks nothing in public confidence. John Bones, nominee for assessor, hails from Sheridan. He is at present employed as deputy assessor under Mr. York, having been strongly recommended by the people of Sheridan as a suitable and qualified person for the work.

C. E. Branson was nominated for a third term, because the party had no better material. He has given most excellent satisfaction. J. B. Stilwell, county superintendent, has filled the office well during two years, and proved to be a strong man before the convention. He has been active and energetic in the work, and no stone has been left unturned whereby in his judgment the interest of the public schools could be advanced.

Senator Francis B. Stockbridge, of Michigan, died suddenly in Chicago on the 29th. Eleven hundred brickmakers have struck for an advance of 30 cents a day, at Cleveland, O. The strike on the Great Northern is over, the railroad conceded the demands of the strikers. The first quarterly payment of interest on the new government loan was paid on Tuesday, amounting to over $200,000.

While Mr. T. J. Bichey, of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drugstore to get some medicine, and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely.

The only important news that has happened for the last four weeks is a half dozen new lessons to get each day. Commencement exercises have been changed so that the Philological exhibition will be Monday, June 4, and graduating exercises Thursday, June 7.

Prof. Brownson will start to California on the 15th inst. He goes to deliver an address before the Pacific coast educational conference which meets in Oakland, May 17th. Prof. will visit the midwinter fair and report the results to the Philologists on his return.

The Philologists had an interesting meeting last Saturday. The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative. The subject for tomorrow evening is Resolved, That the agricultural holds the most respected position in society. Man's Inhumanity to Himself. The most inhuman outrages, outrages that would disgrace the savage, man perpetrates upon his own system by swallowing drastic purgatives which convulse his stomach, agonize his intestines and weaken his system.

Mrs. J. H. Hornsnyder, 152 Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal., writes: "When a girl at school, in Bending, Ohio, I had a severe attack of brain fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald, and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair began to grow, and I now have as fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being changed, however, from blonde to dark brown."

Ayer's Hair Vigor. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
